

Hobbs Will Appoint Investigating Group

Student body president Truman Hobbs yesterday stated he would appoint a fact-finding committee to investigate a possible magazine merger next year.

A member of the PU Board will be selected for the committee which will probably be composed from the Legislature, Student council, DAILY TAR HEEL and the humor and literary mags. Hobbs was selecting and conferring with some of these representatives late yesterday.

Hobbs, taking action on the proposal for a 64-page Mag "trial combination issue," is forming a committee that will be able to issue an impartial report to be published in the pending 64-page issue. The magazine plans a campus poll to let students decide whether they prefer one or two magazines next year.

Mag editor Henry Moll will carry the proposal to the PU Board meeting this afternoon when he requests $625 to make the 64-page "trial combination issue" possible.

Government Reveals Plans to Send Yanks To Theater of War

By United Press

WASHINGTON—The nation tonight was given a glimpse of a gigantic military blueprint which will double the war expansion of the army to 3,600,000 men this year and include vast expansion of mechanized ground forces, and an air corps second to none.

The far-reaching plan, already approved by President Roosevelt was disclosed by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. He indicated it contemplates expeditionary forces. He said there will be adequate facilities for the big army because many men now under training will be sent over seas.

Final Arrangements Complete To Welcome Sudamericanos

By Bob Levin

With the return from New York of Dr. J. C. Lyons, where he officiated at the welcoming of the South American delegation, Inter-American Institute officials, committee heads and campus leaders, working in cooperation, today completed final arrangements for the Latins' six-week stay in Chapel Hill.

Arriving yesterday morning, Lyons immediately met Dr. S. E. Leavitt, chairman of the program, and finished

Medical School Adopts Program To Fit Wartime

In keeping with the University's policy, Medical school will go on a full-time, four quarter basis for the duration of the war, Dr. Berryhill, dean of the Medical school, announced yesterday.

This step is being taken because the War Department has asked all medical schools to speed-up their program, so students can graduate in three years.

The next session of the Medical school will begin not later than July 1, 1942. A definite date will be announced later. All medical students must attend summer school to graduate in three years, and it is the present plan to admit a new class every nine months. Dean Berryhill emphasized that standards for admission will not be lowered, and the same amount of

Lippmann Sees Victorious End To America's 'Bloodiest War'

Columnist Urges People to Exert Greatest Effort

By Paul Komisaruk

Walter Lippmann firmly warned last night that "we are still so close to defeat that we here shall have to make the greatest effort and fight the bitterest, bloodiest war in our whole history in order to defeat our enemies," and simultaneously predicted "the victory can be won."

America's destiny in this century is "to bring law and order, and peace to the civilized world," the noted author and interpreter of world affairs declared at the opening of the 18th annual North Carolina Press Association Institute.

"A Great Destiny" "Ours is a great destiny," Mr. Lippmann emphasized, "and it is ours, not in the least because we have superior virtue, but because by the facts of our geography and the position of our continent and the great movement of the tide of history, we have come to occupy in the modern world the place which Rome, in the center of her seas, occupied in the ancient world."

While visiting newsmen, faculty, students and guests completely overflowed the platform, the aisles, pathways and exits of Hill hall, Mr. Lippmann condemned the "isolationist philosophy and anti-British feeling" for misleading the people of the nation. The American people, he said, "have never understood that the Philippines, the Netherlands Indies, and Malaya supply us with raw materials which are absolutely vital to us and our ordinary American ways of living."

He continued that for twenty years

Howard to Speak To Press Meeting Saturday Morning

"We have been guided by our fears and our weaknesses and our doubts. I think that now we shall be moved by our strength and our pride and our faith. I think that we shall be seeing that it is the American destiny to become the invulnerable center of freedom under law, the strong friend of all nations which live under law, the implacable foe of tyrants, the partner of all who resist them."

"The Book of Faith" Through the present generation, the people have sought to deny this, their obvious destiny—and this destiny, "it is written in the Book of Fate and must now be fulfilled," Lippmann declared.

Lippmann further warned that this country can never return to a normal way of life unless its enemies are "decisively defeated."

If America's enemies emerge from the war holding their conquests and keeping their military power intact, "we shall have to get on year after year, arming to the teeth, living in a permanent state of emergency, compelled to be ready always for an undeclared war—like that which was

Will Bradley Will Play For Carolina Interdorm

Famed Bandleader Is Tops at Swing

Will Bradley

Will Bradley, trombone-playing leader of one of America's fastest rising bands, brings his orchestra to the Carolina campus Saturday, February 7 for the highlight spot of the famous Interdorms weekend, Tommy Sparrow, Interdorm dance chairman announced yesterday.

Playing for a public concert and dance, Bradley follows Freddy Johnson, campus maestro, onto the bandstand of the Tin Can. Johnson will play for the first round of the weekend set, Friday night, February 6 from 9:30 until 1 o'clock.

The dance is jointly sponsored by the Order of the Grail and the Interdormitory Council.

First appearance of the Bradley organization on the Chapel Hill campus, the band will play for the public concert to be held in Memorial hall from 5 until 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon and that night will move to the elaborately decorated Tin Can for the final dance of the set scheduled to last from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Kennedy's Band Makes Debut At Dance Tomorrow Evening

By Bob Hoke

Originally started as a co-op band—a group of student musicians sharing expenses and profits collectively—the Carolinians, now owned and fronted by ace clarinetist Rowland Kennedy, continue their climb as the newest and fastest rising campus orchestra.

The reorganized band will be unveiled to the Carolina campus for the first time under Kennedy's baton, tomorrow night at the informal Grail dance scheduled from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Lenoir dining hall. Admission for the Grail, first social event of the winter quarter, is $1.10 including tax.

Specializing in music "people can dance to," Kennedy's band is booked solid with campus engagements for the next four weeks as its popularity mounts.

Kennedy, clarinetist and arranger in Charlie Wood's famous organization which disbanded last year, took over the band in the fall quarter. Previously it had been fronted by Tiny Hutton, rotund drummer extraordinary. The

Chapel Hill Book Drive Opens Today

Victory Book Campaign, a nationwide drive for the purpose of collecting ten million books for soldiers, sailors, and marines, and sponsored by American Library Association, American Red Cross, and United Service Organizations, opens today in every state of the union.

Local drive which is being sponsored by above organizations with the help of University library, goes into action today with the placing of contribution barrels at strategic points in Chapel Hill.

Roberson Director Miss Nellie Roberson has been appointed local director by Charles E. Rush, University librarian. Assisting Miss Roberson are B. J. Caldwell and Mrs. Betty Durham Banner, both of the library staff.

Nearly all types of books are wanted. Textbooks now in use in law and medical schools are greatly in demand for those men who left professional courses for military service.

Among the kinds of literature particularly desired are books on applied psychology, current affairs, English grammar, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, logarithms

Carolina's Beau Brummel to Receive Awards at Dance Tomorrow Night

By Billy Webb

Climaxing a clothes-conscious week of Esquire-engendered contesting, Frank Alspaugh, CIC award winner from Winston-Salem, yesterday earned the right to hang over $175 worth of stylish clothes in his closet by amassing a total of 327 votes in the DAILY TAR HEEL-Esquire fashion contest to lead his nearest

Revisions Made In Requirements For Air Cadets

Revision of Aviation Cadet requirements for bombardiers, navigators and pilots in the Army Air Corps through reduction of the age limit to 18 years, institution of a uniform simplified test in place of the previously required written examination or college credits, and extension of eligibility to married men, was announced today by the War department.

In the past, application for Aviation Cadet training was limited to men between 20 and 26 years of age. The new age limits provide for the acceptance of men between the ages of 18 and 26, inclusive. This applies not only to aircrew members, as bombardiers, navigators and pilots are designated, but also to Air Corps ground officers, who, as Aviation Cadets, receive instruction in armament, engineering, communications, photography and meteorology.

Revision in Effect A revision already in effect is the extension of eligibility to married men. Heretofore, only unmarried men have been given training as Aviation Cadets, but under the change authorized a married man is eligible providing he submits, along with his application for enlistment, a written statement that his dependents have adequate means of support. This revision applies equally to candidates for aircrew training and for training in the ground courses. The new "screening test" authorized will be given to all applicants for air-

Phantoms Show Deacons Preview Of Disaster

THIS ACTION SHOT, from Tuesday night's White Phantom-Deacon basketball tilt, shows the demoniac Wake Forest quint watching another Carolina tally as the Baptists went down, 51-30.

In addition to the complete new wardrobe, donated by interested Durham merchants, Alspaugh will receive an expensive, suitably engraved pocket watch as a gift from Esquire, the nation's leading authority in men's fashions. These awards will be presented tomorrow night at the Grail dance.

Runners-up in the contest to choose Carolina's best-dressed and best-groomed undergraduate were Bill Look with 94 votes and "Chuck" Beyer with 66. These second and third place winners will receive subscriptions to Esquire as gifts from "Esqy."

In commenting on the voting, Alspaugh stated that he "appreciates the gifts from the Durham donors of the wardrobe and the watch from Esquire." "The contest seems a good idea," he continued, "because Esquire goes to the college campus to find its authoritative fashions instead of the campus going to Esquire. Previously, in many cases, Esquire-advocated styles were beyond the pocket-book of the average college student."

Polling almost half of the 794 votes cast in the competition, Alspaugh was paced by Mooney Davis and Bill Alexander in addition to the second and third place winners, Look and Beyer.

Alspaugh will appear in the college fashion section in a forth-coming issue of Esquire, probably in June, which will include stories about Carolina and a composite picture plus a complete story of the competition. Coast-to-coast in scope, the contest includes 15 universities, Carolina being the only representative from the South.

Second of a series of dances sponsored and presented by Graham Memorial, its keynote will be informality. Saddle shoes and sport clothes will be in order.

Graham Memorial Gives Informal Dance Tonight

A "Jim Jam Jap Jump" will be held tonight from 9 until 12 o'clock in the grand ballroom of Graham Memorial. This dance will be especially dedicated to those who like to engage in "Terpsichorean Activity" (dancing).
