

DAVE MORRISON INVITED TO RUN AT PRINCETON

Dave Morrison, co-captain of the Carolina track team for 1941, has accepted an invitation to run in the Princeton invitationals at Palmer stadium June 8, it was announced yesterday.

Morrison joins Bill Corpening, co-captain of the 1939 Tar Heels, at Princeton, both of them having been invited by Matty Geis, coach of the Princeton trackmen. Corpening is to run the 120-yard high hurdles and Morrison will run the half-mile.

Morrison placed second in the 880 in the conference meet two weeks ago, beaten out by Jim Kehoe of Maryland in 1:54. Dave was timed in approximately 1:54.2 for his greatest half-mile performance. He was third in the mile last year behind Davis and Chromister.

Morrison won the Grail award for having the best scholastic average as a freshman, and was accepted in Phi Beta Kappa a little more than a week ago. He is a two-year letterman in both cross country and track, and was sixth in the conference cross country meet as a sophomore, running fifth last fall. He was a member of the two-mile relay team that ran 7:48 in winning its event in the Millrose games in 1938.

Over 60 football players and half that number of coaches and friends occupied the Tin Can yesterday afternoon for a picnic. Originally scheduled outdoors on Fetzer Field, the affair was forced indoors by rain.

Husky members of Ray Wolf's varsity and freshman squads started the occasion at 4:30 with a series of "tame" games, such as basketball, three-legged races, sprints, and other sports. Last reports, unconfirmed, said at least 20 youths are recuperating in the Infirmary.

The strenuous physical activity ceased about 6:30, when the mob made a rush for the food tables. Coach Wolf, Mrs. Wolf, Mrs. R. B. Lawson, and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, with the assistance of the football coaching staff, served the buffet-style dinner, which quickly disappeared.

Two-thirds of the way has been covered but the third and most treacherous of all is just being undertaken in the line of selecting the all-star playground ball teams, the all-campus. The dormitory and fraternity teams have been selected and set aside in order to prepare for the final and most important choices.

The No. 1 pitcher of the campus goes to Jimmy Hambricht of Kappa Sigma No. 2. Hambricht was victorious in ten league games while losing none. He defeated Zeta Psi in the fraternity finals, which was first loss that the Zeta's had suffered in 27 games.

Running neck and neck behind Hambricht for the pitching laurels are Sam Mordecai of Zeta Psi No. 1 and Tony Sloboda of Lewis No. 1. Sloboda pitched Lewis to the dormitory championship while Mordecai pitched Zeta Psi into the runner up position of the fraternity league.

Bill Faircloth, battery mate of Hambricht, receives one of the catching chores on the team because of his brilliant defensive work and hitting in pinches. B. C. Morrow, Lewis No. 2, earns the other catching job.

Roy Lee Connor, clouting the ball at a hefty .500 clip and playing brilliant defensively for Lewis No. 1, barely gets the nod over Kappa Sigma's Bob Rose for first base. Bill Conley of Pi Kappa Alpha takes the laurels at second base. At shortstop, Ed Erickson of Lewis No. 1, having his best season in three years, has little trouble in getting the shortstop position. Ruffin's Ed Taylor clouted his way to the third sack position over Tommy Edwards of Sigma Chi, who was seeking the berth for the second consecutive year.

Les Branson of Kappa Sigma No. 2 receives an overwhelming vote for shortfielder. The only trouble with Ike Grainger, spark of the SAE No. 1 team, was determining whether to place him behind the plate or in left field. Steve Forrest, who has never been known to miss a fly in the outer extremities for Mangum, was an easy choice for center-field while

Jack Medica Appears Here in Exhibition

Jack Medica, former intercollegiate world record holder in several swimming events, will be at Bowman Gray pool this afternoon about 2:30 for an exhibition.

All varsity and freshman swimmers have been asked by Coach Dick Jamerson to be present and ready to swim if possible.

The public is invited.

Coleman Finkel Named To South All-Star Team

By Yates Poteat
Co-captain Coleman Finkel, Carolina's ace attackman, has been named by the U. S. Intercollegiate lacrosse association to play for the South in the first North-South all-star intercollegiate lacrosse game. The game is to be played June 14 in Baltimore's Municipal Stadium.

Finkel marked up 17 goals in six Dixie league contests to finish in front of Ray Brown of Duke, Hoffberger of Virginia, Henderson of Washington and Lee, and Charlie Clark, Bob Werner and Dick Sternberg of the Tar Heels. Finkel exhibited fine form in every game, possessing a remarkable knack for retaining the ball when the going was rough.

Coleman is a rising senior, and still has another year of eligibility. He was re-elected co-captain of the team Tuesday night along with Dan Desich, William H. "Dinty" Moore, coach of Navy and head of the southern committee, has praised Carolina's lacrossmen generously on several occasions. The famous Moore was greatly impressed with the entire team's performance against the Washington lacrosse club, and undoubtedly wielded much influence toward the selection of Finkel.

The northern team will practice for three days at the Montclair athletic club, Montclair, N. J., concluding with a practice game with the Montclair AC team before enroute for Baltimore. The southern players will assemble in Baltimore for their practice sessions.

Players to represent the North will be selected from the following colleges: Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, Cornell, Colgate, Penn State, MIT, Union, Syracuse, Army, Hobart, Stevens, CCNY, New Hampshire, Rutgers and Williams.

To represent the South, players will be picked from the following college teams: Maryland, Navy, Johns Hopkins, Loyola, University of Pennsylvania, Swarthmore, Duke, Carolina, Virginia, Washington and Lee, and Washington and Jefferson.

The game will commemorate the one-hundredth anniversary of the first organized lacrosse game in the United States, and will take place at night, under the lights of the stadium.

Since the introduction of lacrosse into collegiate circles there has always been a keen rivalry between college teams in the North and South. It is expected that the game, pitting together two teams made up of outstanding players from each section, will pack fans into every available seat in the stadium, which has a capacity of 50,000.

The intramural track meet, largest yet held, gets underway this afternoon at 3:30 with the pole vault, high jump and shot put, and extends over a two-hour period. Lewis, Mangum and K in the dormitory league, and Chi Psi, SAE, Zeta Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, St. Anthony and Phi Kappa Sigma in the fraternity circuit are favorites.

Those eligible for competition are:

This Team Tops in Tennis

First row—Co-Captain Bill Rawlings, Co-Captain Charlie Rider. Second row — Walter Meserole, Harris Everett, Zan Carver, and Ham Anthony. Top row—Chuck Harnden, Aston Beadles, and Blair Rice.

Outlook for Tennis Is Bright

To John F. Kenfield, veteran coach of Carolina's most successful sport, tennis, the outlook for an undefeated season next year must be a bright one, for he loses only two players, Captains Charlie Rider and Bill Rawlings, of his starting lineup, while picking up many hopefuls from an undefeated, unscathed-on freshman squad.

Carolina's most consistent sport machine extended its undefeated streak to 32 matches in downing 15 opponents this year while copping both the doubles and the singles titles in Southern conference competition and retaining its mythical college championship of the United States.

Undefeated
The undefeated streak was started in 1938 after consecutive losses to Harvard and Princeton had ended another long winning record. With the exception of one other undefeated tennis campaign, which netted over 50 victories in the thirties without a loss, the number of consecutive victories now boasted by the varsity tennis team is the largest on record for Carolina.

This year the racquetmen started off on the right foot, winning four straight matches without losing as much as an individual match. The first loss was suffered by co-captain Rider to Randall of Cornell in the fifth meet. After this the netmen were both hot and cold, but, with the exception of 5-4 victories over Presbyterian and Yale, they were never in danger of losing a match.

Harris Everett, who was not allowed to play in the first match because of a question of eligibility had the most impressive record on the team. Alternating at the No. 2 singles spots Everett had a perfect record of 14 wins. He finally copped his season winning the Southern conference singles championship from Zan Carver.

Although the red headed Co-captains Rider and Rawlings teamed together to win the Southern conference doubles title, Walt Meserole and Zan Carver probably were the most heralded doubles team on the Carolina squad. It was through their victories in the Presbyterian and Yale matches that Carolina was able to maintain its undefeated slate. The two mentioned doubles teams met in the finals of the conference meet with the co-captains gaining the victory in five sets of gruelling play. Making up the other third of the doubles teams of Carolina on most occasions were Harris Everett and Frank Robinson, a combine which also boasted a very impressive record.

Making up the remaining portion of

A "Jacket" for Every Student

In the files of the Alumni Office at the Carolina Inn there is a "jacket" for every University alumnus, whether he is a graduate or not. There is one too for every student. The student "jackets" are transferred over to the alumni files as their classes are graduated.

In these individual "jackets" are filed questionnaires, correspondence, photographs, newspaper clippings, and other personal items. These comprise the material from which the Alumni Office staff is able to give information about alumni to classmates, to prospective employers, and to others who may have legitimate reasons for possessing such information.

It is important to each alumnus that up-to-date information about him (or her) is on file in the Alumni Offices. It is equally important to each alumni class and local alumni club. The address lists of the Alumni Offices are the only all-University alumni lists and they are used by classes, clubs, for preferred alumni football ticket sales, etc.

Membership in the Alumni Association is an individual matter. Each former student or graduate is eligible to join. Members receive gratis the monthly magazine, The Alumni Review, including its weekly specials in the fall.

Annual dues in the General Alumni Association are $3. But for one's first alumni year the fee is $1, which includes the alumni magazine, voting privileges in the Association elections, etc.

Degree candidates may join the Association by taking their dollar to the Alumni Offices in the Carolina Inn anytime before June 11. Also they may get their complimentary tickets to the Alumni Luncheon any time before 4 o'clock, June 10.
