

Personnel Exams In Civil Service Open to Students

Annual Civil Service examinations in the field of personnel, "Junior Professional Assistants" and "Student Aid" are now available, the Civil Service Commission announced.

In the field of personnel the positions available are Junior Occupational Analyst, $2,000 a year; for the Federal Security Agency, Personnel Assistant, $2,600 a year to $3,800 a year; and Personnel Clerk at $2,300 a year, for various government agencies. All applicants for these positions must have had responsible experience in a regularly constituted personnel agency. Provision has been made to allow college study to qualify for part of the experience and for the acceptance of applications from senior students who will graduate prior to July 1, 1942. No written test will be given for these positions.

Jobs Open

The jobs available under the Junior Professional Assistants classification include agricultural economist, chemist, geologist, state department assistant, and statistician. Applicants must have completed a four-year college course leading to a bachelor's degree.

Student Aid positions include engineering, political science, public administration and statistics. Applicants must have completed three years of college study.

Persons Qualified

Persons qualified for Government service are urged to get copies of examination announcements at any first or second class post office or from the central office in Washington, D. C. All applications must be filed with the Washington office not later than January 15, 1942.

Defense Course To Be Scheduled

Instruction in public personnel administration in civilian and military branches of federal service begins immediately, political science department officials announced yesterday.

Not Yet Started

The course, Political Science 105, Introduction to Public Personnel Administration, has not yet been scheduled.

Students registering are instructed to see Professor E. A. Mauck at 105 Caldwell hall today. The course is open to juniors, seniors and graduate students.

Arrange Meetings

Mauck will arrange future meetings with students and placement on the Civil Service register for consideration for future appointment.
