Playmakers To Give Bill Of Three One-Act Plays Tonight

Productions Written
By Don Muller, Miss
Pharis, Wied Sievers

For their production at 8:30 tonight, tomorrow and Saturday evenings the Playmakers will present three one-act plays "Twilight Song," "Kid Sister," and "Pasque Flower" in the Playmaker theater. Admission will be either by season ticket or fifty cents. Tickets are now obtainable at Ledbetter Pickard's or at 314 South building.

The three authors, Donald Muller, Wied Sievers, and Miss Gwen Pharis are all students in the department of dramatic art at the University and their plays were written in Dr. F. H. Koch's course in playwriting during the past term. All three have acted in Playmaker productions and went on the thirty-sixth tour of the Playmakers last November.

APPROPRIATIONS GROUP CONSIDERS LOAN FUND BILL

Measure Would Let
Certain Students
Give Own Notes

North Carolina's House Appropriations committee Tuesday asked reference of the committee on higher education of a bill introduced Monday by Representative Thompkins of Jackson to allow certain students to give their personal notes as part payment for expenses at state-owned schools.

As stated in the measure, the privilege would be limited to graduates of North Carolina high schools who finished in the upper third of their classes. The loan would not exceed $200 per year and could not be used for payment of not more than half of a student's charges for tuition, fees, room and board.

The notes would be repaid semi-annually at five per cent interest, the first payment, $50, to be due January 1 of the year after the student graduated or withdrew from school. After the initial payment of $50, subsequent payments would be increased $10 each. It is estimated that a graduate who would have borrowed the maximum of $200 each year would have repaid the note five years after his graduation.

Because a copy of the bill had not been received yesterday, University officials refused to comment on the bill.

Cooperating With County—

Students Aid In Eliminating Large Number Of Illiterates

North Carolina Rates Low In
Literacy Average, But Group
Of Students Attempt Cure

By ARTHUR DIXON

North Carolina has 3000 automobile drivers who cannot read or write. The percentage of illiteracy in the state is 10.9 as compared with the national average of 4.3 per cent, and in Orange county in particular the percentage is 10.3. In view of these facts the extension division of the University and various county organizations are attempting to raise the educational standard of Orange county.

There are 35 students at the University who gave two hours (in reality they sacrifice more than that) every week to go out singly or in groups and teach the limited number of illiterates their work can reach. Approximately 90 of these educationally underprivileged were taught during the fall (Continued on page two)

HEER, GRAHAM TO GO BEFORE SENATE GROUP

Federal Aid To Education Will Be Defended

Dr. Clarence Heer, University professor of economics, and Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University, left last night for Washington where Dr. Heer will appear today before the Senate Education and Labor committee to give a report on how federal aid to education will help get a better tax system. Dr. Graham will appear before the committee tomorrow.

The Senate Education and Labor committee is conducting hearings on Senate bill No. 1305 introduced by Thomas of Utah which would provide large federal grants for education in the various states, primarily for secondary education and for building construction. The bill provides for increasing grants each year until 1944, at which time the annual federal appropriation to North Carolina's schools would be approximately $10,000,000. The state's appropriation for 1940 would be around $3,000,000.

Dr. Heer said yesterday that the bill grew out of the investigations of the Advisory Committee on Education, appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and which numbers among its members Dr. Graham. Dr. Graham has made over 75 speeches in behalf of federal aid to education of secondary education opportunities. He has appeared in almost all of the southern states and four northern states.

Dr. Heer, a taxation specialist, will (Continued on page two)

PU Board Approves Magazine Budgets

Tim Elliott, president of the Publications Union board, announced Wednesday after the weekly meeting of the group that the operating budgets for the Carolina Magazine and the Buccaneer had been announced and approved. The appropriation for the operation of the Magazine, he announced is $3,230 and that for the Buccaneer is $4,462. These budgets have been approved for the current year and the editors of the respective magazines will be expected to keep their expenses within this allowance.

Elliott also said that the board decided to have audits made at the end of the fall and winter quarters and to notify the editors of their financial standings.

Wanta Be A G-Man? If So, Go Hear Scheidt Friday

Mr. Edward Scheidt, Special Agent in charge of the Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Department of Justice, for the two Carolinas, will speak to law students, commerce students and any others interested, on "The Work of the Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation" at four o'clock, Friday, in the first year classroom of Manning hall. He will discuss the career aspects of the work of Special Agent of the Federal Bureau and explain the requirements for appointment and the duties of the position.

All senior law students, commerce seniors and majors in accounting, are especially invited to hear Mr. Scheidt. Conferences with interested students may be arranged following his talk.

To Speak In Town Hall Of Air Here

Senator Josiah Bailey, above, conservative North Carolina senior senator, will be one of three speakers to speak on Town Hall of the Air broadcast here March 30. Along with Dr. Frank Graham, and John Rust, co-inventor of the cotton picking machine, Bailey will discuss the topic: "Is the South Our Number One Economic Problem?"

Final Symphony Concert Of Quarter To Be Held Tonight

Judd To Discuss Affairs In China Today At Union

The current situation in China, presented from a physician's standpoint, will be discussed by Dr. Walter Judd, prominent medical missionary to China, in a series of appearances here today. His addresses are under auspices of the YMCA.

Dr. Judd will begin his speaking program this morning at 10:30 in an address before the students and faculty of the Medical school on hospital and medical experiences in China. A discussion period will follow his talk.

His next appearance will be in 103 Bingham hall at 12 o'clock, when he speaks on the "Present Economic Situation in China and Japan." The public is invited so long as there is seating room. An open forum is also planned for this address.

PUBLIC FORUM

At 7:30 p. m., Dr. Judd will address a public forum in the main lounge of Graham memorial on the topic "Will China Survive?"

Dr. Judd was the leading speaker on America's Town Meeting of the Air program last week from New York City, and he has also spoken in many parts of the country during the brief time since his return from China. He is said to be one of the most popular speakers today on the Far East situation. Dr. Judd will be available for interviews, the YMCA announced.

All Faithful Juniors Come Out For Practice

The class of '40, commonly known as senior-slayers, will be represented in the Junior-Senior cage tilt to come off soon by what juniors, male or female, turn out for practice at 4 o'clock today in Woollen.

Fishum Worley, of varsity fame, will coach the juniors and will be assisted by Sassy Holland and Bill Blalock. The great J. Franklin Jones will act in the capacity of trainer.

According to the boys in the know, at least one coed will be in the starting lineup.

Program, Featuring Large Chorus To Be Presented At 8:30

Featuring many voices in chorus, the University Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Benjamin Swalin, will present its final concert of the winter quarter tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall.

Included on the program will be "Symphony in E Flat Major, No. 103" by Haydn, a well known tone poem, "A Night on a Bald Mountain," by Moussorgsky, and, after intermission, the Cantata No. 140, "Wache auf ruft uns die Stimme," by Bach.

The Cantata, which is usually sung at Easter, will be sung by a choral group of 24 voices and three soloists. Taking solo parts will be Miss Wilburta Horn, teacher of voice at St. Mary's School for Girls, as soprano, Dr. Sherman E. Smith of the University Chemistry department as bass baritone, and Professor John E. Toms of the University Music department as tenor. Miss Horn, who sang here last December 7, has an impressive musical record, her experience in public singing having included work with five opera companies in and around Philadelphia and with several orchestras. Also, last summer, she did work in opera at the Mozarteum Summer school in Salzburg to which she intends to return this June. She has studied music at the Eastman school of Music and (Continued on last page)

Last Call For Ducats To Quartet Concert

Students and faculty members desiring tickets for the concert to be given here in Hill Music hall by the Coolidge String quartet at 8:30 on the evening of March 6 are asked to call by the Music department office for them sometime today. After today, other requests will be filled from the tickets not taken by students and faculty. There is no admission charge.

Student Proposal To Be Read Before Assembly This Morning

CLASS SCHEDULES TO BE GIVEN OUT THIS AFTERNOON

Undergrads Register Tomorrow; Graduate Students Monday

Students may obtain class schedules for spring quarter registration this afternoon from the Central Records office, and registration for undergraduates will begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, I. C. Griffin, head of Central Records office, said yesterday. Graduate students will not begin registration until Monday.

Registration desks will be open until 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon but will close at 1 o'clock Saturday. Registration will continue through next Saturday during the same hours.

PROCEDURE

Procedure is the same as last quarter. All students must first obtain registration permits, which are to be distributed from the sage of Memorial hall. Upon showing the permits, students will be registered by their deans and must be tallied at the tally desk in the upstairs of Memorial hall.

Students in the College of Arts and Sciences must see their department heads before going to their dean for registration.

Griffin said all students in residence this quarter are expected to register during the scheduled period.

Walker Will Speak To Community Club

Mrs. Iris Calderhead Walker of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will speak to the Community club tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the Parish house on "How the National Government's Services for the Consumers are Related to Local Activities."

The University Extension Division has secured Mrs. Walker to speak at its inter-group institute tomorrow. Since the Community club has been greatly interested in food and drug legislation and consumer problems, the club welfare department has secured her to speak at a general meeting of the group.

Hey, Boy Scouts!

The Orange county district Boy Scout group will hold its first court of honor of the new year in Graham Memorial tonight at 7 o'clock.

Fending Escapades—

Death Of Two Spencer Rats To Be Celebrated This Week

O'duilearga To Talk On Irish Narrators; Will Show Pictures

Seamus O'Duilearga, director of the Irish Folklore commission of Dublin, will speak at the Carolina inn tomorrow night at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the University Folklore council on the subject of "Irish Story Tellers," Professor Ralph S. Boggs, archivist of the University Folklore council, said yesterday.

The lecture will be illustrated with slides depicting the life of the story tellers and their families. There will be no admission charge.

A student of Gaelic who has made recordings from folk stories, tales and traditions, O'Duilearga comes from the glens of Antrim. He is a member of the Royal Irish academy, a lecturer in folklore at the University college, Dublin, and editor of the Bealoideas Journal, which was established in 1927 by the Folklore Society of Ireland.

While here, O'Duilearga will be the guest of the University.

Magill, Thurston Sims Speak On Needs For Appropriations

INTERDORM SET WILL PROBABLY BE POSTPONED

Conflict With Weil Lectures Must Be Settled By Council

Interdormitory dances, scheduled for the week-end of March 30-April 1, will probably necessarily be postponed until the week-end of April 28-29, it was announced at the meeting of the Interdormitory council last night.

The Weil lecture series is scheduled for the March 31-April 1 week-end and President Charles "Puddin'" Wales said he had been informed the University administration disapproves of social functions during the lectures. Easter week-end is the only remaining date open, and since this time would present too many conflicts, it was decided to move the date to the week-end of the Pharmacy school dances, April 28-29.

President Wales appointed a committee to investigate the matter, since, he said, the council had its date officially set before the lecture series times was arranged.

"RED" STROUD

Coeds Will Conduct Solemn Ceremony For Unfortunate Rodents

By SANFORD STEIN

Funeral services will be held this week for two rats who recently met violent deaths in Spencer hall. Since the animals involved are of the rodent rather than the usual mammal variety, the Woman's council has not intervened and the ceremony will be conducted at high noon by Mrs. Lee in her private garden.

The first of the two rats was unfortunate enough to climb to the fourth floor of the Shack and wander into the room of Penelope Donovan, a coed pharmacy major and a woman of great strength of character. Miss Penelope was peacefully dozing when she woke up and sensed something stirring about her. Deciding after a few minutes reflection that it was neither imagination nor indigestion, she started to gingerly touch various parts of her anatomy. When she came to the top of her head, she felt some- (Continued on page two)
