be the battle of sophomores between Duke's Glenn Price and Carolina's George Glasmack. Price, former Oak Ridge Military School ace, has been a guard stand-out all season. Glasmack, hot at times when his back-flip shots are working, is fourth highest Tar Heel scorer.

"Duke looks mighty good to me. They have a strong first team," Carolina coach Walter Skidmore said yesterday afternoon at practice. Skidmore saw the Davidson-Duke game. The Tar Heels took a hard drill yesterday.

Carolina won the first game of the series last year and Duke took the final battle. It was that win over Carolina, top team in the league last season, that got Duke its tournament invitation.

Keller has had his fill of sport in the past two years—that is if you consider war sport. He fought in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, made up of American boys fighting for the Spanish government, from March 1937, until last September, commanding a battalion for a year.

In 1792 William R. Davie and his party stopped beneath what is now known as Davie Poplar and chose the towering tree as nucleus for a great enterprise in education.

JUNIOR RETURNS AFTER PROVOKING POLICE SEARCH

Randy Dick Says Journey North Was Mere "Adventure"

Randy Dick, University junior, object of a search throughout the Carolinas and Virginia Wednesday, returned to Chapel Hill around 1:30 a. m. yesterday, much surprised to learn his Delta Psi fraternity brothers had feared for his safety and had called upon local and state police to seek his whereabouts.

He rode as far north as Richmond on a transfer truck, he said, and at Richmond decided to give up his "adventure," as he termed it. Dick disappeared Tuesday morning and his absence became noticed later in the day. Wednesday his fraternity brothers reported to Chief W. T. Sloan.

Dick said he was walking to class Tuesday when a large truck stopped and the driver, an acquaintance of his, asked if he wanted a ride to Philadelphia. On the spur of the moment he accepted. He changed his mind about the "adventure" at Richmond, he said. He saw a show in the Virginia capital Tuesday night and started out early Wednesday hitch-hiking back to Chapel Hill.

Police sought him in the Carolinas and Virginia after his absence was reported Wednesday, but Dick knew nothing of local apprehension for his safety until he appeared here safe and sound Thursday.

Thrilling Commercial Quiz Offers Three Movie Passes

Shows Will Be Easy To Attend By Answering Contest At 10 o'clock Saturday

By W. LOCKETT BEERMAN

Peace, quietude, and the usual solemnity of the DAILY TAR HEEL's editorial sanctum was disrupted yesterday afternoon when an individual from the business office dropped by with the long-awaited Ad Contest questions.

"Fellow indigents," said the individual, "I come on a mission of utmost importance. The sake of the union is at stake, as are our advertisers. For days the University populace has been informed of the great TAR HEEL AD contest—and at last I am able to dispense the glad tidings."

Fortifying himself with a quick shot and blushing deeply as he saw a copy of "The Buccaneer" on the editor's desk, the person from the B. O. hushed the murmur of the multitudes and divulged the rules and regulations of the commercial IQ quiz.

The following questions must be answered:

1. What is M. G. M.'s surprise picture of 1939?
2. Where have you last seen a spinet cabinet?
3. Complete this word: R—x.
4. Who or what is Prop?
5. Have you seen yours written in italics lately?

Write the answers on a plain piece of paper. (Our advertisers' stationery, please), sign your name (with Ever-sharp, Shaeffers, Parker, etc; or take Incept's Simplified Course In How To Write, and then, after donning a Finchley suit, Bostonian shoes, and a Botany tie, come by the TAR HEEL business office. This is on the second floor of Graham Memorial, and Mons. Bert Halperin will be located there Saturday morning, beginning at 10:00. He will grade the answers as they come in, and the first person to score 100 per cent will be given three (3) passes, good for admission to either of the two movie emporiums in Chapel Hill.

"That's all there is to it," concluded the business department representative. "Three passes absolutely free to the person who best answers the five questions. Answers can be found in the issues of the TAR HEEL for this week.

Anyway, the contest is in all seriousness. Rules are simple, and can be found buried somewhere above. Anyone is eligible to enter the contest except those connected with the DAILY TAR HEEL.

alter the method of selection of cheerleaders. Legislator Davis, by whom the bill was introduced, explained that there had been general campus criticism of the "inefficiency of the present method of choosing cheerleaders."

MODIFIED The proposal would have modified the plan to conform more closely to the present method of selection of managers of athletic teams. It proposed that there should be no more than four sophomore leaders, two junior leaders, and one senior, head leader. The head leader with the Athletic council would have chosen the sophomore and junior leaders from those classes, while the head leader would have been elected by the campus from the two junior leaders. After much discussion from the floor concerning its various provisions, the bill was voted down by a small majority.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Committee on Organization and Procedure, three new members were added to the Ways and Means committee. The men elected by the legislature were Allen Merrill, Ned Hamilton, and Felix Markham.

Following the discussion and vote on the final bill, Chairman Joyner announced his committee appointments to the special groups to investigate the need, size and general student-value-received benefit of the undergraduate fees.

COMMITTEES The committees, with their respective members, are as follows: Publications fee, Gilmore (chairman), Elliot, and Britt. Graham memorial, Hobbs (chairman), Raney, and Gregory. Student council, Wakely (chairman), Boak, Singleterry. Student entertainment, Miss Cruickshank (chairman), McLemore, Hunter. Senior class, Markham (chairman), Kline, Pearson. Junior class, Wood (chairman), Worley, Langsam. Sophomore class, Bowles (chairman), Alexander, Idol. Freshman class, Shore (chairman), Edwards, Schurz. Women's council, Miss Malone (chairman), Miss Howard, Miss Tripp. Dormitory fee, Nesbit, Vincent, Morgan.

The next meeting of the legislature will be Thursday, February 23.

UNION WILL SHOW PAINTING EXHIBIT

Collection Here Today Through 21

The Aqua-chromatic exhibit of water colors, said to be one of the most important exhibits of the year, will be shown in Graham memorial today through February 21, it was announced yesterday by Bob Magill, director of Graham memorial.

A collection of paintings by prominent artists all over the country, the exhibit has been confined to aqua-chromatic water colors and the secret of each artist is said to be revealed through a square at the bottom of each painting in which the colors used have been placed by actual brush mark.

Sponsored by the research laboratories of M. Grumbacher, the exhibit has been on display at the Grand Central art galleries recently and has received the cooperation of many of America's leading art institutions such as the Tiffany Foundation, the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors, and many museums throughout the country.

Among the noted artists participating in the exhibition are: Elliot O'Hara, noted art educator and author of well known books on water color painting; Alphets P. Cole, president of the New York Water Color society; Gordon Grant, noted marine painter; Stanley Woodward, one of the five greatest marine painters in the United States; Harry E. Olsen, Clyde Singer, Henry Pitz, Carroll Bill and Karl Yens, all of whom have received recognition both in this country and abroad. Representatives of all schools are equally shown; conservative and modern, abstract and non-objective, comprise these present-day fine art showings.

UNIFORM

Each of the water colors is uniform in size, each matted on mats of a size large enough to permit easy viewing from a considerable distance and each is done on specially prepared paper, aged over 100 years and finely processed to insure permanency.

The exhibit is expected to attract many interested persons and it is believed that it will be most favorably received in this section.

Safety Council Is Established

proval of the proposal to set up a Student Safety committee by voting unanimously to do so although there had been no discussion of the measure on the floor. The committee is to have judicial authority delegated from the Student council over "matters of student negligence, carelessness, recklessness, or general lack of responsibility in handling an automobile; and will do preventative educational work with reference to automobile safety." Appointed by the chairman, the committee included Jack Vincent, chairman, Alan Truex, and Voit Gilmore.

Also passed with little discussion was the proposal to establish a committee to investigate the debate fee levy. The committee will investigate the possibility of debate fee reduction or diversion and will make its recommendation back to the legislature.

The most animated discussion of the meeting grew out of a proposal to

DEBATE SQUAD TO COOPERATE

Information Given On Triangle Meet

After a discussion of the recently proposed action of the Student legislature to appoint an investigation committee on debate activities, the debate group issued this statement Wednesday night. "The Debate squad and the Debate council will be glad to cooperate with any fact-finding committee appointed by the Student legislature."

Professor Olsen, adviser, gave the squad information on the triangle debates which are to be held April 20. The other two members of the triangle are George Washington university and the University of Virginia. The University will debate them negatively and affirmatively on the query: Resolved, That the United States join in an alliance with Great Britain and France to prevent the spread of Fascism.

GIRLS THIS QUARTER

The only debate scheduled for this quarter is one with the girl's team of William and Mary on March 5. The squad decided to have a try at humorous debate and sent the following query to the girl's group for consideration: Resolved, That emancipated woman is a menace, or the emergence of the woman from the home is to be deplored.

The Australian debaters have informed debate council Secretary Bill Cochran that they will be unable to debate, as was previously announced.

GOOD LISTENIN'

BY ELBERT HUTTON

The rumor about Berigan's going back to Goodman has been proven false. It was merely something started by a New York daily columnist.

We're sorry to see a good band ruined by a too anxious drummer. Those Shaw arrangements, characterized by numerous rests, are no more. Drummer Buddy Rich is using the rests as spots for drum breaks, and in our mind is ruining Artie's arrangements. It's not the real Shaw style.

Claude Bowen, Hampton, Va., boy who played with Hal Thurston in Rocky Mount a few years back, has left Shaw's second chair to play first with Harry James' new band. We'd like to take this opportunity to wish a lot of success to James and to Jack Teagarden whose band will also appear in the near future.
