

SEVERAL SCHOOLS ASK FOR WINTER QUARTER DEBATES

Squad Meeting Will Be Held Tomorrow Night In Memorial

Twenty-two schools have requested debates here during the winter quarter according to an announcement made yesterday by Bill Cochrane, executive secretary of the Debate Council. So far the only school definitely decided upon is Princeton University with a tentative date set for the debate on March 29.

FIRST ACTIVITY

Winter quarter debate activity begins tomorrow night with a squad meeting at 9 o'clock in Graham Memorial. Members will discuss questions revolving around wages and hours legislation, United States' armaments and increasing appropriations for arms, and whether or not the United States should conduct an intensive propaganda campaign in South America to combat fascist influence. These and other problems will be argued as they come up with a view toward selecting topics for use during the winter debates.

According to the custom for the past several years the debaters will go on tour during spring holidays. The itinerary for the trip has not been decided but the squad's destination

GENERAL TENNIS TICKETS ARE FEW

Only fifteen hundred one dollar general admission tickets will be available to the general public, including students, for the Budge-Vines tennis match to be played in Woollen gymnasium January 25 at 8:15 p. m. Students, with passbooks, will be able to purchase these tickets at a specially reduced price, 75 cents. Once these 1500 special seats are gone, the price will be $1.50 for all seats.

BRISK SALE

The ticket sales have been brisk so far with well near 500 requests for tickets already being handled by Hammond Strayhorn, clerk in charge. Yesterday, tickets went on sale for the same match to be played the following night at the Charlotte armory at prices ranging as high as $2.20 for reserved seats.

The athletic association, which is sponsoring this professional meet, is anxious to have the students obtain first choice seats at this reduced price, for the rush for the $1.00 seats has been unusually sudden and those who do not purchase their tickets within the next few days are likely to have to buy one of the 2300 reserved seats at double the price.

Senators To Discuss Raising Of Tuition

At the weekly meeting of the Di senate tonight at 7:15 in Di hall, New West, two bills of particular interest to the campus will be discussed.

The first bill, which was tabled last week because there was not ample time for discussion, is Resolved: that the system of electing members to the campus legislature is undemocratic.

The second bill on the calendar, as one member of the senate said, "might lead to the fighting of the Civil war again." The bill is Resolved: that the tuition of all out-of-state students in the University of North Carolina should be raised an amount equal to that paid for each foreign student by the state.

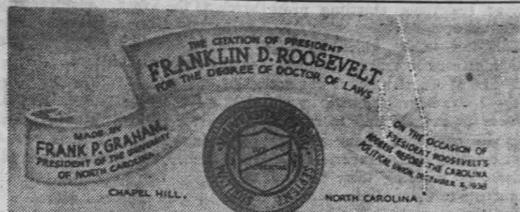

Grail Dance Set For Saturday Night

The Duke Ambassadors will furnish music for Order of the Grail dance to be held Saturday night, Bud Hudson, secretary of the order, announced yesterday.

The affair, which will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock in the Tin Can, will be made colorful with decorations of purple and white. Two no-break dances will be held during the evening, one for Grail members and one for escorts.

No advance sale of tickets will be held. Admission fees of one dollar will be paid at the door.

President Roosevelt's Law Degree

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the University of North Carolina welcomes you, not only as the leader of the people of America boldly groping for a way out of economic depressions but also as the leader of the people of the world valiantly hoping for a way forward from democratic retreat and international despair.

Through your leadership the voice and ideals of America are counting on the side of oppressed minorities and disinherited majorities. The America for which you gallantly speak, inclusive of factions and parties, stands for the freedom of open and wide discussion of all issues and a fair hearing to all sides; for the ways of peace and democracy rather than of war and dictatorship; for a new hope to youth and a more equal educational opportunity to all the children in the states; for the right to honest work whether in private industry or on public works; for humane minimum standards of hours, wages and conditions of fair competition in justice to workers and business men; for money as the medium of exchange rather than as master of labor and enterprise; for the saving of our soils, minerals, forests and water-powers; for the security of banks, farms, industries, and homes; for farmers as equal partners in our economic society; for the advancement of American democracy by more equality of bargaining power through the organization of workers, the cooperation of farmers and the information of consumers; for social security against old age, unemployment, sickness, and the hazards of modern society; for intelligent production as a way of abundance and decent consumption as a way of life; and for a more abundant distribution of the good life for all people in the eternal adventure toward the Kingdom of God.

In appreciation of the democratic faith and the humane hopes your American leadership gives to the people of the world in this time of crisis and bewilderment the University of North Carolina, by the vote of the faculty and the trustees, confers upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws.

A reproduction of a hand-lettered scroll of the citation of President Roosevelt for a University of North Carolina degree of doctor of law which was conferred on him during his visit to the campus last month. The CPU has just sent to the President the original scroll which was done by a Winston-Salem artist. It is 23 by 38 inches in size. The University seal and ribbon at the top are in the University colors and the scroll is tied in blue and white ribbons.

Tryouts For New Plays To Be Today

Try-outs for the Fifty-Eighth bill of new plays to be presented by the Playmakers will be held in the Playmaker theater at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The bill consists of three one-act plays written in Dr. Frederick F. Koch's course in playwriting during the fall quarter: "Swappin' Fever," a comedy of the Missouri Ozarks, by Lealon N. Jones, Girardeau, Mo.; "Runaway," a play of a Reform school by Dorothy Lewis, New York City; and "If Life Could Be Like Noel Coward," a sophisticated comedy, by Sanford Stein, Woomere, New York.

MANY PARTS

Thirteen acting parts are available and everyone is invited to try-out. In and everyone is invited to try-out. In "Swappin' Fever" a particularly lovable old farmer, who is given to telling

Would Make Amount Three Times Higher Than Nation Average

By CHARLES BARRETT

If the proposed $50 per capita tuition increase is passed by the state legislature in Raleigh, tuition for resident students in North Carolina will be almost three times higher than the national average for state universities, and the fifth highest in the nation, a compilation taken from the United States Bureau of Education statistics revealed yesterday.

Under provisions of the Advisory Budget commission's recommendations, the Tar Heel tuition rate will be $125; according to yesterday's survey, the national average is $43.64.

NOW PENDING

The proposal, now pending before the joint appropriations committee of the house and senate, would also boost tuition fees for out-of-state students beyond the national average.

Under its provisions, non-residents would pay the University $225, while

Freshmen Decide To Apply For Admission To Woman's College

At least five petitions of one kind or another have been circulated over the campus during the first 14 days of the winter quarter. Ranging from a request to Hedy Lamarr to become the house mother of Aycock dormitory, to a petition to the representatives in the state legislature to kill the proposed action of raising tuition fees, the various petitions, all accompanied by letters to the editor, have brought considerable comment and speculation as to the value of such things.

FROSH COMPLAIN

The scene of concerted action seems to be in Aycock, freshman dormitory. A petition submitted to the occupants some time during the latter part of the week was to the ef-

Hobbs Takes Three Months Leave; Howell Made Assistant Dean During Absence Period

Arts, Sciences Head Intends To Depart For Florida Soon

Dean A. W. Hobbs of the College of Arts and Sciences is now on leave for a period of three months on the Kenan Foundation.

Professor A. C. Howell of the English department, on recommendation of Dean Hobbs, has been appointed Assistant Dean in charge of the Arts and Sciences school for the period of Hobbs' absence.

The dean's leave began yesterday and he is expected to spend the three-month period in Florida. The exact date of Hobbs' departure has not been set, according to Mrs. Hobbs, who, with her son, will accompany the dean, because of the necessity for Hobbs to undergo an operation for the removal of tonsils. Mrs. Hobbs stated that if doctors permitted Dean Hobbs to go to Florida before the operation, they will probably leave this week. Otherwise, the trip will have to be postponed until Hobbs recovers sufficiently from the tonsil operation.

140 Mile Ride On Bikes Wins $38

Tom Hayes and Emmett Sebrell, University students, are $38 richer than they were last Friday. But they earned their money the hard way.

A week or so ago they laid bets with Kappa Alpha fraternity brothers and other students that they could pedal bicycles the 140 miles to their homes in Charlotte within 24 hours.

With their money down, their second-hand bikes greased up, and their leg-motors turning up smoothly, the pair took off from Steele dormitory at 2:10 a. m. Saturday morning.

Sixteen hours and 55 minutes later—at 7:05 p. m.—they were in Charlotte. En route by way of Pittsboro, Asheboro and Concord they ate breakfast of eggs, bacon and toast and consumed 70 cents worth of cold drinks each. Their only mechanical difficulties were a broken pedal and chain.

But never again, they vehemently swore yesterday. They'll tell you $38 is a lot of money and always welcome, but when it means frost-bitten feet for Hayes and a trick knee jumping out of place three times for Sebrell—well, just NEVER AGAIN.

Incidentally, Pete Mullis and Vance Hobbs, who live in Charlotte and know how great the distance is, and who have the reputation hereabouts of selecting nothing but "sure-fire" bets, had their pocketbooks figuratively "taken for a ride."

Phi To Hear Report By Lobbyist Rankin

John W. Rankin will give a report on the activities of the lobby in Raleigh regarding the proposed raise in tuition at the meeting of the Phi assembly tonight at 7:15 at New East building.

Ben Dixon, the new speaker for the winter quarter, will make a short inaugural address at the meeting.

The bills to be discussed are Resolved: that the Phi assembly go on record as approving the President's rearmament program and Resolved: that Negroes be admitted to the graduate and professional schools of the University until separate educational facilities are provided for them.

The ways and means committee will meet today at 10:30 at the YMCA building.

Visit Libraries

The college book selection group of the School of Library Science visited the State college and St. Mary's school libraries in Raleigh last Tuesday afternoon, January 10. The group of 18 was accompanied by Miss Alice L. LeFevre.

DUPONT RENEWS CHEMISTRY AWARD FOR GRADUATES

$750 Fellowship To Be Given This Year For Third Time

The University chemistry department announced yesterday that the Dupont de Nemours company has renewed the Dupont fellowship to be awarded by the department to a graduate student who is in his last year of residence and working on his thesis.

This marks the third year the department has received the $750 Dupont fellowship. Given only to leading chemistry departments in the United States, the fellowships are received by 18 departments every year. The University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia are the only southern institutions which receive them.

The graduate student receiving the award may do research in any field. For this reason, the chemistry department feels that the Dupont fellowship is one of the best the department receives.

FIRST YEAR

David Milne received the fellowship the first year it was awarded. He did extensive research work on cotton in connection with the work of Dr. F. K. Cameron of the University.

Last year P. H. Latimer was the recipient of the award. With Dr. R. W. Bost he has worked with organic and synthetic drugs.

Announcement of the name of the student who will receive the award this year will not be made until April 1.

Thirteen fellowships are given each year to the chemistry graduates. Three are teaching fellowships, which require teaching service in the department but allow the receiver to work on any subject that he wishes. Five fellowships worth $1000 are given: a Naval Research Laboratory fellowship, three Textile Foundation fellowships, and one from the Cotton Foundation. Students awarded these fellowships must do research in special fields. Also given to the University chemistry department are the Vick, the Le Doux, and the Virginia Smelting company fellowships.

Sophomore Honor council meets tonight at 8 o'clock in the Student council room on the second floor of Graham Memorial. Pictures will be taken.

YMCA Decides To Sponsor Holiday Again This Spring

The Sophomore and Junior-Senior cabinets of the University YMCA last night voted authorization for President Brooks Patten to appoint a Student-Faculty day chairman and committee.

This decision of the YMCA to sponsor the holiday—held for the past four years under its auspices—made the observance a certainty for this year. After Student-Faculty day last spring a number of faculty members were said to have expressed opposition to the holiday, but the administration took no action and the day remained on the official calendar.

TIME

Time of the holiday will be decided by the committee. It should be held some time in the spring quarter after the Human Relations Institute April 2-8, it was generally agreed.

After their joint business session, the upperclassmen cabinets heard Rev. Donald Stewart in an address before the Freshman Friendship council.

YMCA CABINETS REGISTER PETITION

Group Opposed To Tuition Increase

As the University's "sole agency for providing self-help service to needy students," the YMCA last night petitioned the General Assembly not to raise tuition fees.

The petition, passed by the junior-senior and sophomore cabinets and to be delivered in behalf of the total 1400 YMCA members, cited self-help figures to oppose the increase.

"The YMCA which operates the Self-Help bureau, receives an annual average of 1500 formal applications from old and prospective students for self-help," the petition read. "This year the office has assigned 600 local part-time jobs and 270 NYA jobs to around 800 students selected from the list of approximately 1500 applicants. Of the 630 applicants for whom there were no jobs, many did not get to college at all. It is also a safe estimate that of the 870 who were given jobs, the majority of them could not have come without this assistance . . ."

"Most serious consideration of such facts" was requested of the Legislature.

Symphony Rehearses

Rehearsals began last night for a program to be presented here on February 16 by the University Symphony orchestra.

The symphony was enthusiastically received by a capacity audience at Peace college in Raleigh last Saturday night. One-half hour of the program presented there was broadcast through station WPTF.

All persons who play orchestral instruments and who are interested are invited to attend the symphony rehearsals each Monday night at 7 o'clock.

Daniels To Speak At Bull's Head Tea

The Bull's Head tea, which is usually held on Wednesday afternoons, will be held this week on Thursday afternoon at 4:15 in the usual place.

Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer and author of the book, "A Southerner Discovers the South," will speak.

Attention, Freshmen!

All freshmen whose names lie between R. K. Adams and S. H. Clark are asked to report to Hill Music hall this morning at 10:30 to have their Yackety-Yack picture made. Coats and ties should be worn.
