March Hopes To Out Jump Miller

by, March earned the title of "one man track team" for his high scoring in the high and low hurdles, high jump and broad jump. In the Southern conference meet at Durham last spring Miller outjumped the field for first place, so, after March, Vaughn Winborne and Dunc McColl cinched the next places, the coach again asked March to quit so he would be fresh for the broad jump.

This year Harry believes he can beat Miller. Bring on the Indoor Games! Let's see if he can!

Health Division To Offer Course

Sewage works superintendents and operators will gather here February 27 for a one week course sponsored by the Division of Public Health of the University in cooperation with the North Carolina State Board of Health, the State Board of Vocational Education and the Chapel Hill Board of Education.

The course is planned to give instruction in fundamental public health problems, including sewage treatment and stream pollution, and to give practical information in sewage works management, plant operation and laboratory control of treatment processes.

Admission is not based on any special requirements, but the course is planned to be of special value to those with experience and training in fundamental sciences. The University will give no academic credit, but those who complete the course satisfactorily will be presented certificates of attendance. Subjects will include lectures, laboratory exercises, round-table discussions and inspection trips to nearby sewage treatment works from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Dr. Herman G. Baitz, professor of sanitary engineering at the University, is in charge of the course. Instruction will be given by Dr. Baitz and by Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, director of the University Division of Public Health; Dr. Harold W. Brown, professor of public health, UNC, and the following men from the State Board of Health: Warren H. Booker, chief engineer; D. S. Abell, principal assistant engineer; W. Kearney, assistant engineer; W. D. McKinnon, engineer; and R. F. Hill, Jr., assistant engineer. Also instructors are: E. H. Phillips, chief chemist, Northside Treatment Plants, Durham; Ralph Porges, special investigator, the Textile Foundation, Greensboro.

Registration will be held from 9 to 10 o'clock Monday morning in room 207 Phillips hall. A registration fee of five dollars will be charged to cover a portion of the cost of conducting the course. Three-quarters of the cost will be borne by the State Board of Vocational Education.

five or six of them to the Southern conference tourney." This year the tournament is scheduled for Columbia, S. C., on February 24 and 25. Most of the conference teams will be entered, including the strong South Carolina, Citadel, and Clemson squads.

The coach thought 155-pound Claude Sapp was tops in his performance with Frank Cronin, the Maryland south-paw star. Cronin had difficulty in hitting Sapp at all, and in the process took quite a few blows himself. However, it was his extremely rapid left swing which won him the decision.

Wally Dunham, the frosh coach, has prepared a questionnaire to canvas campus opinion on boxing. He will place a copy in dormitories and fraternities, then check the replies in answer to the question: "Do you approve of boxing at the University?" A committee, appointed by the student legislature, is now in the process of investigating the extent of injuries suffered in boxing here in the past.

which enabled them to have their one point lead at the end of it. After this quarter the two squads matched each other shot for shot with neither team moving over 4 points ahead at any time.

Bob Gersten, forward, Jimmy Dempsey, Bill Loock and Austin Robbins, guards, upheld Carolina's defense in the game. Robbins displayed exceptional ability in capturing the ball off the opponent's backboard several times. McCahan and Spuhler, Duke guards, were the defensive standouts for them.

Added to the gym squad this fall were Nick Walker, Frank Rogers and a couple of other fellows. Walker is a pretty good wrestler. His brother made his letter on the Navy gym squad last winter. Not as good as his brother, or me either, but pretty good. So is Fred Meyers and Al Joachim and Fido the Bull Dog.

NO FUNNY STUFF

There will be no clown in the AAU tournament, incidentally. Such competition is rewarded for greatest exhibition of skill and form; the gymnastic clown's function is to give the optimum exhibition of lack of skill and lack of form.

Yesterday morning, we received a letter from the Women's College physical ed department, inviting us to ask the boys over for a joint exhibition the night of the annual gym show at Greensboro, March 3.

Former Students Had Meager Supper

through the Revolution. The staple food was coarse corn bread. The only meal at which meat was served was dinner at which time fat middling of bacon was brought in on a platter surmounting a pile of colewarts.

BREAKFAST

Breakfast consisted of wheat bread, butter and coffee. Wheat bread was a favorite of the students. As they waited outside the University dining hall before supper if one lad standing on his tiptoes to peer in could proclaim "Wheat bread for supper, boys!" the students would shout for joy. And the wheat bread they ate was made from seconds, or grudgeons.

Perhaps the students were justified in their nightly prowls when they seized anything eatable within two miles of the University. Beehives at the price of many stings, all feathered fowls, watermelons, and roasting ears were taken. The dignified students were even discovered on their hands and knees grubbing for potatoes on nearby farms.

The regular library staff numbers 32, in addition to about 30 student assistants. Some of these persons are on duty each week day from 8:15 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. and from 2 to 6 p. m. on Sundays.

Senate To Discuss Frats, Tar Heel At Meeting Tonight

At the weekly meeting of the Di senate in New West tonight at 7:15 two bills of interest to the campus will be discussed. The bills were on the calendar for discussion last week, but due to the fact that a new treasurer had to be elected and other business transacted, there was not enough time for discussion.

The bills which will be discussed are: Resolved: That the University of North Carolina take over the social fraternities and Resolved: That the DAILY TAR HEEL is guilty of suppressing liberalism in the University of North Carolina.
