A band of veteran seniors tried and proven in two previous campaigns and supported greatly by an equally-qualified group of juniors and sophomores, all wearing the colors of Wake Forest college, trot out on Kenan stadium to oppose Carolina's Tar Heels at 2:30 today to attempt the first big step in raising the prestige of the Baptist school in the nation's football eye.

The contest promises to be much more than an ordinary Carolina-Wake Forest engagement, for the Deacons

Students will be admitted to the game at Gate No. 6. Passbook slip No. 2 will be exchanged for a reserved seat, which should be occupied by the student to whom it is assigned. The gates will open at 1 o'clock, and students are advised to go early.

have been looking to this day for the past three years—ever since they decided to go all the way in a subsidization program that eventually would put them among the front runners in the south, if not in the country. The Demon Deacons of 1937 made up the nearest little freshman team in the state, and great things were anticipated.

From all sorts of angles, this is a game Wake Forest wants to win badly, and Carolina never was quite willing to take defeat easily, especially at the hands of an eleven that so

Nelson Revives Cheerio Club For Game Today

The reorganization of the old Kay Kyser Cheerio club will become a reality this afternoon at the game against Wake Forest. Provision has been made for the seating of the club's 150 members to sit in the center of the student section. There, as planned by head cheerleader Charlie Nelson, they will act as a nucleus for the student cheering.

At the first meeting of the club on Thursday night, songs and yells were practiced. According to Nelson, the response was "sensational."

The club idea is modeled after the cheering sections organized by Kay Kyser when he was a cheerleader here. This afternoon they will only participate in the songs and yells, and displays and special routines are to be worked out later.

YM-YWCA Groups Will Meet Monday

All YMCA and YWCA groups will hold their first meetings of the fall quarter Monday evening.

The Freshman Friendship council will meet in the Di Senate chamber at 7:30; the Sophomore cabinet, which includes all members of last year's Friendship council and others interested, on the first floor of the YMCA at 7 o'clock; and the Junior-Senior group in Gerrard hall at 7 o'clock. All students interested in taking part in Y activities this year are invited to attend these meetings.

QUITE CAPABLE LEADERS are Co-Captains Gates Kimball and Paul Severin, who lead the Tar Heel eleven into action against Wake Forest at Kenan stadium this afternoon. Kimball was all-conference tackle and Severin All-American end last year. The kick-off is at 2:30.

Corbett, Kantrowitz Head Human Relations Institute

Conference Week Begins April 6

The sixth Institute of Human Relations will be held on the week beginning April 6, with Ed Kantrowitz, University senior, and Melville Corbett, graduate student in sociology, as co-chairmen, Harry Comer, executive secretary of the institute, announced last night.

Comer said that the co-chairmen had begun work on the week-long series of round-table discussions, seminars, debates, and speeches, with the committee assisting in the plans to be announced next week. Membership on the committee will include 15 students and 15 faculty members. Every campus organization is to be represented, as well as those departments of the University to which the subjects to be discussed at the institute are related.

As has been the custom in the past, the Weil Lectures will be held along with the remainder of the Institute. Two years ago, Dorothy Thompson, noted columnist, appeared on the Weil series.

In explaining the function of the Institute, Comer said, "All the organizations on the campus will be invited to lend full cooperation. The Institute was originated in 1927, as an outstanding all-campus intellectual effort at analysis and understanding of social and world events. The committee will decide the subject matter in the near future. The unpredictability of what the world situation will be next April, however, necessitates that the committee go slow on the selection of topics."

He added that he had been "accumulating a list of speakers during last year through the special opportunity provided me at Town Hall."

The selection of Miss Corbett and Kantrowitz to the co-chairmanship marks the first time in the 12 year period of Institutes that one person

Germany, Italy, Japan Sign Ten-Year Pact Directly Threatening U. S. for Aid to Britain

The United States reacted defiantly last night to a new military alliance signed in Berlin by Germany, Italy and Japan in a move clearly intended to intimidate America against getting in their way.

The ten-year triple pact signed by world's three most military nations, against whom the U. S. long ago ceased to be neutral, threatened war against any present non-belligerent who dares to interfere by force of arms in their "new order."

This could mean only the United States and Russia—and the three totalitarian powers were careful to insert a clause in the treaty exempting the Soviet from its ramifications—so whatever Berlin and Rome may

Faculty Rules Ten Minutes Twixt Classes

Ten minutes instead of seven will be allowed for changing classes beginning about the middle of next week as the result of a resolution passed by the general faculty at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

The vastly expanded University and increased distance between buildings was the reason for the change. Students having consecutive classes at opposite ends of the campus have been complaining for some time. This has been especially true since the completion of Woolen gymnasium and inauguration of classes there.

Dr. W. M. Dey, who has been serving as chairman of the division of humanities as well as head of the department of Romance languages, has resigned as chairman of the humanities division, it was announced at the meeting. Dr. G. A. Harter, head of the Latin department will succeed him. Dr. Richmond P. Bond will continue as secretary of the division.

The degree of the school of library science also underwent a change. Instead of receiving a B.S. degree, library science graduates will receive an A.B.

The decision to lengthen the interval between classes has been contemplated for a long time. When Woolen gym was finished it became obvious immediately that a certain number of people were going to be inconvenienced by the seven-minute interval—especially those who have classes in Woolen and Phillips or Peabody occurring in consecutive periods.

Expanded Band To Make Debut At Game Today

This season's expanded Carolina band will make its debut this afternoon in Kenan stadium at the Wake Forest game. Conductor Earl Slocum and the boys have been rehearsing since before the beginning of school and are ready for the playing and marching performance today.

The Carolina musicians will be assisted by both the Wake Forest and Davidson bands.

Before the game, the three units will combine in playing "The Star Spangled Banner," and at the half the Wake Forest and Carolina bands in one unit will parade, honoring teams and supporters from each school. Carolina's first drum-major-ette, Boots Thompson of Summit, Miss., is expected to make her first appearance with the band.

DTH Newsmen:

All members of the DAILY TAR HEEL news staff will begin work on tomorrow's paper this morning at 9:30 if they wish to see the game. As a matter of fact this is true regardless of their interest in the game.

Ambassador Pleads for Speed

More aid to Britain and a speed-up of this country's vast defense program seemed to be Washington's reply to Rome, Berlin and Tokyo. With German planes rounding three weeks of terrible siege of London, the British ambassador to Washington went to "speed, speed, speed" in United States aid to his country.

Britain, he said, needs "more of everything and quickly."

Everything indicates that Britain will get it to the fullest possible extent without slowing the United

Committee To Submit Plans For New Mag To Legislature

DAVE MORRISON, student body president, who heads the committee formed yesterday to provide a substitute for the Buccaneer.

Morrison Favors Change in Name

Proposal that the Carolina Buccaneer, the University's storm-tossed humor publication, be abolished and that a seven-member student committee be established simultaneously to draw up a plan for a new humorous periodical, was unanimously agreed upon yesterday by 11 student leaders—many of them publications men—following a discussion with President Frank P. Graham on the Buccaneer problem.

A sub-committee of the group will draw up a bill for presentation to the ways and means committee of the Student legislature. The bill will provide that the Buccaneer, in name and form, is to be abolished. It will provide for a six-member committee to serve with Student Body President Dave Morrison in conceiving the new magazine, three of them to be appointed by Morrison and three by the Publications Union board, with present Buccaneer writers and other student journalists represented.

Thus, the students made a move to carry out, in substance, the demands of a petition being circulated on the campus and now already bearing over 1,000 names. The petition states, "We do not want a smutty magazine, but at the same time, we want one that is definitely typical of college life at Carolina." The proposal agreed upon yesterday places upon Morrison and his committee the task of finding the type of publication which will meet these standards.

The petition asked that "under no condition should the Carolina Buccaneer be disposed of." Morrison pointed out, however, that the student committee is preserving the intention of this section of the petition.

"We seek to preserve the humor publication in essence," he declared. "The objective is to secure a magazine which will meet the humor needs of a student body of 4,000 without at the same time bringing upon the University the criticism that it harbors a 'dirty' publication."

He pointed out that any magazine named the Buccaneer, "even if it rivaled the Woman's Home Companion for cleanliness," would still bear the

Order Of Grail Tonight Begins Annual Dances

The Order of the Grail tonight opens its annual series of post-football game script dances in Woolen gym from 9 till 12 o'clock.

The Grail is the only campus organization except the German club which is permitted to give script dances. Each year it sponsors a series, tickets for which are one dollar, stag or couple, at the door.

Freshmen will not be allowed to attend any of these dances until fraternity rushing is over. All other members of the student body, however, will be admitted, including those tired individuals whose feet survived last night's coed ball.

Charlie Wood and his orchestra will furnish the music for tonight's dance, accompanied by Jean Chandler, Durham vocalist.

During the winter and spring quarters the Grail sponsors several Saturday night dances for class dance sets.

Grimes to Teach At Akron University

Dr. James M. Grimes has been designated as the University's delegate to attend the inauguration of the president of Hiram college October 4. Dr. Grimes will teach this year at the University of Akron. He completed work for his Ph.D. degree in history here this summer. He and Mrs. Grimes, the former Helen Thomas of Chapel Hill, moved to Akron this month.

CAA Board Accepts 34

Nine Alternates Also Selected

The selective board for the new aerial training unit at the University yesterday accepted 34 applicants and appointed nine others as alternates.

Classes begin the first of next week, but flight training will not commence until the arrival of two new training planes. Students may still apply for the course in room 101 South building.

Physical examinations were started this afternoon at McPherson hospital. Several other students who started the course last summer but were forced to drop the course before its completion will be added to the list of those already accepted.

The selective committee is composed of Dean C. P. Spruill of the General College, instructor W. R. Mann and student Ben Aiken, who was appointed by student body president Dave Morrison.

Swalin To Hold Symphony Tryouts

Tryouts for the University Symphony orchestra will be held on Monday from 4 until 5 o'clock in Dr. Benjamin Swalin's office in Hill Music hall, it was announced yesterday. Some preliminary tryouts were held yesterday by Swalin, the director of the symphony.

The first rehearsal of the orchestra will be held at 7:15 Monday evening, at which time tentative positions in the symphony will be assigned.

A program is planned for presentation in Asheville this quarter, among trips to be made by the orchestra. The symphony is composed of students, faculty, and townspeople, and is open to any interested and qualified musician.

Dorm Waiting List Dwindles to Dozen

Only 12 or 15 students are still on the waiting list for dormitory rooms, T. H. Evans, head cashier, reported late yesterday afternoon. "Everything is working out very nicely," he said, "and we hope to have placed the few still left within the next day or two."

Law Student Made Naval ROTC Officer

Capt. Robert S. Haggart yesterday swore in Hal Hammer Walker as assistant paymaster, with the rank of ensign, in the naval reserve of the United States navy to serve in the naval ROTC unit established here this fall.

Walker graduated from the University in the class of 1939 with the Bachelor of Arts degree. He is now a third year law student in the University law school.
