Committee Reports Organization Bill

Bradshaw Urges Student Body To Extend Full Cooperation

Legislature Will Discuss Bill Monday

Proposal Would Form Small Discussion Groups

(See page 4 for text of Bill)
The Ways and Means committee of the Student Legislature last night completed its final draft of the campus organization bill and voted to report it to the floor of the Legislature without comment.

Bill Cochrane, speaker of the Legislature, announced after the committee meeting that a special session will be called next Monday night to consider the proposal.

The bill calls for the organization of an advisory committee to the president of the student body by geographical division of the campus into small discussion groups of about 10 members.

400 Basic Groups

Approximately 400 of these groups would be formed and the opinions of the campus, as indicated by discussions would be reported to the president through a series of chairmen.

The 400 group chairmen would meet with 40 section chairmen, who would be appointed by the president of the student body, in groups of ten. The 40 section chairmen would form the administrative committee of the organization and would elect from their number ten members of an executive committee. The president of the student body would serve as chairman of both these committees.

Purpose of Bill

The purpose of the bill, as outlined in the preamble, is to provide a "broader and more complete means for student participation in their self-government, the opportunities that provide for greater student interest"

Leavitt To Attend Language Meeting

Dr. Sturgis E. Leavitt of the department of romance languages will attend the annual meeting of the Committee on Latin American Studies of the American Council of Learned Societies which is to be held in Washington on October 19 and 20. Dr. Leavitt has been a member of this committee since its establishment five years ago.

Dead Silence on Humor Magazine Bewilders Morrison, Committeemen

By Philip Carden
"Maybe the students don't want a humor magazine," Dave Morrison said yesterday as he shook his head in bewilderment.

He was commenting on the passive way in which the student body has accepted the abolishment of the Buceaneer and failed to offer any suggestions to the committee which is drawing up plans for a new humor magazine.

Has Met Three Times

The committee has met three times since it was created by the Student Legislature two weeks ago and is working on a typical dummy on which to base estimates of the cost of the new magazine.

Heretofore any effort to tamper with the magazine in any way has met with terrific reaction on the campus. Last year, when the Student Council banned the November issue of the Buc the reaction approached revolutionary stages and grumbling could be heard as late as examination week of the Spring quarter.

When it was banned for a year and the editor was expelled back in the twenties as the result of an article called "Contact Bridge," opposition was strong enough to support an unauthorized humor magazine called the Fin Jan. (The name is Japanese for "cup without a handle.")

Wants Suggestions

Parade Added To University Day Program

Woman's College, State, Carolina Will Participate

A street parade in downtown Raleigh has been added to the features of the third Greater University day this Saturday when State college plays its homecoming game with the University of North Carolina in Riddick Stadium.

Beginning at 10:30 a. m., the parade will include walking, motorized, mounted and aerial units.

State has already planned a full program for Friday night. At 7 o'clock the annual stunt night will be held in Pullen hall. Afterwards students will stage a pep meeting to be broadcast over radio station WPTF and a huge bonfire.

Some 500 girls from WCUNC will arrive in Raleigh Saturday morning by train for the game. A large part of the Carolina student body is also expected. Passbooks plus fifty cents will admit them to a special section in Riddick stadium.

Bands from all three units of the Greater University of North Carolina will be on hand to play at the game. At the half presidents of the three student bodies — Lib Patten, Paul Lehman and Dave Morrison — will speak.

After the game State dormitories and fraternities will hold open house until 6 o'clock.

The day will be climaxed by the annual homecoming dance in Frank Thompson gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock. Barry McKinley, and his orchestra, who played recently at Virginia Beach and Richmond's Tantilgardens, will furnish the music. University students will be able to secure advance tickets for 85 cents probably today from the office in Graham Memorial.

Phi Assembly Defeats Bill Favoring Coeds

"There is little that need be said against the campus organization bill other than it is extremely inefficient," Senator Klaber stated in the Phi Assembly discussion last night that carried the resolution declaring the proposed bill impractical.

Representative Karples said however that he felt this a necessary instrument for arriving at true campus opinion.

The issue stating that coeds should be allowed 12 o'clock privileges on one night during the week was defeated after a lengthy and heated discussion.

President Sloan said regarding the failure of the resolution, "It upholds the virtue of the Carolina coeds, but the rights of the Carolina gentleman were trampled underfoot."

Plans were discussed for a social some time in the near future and the next meeting will be partially devoted to completion of the ideas.

Hillel Services Planned Tonight

The Hillel Foundation will hold religious services in observance of the Feast of the Tabernacle (Sukoth) in Graham Memorial tonight. Orthodox services will be held at 7 o'clock in the Grail room. Reform services will be held in the Banquet room at 7:15.

Law Student Sworn Into Naval Reserve

Daniel P. Whitley, third year student in the University law school, was sworn in last Friday as assistant paymaster with the rank of ensign, probationary volunteer in the United States naval reserve, by Captain R. S. Haggart, head of the naval ROTC unit at the University.

Crime Wave Uncovered Here As Students Run Foul of Law

Township $44 Richer Today

A crime wave was uncovered in Chapel Hill recorder's court yesterday when Judge Andrew McIntosh exacted a total of $44 from 11 students charged with various desperate criminal activities ranging from swimming and boating in University lake to riding bicycles on sidewalks.

Four Carolina natators were found guilty of swimming in University lake, from which the village water supply is drawn. They also "borrowed" a boat. When justice caught up with them the township of Chapel Hill was $30 and one-fourth court cost to the good.

The students, Joe Demeri, Dick Schurz, Fred White and Bob Werner pleaded guilty to the charge of trespassing on University property at the lake but maintained they did not know it was the University water supply. Judge McIntosh decided to allow the quartet to make payments on fines and costs on the installment plan.

Four more students ran afoul of the law when they rode their bicycles on the village sidewalks. This oversight cost J. M. Wilson, G. L. Peabody, Robert Fisher and J. T. Reid $2 each, for traffic violations. Stafford Sewing also charged with "reckless driving" was fined $2 when he failed to stop his bicycle at a marked intersection.

Even pedestrians came under police surveillance during the "wave." For "soliciting" rides from the streets, C. E. Barrier and F. B. McCannes were each fined $2.

Judge McIntosh had a busy day. So did the students.

Coed Dorms Elect Heads

Other Positions Are Filled

Four coed dormitories yesterday announced complete returns from elections conducted the past few weeks and concluded yesterday.

In Spencer, Grace Gilbert of Parkton was elected president, Hilah Ruth Mayer, social chairman, and Ann Moore, Sallie Wright, and Ann Phronburg members of the Interdormitory council.

Dormitory No. 1 elected Mary Sue Robertson of Hillsboro president, Louise Stieflemeyer, representative to the Student legislature, and Olivia Rhodes, Metty Moore, and Genie Loring-Clark to the Interdormitory council.

Mary Alan Clinard of High Point was elected president by Dormitory No. 2. Ruth Golbey was chosen as social chairman, and Aline March, Sylvia Cullem and Maxine Beeston were elected to the Interdormitory council.

In No. 3 Josephine Andoe of Greensboro was elected president. Emily Siler was chosen as social chairman and Mary Emily Parker was elected as student legislator. Anne Adler, Louise Hall and Mildred Brown will represent the dormitory in the Interdormitory council.

Dormitory No. 3 will be the first coed dormitory to sponsor a social event when on Friday night they hold the first dormitory dance of the year.

Ferocious London Raids Continue; Britain Strikes in Mediterranean

Roosevelt To Speak On Conscription

By United Press
LONDON — (Wednesday) — Light and heavy German bombers bucked through London's most tenacious anti-aircraft barrage last night and early today, sometimes at the rate of one a minute, to continue the deafening raids which have allowed the capital but meagre respite for more than 30 hours.

After the lightning ferocity of the evening's attacks had subsided for a time, solitary raiders threaded the skies early today, swerving and dipping to frustrate the sound apparatus during the deafening barrage that scattered bombs which pushed the surging casualty list.

From central London the night's assault as a whole appeared to be slightly less intensified than that of Monday night which was the worst of the 39-day siege.

LONDON — (Wednesday) — A smashing British naval air offensive against Benito Mussolini's war machine has sent three Italian destroyers to the bottom of the Mediterranean and established Britain's mastery of the (Continued on page 4, column 5)

Record Concert In Union Tonight

The Graham Memorial Student Union is sponsoring an hour of recorded music in the lounge tonight at 7:30. This is a regular feature of the student activities plan.

The program tonight will include "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" by Frantz Liszt, Hindlandia by Sibelius, Tchaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet," Mohler's "Second movement from Symphony No. 2," and "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Johan Strauss.

Reading Test Deadline Today

All freshmen must have taken their reading tests by tonight. Freshmen who have not taken this test are requested to do so some time today. The test requires only a few minutes to complete and it is urged that advantage be taken of vacant periods in the morning to take the test in South building, thereby avoiding the afternoon rush. The tests will be given from 9:30 to 5 o'clock.

If You're Eligible, Better Read This

Here is the alphabetical schedule for registration today in accordance with the conscription bill:

Between 9 and 10 those whose names begin with A or B.

Between 10 and 11 those whose names begin with C, D, or E.

Between 11 and 12 those whose names begin with F, G, or H.

Between 12 and 1 those whose names begin with I, J, K, L, or M, only through Mi.

Between 2 and 3 those whose names begin with from Mo through N, O, P, or R.

Between 3 and 4 those whose names begin with S or T.

Between 4 and 5 those whose names begin with U, V, W, X, Y, or Z.

Burke Unable To Speak Here

CPU Applications Now Available

Bill Joslin, chairman of the Carolina Political Union, announced yesterday that Senator Edmund Burke, D.-Neb., co-author of the conscription bill, would not be able to speak here as planned, as a result of Congress remaining in session.

Joslin also stated that vacancies in the CPU will be filled within the next week. The organization is limited to 25 members and at present only five vacancies are open. Joslin said that application blanks may be obtained at the YMCA office tomorrow through Tuesday and the applications should be returned to the YMCA as soon as possible.

The membership will be open to upperclassmen and junior and senior coeds. Freshman will be admitted in the spring. Joslin added that reception will be held for all applicants previous to the final announcement regarding the new members.

Regarding the Unions present plans, Joslin said that members of the union will "talk over" the various presidential candidates shortly before the elections.

Burke had originally agreed to speak on the CPU platform on the assumption that Congress would remain in session, but, the letter received by Joslin said, he would be too busy to appear while congress is in session.

Allcott Will Give Art Lecture Today

John V. Allcott, head of the art department, will give a gallery lecture at 5 o'clock today on the collection of original Old Masters which is currently showing at Person Hall.

The collection, which is being shown for the first time outside the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York, includes the work of such masters as Van Dyck, Raeburn, Ruysdael, Grouze, and Sir Thomas Lawrence. Allcott will discuss the individual pictures and point out how they typify the formal tradition of portrait and landscape painting of the Flemish, English, and French artists of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

Graham Memorial Mountaineers Will Appear For First Time at Square Dance Saturday

The Graham Memorial Mountaineers will make their initial appearance before the student body on Saturday night when they play for the square dance to be held in the Tin Can from 9 until 11 o'clock, Richard Worley announced yesterday.

"This is my own private and especial band," he added, "and I'm hoping everybody—even those who have never done this sort of dancing before—will come. Only identification cards necessary for admittance."

Peacetime Draft Will Affect 1,000 Students

By Ernest Frankel
A plea to "make today a perfectly organized and enthusiastically completed answer to the blitzkrieg of the unfree" was voiced by Dean of Students Francis F. Bradshaw yesterday as he completed last-minute plans for registration today of about 1,000 Carolina students in the nation's first peacetime draft.

He also announced appointment of 40 registrars.

Dean Bradshaw advised students who must register that, "Both registrars and registrants are responsible to the state and federal authorities for complete, prompt, and accurate registration. Penalty for failure on the part of officials or draftees to comply with the law is punishable by five years in prison or a $10,000 fine. Those subject to the law are responsible for informing themselves of its provisions."

"By act of Congress and Proclamation of the President of the United States, every male citizen or alien on this day at least 21 years old, but not yet 36 who is not already in the military service, must register with his local board. For the convenience of students, a student registration is arranged at Woolen gymnasium. To remove the necessity for standing in line, 40 registrars have agreed to serve and students are asked to observe the published alphabetical schedule."

"Here, on this campus, where freedom is so highly prized as free America organizes itself to protect its freedom, October 16, 1940, offers many of us our first answer to the question, 'What can we do?'"

Registrars Named

It was suggested by the registration authorities that students from Orange county and those from immediately adjacent counties, who can conveniently register in their home precinct should register at home. Those students subject to the draft regulations who live in Chapel Hill township must register at the downtown registration hall.

Town Boys Elect Five Men To Sit In Legislature

Seniors Mitchell Britt, Ed Hubbard, and Bill Smith and juniors Warren Mengel and Hance Jacquelt were elected to represent the Town Boys association in the legislature at last night's meeting in Gerrard hall.

Once again a small attendance hampered the election and prevented any spirited balloting from taking place.

In the contest for secretary of the association, Baylor Henninger defeated Bill Packer by a vote of 12 to 10.

For senior legislature Mitchell Britt obtained 21 votes, Ed Hubbard 20, Bill Smith 18, Vaughn Winborne 2. In the junior race for the two legislature seats there were only three nominees, Warren Mengel, Hance Jacquelt, and Ralph Fenton. There was some doubt as to Fenton's official status and he withdrew from the race. Consequently Mengel and Jacquelt were automatically elected.

The next Town Boys meeting will be held on October 29, at 7:30 in Gerrard hall.
