UP Elects Garland Chairman; Patrick, Clampitt, Connelly Also Chosen for 1941 Campaign

Garland Succeeds Sumner; Clampitt First Coed Officer

Jick Garland, rising senior from Gastonia, was last night elected 1940-41 chairman of the University party, campus political faction. Garland succeeds Bob Sumner, who guided the UP to a victory in the polls this year.

Ralph Patrick, rising senior, was elected to the post of secretary, while Bill Conley, also a rising senior, was named as treasurer.

In a surprise move, the UP selected Martha Clampitt, rising senior coed, to hold the position of assistant treasurer. This latter choice marks the first time in campus political history that a woman student has held one of the major offices in a political party.

Garland's Activities

Garland has been active in campus activities during his three years at the University, and was recently elected vice-president of the German club. Next year he will also be a member of the University Dance committee. In the April elections, he was one of three candidates to be elected to the Student legislature from the rising senior class. This year he was a member of the University club, and was named guardian of Rameses during the football season. Among his other activities have been membership in the sophomore executive committee, and assistant manager of the basketball team.

Officers of the University party for this year were Bob Sumner, chairman; Ralph Patrick, secretary; and Jick Garland, treasurer. Patrick succeeded George Riddle at the beginning of this year's campaign, when the latter left campus activities to take a post with the administration.

Quarles Inducted, Outlines Di Plans For Coming Term

Perrin Quarles, new president of the Di senate, in his inaugural address before the senate last night, prophesied that the Di was on the way up toward the prominence which it held in former years.

He outlined his future policy for the senate during his administration for the fall quarter of next year, emphasizing the need for speedier and more business-like transaction of the bills brought up before the group and asking that the senators concentrate on subjects of more widespread interest during the meetings. Increased activity in debating is to be the main part of his program, he said.

Jr.-Sr. Cabinet Organizes Forum

The Junior-Senior cabinet of the YW-YMCA met last night and organized a Junior-Senior Forum for next year. This group will hold the Monday evening supper forums which have been sponsored by the YMCA this year.

Syd Alexander, president of the Y, presented a plan for organization which was accepted by the group present. This plan stated the purpose of the new Forum group to be "to provide an opportunity for corporate worship, study and fellowship among the junior and senior groups on the campus."

Seniors Meet Today To Plan Commencement

Seniors and others who will receive degrees of any kind at the commencement exercises are expected to attend a meeting in Memorial hall this morning at 10:30 to hear plans for the procession and other details concerning the exercises.

Robert Brawley

Brawley Gives Organ Recital In Hill Tonight

Program Includes Modern, Classical Composers' Pieces

Robert Brawley, University organist, will present in his senior recital tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music hall a program including compositions from both classical and modern periods.

Brawley will open the program with three compositions by Johann Sebastian Bach: the chorale-pretudes "If thou wouldst but suffer God to guide thee," "A voice sayeth, man is mortal," and the "Prelude in E-minor."

Boellmann, French composer and Parisian cathedral organist who died at the end of the last century, will be represented by the "Suite Gothique," its four movements being Introduction-Chorale, Menuet Gothique, Priere a Notre-Dame, and Toccata.

Brahms Selections The harmonically rich selections of Brahms included for tonight are "Lo, How a rose e'er blooming" and "Oh world, I must even leave thee."

Concluding the program is the brilliant "Variations de Concert," by Bonnet, a modern French composer and former professor of organ at the University of Rochester. Bonnet, also a popular continental concert organist, will make a tour of this country next winter.

Brawley, a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, honorary musical fraternity, and chapel organist for the University for three years, has been outstanding in musical activities during his college career. He has appeared as soloist with the University symphony orchestra, and has broad- (Continued on page 2, column 6)

Dawson Admits Severe Rebuke By Council For Cross-Burning

Lee Wiggins Says Dawson Made Threat

Recent Peace Drive Secretary Lee Wiggins declared last night he was not frightened by a threat that "something might happen to him" if he brought charges against anti-peace drive leaders. Wiggins said the statement was made by Joe Dawson.

Asserting that this coercive attempt helped to bring about a written statement to the Student Council, Wiggins said Dawson was "a representative of the same group of vandals who took the law in their hands last Thursday."

Wiggins warned that any such attempt would be "the most serious mistake they could commit."

He termed Dr. Stewart's statement in yesterday's DAILY TAR HEEL "a garbled and highly emotional misrepresentation of the meeting," and suggested that the minister give some committee member an opportunity to answer charges in the Presbyterian pulpit this next Sunday.

The local minister, Wiggins said, incited the audience and approved the egg-throwing. "This is in accordance with a tradition which is certainly the opposite of Christianity," Wiggins added.

The peace leader pointed out that Dr. Stewart's charges of a Communist-inspired meeting were refuted by the fact that the daily worker, official Communist organ, held opinions "fundamentally antithetical" to those offered by speakers at the rally last Thursday.

"The peace committee," said Wiggins, "represents no one group or point of view." He said all speakers represented various viewpoints and were entitled to the right of free speech without interruption.

Phi Assembly Inducts Officers For Fall Quarter

The Phi Assembly last night installed Bob Sloan as its speaker for the coming year in a brief ceremony. Other officers inducted were Jimmy Pittman, speaker pro-tem; Susan Klaber, reading clerk; Charles Tucker, sergeant-at-arms; and Art Clark, secretary-treasurer.

Immediately after his induction Speaker Sloan took the floor and moved a rising vote of thanks for retiring Speaker Miss Marian Igo, for her "excellent work during the past quarter."

Miss Igo spoke to the assembly, praising the members for their work of the preceding quarter and asking them to "carry on the work of the Phi as it has been done in the past."

Two bills were discussed before the induction ceremony was held. The first bill, "Resolved, that swing music be abolished," had little support and was defeated by a vote of 19-5.

"Resolved, that dance figures be abolished at Carolina dances," drew a heated debate, and was carried 17-7.

Olsen Is Chosen New IRC Adviser

W. A. Olsen, professor of public speaking in the English department, is the new adviser of the International Relations club, Manfred Levy, president of the organization, announced yesterday. Olsen replaces C. B. Robson of the department of political science, who resigned due to pressing duties in the department.

Olsen has been on the faculty at the University ever since graduating from Cornell seventeen years ago. During the World War he served in the navy, interrupting his studies. For a year after the war he was a newspaperman in Syracuse, N. Y., and then went back to Cornell and received his A. B.

Olsen has been associated with debate work on the campus. He is president of the Faculty club, and served as president of the Philosophy of science club during the past year. (Continued on page 4, column 3)

Reprimand for Cross Incident Only; Other Evidence Declared Irrelevant

By John E. Lindsay

Joe Dawson, University senior who participated in opposition to the recent campus peace drive, revealed in a statement to the DAILY TAR HEEL last night that the Student Council had "severely reprimanded" him on a charge of destroying crosses set up by the peace committee.

Dave Morrison, student body president, was contacted yesterday afternoon and declared the council could not divulge information

Hoey States Condemnation Of Pacifists

Governor Mentions No Specific School In Address Monday

Governor Hoey, speaking at Peace College commencement Monday night, said that he had "nothing put pity, mingled with contempt" for certain college students who had resolved not to bear arms.

Later asked whether he was referring to the recent peace demonstration at the University he replied that he was speaking of no college in particular but of the spirit of "pacifism."

Without calling the institution's name he said, "I have nothing but pity, mingled with contempt for the students of one of our colleges who met recently and said they wouldn't fight under any conditions."

"I read of one or two Northern colleges where some of the students, not all of them, passed a resolution that they wouldn't fight under any conditions," he said. "I don't think they passed such a resolution at Chapel Hill."

"We must realize that while pacifism is a very good thing, it won't make much headway with dictators. Superior force and unmatched equipment is the only language they care for," he continued.

The Governor, in addition to lambasting college pacifists, made other statements regarding his opinions on world affairs:

"This is not the time for divided loyalties . . . there are many among us who care not for our heritage of liberty, justice, and freedom, although they have lived among us and enjoyed them. I do not believe in doing away with free speech, but I believe we should make it so uncomfortable for them that they should go to another place and clime more to their liking. "In this time the dictators trend (Continued on page 4, column 3)

Belgian Army Surrenders; Allies Fight To Break Trap

President Appoints Defense Committee

(By United Press)

LONDON, May 29—(Wednesday)—An encircled army of 400,000 British and French troops deserted by their Belgian allies in the blood-drenched fields of Flanders battled today to break a tight Nazi grip of strangulation and abandon the war on Belgian soil.

The government said in a broadcast last night the British and French are doing their utmost to escape from the fatal pocket after the Belgians threw down their arms and King Leopold III surrendered his nation to Adolf Hitler.

Belgium tonight became the sixth nation to fall to the Nazi blitzkrieg blows in less than nine months following Poland, Norway, Luxembourg, Denmark, and Holland, British Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper told the British public already reeling from the shock of Leopold III's decision of the disastrous state of affairs.

The British were confident but they were prepared to hear of tragic losses even if the army succeeds in blasting its way out. Prime Minister Churchill yesterday told them to brace themselves for hard and heavy tidings.

concerning the case. Dawson readily admitted the "severe" rebuke, saying he was charged with destroying private property which the peace publicity committee had erected with administration permission.

Action by the council was narrowed down to the actual uprooting of the crosses. Dawson said he attempted to back up his condemnation of the peace movement with material exemplifying his views on the methods of the peace leaders. This information, he said, was disregarded by the council as "irrelevant."

Dawson said the council did not ask him to apologize.

"The crosses in front of the Confederate monument were personally repugnant to me as propaganda instruments for a cause that I neither regarded as sincere or as timely in view of the nation's position in international affairs," Dawson said, explaining his action in taking the white crosses down.

The anti-peace drive participant asserted it was "interesting to him that certain people hidden behind civil liberties and tried to subvert these principles in every possible manner."

Dawson bluntly denied any part in the egg-throwing episode in Memorial hall last Thursday. "Nor have I threatened violence on the person of Lee Wiggins," he added.

Dawson charged that members of the peace committee had requested Wiggins to exclude certain "incendiary" parts of the peace committee program. Wiggins' refusal to do this, according to Dawson, "accomplished nothing towards his purpose, but succeeded in arousing the campus emotionally."

"Among the leaders . . . were students who have misrepresented themselves before as being of the majority opinion when they were of the minority opinion of the campus," Dawson concluded. He added he believed the actions of "such groups of the ASU" are giving the University "a bad name with people in the state."

Penniless?

The DAILY TAR HEEL business office will pay five cents (5c) for each copy of the October 12 issue.

Journalists Get Life Sentence In Local Court

Shelley Rolfe, Morris Rosenberg, Joe Lederman, Doris Goerch and other members of "Skipper" Coffin's and Walter Spearman's journalism class made up the largest number of defendants ever tried on one warrant in Chapel Hill Recorder's court yesterday.

Thirty shocked students, ordered to appear before Judge Andrew McIntosh for "eating peanuts, drinking soft drinks and causing unrest on the campus by so-called writings in the DAILY TAR HEEL," were read the warrant by Roy McGinnis, prosecuting attorney. All pleaded not guilty, and the judge told Moody Durham, the clerk, to "enter a plea of guilty."

Toms Will Be Leading Tenor With Philadelphia Opera

Voice Instructor Given Year's Leave

Professor John E. Toms, voice instructor in the University music department since 1936, has been granted a year's leave of absence from his duties here to sing as leading tenor with the Philadelphia Opera company until September 1941 it was announced here today.

Clyde H. Keutzer, popular young concert singer and teacher of New York, who taught during the 1936 summer session at the University here, will take Professor Toms' place during the latter's absence.

Director of the Men's and Women's glee clubs as well as the Chapel Hill Choral club, Toms is active in musical activities here and throughout the state. He has appeared in recital in Virginia, North and South Carolina since he came to Chapel Hill, and is in charge this year of all musical programs broadcast from the University's newly-dedicated radio department.

Debut Will Be October 25

Professor Toms will begin coaching for his opera roles June 17 under Sylvan Levin, director of the Philadelphia Opera company. After four weeks in Philadelphia he will return to the campus to teach during the second term of the summer session and will go back on September 1 to prepare for his debut October 25 when (Continued on page 2, column 6)
