CP Enters Paul Harper In Cheerleader Race

ASPIRANT SERVED ON CHEER CORPS FOR THREE YEARS

Has Contributed New Yells During Last Two Years

By VIVIAN GILLESPIE

Paul Harper, junior from Winston-Salem, was nominated for head cheer leader yesterday by the Carolina Party steering committee.

Harper, who has served for three years as a cheerleader at basketball and football games, has written several new yells during the last two years.

He is a member of the University club, and served on the sophomore finance committee last year. He is a resident of Graham dormitory, and a non-fraternity man. He conceived the idea for the telegram sent by the entire student body to the football team at Tulane, sponsored by the University club.

In high school Harper was elected cheer leader in his senior year. He served in his high school house of representatives.

The Carolina party, which is nominating Harper, is the newest party on the campus, having been organized this year. The main point in its platform is to "instill a more democratic spirit into campus politics, and give a larger number of worthy boys a chance to take part in student government."

Bob McEmore, medical student, started the party during the winter quarter, with the cooperation of Chuck Kline. Their candidates for the most important student government offices are Reddy Grubbs for president of the student body and Ed Hubbard for vice-president.

Hardy, Washington Announce Election Campaign Managers

Williams, Towell For Hardy; Osborne For Washington

Two Student party class presidential candidates—Herb Hardy of the rising seniors and Warner Washington of the rising sophomores—yesterday announced managers for their campaigns in spring elections.

The action was taken just before the student legislature set April 18 as the voting date and passed a regulatory elections bill, thus officially passing an election unparalleled in the number of candidates and offices at stake.

STATEMENTS

Hardy said he was glad to welcome Kenan Williams and Jack Towell as head of his supporters, and that "help from boys of their calibre is really encouraging."

Washington said Buck Osborne, secretary of the freshman class, would be one of his campaign managers and that another would be named shortly. "Having a man as widely respected as Buck Osborne to lead a campaign is a real compliment," was Washington's comment.

Hardy's newly selected managers said last night, "Herb Hardy has demonstrated his ability in a wide range of activities. We are convinced he would make a splendid president of the senior class and are glad of the opportunity to help him."

RECORDS

Hardy is president of Mangum dormitory and vice president of the inter-dormitory council. He has been a leader in the student legislature as an inter-dorm council representative, and has also been an active participant in intramural sports. Williams has been active in the Carolina Political union and his class executive committee, and was defeated narrowly by Dave Morrison last year for junior class representative on the student council. Towell is a transfer from Wake Forest, where he was a two-letter man. He is vice president of Lewis dormitory and has been a leader on the inter-dormitory council dance committee and Student-Faculty day committee.

Washington established an outstanding reputation in a wide variety of activities while in high school. He was president of his senior class, vice-president of his junior class, a leader of the debating team, and won the Rotary club medal for the outstanding freshman in the city schools.

Osborne, besides his work as secretary of the freshman class this year, has been active in intramural athletics, has a scholastic average of

NEW CANDIDATES JOIN HOWARD ON U.P. SLATE

Coed Is Selected For First Time In Party's History

By LOUIS HARRIS

Drawing its complete slate nearer to completion as campus politics heads down the home stretch towards election day April 18, the University Party yesterday concluded nominations of its senior class slate, by naming Joe Welborn for student council representative; Frosty Snow for vice-president; Stacy Crockett for secretary; and Skipper Bowles for treasurer.

Early in the year, the campus' oldest political party had nominated Jimmy Howard, star athlete and monogram club officer, for the presidency of the rising seniors. Yesterday's announcements marked the first time that the UP had nominated a coed with the naming of Stacy Crockett for the secretary's post.

RECORDS

Active in lower quadrangle activities during his three years at the University, Welborn, running for student council representative, for the past two years has been assistant manager of Graham and made the honor roll last quarter. In his sophomore year, he was appointed to the Freshman orientation Council, and last spring his dormitory elected him as its representative in the University club. Just recently, he was made manager of Grimes dormitory.

Snow, nominated for vice-president, has also taken an active part in campus government, besides serving as one of the mainstays of Coach Chuck Erickson's golf team. In last spring's elections, he was elected treasurer of his class. During the course of this year, Snow was also an active member in the student legislature. In his freshman year, he played on the frosh links team, and was a member of the freshman executive committee. He made the varsity golf team in his sophomore year, besides playing on the soccer team and being appointed to his class dance committee. This year, he is a member of the University club, and will be one of the stars on the golf team. In last week's Greensboro Open, Snow finished fourth among the amateurs with a 72-hole score of 75-76-83-78 for a 302 total.

MAGAZINE STAFF CONTINUES SERIES TONIGHT AT 7:30

Hobson Wins Race With Only One Dissenting Ballot

By PHILIP CARDEN

The first of four successive staff nominations for publications editors was staged last night as 12 members of the Buccaneer staff nominated Mack Hobson for next year's editor, with only one dissenting vote.

Staff balloting will be resumed tonight at 7:30 when Carolina Magazine contributors and staff workers meet in the office to select their choice for next year's executive. Yackety Yack and DAILY TAR HEEL staff nominations probably will be held tomorrow and Thursday respectively.

Only one candidate has been announced regardless of the outcome of staff voting—Simons Roof, Carolina Party nominee for editor of the Carolina Magazine. The Student Party last week passed a resolution endorsing all official staff choices, which goes into effect for the first time today with the party's support automatically thrown in back of Hobson.

Hobson has been a regular contributor to the Buccaneer for three years, having some feature in almost every issue. He has also been a columnist on the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Hobson's only comment last night was very original: "If elected I'll do my best," he said.

Editor Allen Green has announced the following as eligible to vote in the Magazine race tonight: DeWitt Barnett, Ann Bates, Nell Booker, Mary Lou Boylston, Wilton Brinkley, Paul Caveness, Ruth Crowell, Caroline Cram, Phil Ellis, Charles Farrell, Dexter Freeman, Hugh Foss, Dick Goldsmith, Betty Harward, Kiffin Hayes, Frank Holeman, Lawrence Hooper, Gibson Jackson, Irwin Katz, Ernest King, Bob Koch, Mary J. "If, for any reason, any of these cannot be present, they are requested to leave proxies with the editor before tonight," Green said.

Smith Will Address Faculty Club Tonight

The faculty philosophy of science club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the faculty club room of the Carolina Inn. Professor Russell T. Smith will read a paper on "Trends in Modern Art." The meeting is open to all members of the faculty.
