Entrants Must Be College Seniors

The editors of Vogue magazine have recently announced a photographic contest for college seniors, offering two career prizes on the Vogue staff in addition to eight cash awards and honorable mentions.

Those senior students who have imagination, a way with a lens, and a serious interest in photography, are given by Vogue an opportunity to step from the classroom right into a photographic career.

TWO CAREERS

Two career prizes are offered in the contest, one for men and one for women, consisting of a six month's apprenticeship with a salary in Vogue's Conde Nast studios in New York and a possibility of a permanent position on the Vogue staff.

The contest will consist of a series of eight photographic problems which will appear in the magazine. Problems one and two will appear in the February Vogue, three and four in March, five and six in April, and seven and eight in the issue for May.

Entries for each set of problems must be mailed on or before the twentieth of the month in which the problems appear. As many as three prints may be submitted for each problem.

Group Also Approves U.P. Wire Service In Daily Tar Heel

In a step to "give the student's money back to the students," the Publications union board yesterday voted to loan out $1,000 to the Student Loan Fund. The funds are to be used at the discretion of the Loan Fund office, and will be renewed at two year intervals upon payment of the six per cent interest. The fund is to be called the Publications Union Loan fund.

President Ed Rankin stated that the gross earnings of the fund will be turned over to the Publications board or may be added to the total fund. The University will not guarantee the security of the fund nor guarantee any specific rate of earning. Rankin added that the administration, however, will administer the fund with reasonable care and will give loans to preferred risks. The funds are to be lent to those students who are approved by their deans and have made arrangements with the Student Loan fund.

The board also approved of the use of the United Press News Briefs, which will be continued through the present Rosenberg and Harmon administration. The new board will take up the allocation of funds for providing the news summaries next year. The total cost of maintaining the UP reports for the remaining 11 weeks will amount to $90.

Action on the proposed new picture Buccaneer was tabled until next week, since George F. Horner, recently appointed to the board, was not

FROSH COUNCIL LAUNCHES DIME CAMPAIGN TODAY

Grail Starts Ball A'Rolling With $10 Contribution

A five-day March of Dimes drive will be launched today in the student body by the Freshman Friendship council while community groups begin the campaign in the town.

The drive will raise money to fight infantile paralysis by the sale of small buttons to be sold for the nominal price of 10 cents. Half of the money collected will be sent to the national foundation to be used for research. The rest will be kept for local treatment of the disease.

Members of the council will canvass the dormitories and fraternity houses whose standings will be published each day of the drive.

Contributions were begun last night when the Grail, honorary campus organization, gave the fund 100 dimes and its endorsement: "The Order of the Grail is entirely in sympathy with the program of the March of Dimes and hopes that other campus groups will also see fit to contribute."

Other endorsements were made by administration and student officials. Dean of administration R. B. House: "I like the idea of 'The March

Members of the March of Dimes collections committees will meet at 10:35 this morning on the second floor of the YMCA. It is imperative that all members be present.

of Dimes' movement and the directness with which it raises the money and gets it into the hands of those who know how to use it. I hope that our whole community, including the students, will cooperate by making contributions."

Dean of students F. B. Bradshaw: "There's no surer way for society to convert dimes into dollars than by saving the youth of our nation from the permanent disability of infantile paralysis. The test of a Christian nation is its treatment of its children."

John Bonner, president of the YMCA: "I feel that each of us as

VOTING PROCEDURE TO FACILITATE CAMPUS ELECTIONS

Council's Veto Power Expires; Bill Becomes Law

The bill declaring voting precincts for general elections becomes campus law today, the fifteenth day since it was passed by the student legislature January 8, in accordance with the rule that every bill passed by the legislature becomes effective if not vetoed by the student council within 15 days.

The precincts as set up by the Student legislature are for the purpose of facilitating and speeding up the process of voting in campus elections. Elections will still remain under the jurisdiction of the council and will be under their control. Another purpose set forth in the preamble of the bill is to safeguard elections from certain irregularities which come with increased enrollment and increased competition between political parties.

DIVISION

Precinct Number 1 will be in the lobby of H dormitory where the residents of Grimes, Ruffin, Manly, Mangum, Lewis, Aycock, Graham, Everett, H and K dormitories will vote. Precinct Number 2 will be in the lobby of Woman's Number 1 dormitory, and residents of Spencer and dormitories 1, 2 and 3 will vote there.

The third precinct, which is Graham Memorial, will take care of all town students and sorority members. Residents of Battle-Vance-Pettigrew, Old East, Old West, Carr, Steele, Smith, Dormitory L and all fraternity houses will vote in the fourth and last precinct which is to be located in the YMCA. However, if the Student council sees fit, residents of Smith and L dormitory will be allowed to vote in their respective dormitories when proper provisions for this have been made.

OTHERS

All students not falling in the category of these four precincts will be classed as town students and will register in Graham Memorial. A clerk will be present in the Graham Memorial precinct with an up-to-date list of registered students which will include all students registered at the time of the election and whose names do not appear in the current issue of the student directory. Any student who does not present a confirmation of registration by the administration at the polls will not be allowed to register if his or her name does not appear in the student or up-to-date directory.

Another provision of the bill is that all students must vote in the precinct in which they lived at the time of the publication of the directories. Representative

War Declared! Sophs, Frosh To Fight It Out With Snow For Possession Of Old Well

Soph President Alexander Issues Challenge; Fight To Be Held At Well Today At 10:30

President Bill Alexander of the Sophomore class emerged from a snow drift long enough yesterday afternoon to challenge "the lowly freshmen" to a battle for the Old Well this morning at 10:30. The prexy of the second year men said that the sophomores would storm the historic campus site with greater fury than the "Minute-Men" smashed up Bunker Hill.

The sophomores will gather at Old West, while the frosh will begin their charge from Old East. Snowballs will be used as artillery. Military observers predict that yesterday's activities in the vicinity of the YMCA will look like sham skirmishes when compared to this morning's major offenses.

TO BE BLOODY

Earlier in the season the seniors and juniors took the gridiron to struggle for football honors, but this morning's battle between the sophs and frosh promises to be the most bloody since the days of tug and war and

INTERDORM GROUP ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR CARNIVAL

Dorms Will Sponsor Student-Faculty Day Booths In Pairs

Dormitories will work in pairs to sponsor booths at the Student-Faculty day carnival, it was announced at the interdormitory council meeting last night.

A committee to work with members of the Student-Faculty day committee on the dormitories' part in the day's celebration was appointed. This committee, which is composed of Herb Hardy, chairman, Vaughn Winborne, Bill Shuford, Phil Ellis, Ott Burton, and Ben Heath, will probably meet with Tom Stanback, Student-Faculty committee chairman, tonight.

Another committee was appointed to plan for dorm participation in the carnival. This group is made up of Runt Russell, chairman, Henry Dillon and Leonard Lobred.

ASU To Reorganize Tonight At 7 O'clock

Under a new proposal, a complete internal reorganization will take place tonight when the ASU meets at 7 o'clock in room 212 of Graham Memorial. The purpose of the plan will be to include all members in the club's activities.

Executive Secretary Sidney Rittenberg explained, "Under the new system each member will be assigned a specific job. There will be no buck-passing. Inefficiency will be readily traced to its source."

There will also be a further discussion of plans for the new series of open forum meetings to be inaugurated soon.

Publications Staff Pix To Be Made Today

The staffs of the DAILY TAR HEEL, Carolina Magazine, and Buccaneer will meet in their respective offices today at 2 o'clock to have Yackety Yack pictures made.

GORDON QUARTET TO GIVE CONCERT HERE TOMORROW

Chamber Music Program To Begin At 8:30 In Hill

Known as one of the best chamber music quartets before the public today, the Gordon String quartet will be presented in a concert at Hill Music hall tomorrow night at 8:30.

During the summer, the members of the organization reside at Music Mountain in Falls Village, Connecticut, where they give weekly concerts that draw audiences from the summer colonies of the South Shore and New York. In 1921, they began making tours over the United States, and besides personal appearances, they have done much by means of the radio and recordings to familiarize the American music lover with music for the string quartet.

PROGRAM

The program for tomorrow night includes two famous quartets, the Quartet in F Major, K 590, of Mozart and the Quartet in C Major, Opus 59, No. 3, by Beethoven. The latter selection is one of the three quartets written by Beethoven for Count Rasoumofsky. Also played on the program will be "Lento" by Dvorak, "Intermezzo" from "Goyeacas," arranged by David Sackson, the second violinist of the quartet, and "Rondo Favori" by Hummel-Lenhoff.

After the enthusiastic reception of the Coolidge String quartet here last year and because of the growing interest in chamber music, the Music department expects the Gordon String quartet to be well received also. Tickets are on sale for 75 cents at Hill Music hall. Students will be admitted for 50 cents.

CITIZENS ASKED TO OBSERVE LAW

Book Ex, Cafeteria Must Enforce Ruling

Private citizens whom the University is prohibited by law from serving are asked by the administration not to request service from the Book Exchange and the University Dining hall.

This action was brought about by the fact that several people have expressed resentment because they were refused service.

These steps which the administration has taken to comply with the law were pointed out: it has stopped the selling of prohibited articles, posted signs advising the public of the law and asking cooperation, advertised in the Chapel Hill Weekly and the DAILY TAR HEEL asking cooperation, respectively.

YDC Executive Committee Plans Meeting Tonight

Joe Dawson, president of the Young Democratic club, yesterday announced that the following students, besides himself, will serve on the club executive committee: Bob Berbert, Ernest King, Ott Burton, Buddy Nordan, Fred Edney, Winifred Norman, Martin Harmon, Bert Premo and Ed Rankin. The committee will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the small lounge of Graham Memorial.

At the club's meeting next week a vice-president to take the place of Tom Long, who resigned, will be elected. Arrangements for the Yackety Yack pictures will also be made.

Representatives To Elect Campaign Officials, Treasurer

By CHARLES BARRETT
Over 100 delegates and interested students will convene tonight at 9 o'clock in the Student party's first general assembly of the year—to conduct business normally little publicized, but which will exert a strong influence in determining what party and what man will hold key positions on the campus next year.

The convention in Phi hall will select a general Student party campaign manager, campaign managers for each of the individual classes, a party treasurer and party publicity chairman.

Average students in the past have scarcely known the identity of students holding these positions. Yet the general campaign chairman, close in importance to the party chairman himself, is in almost complete charge of organizing and conducting campaigns for all general campus officers, and also supervises the work of campaign managers in individual classes.

MARGIN OF DIFFERENCE

The judgement and efficiency of this general campaign manager and his subordinates in each class often form the margin of difference by which one candidate is elected and his opponent defeated.

The party treasurer supervises the raising of expenditures of all party funds, and the publicity chairman is in charge of all campaign posters and handbills—two other major determinants in the success of the party and

The total class fees received from the first two quarters will amount to approximately $570 but with the profits from the soft drink concession at the dance the estimated income reaches $595.
