

University Calendar Changed; Quarters To Be Nearly Equal, Vacation, Exam Dates Altered

Dr. M. C. S. Noble

... grand old man ...

Dr. M. C. S. Noble To Get Masonic Award For Service

Dr. M. C. S. Noble, education professor emeritus of the University, will tomorrow night receive an award for 50 years' service to Masonic lodges of North Carolina, at a meeting of University lodge No. 408. J. Edward Allen of Warrenton, grand master of the state lodge, will make the presentation.

Bushy-haired, genial Dr. Noble will receive the award 13 years late. A member of the lodge explained the tardiness of the presentation: "No one happened to think of it before."

Actually, the retired professor has been a mason 63 years. When he was 21, in 1877, he joined the Mebaneville (now Mebane, N. C.) lodge No. 272. Five years later, he moved to Wilmington, where he became superintendent of public schools. While there, he transferred membership to Orient lodge No. 395.

In Wilmington, Dr. Noble took Royal Arts and Knights' Templar degrees. Two years after he joined the faculty of the University in 1898, he became a member of the local lodge. During residence here, he has been made a shriner.

Since he joined the order, Dr. Noble has held every position in each lodge of which he has been a member, and has received the highest official honor. He has been elected master of three lodges, having served in that capacity twice with the local organization.

His physician describes him as "alert and possessing a good memory." Having retired from active teaching only a few years ago, Dr. Noble is still active and presides over the village bank.

Permanent Schedule To Become Effective Next Fall Quarter

In an attempt to better regulate the length of quarters, the opening date of the University next fall has been made a few days later and the entire school calendar of vacations and dates of exams has been changed and approved by the University faculty.

Thomas J. Wilson, dean of admissions and registrar, said yesterday that the changes were made in order to set a definite length for quarters and make them as closely equal as possible.

NEW SET-UP

Under the new set-up the fall quarter will be only eleven weeks long and the last two will each be 10 weeks in length. The new calendar will be a permanent one for the University and is better than the old in the sense that quarters will be nearer equal.

Next September, Freshman week will not begin until the nineteenth and the registration of freshmen will begin on the twenty-third. All other registration will be held on the twenty-fourth with classes beginning the following day.

POSSIBLE CHANGE

Unless the date of Thanksgiving is again changed by the president, Thanksgiving recess will start on November 27 and extend to December 2.

Registration for the winter quarter will start December 12 and end December 20. The exams for the fall will be given on the last four days, beginning December 16 and ending on the twentieth. Christmas holidays will be cut short one or two days. They will begin on the last day of exams and end on January 1. Classes for the winter quarter will be held on the following day without any day between for further registration.

Spring recess next year will last from March 18 through 23 with classes starting on the twenty-fourth. School will not officially end in the late spring until June 10, which is commencement day. Examinations for the spring quarter will last four days, from the second through the sixth of June.

Sophomore Council To Meet Tomorrow

Meeting tomorrow night at 7:15 in the browsing room of the YMCA, the sophomore council will continue its discussions of Douglas Steere's book, "Prayer and Worship." Dr. Donald Stewart began the series last Monday night. The speaker for tomorrow night has not yet been announced.

Campus Studio Goes On The Air Today

Silence! . . . . . The University Is On The Air!

Gathered around the microphone at the upper left are the three student co-chairmen of the announcing group of the new campus radio studio, rehearsing the script of the show to be aired today over a state-wide network. Left to right, they are: Sanford Reece, Carroll McGaughey, and Joseph Lederman, while at the far right stands soundman McCurdy Burnett.

Making a last-minute check of today's show around the piano, McCurdy Burnett, Carroll McGaughey, Bob Finch, Earl Wynn, Joseph Lederman, and Sanford Reece, get their cues straight before the program takes the air at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In the soundproof control room, control man E. E. Caldwell gives the "go ahead" signal to Earl Wynn, program director, standing beside him.

In the lower right, sound man McCurdy Burnett stops one ear as he prepares to fire a pistol into the mike. On the table before him is his equipment for today's show. (Photo by Jack Mitchell).

SOUTHERN SYSTEM TO CARRY INITIAL SHOW FROM HERE

The inaugural program of the University of North Carolina's own campus radio studio will take the air at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Several years of planning and effort will be consummated in today's production which is a variety show written by Fred Howard and Donald Mason and directed by Earl Wynn, the faculty leader of the radio group. The University Glee club will cooperate in the show which will be heard over WRAL in Raleigh, WSTP in Salisbury, WSOC in Charlotte, and WAIR in Winston-Salem. Helen Copenhaver, Carroll McGaughey, and Don Rosenberg were cast for the performance.

REGULAR BROADCASTS

Regular broadcasts will be given over these same stations, all members of the Mutual Broadcasting system, every Sunday and Wednesday at the same hour, and on each Monday and Tuesday night at 8:30 over WDNC in WSJS in Winston-Salem of the Columbia system. Other stations will be added to the hookup as the programs expand and several national broadcasts are already planned.

The topic of his talk will be under the direction of the University Extension division, of which Russell M. Grumman is director, as another liaison activity between the University and the state.

ADVISORY BOARD

The new studio will be operated charge for the Extension division, and Earl Wynn will be program director. Dean R. B. House has appointed an advisory committee of faculty members and students to define the policies of the group. This committee is composed of R. M. Grumman, R. W. Madry, J. M. Saunders, Glen Haydon, F. H. Koch, A. E. Ruark, W. A. Olsen, Ray Newsome, K. C. Fraser, Robert Magill, Robert Foster, Martin Harmon, Harry Gaton, Walter Kleeman, and Wieder Sievers.

At the beginning of the broadcast series the programs will consist two-thirds of drama and music as these University departments are best suited to radio.

Starting tomorrow night with a (Continued on page 4, column 6)

UNC PROFESSOR IS APPOINTED TO PRINCETON STAFF

Dr. George Thomas Named Professor Of Religious Thought

Dr. George F. Thomas of the department of philosophy in the University has been appointed Professor of Religious Thought at Princeton University, and will take up his duties in September of this year, it was announced yesterday.

With Dr. Thomas' appointment, Princeton is taking the first step toward establishing a new department (Continued on page 4, column 5)

Zora N. Hurston Will Speak Here Wednesday Night

Zora Neale Hurston, prominent Negro author, will speak here Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial on "The Negro and the Play," Simons Roof, chairman of the Carolina Arts group, announced yesterday.

Chairman Roof also stated that Jonathan Daniels, because of an important trip taking him to Texas, will speak February 13, instead of February 28 as previously announced.

Zora Neale Hurston is on the faculty of North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham. She was born in Eatonville, Florida, but went north to Barnard college, where she was the first Negro student in the school. She attended Howard university, then Columbia, where she had a scholarship, graduating from there in 1927. She became secretary to Fannie Hurst. Then Miss Hurston's books began to appear, rapidly winning national acclaim. Better known of her books are "Jonah's Gourdvine," "Their Eyes Were Watching God," "Tell My Horse," and her recent "Moses, Man of the Mountain." Her books discuss (Continued on page 4, column 1)

KREISLER SAYS HE WILL STICK TO CLASSICS HERE

Violinist Sometimes Is Asked To Play 'Pop Goes The Weasel'

Even though he frequently receives requests to play "Pop Goes the Weasel," Fritz Kreisler, violinist and captain in the Austrian army, will pattern his concert here in Memorial hall Tuesday night at 8:30 along different lines because he does not feel that such a number fits in with his program.

Kreisler was born in Vienna on February 2, 1875. He received his education at the Vienna Conservatoire under Hellmesberger and in Paris under Massart. His first public appearance was made at London in 1902. Since then, he has travelled the world over.

ECONOMICS

The violinist believes that economic unrest helps rather than hinders an appreciation of music. He says that during a period of prosperity people are too busy enjoying the fruits of financial success to give time to the more aesthetic forms of enjoyment; while during a period of depression, the world looks toward the spiritual side of life. One fault that he finds with modern composers is that most of them work with one eye on the score and the other on possible profits.

Tickets for the concert, which is being sponsored by the local chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity, are now on sale at Hill Music hall. They may also be obtained at the door Tuesday evening.

Woodhouse To Speak To Freshman Class

Professor E. J. Woodhouse of the political science department will speak to the freshman class tomorrow morning during Chapel period.

Dr. Ralph MacDonald will be in national political race.

Geography Placement

A geography placement examination will be given Thursday evening, February 1 at 7 o'clock in 401 New East.

ENTIRE PROGRAM FOR PRESS MEET IS ANNOUNCED

Newspaper Institute To Hold Conference Here And At Duke

Designed to appeal to both weeklies and dailies, the complete program for the sixteenth annual newspaper institute, to be held here and at Duke university in cooperation with the North Carolina Press association, was announced yesterday by W. E. Horner of Sanford and Miss Beatrice Cobb of Morganton, president and secretary-treasurer of the association. Sessions will begin Thursday night when Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington (D. C.) Herald-Times, will be the principal speaker. Friday night's program will be held at Duke, as usual, and the closing session will be here Saturday morning.

The complete program follows:

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18
4:00—Registration at Carolina Inn.
8:00—Public Meeting in Gerrard hall, Chapel Hill; musical program; welcome address by Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University; response by W. E. Horner, president of the North Carolina Press association; Introduction of guest speaker by (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Sherman Smith To Lead Community Sing

Both new and old favorites will be featured at tonight's Community Sing, which is scheduled to be held in the main lounge of Graham Memorial at 7:30. Dr. Sherman Smith of the chemistry department will lead the program which is open to everyone.

Scene At Formal Installation Of Kappa Epsilon

Lambda chapter of Kappa Epsilon, University social and professional sorority of Pharmacy students, was installed and presented a charter at a formal banquet in the Carolina Inn Friday evening. Miss Gertrude Horsch of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, officiated at the presentation. Seated left to right, are those who attended the ceremony: Miss Alta-Jane Holden, member-at-large; Blanche Burrus, secretary; Miss Gertrude Horsch, national vice-president of Kappa Epsilon sorority; Miss Anna Dean Burks, president of Lambda chapter; Miss Elizabeth Weaver, vice-president; Miss Jessie Lee Smith, treasurer. Standing, from left to right, Miss Constance DuBose, Miss Jean Bush, Miss June Bush, Miss Josephine Eldridge, Miss Rose Stacy, Miss Ernestine Barber, Miss Helen Duguid, Miss Halycone Collier and Miss Margaret Lloyd. (Photo by Wooten-Moulton).

Formal Reception Ends Installation Activities Of KE

Installation activities of the Lambda chapter of Kappa Epsilon sorority, campus group of pharmacy girls, were concluded yesterday afternoon with a formal reception at Graham Memorial. Miss Gertrude Horsch of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, national vice-president of the organization who officiated at chapter installation, will leave today.

Miss Horsch was guest of honor at the reception and was house guest of Miss Alice Noble, advisor to the sorority, during her stay in Chapel Hill. Miss Noble poured tea at the reception, which was attended by approximately 200 guests.

Initiation of Kappa Epsilon sorority members into the national sorority chapter on the campus was held Friday afternoon, and the charter was presented at a formal banquet at the Carolina Inn Friday evening.