Yackety Yack Editorship Goes to Byrd Merrill

SENATOR'S TALK TO BE BROADCAST OVER CBS CHAIN

OLIVER DECLARED WINNER OF YMCA POST OVER BROAD

No Other Changes Found in Final Tabulations

The swinging pendulum of vote counting which gave Byrd Merrill the Yackety Yack editorship and then took it away from him made its final swing yesterday re-instating him to editorship of next year's annual and reversing the decision on the vice-presidency of the YMCA to give John Oliver the post over Fred Broad.

No other recounts changed decisions. Herb Hardy, winner by ten votes in the original count for president of the senior class, gained five more votes over Howard in the final recount. Cochrane kept his same 9 vote win over Britt for chairman of the Student legislature.

Applications for entry in Thursday's run-off election have been received from every eligible candidate, Jim Davis, president of the Student council, said last night.

As the debris was finally cleared away in the most confusing election and the longest counting process in Carolina's history, the following student body candidates claimed places on the run-off ballot:

Morrison Leads

Dave Morrison with a lead of 118 votes over Bill Dees, Richard Morris with a scant one-vote lead over Leonard Lobred for senior member of the P. U. board, Jim Hallory leading Hal Jennings by 196 votes.

RICCI TO GIVE VIOLIN CONCERT TOMORROW NIGHT

Young Musician To Play at 8:30 In Memorial Hall

Ruggiero Ricci, 19-year-old American violinist, will be presented tomorrow night in Memorial hall at 8:30 in the second student entertainment program of the quarter.

Ricci, who has been playing the violin for about three-quarters of his 19 years, made his debut as soloist with the Manhattan Symphony orchestra in New York at the age of nine. The New York Times described him as having "the faculty to command the attention of his listeners with the first tone he played, and to warm it to sympathy and quicken it to enthusiasm."

The young violinist has only recently started concertizing again after several years of retirement devoted to study. When he returned to Carnegie hall last year the New York Journal-American stated: "It is always gratifying to note the development of a budding talent to one of fulfillment, and that is applicable to the performance of Ruggiero Ricci, violinist, in Carnegie hall yesterday afternoon."

Dialectic Senate Meets Tonight In Executive Session

The Dialectic senate will meet in executive sessions tonight at 7:15 in New West, it was announced yesterday. The purpose of the executive meeting is to permit the Di members to pass on proposed changes in the constitution of the organization.

These changes have been drawn up by the constitutional committee of the senate and are to be presented to the members tonight for their approval or disapproval. The revisions were found to be necessary because of certain inadequacies in the present document.

John Bonner, president of the Di, stressed the fact that all members are required to be present at an executive session under penalty of a fine should they be absent. An initiation of new members is to be held before the business of the meeting gets under way.

Buc Business Staff To Meet Today at 5

Bert Premo, who has not yet become a was-been and still holds the post of business manager of the Carolina Buccaneer, announced yesterday that he would like to meet the members of his staff this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

McMaster, Clinard Running For Woman's Association Head

Carolina coeds will have an election all their own today when they march to the polls and choose incoming officers for the Woman's association, Woman's Athletic association and YWCA, and at the same time select members of the May Day court and ten outstanding senior women. Polls will be open from 9 until 6 o'clock in Woman's Dormitory No. 1.

Heading the list of those running are Jane McMaster and Mary Alan Clinard, candidates for president of the Woman's association. Other Woman's association nominees include Millicent McKendry of New Cannan, Conn., Mary Susan Robertson of Hillsboro, and Anne Williams of Clarksdale, Miss., for vice-president; Elinor Elliot of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Sarah Sawyer of Windsor, for secretary, and Mary Winslow of Raleigh, and Georgiana Pentlargo of Montclair, N. J., for treasurer.

McMaster

Miss McMaster transferred from Coker college, Hartsville, S. C., where she was an honor student, freshman commissioner, active in music and dramatics, a member of the honorary French club, co-captain of the hockey team, and feature editor of the school paper. She has served as secretary to Mrs. Stacy, adviser to women, this year.

Miss Clinard, the other nominee for president, was a student at Mary Baldwin her freshman and sophomore years. She was treasurer of her sophomore class and would have been president of the junior class had she returned. She was also a member (Continued on page 2, column 3)

Magazine Staff To Be Reorganized Tonight at 7:30

Inviting all interested persons to attend a general staff reorganization meeting tonight in the Carolina Magazine office at 7:30, Adrian Spies announced plans to form a large and regularly functioning staff.

Stating that next year's Magazine will be run from daily office assignments and that most of the contributions will come out of this group, the newly elected editor declared yesterday that he is anxious to build up an organization that is comparable to professional magazines in size and function.

In as much as there will be such departments as news-gathering, correspondence and research, Spies suggested that there will be plenty of room for students whose writing is not yet ready for publication. All aspirants, however, are urged to bring any samples of their writing which they may care to turn in.

It Was the Last One . . .

Yes, Sunday's paper was the last one for Editor Martin Harmon, left, and Managing Editor Morris Rosenberg. They worked hard and long and now they don't have to work any more. They can rest and remember, and they will have time to embark on job-hunting expeditions. Those remaining behind them wish to express deep appreciation for working with them, and extend sincere wishes for a happy future.

NEW OFFICER'S TRAINING GROUP TO MEET MAY 1-3

Ellis to Serve As Chairman Of New Committee

A planning committee of 15 members representing every campus organization will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Grail room of Graham Memorial to discuss plans for the annual New Officer's Training Conference, May 1-3. The student legislature recently passed a bill forming the committee and naming Phil Ellis as chairman.

Ellis announced yesterday that new heads of all organizations are urged to attend the meeting this afternoon to make plans for the conference and to issue invitations. Members of the committee on invitations are Jack Fairley, Bob Magill, and Reddy Grubbs. To Meet Again

After today's meeting the planning committee, which is composed of Ed Rankin, Jack Vincent, Studie Ficklen, Jim Davis, Dave Morrison, Bob Magill, Clyde Shaw, Bill Dees, Reddy Grubbs, Benny Hunter, Melville Corbett, Jack Fairley, Don Bishop and Charlie Barrett, will meet again to complete the schedule of the conference and devise a way to acquaint new organization members with the plans for next year.

The conference will be opened on May 1 with a luncheon at which Dean Bradshaw will be the main speaker. At this time general problems, such as the presentation of need for leadership training and the study of duties of new officers, will be discussed.

Meetings that night will be conducted (Continued on page 4, column 4)

Invitations on Sale Through Tomorrow

Unless commencement invitations are bought before Wednesday afternoon the price will increase, Mac Nisbet and Buddy Nordan, co-chairmen of the senior invitations committee, announced yesterday. Orders will be taken in the lobby of the Book Exchange through tomorrow afternoon.

COUNCIL TO GIVE DORM AWARD FOR FIRST TIME

Dormitory Elections Are Scheduled For April 30

The plaque which was formerly awarded each year by the Order of the Grail to the best dormitory on the campus will now be given by the Interdormitory council, Jack Vincent, president of the council said yesterday.

The date for selection of the dormitory to which the plaque will be awarded has not yet been announced.

A meeting of the council will be held tomorrow night to make nominations for next year's president. Election of the new interdorm president and nominations and elections of other officers will be held next Monday night.

Individual dormitories will nominate officers April 29 and elections will be held the following day. All new dormitory and interdormitory officers will attend a dormitory officers training course to be conducted by present dormitory officers April 1 and 2.

Points which will be considered in awarding the plaque, Vincent said, (Continued on page 2, column 4)

Two Important Bills Up for Discussion By Phi Assembly

With two bills up for discussion, the Phi assembly will hold its weekly meeting tonight at 7:30 in Phi Hall, fourth floor New East.

First resolution is "Resolved, That the American Red Cross should not send relief of any type to Greenland."

The second bill is "Resolved, That the Phi Assembly do all in its power to prevent any further such utterances by Neville Sloan or Robert Alexander."

Bob Sloan, chairman of the ways and means committee, yesterday made the following announcement concerning the second bill: "Mr. Sloan or Mr. Alexander will be on hand to defend their stand, also to recruit members for their newly-formed organizations 'Sons of the Defenders of American Faith.' Messrs. Sloan and Alexander are co-chairmen of this organization."

Buc Editorial Staff Meets Tonight at 7:30

There will be a Buccaneer staff meeting in the office tonight at 7:30. The staff is cordially invited to attend. Newcomers and Bill Stauber will also be welcome.

Incidentally, the new editor will be in the office every afternoon this week from 3 to 5.

CPU Celebrates Fourth Anniversary With Dinner at Inn

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, will speak before a nation-wide audience this evening at 9 o'clock in Memorial hall, as the feature of the fourth anniversary celebration of the Carolina Political union. The far western Senator's address will be carried over a CBS coast-to-coast hook-up from 9:30 to 10 o'clock.

The CPU's birthday party will get underway at 5 o'clock this afternoon when Wheeler will arrive at the Carolina Inn. After he has been taken on a tour of the campus, he will proceed to a dinner in the Inn at 7:30, which is being given by Julian Price, president of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company, for members of the union, prominent citizens throughout the state, and a visiting delegation of Congressmen.

During the course of the banquet, Greensboro radio station, WBIG, in a state-wide hook-up, will carry informal interviews with the guests. The proceedings in the Carolina Inn will be amplified in Memorial hall for any early comers to the Wheeler address.

Gatton to Introduce

At 9 o'clock, the entourage will leave the banquet hall in the Inn and will proceed to Memorial hall, where for a half-hour, the visiting celebrities will be introduced by Chairman Harry Gatton. The doors of Memorial hall will be closed at 9:30 sharp by CBS engineers who have carefully planned for the nation-wide broadcast.

Variety Ball Heads Coed Weekend Program Scheduled May 3, 4

Climaxing "Coed Weekend," May 3 and 4, the Order of the Grail will sponsor a variety ball Saturday night from 8 to 12 o'clock featuring Charlie Wood's orchestra, Bascom L. Lunsford's folk dancers and a costume contest.

Costumes will not be compulsory, any kind of dress being acceptable, but prizes will be awarded for the best individual, the best couple, the best boy's and the best girl's costumes.

Lunsford, who has presented groups of folk artists with programs of native American songs and dances in Carnegie Hall and before the King and Queen of England, will bring one of his troupes to Carolina to entertain those attending the dance.

Lunsford and his team will teach students to square dance and two sessions of square dancing will be held during the evening.

A cake walk will be held during the dance in which three cakes will be given away to the couples which are standing on a particular spot when the music is stopped.

The figure of the evening will be for the ten outstanding coeds, to be picked at the dance.

The schedule for the evening as announced by Fish Worley, exchequer, of the Grail will be:

8:00 to 8:15—Charlie Wood's orchestra, round dancing.

8:15 to 8:30—Cake walk, three cakes to be given away.

8:30 to 9:00—Charlie Wood's orchestra, round dancing.

9:00 to 10:00—Square dancing to be led and taught by Bascom L. Lunsford and his dance team.

10:00 to 11:00—Charlie Wood's orchestra, round dancing.

11:00 to 11:15—Intermission.

11:15 to 11:20—Figure for ten outstanding coeds.

11:20 to 11:40—Square dancing.

11:40 to 12:00—Charlie Wood's orchestra, round dancing.
