Tar Babies Drop Tight Battle to Virginia Frosh

Frosh Gain Crushing 33-5 Triumph

By Stud Gleicher

Spotting a fighting Wolfpack wrestling team five points, Carolina's grapplers came from behind to hang up their second conference win of the season, 17-11. The varsity, seriously hindered by the loss of mainstay Hobart McKeever who fell victim to the flu, chalked up wins in all but three weights to prove conclusively that they are one of the top teams to beat in conference circles this year.

George Zink's freshmen tagged a top-heavy 33-5 score on the Wolflets and showed the same fight and aggressiveness that caused observers to dub them the "wonder team," after last week's victory over Duke. The frosh bid fair to become regular trodders of the victory trail in their remaining meets.

Sam Mordecai Paces Team

Sam Mordecai paced the varsity with a pin over A. M. Sloop in 56:05 of the second period. The Tar Heel grappler wrestled with a sprained ankle, but despite this serious handicap soon had his opponent on the mat. Mordecai thus chalked up his third straight win of the current campaign, in the 155-pound class, traditionally one of the toughest to wrestle in.

Bill Redfern, displaying his early season form, got the Tar Heels off to a flying start when he won a 3-0 decision over T. C. Changaris, in the 121-pound division. Redfern rode his man throughout the match, and never was in danger of losing the advantage over the State man.

The 128-pound match went to State via the forfeit route. Hobart McKeever, stricken last night with the flu, was unable to go on and Bob Leak appeared to claim State's points.

John Robinson, team handyman, made sure of a decision over R. T. Troxler in the early part of the match and breezed in by virtue of fine mat work. Troxler, State's widely heralded 135-pounder was decisively beaten by the Tar Heel.

In the 145-pound class, Gene DaVant turned in another sterling performance and won the nod over John Stallings. DaVant, making use of his famous leg holds, rode his man throughout the match and clearly demonstrated his superiority over his opponent.

Frank Mordecai added another three points to Carolina's victory march when he won the decision over Max Warren in the 165-pound division. Warren, former high school champion, was out-classed in every department by Mordecai.

Lem Gibbons, Carolina's hard-luck man, met Morehead Jones in the 175-pound class and dropped a close decision to the State man. Gibbons, game to the last, was on the short end of a 5-2 count.

Woodrow Jones, State's unlimited entry, won a 5-2 decision over John Sasser in the final match of the evening. The heavyweights were at it hot and hard with the lead changing several times before the State man gained the advantage.

Freak Scores Highlight Play In Past Week's Intramurals

Zetes, Kappa Sig Seem to Be Top Fraternity Teams

By Mark Garner

Following a week of freak scores ranging all the way from the season's high of 77 points to the lowest of low scores, two points, mural teams face a slate full of contests this week.

Most of the cage squads have played one or more matches to date and followers of the mural program can get a definite line on how the different quints stack up.

The cream of the fraternity league seems to be the crack Zeta Psi No. 2 team and the No. three squad of Kappa Sigs. Each team took one-sided victories last week and seem in line for the crown held by Chi Psi last season. Ike Wright of the Zetes and Doug Batchelor, Kappa Sig, were the leaders of the two quints in first-round competition.

The contest that gave Everett No. 3 its 77-18 win over Mangum No. 2 furnished two stars of the week. Don Willard, Everett forward, tied the individual scoring record of the season with 23 markers and Mac Geddis accounted for 21 tallies in the game. Each man is tall and dangerous under the basket.

Dave Rumph, SAE, deserves a place in the list of leading performers of the week by virtue of his 19 points scored against the hapless Sigma Nu No. 2 five of the two-point game.

Scanning the schedule for this week we find one top-notch battle slated—that between ZBT and Kappa Sig No. 3 on Thursday afternoon. The Phi Kappa Sig teams see action this week, one for the first time, and should turn in interesting games. Stacy's defensive outfit goes against Lewis in what should be one of the leading dorm tilts.

Blue Dolphins Submerge State by 59-16 Score; Baby Dolphins Sink State Freshmen, 52-14

Jack Eshelman Is High Scorer Of Varsity Meet

By Harry Hollingsworth

RALEIGH, Jan. 24—The University of North Carolina's greatest swimming team since the sport was introduced at the state institution demonstrated this afternoon that it deserved its title by splashing State college, one of the better teams in the conference, with a humiliating 59-16 defeat.

The victory, the third consecutive for the Blue Dolphins this season, and the 13th straight conference dual meet victory and the 10th in a row since they were defeated by Navy last year, was gained by taking nine first places, three seconds and two thirds.

Hitting their stride in the first conference meet of the season, the Dolphins dominated the meet from the time the team of Denny Hammond, Bob Ousley and George Coxhead, set a new conference record in the 300-yard medley relay until an all-senior team of Coxhead, Truman Hobbs, Whit Lees and Jim Barclay established a new conference mark in the 400-yard freestyle relay. In between those two conference records, Denny Hammond, who continues to pace backstrokers in the Southern conference, raced through the event to a new loop record.

Other top-notch performances were turned in by Andy Weiss, Jack Eshelman, Bob Ousley, Jim Barclay and the remainder of the team in getting its first hold on the conference dual meet trophy, which is awarded on a percentage basis.

The best race of the meet was the final event in which Carolina's all-senior relay team went out after a new conference record—and the quartet got it! But by the close shave of one-tenth of a second. The race started fast and Coxhead and State's Co-Captain Kattermann ended in an almost dead heat. Truman Hobbs, swimming the second leg of the event, lost about two feet, but Whit Lees picked it up on his third leg and added some more to boot to give Jim Barclay a good four-

Smith Scores Win in Coed Tournament

In an individual scoring contest between Betsy Ross Howe and Edith Bass the Smith basketweavers downed Alderman 38-28 Friday in the coed intramural tournament.

The speediest game of the tournament so far saw the lead change several times. Coming from behind a 9-7 deficit at the end of the first quarter, Smith gained a close 17-15 lead on their opponents at the half through Betsy's floor shots.

In the third quarter the Smith guards bottled up the forwards to assure their dorm victory. Betsy lead the scoring with 25 points for the winners followed closely by Alderman's Edith with 20. Edith plays a nice floor game and promises to be one of the best tourney players.

Gregory, Membrino Notch Victories In Thrilling Bouts

By Earl Tyndall

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 24.

The University of Virginia Baby Cavaliers punched a close 4½-3½ decision over the game but outclassed Tar Babies in the prelims held in the forenoon. The fastest match and by far the best was the match which pitted Bob Bott of Virginia against Ed Gregory, Carolina's knockout artist. Bott came rushing in for the kill and hit Gregory with rights and lefts and pushed Gregory in the ropes. Gregory immediately went into action and exploded all over Bott. Gregory tore in, got Bott on the ropes and powdered him with all he had. Bott sank to his knees, got up once and went back down for the last time when Gregory threw a tremendous right, flush to the jaw. The fight ended in .26 of the first round.

John Davis of Carolina was held to a draw by Bryan Donaldson, when Donaldson hung on every time Davis threw a punch. Davis was aggressive all the way but was tied up at every turn. In the last round Donaldson came back strong and piled up enough points to gain a draw. Davis appeared to have an advantage but the referee decided that Donaldson had enough points for a draw.

Membrino Wins

Another thriller was the Littleton-Membrino go. Membrino countered very effectively and pushed across several nice right crosses. Membrino carried the fight to Littleton, hitting him at every turn and covering up very good when in close quarters. He

Captain Johnston, Walt Williams Score Victories

By Earl Tyndall

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 24.

Coach Mike Ronman's varsity boxing squad, hampered by a last minute ineligibility, lost a match to the University of Virginia tonight 5-3 here in Memorial hall before a capacity crowd of some 5500 fans.

At the last minute Coach Ronman received a wire stating that Leon McCaskill, conceded a good chance to come through, was ineligible because of an incomplete obtained last quarter while he was sick in the infirmary. McCaskill, however, will be available for the Citadel match next Saturday, if he gets off the incomplete.

The first fight, between Dick Roundy of Carolina and Tommy Thompson of Virginia, went three rounds before Roundy put the lights out with a hard right to the jaw. Roundy waited cautiously for an opening and when he found it he poured his all, flush to the jaw. This was the punch that put Thompson out for the night.

Captain Johnston Wins

Captain Johnny Johnston came through in his usual style by winning over Jim McIver. The first round was even but in the second, Johnston began piling up points and had the match cinched when the third round opened. Johnston was just as strong as when the match started and tagged McIver with rights and lefts all during the progress of the match.

Williams Scores TKO

Walter Williams lived up to pre-season expectations when he disposed of Dan Oehmig in the third round with a hard right which sent Oehmig to the canvas for good. Carolina Mermen Set Backstroke, Relay Records

RALEIGH, Jan. 24—Carolina's freshman swimming team captured first places in every event this afternoon in running up a 52-14 victory over the State frosh here today. It was the first meet of the season for the Tar Babies.

The freshmen, who took their 17th win out of the last 19 starts by a freshman team, set four new University freshman records.

George Whitner, who may become the school's top breaststroker, slipped through the water in 1:04.5 in the 100-yard breaststroke to set a new record, breaking Bob Ousley's former mark of 1:08.1. Although the freshmen secured three other records, the top performance of the frosh meet was turned in by Percy Mallison in his leg of the 200-yard freestyle relay. He covered his 50-yard leg in 23.7 to lead the frosh team of Montague, Erle, and Herr to a new record of 1:43. The old mark was 1:47.6. Whitner had part in another record
