

Rooming-House Conditions Will Be Inspected

State Game, Dance, Exhibits, to Feature Homecoming Today

Thousands Of Visitors To Throng Hill

Graham, Broughton To Welcome Guests This Afternoon

Homecoming decorations by dormitories, fraternities, and merchants, the Carolina-State football game this afternoon, and the Homecoming Grail Dance tonight are the big features of today.

The decoration exhibits will be judged at 10 o'clock by committees appointed by the University club. Chapel Hill merchants are cooperating as never before and the displays are outstanding.

Thousands of Visitors

Thousands of visitors, alumni, and soldiers will be the guests of the University. Several fraternities have made preparation for housing and entertaining soldiers.

The three bands of State, Woman's College, and UNC will give concerts before the game this afternoon and will also present a program during the halves of the game.

Broughton, Graham Participate

Governor Broughton and President Graham will join with the presidents of the consolidated University student body immediately before the game this afternoon in welcoming our guests today.

There will be on hand at the game this afternoon sixteen couples of sponsors from Woman's College, State, and Carolina. The sponsors will be special guests at the Grail dance.

Kaplan, Hidden Genius, Springs to Light In North Carolina Epic

By Walter Klein
"I've never been to Timbuctoo, I've never been to China, But of all the places I've never been, I prefer North Carolina."
That happy little ditty has brought fame and fortune—well, fame anyhow—to chubby freshman Bud Kaplan.
Bud, alias Harold Jr., wrote the above in a punch-drunk moment last spring as an effort in high school English. Kaplan was considering application for enrollment in Carolina at the time, and dashed off his brain child in hopeful expectation. Lo, his instructor.

Classes as Usual

Contrary to popular belief, all classes will be held today R. B. House, Dean of Administration, announced yesterday.

Satterfield Plays For Informal Affair

The Grail dance tonight from 8 until 12 o'clock in Woollen gym will wind up hectic activities of Homecoming and Greater University Day.
Johnny Satterfield and his band, whose blues style and original arrangements won the rating of best campus swing band last spring, will furnish the music. Like all other Grail dances, the affair will be informal and $1.10 admission will be charged for both stag and couple.

Sponsors for the Woman's College and State College will be special guests of the Grail for the dance. Grail alumni will attend an open house in the Student Union immediately after the dance.

The dance will start one hour earlier than usual, and Grail exchequer George Coxhead urged again last night that as many couples as possible come at 8 o'clock.

Student French Club

A French supper forum will be held at 6 o'clock, Tuesday at the Graham Memorial grill for the French Club and all others interested in speaking French.

Special Roosevelt Emissary To Russia, William L. Batt, Will Speak for CPU Friday

OPM Deputy Director Went to Kremlin With Harriman to Discuss Russian Aid

By Paul Komisaruk
Third in an impressive list of CPU speakers, William L. Batt, FDR's recently returned delegate to Moscow, who fills the office of Deputy Director of OPM, will address a Chapel Hill audience Friday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall, Ridley Whitaker, Carolina Political union chairman, disclosed yesterday.

Coed Budget Totals $1940, $126 for Keys

Senate Tables Motion to Extend Weekday Curfew

Passage of a budget totaling $1940.40, and a recommendation that a scholarship be established with the Woman's Government association's surplus funds were unanimously passed at the regular meeting of the coed Senate Thursday afternoon.

Senate members also tabled a motion that coed hours be extended to 11 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights. The bill will be reconsidered at the next regular meeting.

Pharmacy Representative

The Senate voted to add a representative from the Pharmacy School coed student body. This representative will be elected as soon as the Pharmacy coeds set up an organization to which the new representative will be responsible.

By a vote of seven to three, the Senate overrode a motion to strike out a sum of $126 to buy keys for members of the Senate, Interdorm Council, and Honor council.

Total Appropriation

Total appropriations made under the budget include $137 to the Honor council, $195 to the Interdorm council, and $1393 to the Senate. Part of the appropriation to the Interdorm council will be used for permanent dormitory improvements, while part of the Senate appropriation will be given to the Woman's Athletic association, Valkyries, YWCA, and glee club.

Classes as Usual

Contrary to popular belief, all classes will be held today R. B. House, Dean of Administration, announced yesterday.

Intense interest in Batt's forthcoming speech is anticipated in view of his recent Russian sojourn.

Little information has been released since the Harriman-Batt delegation met with England's Lord Beaverbrook in the Kremlin to discuss aid and supplies to Russia.

Seeped Out

What little information that has seeped out of official Washington since Batt's return on October 20 indicates that American supplies will reach Russia by or before spring. Further talk indicated that a British Expeditionary Force might be sent to bolster the weakening Russian defenses.

Possibility and hope that Batt would reveal some "new" phases of the trip were considered bright by CPU leaders yesterday. Looked upon as one of the men who "made" the inside story, his association with official Washington puts him in an enviable and highly informative position.

More Details

There is reason to believe that more details of the trip, kept secret until See FDR DELEGATE, page 6

Jamerson Asserts UNC 'Won't, Can't be Beat' Before Rally of 2,000

By Hayden Carruth
"A team and student body that won't be beat, can't be beat," said Dick Jamerson last night before a crowd of students 2,000 strong in Memorial hall.

At 7 o'clock the coeds of Spencer snake danced throughout the Upper and Lower Quadrangles to the accompaniment of cheering dormitory residents. At 7:30, 2,000 students assembled to hear State begin the pep rally broadcast from Raleigh.

A draped coffin of gigantic proportions was carried to the stage by a crew of saddle-shoed pall bearers while Steve Peck, University club president, intoned the sad death of the "Twelfth See PEP RALLY, page 6

Kluttz Promises Full Cooperation; Cleanup Under Way in Strowd, Sutton

By Jimmy Wallace
Franklin Street rooming houses revealed in a Daily Tar Heel investigation to be sub-standard, will be inspected by County Board of Health Head Dr. W. P. Richardson Monday and the report will be submitted to South building Tuesday, "if possible," it was learned yesterday.

Alleging that rooms along Chapel Hill's main artery furnished inadequate toilet facilities, sub-standard lighting conditions and

Saboteurs of Public Health

(Editorial)
The Fagans are afoot in Chapel Hill.

During the past couple of days workmen have been busy making hasty, yet superficial, improvements in the Strowd, Sutton, and Wettach buildings. Photographers from the daily college paper have been barred and banned from taking shots of the bad conditions in the structures. A reporter was threatened with physical ouster if he again lays foot in the Strowd building. Finally the daily paper has been threatened with a libel suit.

These are the ramifications of this newspaper's expose of living conditions in the buildings on Franklin Street. These are the replies of men, the owners and managers of property, who rent out rooms where college students must live. These are men to whom public health and safety mean little.

That the Tar Heel's expose is correct cannot be blurred by the fact that the owners have maliciously tried to remedy a See EDITORIAL, page 6

MacLendon Reappointed

Reorganization Plan Effected

Formally giving jurisdiction to the Safety council by appointments which bring it into official existence, student body president Truman Hobbs yesterday announced the reinstatement of three members, the appointment of a new member, and the dropping of one.

Reappointing Mac MacLendon as chairman of the strengthened council, Hobbs necessarily forced the dropping of Hugh Hole, who was former council representative of the fraternity group. Mayer Hendrix, dormitory representative, and Ann Peyton, women's representative, were reappointed. To fill out the fourth member, Hobbs appointed Rupert Jernigen to represent the Town interests.

Under the former system, which operated before the reorganization bill was passed by the legislature last week, three members representing the women, men's dormitories, and fraternities, were chosen with a fourth man from any contingent appointed to act as chairman. With the reappointment of Mac MacLendon, who is a fraternity See SAFETY COUNCIL, page 6

Lettermen to Entertain Alumni After Game Today

Y Advisory Board Elects Woodward For Secretary Post

With the formal acceptance of Jimmie Woodward as permanent secretary, the Advisory Board of the YWCA met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Walter Spearman, chairman.

Elected by the Cabinet of the Y, the 12 adult members of the Advisory Board come from administration, faculty, and townspeople. Together with the four student members, their work will be directed chiefly toward cooperation with the Y commissions.

Board members are; Mrs. M. H. Stacy, Mrs. E. G. Hardeman, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Irene F. Lee, Mrs. W. W. Alexander, Miss Harriet Herring, Miss Tempe Newsom, Dean R. B. House, Professor E. L. Mackie, Mr. H. F. Comer, Muriel Mallison, Louise Stumberg. Two student members will be elected by the Cabinet.

were ill-kept, the Daily Tar Heel revealed statistics, and printed photographs of conditions not meeting Board of Health requirements.

Reverberations followed the story along with intimations of libel suits directed toward the paper, and demands for retractions of accusations.

Yesterday conditions reported in an article Thursday morning, conditions which are authenticated by documentary evidence, were partially corrected. A pool of water atop the N. C. Cafeteria next to Strowd, photographed Thursday, two days after the rain, was gone when reporters re-inspected the location Thursday night.

Cobwebs, leaves, filth in the bathrooms of Strowd building Wednesday had been partially eradicated yesterday. See HOUSING, page 6

Gersten Urges Members to Attend

The Monogram Club, as its contribution to the Homecoming Day festivities, will hold open house in the Monogram Club room after the football game and after the Grail dance.

"We are holding open house to provide an opportunity for the alumni and present Monogram Club members to get acquainted," Bobby Gersten, Monogram Club president, said yesterday.

Several members of the Woman's Athletic association will be present to serve refreshments after the game.

"We urge all Monogram men, whether present or former members, to attend this meeting," Gersten said.

Worley Organizes Soldier Show

Fish Worley, enterprising head of Graham Memorial, announced yesterday that entertainment for the visiting draftees and any students interested would be provided in Memorial hall tonight starting at 7:30 and lasting until 9 o'clock.

A bill of entertainers featuring the famed and near famed of Chapel Hill and Durham has been provided for the occasion.

Heading the list is Tiny Hutton and his Carolinians to provide the musical background. The Carden Sisters, Durham quartet, will sing for the program and will accompany Mary Carden, another sister, in a dancing routine.

University talent that will be offered on the program include Fred Calligan, Tiny Hutton, Bob Hilton, Bernice Eltinge, John O'Steen, Bob Richards, Jim Pace, Arty Devine, Ann Angle, Jane Dickinson, and Mary Caldwell.

Ghosts Run Wild In Spencer Dorm

New residents of Spencer hall were entertained Thursday night at a Hallowe'en party with ghosts, witches, and spooks.

Ellen New and Constance Mason, head witches, were in charge of the entertainment which included an accordion solo by Bernice Eltinge, several skits, and apple bobbing. After some Hallowe'en refreshments of cider and doughnuts, Randy Mebane bid the girls goodnight with a thrilling ghost story.

Guests at the evening's entertainment were Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Butt, housemothers of Smith dormitory.

PICTURED ABOVE are sponsors for the Greater University Day dance to be held at the University of North Carolina tonight from 8 to 12 o'clock, following the Carolina-State football game. Top row from left to right are Miss Georgia Poole of Mullins, S. C., Miss Ardis Kipp of Miami Beach, Fla., Miss Nancy Howard of Kinston, and Miss Patsy Miller of Fort Benning, Ga., Carolina sponsors. Bottom row: Miss Ann Hayes of Greensboro, Miss Dixie French of Raleigh, Miss Helen Turner of Durham, and Miss Jessie Margaret Jones of Concord, State sponsors.