PHOTO MEASURE AGAIN TUESDAY

Alexander Leaves Town In Search Of Entertainment

In search of quorum-raising entertainment, Sophomore President Bill Alexander left town yesterday to prepare for his class meeting Tuesday when the issue of individual photos for the Yackety Yack will be voted on for the second time.

Alexander urged all rising sophs to keep the date in mind and stated that the majority of class sentiment appeared to be in favor of the plan, so that a quorum is all that is necessary to put it into action. Some kind of entertainment will be furnished to keep sophomoric minds busy. NEW MAN LYNCH

New annual editor Jack Lynch, who is in favor of the measure, said yesterday that "we can witness in the Yackety Yack distributed within the past few days the make-shift, irregular appearance of the group pictures of freshmen and sophomores. Next year we would like to avoid such difficulties. It is a very common policy of yearbooks to have individual pictures of first and second year men. There is no reason why we shouldn't have them too."

The class met last Wednesday but only 300 out of the necessary 375 turned out to hear Charley Wood and Alonzo Squires.

BAND WILL GIVE SECOND OUTDOOR CONCERT TODAY

Marches, Light Symphonies Will Compose Program

Several marches and light symphonic selections will be featured on the second lawn concert of this quarter presented by the University band at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Director Earl A. Slocum will wave the baton over the 100 musicians taking part on the program.

Today's program will consist of "Dublin Holiday Overture" by Buchtel; "Fugue Modernistic" by Frangkiser; "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin; "Friml Favorites Selection"; "Pop! Goes the Weasel" by Carillet; Wood's "Frescoes Suite"; and "March from Love of the Three Oranges" written and arranged by Prokofieff.

There are no admission charges to the outdoor presentation. All students and townspeople are invited to at-

Smith To Give Talk On New Art Exhibit

Playmaker Show

In next week's issue of Life magazine pictures of the Playmaker production of "Our Town" will be featured in several pages of pictures. Dr. Frederick H. Koch received a telegram yesterday assuring the dramatic art department that the photographs will appear.

The following telegram was received: "Chapel Hill pictures running in next wek's issue of Life. Please rewire collect brief description of theater including following information: What was theater building originally? When was it built? When used as theater? Thank you very much. Helen Robinson, Life Magazine."

Dr. Koch sent the following reply: 'Playmakers theater building erected and ballroom. During Civil War a troop of Yankee cavalry quartered in were received by Dr. E. W. Zimmer- it their horses feeding from the book stalls. 1903 equipped with bathubs. Only ones available for students in dormitories. Later became University Law school, 1925 remodeled as Playmaker theater. First play on the stage has as its scene the handsome portico ballroom. It was a romantic comedy "Out of the Past" by Frances Gray, University student. Written for the E. rededication of the historic building as the Playmaker theater and concerned an incident of the Civil War and the last dance held in the building before the War between the States.
