WSS-RC Drive Reaches $500 On Campus

Grimes Tops Dorms, SAE Leads Frats In Contributions

Final cash results of Carolina's campus-wide Red Cross-World Student Service drive hit a peak of $530.52 yesterday as cash contributions continued arriving at the desk of Harry Comer, YMCA director.

Grimes led men's dormitories in cash allotments yesterday with $11.74, Old West was second with $9.05 and K dorm was third with $7.35.

Among fraternities the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house topped all with a $27.00 contribution. Pi Lambda Phi made a second with $25.00 and Tau Epsilon Phi drew third place with $20.00.

Woman's dormitory No. 1 set the coed pace with a $33.95 appropriation. Woman's dorm No. 2 yesterday was close behind with $33.08.

Chi Omega was first among sororities with $8.00 contributed. Town Girls have given a total of $35.50 in cash to date, and YMCA set aside $25.00.

Largest cash contribution to Red Cross—WSS yet made came from the Woman's association—$126.00. Individual gifts yesterday totalled $24.50.

Student campaign leaders pointed out that these returns are not yet complete for all drives, and pledged money was not included in these released tabulations. Six men's dormitories, one sorority, town houses, 14 fraternities and many campus organizations have not yet turned in their collections.

Men's dorm total contributions yesterday were: Grimes, $11.74; Old West, $9.05; K, $7.35; Steele, $5.15; Lewis, $4.96; Everett, $2.50; Aycock, $2.18; and Manly, $1.00.

Fraternity contributions were: SAE, $27.00; Pi Lambda Phi, $25.00; TEP, $20.00; Phi Gamma Delta, $10.85; Kappa Alpha, $10.00; Chi Phi, $10.00; Sigma Nu, $5.50, and Chi Psi, $5.00.

Sororities: Chi Omega, $8.00, and Pi Beta Phi, $4.75. Woman's dormitories: No. 1, $33.95; No. 2, $33.08; Kenan, $13.06; Smith, $9.80; Archer house, $6.00; and Spencer, $3.30.

Lieut. Don Baker

Marine Officer To Sign Frosh

Lt. Don Baker, former star football player and trackman at the University who is now connected with the Marine Corps, will be in Chapel Hill Sunday, to enlist freshmen in the Marine Corps Candidate's Class. Only recently have freshmen been allowed to enter this phase of service.

To avoid confusion and delay all freshmen interested were asked to report to S. W. J. Welch's office in the South building immediately and seek additional information and receive necessary papers to be filled out previous to an interview with Lt. Baker.

While here, Lt. Baker will be stationed all day in 101 South building.

Entire S&F Cast To Meet Tonight

The entire cast of "Bagdad Daddy" will meet tonight at 7:30 in the banquet hall of Graham Memorial to make preparations for taking the show on tour.

Judge John J. Parker

Judge Parker Establishes Annual Award Student Government Leader to Receive Gold Medal Prize

Dean R. B. House announced yesterday that a gold medal award has been established by Judge and Mrs. John J. Parker of Charlotte to be awarded annually to the student who has demonstrated most clearly "unique leadership in student government."

This award was set up by Judge Parker, former graduate of the University and now Judge of the US Circuit Court of Appeals, to perpetuate the honor system and student government in memory of his son, John J. Parker, Jr., who led these organizations through the most troublesome period of their existence.

During his presidency the University was faced with the gigantic problem of restoring the Honor System to some semblance of its former prestige and Parker is remembered for his untiring effort along these lines. Inspired by his son's work, Judge Parker established this medal in the hope that student leaders would keep both organizations from falling into a state of chaos as in 1937.

The medal will be awarded by a special committee appointed by Dr. Frank Graham.

Final SP Convention To Be Held Tonight

Student Party leaders announced yesterday that the last large-scale convention of the quarter would be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Gerrard hall. No announcement was made regarding what nominations would be made, but party chairman Footsy McCombs declared that three and possibly four important nominations would be made.

He urged that all delegates attend the session, and stated that any interested students were invited to attend the meeting.

Frat Council Meets

The Interfraternity Council will meet tonight at 7:15 in the Grail room of Graham Memorial.

Good Jobs Open

War Causes Acute Shortage Of Trained Welfare Workers

By Bob Levin

WANTED: Any number of young men and women who desire a good paying job in the Field of Public Welfare. If interested, apply to Roy M. Brown, 113 Alumni building, Graduate School of Public Welfare on weekdays from 9 until 5 o'clock.

Once again the force of the present war has made itself felt on Carolina's campus as Roy M. Brown, director and professor of Public Welfare Administration, reports an acute shortage of welfare workers.

Begun in 1920 in accordance with the University's policy of meeting the varying needs of the state, the school grew rapidly. Realizing that there was not only a need for training such as the School of Public Welfare of-

Dance Legislation Faces Referendum

Opposition Forces Collect Petitions For Amendment

By Hayden Carruth

By no means a dead measure, the dance legislation question will again be before the campus in a few days, as leaders of the opposition push forward constitutional machinery for campus-wide referendum.

Requiring a petition endorsed by ten per cent of the student body to start the wheels of action turning, opposition forces have circulated petitions for several days. "Already from 300 to 400 signatures have been obtained, and all the petitions have not been turned in," Jick Garland declared last night.

The petition carries two sections: (1) that the emergency act of the Student legislature curtailing dance expenditures is not representative of student opinion in either content or method; and (2) that full control over dances given by students or student organizations should be exercised by the students or organizations paying for the dance in concordance with University dance regulations.

Campus to Vote

Constitutional methods set up by the legislature requires that the petition, when it has been signed by ten per cent of the student body, be presented to the student body president. The president in turn must set up the machinery for referendum within 15 days after receiving the referendum. Fifty per cent of the student body or more must vote to make the referendum effective, and a majority vote rules.

Backers of the petition include Jick Garland, John Diffendal, Haskell Pocher, Sam Means, and Dudley Cockey. See REFERENDUM, page 4

Playmaker Production Has World Premiere Here Tomorrow Night

"Behold, The Brethren!", a new play of America, will be given its world premiere tomorrow night in the Playmaker Theater at 8:30. The cast includes Lillian Farnol as a Jewish immigrant mother, Mrs. Rabinov; and Arthur Golby, Frank Groseclose, Bob Gutknecht, and Bob Carroll as her four sons.

There is still hope that Joe Feldman, a private in the United States Air Force, a former student here, and author of the play, will be able to get here in time to see his play produced, it was stated. He is now negotiating with authorities at Scott Field, Illinois, where he is stationed.

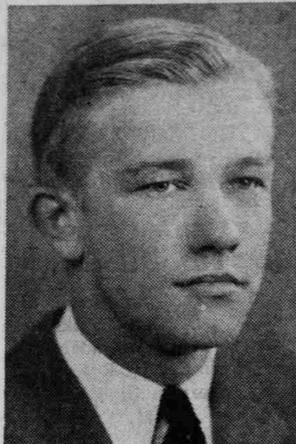

The play will be presented by the Playmakers tomorrow, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights. All seats are reserved and tickets are available at the Playmakers' business office in Swain hall and at Ledbetter-Pickard's in town. They may be obtained by presentation of the Playmakers' season ticket or at the general admission price of 85c.

War Causes Acute Shortage Of Trained Welfare Workers

ferred, but an insistent and growing demand for workers in the larger fields of government and public administration, President Graham urged the establishment of a new School of Public Administration in 1931.

A four-fold program emphasizing instruction in social problems, training for social work and leadership, community service and social research is followed.

The most important phase of the entire Public Welfare set-up is the work done in case and field practice. Realistic experience is necessary to prepare students for effective and constructive case work. For many years, through the cooperation of the county, field work has been available under See WELFARE, page 4

Steve Karres

University Party Names Senior Class Leaders

Jack Markham, Steve Karres Enter Race for President, Student Council

By Billy Webb

Resuming nominations after more than a week's silence, the University party last night named Jack Markham, junior treasurer, for senior class president and Steve Karres, junior honor councilman, for senior student council representative.

A three-year resident of Mangum, Markham, who is from Durham, is a member of the Interdormitory council as athletic manager of his dorm. In addition he is Mangum's representative to the University Club.

Active in athletics, Markham was a member of the freshman tennis team and basketball squad, last year being a member of the undefeated varsity tennis team. As a sophomore he was a member of the honor council and dance committee, and last fall he served on the freshman orientation committee.

Steve Karres, a senior from Charlotte, is treasurer of the University club and representative from Grimes to the Interdormitory council. A member of the University dance committee during both his freshman and junior years, he also is a two-year member of the freshman orientation committee. Karres, as a sophomore, was appointed to the executive committee of the class.

The five members elected to the Ways and Means Committee are Joe Lehman, Robert Haideman, Bell Jackson, E. O. Brogden, and Nick Long. They succeed as members of this committee representatives Carlisle, Railey, Brogden, Barnes, and Pritchard. Representative D. H. Carlisle made See PHI, page 4

Students, Faculty Hold IRC Forum

India deserves dominion status as soon as a competent leader of the Indian people can be found.

Although the Japanese are approaching the Ganges valley, the smooth road to invasion, India has 1,000,000 fighting men, the seventh greatest industrial dynamo in the world, and apparent swiftness moving Allied aid to stave off the expected Jap thrust.

These opinions and facts last night came as an answer to the India question when IRC members and faculty advisers met for their bi-weekly bull-session forum.

Dr. George Mowry emphasized a profound Russian influence in India's government, remarking that the Indian congress has often been accused of harboring Red influences.

"I don't believe German propaganda has been at all effective in India," Mowry stated. "The Indian people aren't unified, but then they don't need to be."

A general optimistic feeling manifested last night continued with the prediction by Dr. E. J. Woodhouse that Java will hold out and India's and Australia's positions thus will be strengthened.

Six students were inducted as associate members of International Relations club: David Bailey, Roland Fields, Ethel Lawner, Dorothy Stephany, Edith Bass and Ann Schaut.

Open Forum To Follow Speech

Graham Encourages Carolina Students To Attend Meeting

Dr. Frank P. Graham yesterday urged all University students to attend Roger Baldwin's CPU address tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30 declaring that "Roger Baldwin is an able and courageous champion of our civil liberties in the best American tradition."

Baldwin, the 58-year-old head of the American Civil Liberties union, will speak on America's Bill of Rights in the war, and recently informed Union Charman Ridley Whitaker he would welcome the Union's open forum following his address.

"The American Civil Liberties union is based on the Bill of Rights," Dr. Graham said, "and represents the things for which America stands and for which we enlisted in the war involving the future of America and the future of freedom."

"It is for those things," the University president continued, "that we have taken our stand against the Axis powers."

Dr. Graham concluded: "In the midst of war, we must preserve the civil liberties and the basic freedoms for which the war must be won and the peace must be organized for men everywhere."

Union Policy

Head of the union for over two decades, Baldwin has withstood charges of Communism and un-American activities with a simple statement of policy: The Union, he has remarked, "stands on the general principle that all matters of public concern should be freely discussed without interference."

Law School Adds Noted Professors For Summer Term

The faculty for the summer term of the University Law school will be supplemented by several distinguished visiting professors and jurists, headed by Judge J. Warren Madden of the United States Court of Claims, former chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

The list of visiting experts, which has just been announced by Dean Robert H. Wettach, also includes Professor Lon L. Fuller of Harvard, Professor Elvin R. Latty of Duke, and Professor Willard J. Graham of the University of Chicago.

Two sessions will be held, Dean Wettach announced. The first will come from June 11 to July 21, and the second from July 22 to August 28. And for the first time in a number of years, students beginning the study of law will be admitted at the summer term.

The present requirements for admission See LAW SCHOOL, page 4

Duplicate Bridge Tilt Hits Card Sharks Today

Another of the popular duplicate bridge tournaments will be held tonight in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, Bill Cochrane, director, announced yesterday.

All students who wish to participate and shoot toward the array of prizes that will be offered "will be heartily welcomed," Cochrane said. The tourney will start "pronto at 7 o'clock," he emphasized. "Mistakes in publications concerning the time previous to today are hereby corrected," he said.

University Teaching Staff Signs up With Uncle Sam

By Grady Dover

Led by President Graham, who is a member of the vital War Labor Board, and extending down through practically every division of the University, a recent survey revealed that 50 members of the University teaching staff—professors, instructors and assistants—joined the nation's armed forces, with a still larger number doing important research and defense work here, in Washington, and elsewhere on the home front.

Those in active service represent practically every school and department of the University. These include: Art one, Botany five, Chemistry three, Classics one, Commerce one, Dramatic Art one, English one, Geology five, German three, Journalism one, Mathematics two, Medicine four, Music two, Philosophy one, Physical Education five, Political Sciences two, University Press three, Psychology four, Public Health one, and Romance Languages four.

High ranking officers on active duty are: Lt. Col. J. B. Linker at Fort Jackson, Major Roy Norton, M. D. at Fort Bragg, Major T. E. Hinson in Mississippi, and several captains and lieutenants. A number of other faculty and staff members hold commissions in the Reserve Corps and expect to be called any day.

Dr. Linker, who is on leave from his duties as professor of mathematics, was called to service with the 30th Division in September, 1940, and is now Regimental Executive of the 113th Field See PROFESSORS, page 4
