

High School Exam Winners Selected

Results were announced yesterday of the annual high school physics contest given by the University.

The test was prepared by Dr. P. E. Shearin of the physics department and given in thirteen North Carolina high schools on February 6.

Cannon Perfect

First place with a perfect score went to Walter Cannon of Durham high school. Tied for second place with one error each were Joseph Algranti and Coolidge Elkins of Durham high school, Melun Grablowsky, Warren Milloway, and Morris Prince of Greensboro high school.

Tied for honorable mention with two errors each were Russell Adams and Gloria Lee Grimes of Charlotte high school, and James Dobbins of Greensboro high school.

POLL

est in physical education programs has petered out rapidly.

Courses in war languages, war geography and cartography, war psychology, photography, etc., have been offered by most institutions.

The report charges: "In answer to the student and public demands for pre-induction military training, the educational institutions have offered these courses, but what they have not offered is any assurance that the men taking these courses will ever have the chance to use what they learn in the army. These courses are given entirely without army supervision and for the most part without army consultation. They have been instituted by the colleges and universities themselves in their hasty effort to provide some kind of war training."

"Insufficient attention has been paid to the fact that none of the new courses actually guarantee an army or navy position," declares the Harvard Crimson.

"Clearly then," the report continues, "certain vital factors have been overlooked by American educational institutions by going all out for defense which are not only mis-training and inadequately training students, but are endangering the life of the institutions themselves."

Chapel Hill, was described as "charming . . . young . . . constantly praising her husband's work . . . diplomatically in-the-know."

The Minister's speech, originally slated for tomorrow night, has been moved up to 4:15 so that students won't be faced with a conflict with tomorrow night's basketball game.

Arrives Tomorrow

Dr. and Mrs. Loudon will arrive here early tomorrow morning. IRC members will entertain the guests throughout the day, guiding them through the campus on their first visit. IRC will present an honorary banquet at 6 o'clock at the Carolina Inn, and plans include a public reception in Graham Memorial following the banquet.

The Minister's address will be his first since America's declaration of war. An open forum, affording the Memorial hall audience opportunity to question the Minister on war policies and events, will be held after Dr. Loudon's speech.

countries as puppets by not realizing that soon we shall reach the two billion mark in industrial production, which will enable your country to use all home production for your own use."

Consensus of the South American visitors was that the United States does not understand the individual problems of her southern neighbors and would benefit immensely if only time were taken to deal with them separately.

entire Singapore garrison of about 60,000 Empire troops has fallen into Japanese hands, raising the possibility that Britain has suffered the biggest single loss of man power of the whole war.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Regulation of war profits is a responsibility of the President and Congress, not of the courts, the Supreme Court ruled yesterday, rejecting the government's suit to capture $8,000,000 from Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation.

NORFOLK, Feb. 17.—(UP)—The 35,000-ton battleship Alabama, completed nine months ahead of schedule at an estimated cost of $80,000,000, was launched yesterday with the admonition from Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox that the American fleet faces the greatest burden of its history.

SYDNEY, Feb. 17.—(UP)—The "down under" continent girded to fight for its life yesterday following the fall of Singapore, which Premier John Curtin said has opened the battle for Australia just as Dunkirk had initiated the battle for Britain.

TOKYO, Feb. 17.—(Received by New York Radio)—Premier General Hideki Tojo told the Diet yesterday that Singapore's fall enables the Japanese to dispose of Burma, China, India, Netherlands East Indies, Australia and New Zealand, in that order. United States was not mentioned.

BATAVIA, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Thousands of Japanese swarmed southward last night from Sumatra's burned-out oil center of Palembang, only a bomber's flight from here, bent on the full-scale invasion of Java.

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Burma's defenders have fallen back to a new battle line only 50 miles east of Burma's railway extension, before onrushing Japanese forces, which have apparently taken the important town of Thaton, it was revealed yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Selective Service headquarters disclosed last night that all local draft boards have been instructed to defer labor leaders and government labor liaison men.

FROSH CAGERS

Among the teams that have fallen before the Tar Babies are the Wake Forest frosh twice, Duke frosh, 36th Field Artillery from Fort Bragg, Lynn's White Flash of Raleigh, Durham high, Greensboro high, Hanes high, and High Point high.

Coach Siewert was very much displeased with the play of the Tar Babies against the 36th F. A. team from Fort Bragg last Friday. The Tar Babies played ragged ball throughout the contest and only occasionally showed any flashes of previous form. They managed to pull the game out of the fire in the last few minutes and then hung doggedly to their slim lead.

Little is known of the strength of the Kannapolis team. The Little Wonder attack is built around a big center named Dayvault who was all-conference last year and has been playing great ball for his team this year. Coach of the Kannapolis team is Buck McCarn, former Carolina football and baseball star.

ing last year, and Ken Griffith racked up 1941 points in four years to break Hank Luisetti's former national collegiate scoring record.

The headliner will match two opposite types of material and styles of play. The towering Wingfoots use a fast break with a set style of intricate plays and brilliant sharpshooting. The Tar Heels, who average 5 feet 11, rely on their blazing speed, passing, fight, and teamwork.

end of February as Grace Line officials can not guarantee sailing dates of any liner after the end of this month.

Inter-American Institute leaders here are busily conferring with New York and promise more information in a few days. This sudden change in summer school arrangements will not affect the Chileans or Brazilians as boats for these countries are leaving at a later date.

against Duke on the 27th in a game to be played at Durham. Barring a last minute relapse Bill Lange's club should make the tournament.

But if the Tar Heels falter, Washington and Lee and VMI will be quick to step into the eighth position. The Generals should have smooth sledding from here in while the Keydets play five games before the close of the regular season, giving them a mathematical chance.

Eddie Cameron's Blue Devils face their stiffest competition of the year this week. NC State, Wake Forest and George Washington all within the space of six days would be a fearful order on home territory, but when played away they constitute a real menace. The Duke schedule makers must have slipped up on this one and if the Devils are to crack at all it will probably be in the course of the next few days.

MINCE MATTERS

his campaign manager. One of their campaign promises was that if the votes went for them, definite steps would be taken to provide dorm social rooms.

Now Glamack is coming back to Chapel Hill to bring that campaign promise true. Orville Campbell, Tar Heel ed, is sponsoring the game under the auspices of the Daily Tar Heel.

Seeing Glamack play once again on Woollen gym's court is well worth the 35 cents which is being charged for the contest, but when one thinks of the purpose of the game—better and more dormitory social rooms for the men students—it is difficult to believe that many students will stay away tomorrow night. We'll be looking for every one of you there. You'll get your money's worth and then some.

age, having made the honor roll several times.

The rugged Tar Heel star is decidedly an outdoor man. "I'd go without a meal anytime for a good chance to wet a hook," says Dunkle, who has been to Canada on several occasions for just that purpose. Next to fishing Harry loves to eat; he swears he can consume his weight in chop suey at one sitting.

Now 24, he has played 10 years of organized football. "I'm not very enthusiastic about playing professional ball even if I had the chance," he commented. After playing four years at Lock Haven High School, Harry went to famous Kiski prep in Pennsylvania where he played for two years with some of the country's best talent.

Harry has an uncle who was quite an athlete in his day. He was Davy Dunkle, the first man to pull the old "potato trick" in baseball. While pitching for the Washington Senators some years ago, Uncle Davy was on the mound with an Irish potato concealed in his glove. With a runner on first, he wound up and threw what was believed to be the ball over the catcher's head, and the runner took off for second base. Whereupon Uncle Davy spun around and threw him out with the ball. Imagine the runner's amazement when he discovered that the wild throw was made with an ordinary potato.

er in the Chi Psi attack. Jake Breakstone with 14 points topped the losers.

Jim White led Aycock No. 1 to a surprise 34-24 win over Ruffin. White tallied 14 points for Aycock to take scoring honors. Fields with 10 was next. Joe Pickard with 11 points was the Ruffin leader.

Paced by the scoring of Murray Sims and Sylvan Stein, ZBT ran roughshod over Phi Gamma Delta No. 2, winning 47-19. Sims dropped in six field goals and five foul shots for 17 points to top his teammate Stein, who made six field goals and one free throw for 13. Schmidt and Nicholson were best for the losers.

Pi Kappa Alpha No. 1 beaten badly by everybody it had played previously finally came across someone whom it could beat. Yesterday the Pikas overwhelmed Phi Alpha No. 2, 35-13. Temple, Aird, Sloan, and Touloupas were the leaders in the Pika win. Estroff tallied 10 of the loser's points.
