BOOING

Note A La Emily Post

We received a letter yesterday from Herman Schnell, director of intramural athletics. Athletics was concerned only in minor detail as Mr. Schnell reprinted for us a letter from Dr. George McKie of the English department—a criticism of the vulgar language, whistling at coeds, and discourtesy in general practiced by many University students.

Here are two excerpts from Dr. McKie's letter to Mr. Schnell: "... Several of us have been talking about certain conditions on the campus and around the village that call loudly for correction; but, as the correction is mainly a matter of education, no one seems to know just what to do about it."

"The childish yelling and firing of firecrackers at any time from eleven P.M. to two A.M. are common causes of complaint. In the movies good plays are frequently spoiled by exhibitionism in regard to sex."

Dr. McKie recommends that a program of instruction be started in freshman hygiene classes, cites a number of epithets usually heard in the vicinity of the dormitories, rakes over the coals the practice of booing at basketball games opposing players and referees.

"What does this mean?" asks Mr. Schnell. "To me and many others it means that something exists—and we must admit the conditions described are very real."

Mr. Schnell makes four proposals: 1) More careful use of English; 2) more gentlemanly conduct in dormitories, movies, and at athletic events; 3) less embarrassment for boys and girls who attend public events together; 4) more respect for visiting teams and entertainers who are the guests of the University.

Apropos of the above, the DAILY TAR HEEL has printed editorials on this subject a number of times during the year.

Frankly, though realizing conditions as listed by Dr. McKie are bad, we believe Dr. McKie adopts an extreme attitude. We have heard, ere this, of his classroom criticisms of the booing of Mr. Footsie Knight, who officiates at a number of the home basketball games. Surely Dr. McKie must know that railing at the official is a privilege to the cash customer, student or otherwise, and anyone will tell him that Mr. Knight holds the esteem of the most hard-to-please fan. The booing is good-natured. Mr. Knight takes it in the same manner.

It has been reported to us also that Dr. McKie has lambasted to his class the "Pass In Revue" generally, and Prof Bill Stauber's take-off on Proff Koch's reading(s) of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" particularly. All should realize the whole show was burlesque, and it's the best student production to play here in many years.

But that's beside the point. We merely reiterate our comments of the past two quarters and ask the current versions of "Carolina Gentlemen" to veer toward the more-gentlemanly line of their predecessors a bit more.

Cursing isn't considered good taste, especially in the presence of women; whistling at likely-looking coeds rather puts them at an embarrassing disadvantage; there's little reason to boo the opposing players before they come on the floor.

All this we repeat, asking your consideration, Carolina Gentlemen.

BOUQUETS

They Love Their Quizzes

Hundreds of students worked for weeks to put on Tuesday the most successful Student-Faculty day the University has yet witnessed. A great deal of time and effort was exerted to see that the extensive, fun-filled program went over smoothly.

Then certain members of our faculty assigned quizzes for Wednesday morning. And in at least one case, this was the first quiz of the quarter. These quizzes were especially hard on

BY RUSH HAMRICK

They Asked For It

"We adore the Buccaneer; the Mag's too solemn. And we pray each night we'll make Rush Hamrick's column." —Gentlemen, The Carolina Coed

JANE RUMSEY, who sang "Gentlemen, The Carolina Coed" Tuesday night on the Student-Faculty day jamboree, was a double-dating one night before her performance. Said the other coed, "Have you heard the coed song to be sung during the Jamboree?"

Jane, leading her on, replied, "Why no I haven't. Tell me about it. Who sings it?" "Well, I've heard it's a pretty clever song," says the coed, "And I think a couple of playmakers are going to sing it." Jane had a sore throat on the night of her performance, but said, "Even if I had had pneumonia I would have sung this song." She is a Chi Omega, and her first name is Florence.

JOSEPHINE AUSTIN, Miss Rumsey's roommate, is going to High Point this weekend to meet a "heart interest" from Washington. Jo was a hostess at "K" dormitory Tuesday through the courtesy of Ott Burton. Word has it that she might be that way about him. Jo is a non-sorority girl. She attended WCUNC before coming here.

ELEANOR MAUPIN is a playmaker, but resents being reminded of it. She claims she isn't going steady with Bob Kirschman, med student, but she is hardly ever seen with anyone else. Eleanor is a Pi Phi. From the way she was holding Rhet Butler (Ted Dichter) Tuesday night, she must have technique.

EUNICE PATTEN is known as "Panther Eyes" Patten because of her lovely, animal-like eyes. She likes to be flattered about her "lamps," but has that old-fashioned modesty when it comes to admitting it. Also a Pi Phi, she is seen about the campus with Jack Lynch. Eunice has a sign on her door which reads "Asleep" on one side and "And Busy" on the other. She attended Salem college before coming to Chapel Hill. Miss Patten, ex-YMCA Brook's sister, is one of the friendliest girls on the campus.

VIRGINIA WORTH, a graduate student, is the pride and joy of Washington, N. C. Jimmy Ellison, a transfer from VMI, drives Miss Worth's car almost as much as she does. Virginia is an Apple Dumping Pie. She attended St. Mary's and Mary Baldwin colleges. She has a very husky speaking voice, something like those of Tallulah Bankhead and Margaret Sullavan.

FRANCES GIBSON is distinctly a man's woman. She is a terrific tease. Frances nearly caused a fight between Bob Farris and a premed student from Duke last Sunday night in Graham Memorial grill. She attended Breneau college before encamping on the Hill. non-sorority.

POTPOURRI—Bill Joslin, Kenan Williams and Harry Gaton are making another trip to Washington this weekend. (Is it burlesque or CPU business?) Tillie Edwards would not have her fortune told at the Carnival Tuesday because of "a guilty conscience." As soon as the boys in "K" dorm learned that Doris Goerch was on the committee to pick the best "Dream Man's room" they immediately gathered numerous copies of the "State" Magazine and placed them in conspicuous places in their model room. (And they won, too!) When Phil Carden came into his math class a little late yesterday his professor, L. L. Garner, said, "Where have you been—the workers who labored all day Tuesday on the receptions, carnival and jamboree, and then had to miss the costume ball to study. For the other thousands who packed the shows, applauded Mimi and roared their approval of "Pass In Revue," it was a definite black mark on Student-Faculty day.

We wish to extend a bouquet to these quiz-giving, so-cooperative professors—a bouquet of cabbage.

Send the TAR HEEL home.

JAMBOREE NOTES — Probably the loudest applause given by the audience came when Morris Rosenberg announced at the beginning of the program that he had just learned that Governor Clyde R. Hoey and Senator Josiah Bailey were in the audience. (Neither of these notable was actually present.) ... When rehearsing the Carolina coed skit, Sanford Stein, writer of the words, told the girls that they should raise their dresses a bit on the line "And if our legs resemble Marlene Dietrich." To which Eunice Patten replied, "No, Sanford, I can't do that; I'm too modest!" Then Frances Gibson said, "Good Lord Eunice, it isn't as if you have to pull your skirt up to your waist!" ...

the power of a few men," the two said. The bill, as drawn up by McLemore and Kline, follows:

Be it hereby enacted that the sole procedure and method of selecting or electing all student body officers and representatives, all class and association officers and representatives, and the editors of the various student publications shall be as follows:

(1) There shall be a board of elections which shall have complete and direct control over all balloting and voting as specified by this act, and which shall consist of the president of the student body as chairman, the student council, and any other members of the student body which may be chosen by the student council as it deems necessary.

(2) Two weeks before the first day of the winter quarter's examination period there shall be a balloting at the polling places as provided by the student legislature, notice thereof to be given at least two weeks before this date by the board of elections through the DAILY TAR HEEL. This balloting shall be officially named the Campus Primary.

(3) For any person to be entitled to participate in the Campus Primary he must be officially enrolled in the University of North Carolina at the date on which the primary is held.

(4) No voter may vote for anyone as a candidate for office that does not concern or represent the voter. The board of elections shall provide for a balloting system that will meet the above requirements.

(5) The period of time during which the polls will be open for voting shall be determined by the Board of Elections.

(6) Within seventy-two (72) hours after the polls are closed, the Board of Elections shall announce through the DAILY TAR HEEL, the five eligible candidates receiving the greatest number of votes for each office.

(7) On the third Wednesday after the beginning of the Spring Quarter there shall be a second balloting officially called the Campus Election at which election those five candidates for each office previously announced by the Board of Elections shall be voted on by the qualified voters of the student body of the University of North Carolina.

(8) The candidate for each office receiving a plurality of votes shall be deemed the duly elected officer or representative, provided, in the event of a lack of plurality there shall be a third balloting, officially named the Run-Off election, at which the qualified voters shall vote on those tying candidates. The time for the Run-Off election is to be designated by the Board of Elections with ample notice thereof given to the voters and candidates through the DAILY TAR HEEL. That candidate receiving the greatest plurality of votes in the Run-Off election shall be duly elected office-holder or representative.

PROVIDED: As an alternative to the foregoing procedure, any body of students organized as a class or association pertaining to an academic section of the University may hold a convention which may elect the officers and representatives of the body or association excluding those officers or representatives which are elected by any other body of students of which this immediate body or association is a part. Provided: That there is a quorum of two-thirds of the entire body or association present at the convention. This convention must be held at least one week before the date of the Campus Primary and will be under the auspices and direction of the Board of Elections.

PROVIDED: The foregoing procedure shall not apply to the election for the officers and representatives of the Freshman Class, but said election shall be conducted according to procedure set up by the Board of Elections and at a time designated by said Board of Elections.

PROVIDED: Any coercion or intimidation of any voter or any candidate by any person, club, fraternity, faction, group, or any other organization shall be deemed a violation of the Campus Honor Code and those students responsible will be subject to action at the discretion of the Student Council.
