portioned in a like manner, by division of the average coed residents in dorms into the total sorority residents. The nearest whole number will be considered practicable.

6. Town representation will be reached in a like manner.

7. A representative will not be allowed to retain his seat if he removes his residence from his building or constituency. However, an increased residence in any district will be the signal for readjusted representation immediately.

8. Representatives from the Publications Union board, Debate council, and Woman's council have been eliminated. The six members at large will be retained.

The amendment will, in effect, institute a more elastic and more easily adjustable system of representation to successfully cope with the problems caused by the great shifts in student population expected next year.

Second Amendment
The second amendment, which will cancel the ancient question of the seat of interpretative authority, includes two proposals: (1) the president of the student body has the right to political veto over any bill of the legislature which may be overridden by a two-thirds vote; and (2) the Student council has the power to interpret the constitution of the legislature.

Two bills will also be presented at the legislature session called tonight. First, a bill to grant the Student council the power to fill any vacancies in the council by its own action, the power thus granted to last only for the duration of the war. The bill also grants the council the authority to elect three additional members which may or may not have served on the council previously. These three members will replace the former two holdover members who were required to have served on the council before election.

MINCE MATTERS

lot of the success of this season's team depends on the ability of Charlie Moore to come through. But, don't think for one minute that he holds the entire answer to the question. He'll need the support, both offensively and defensively, to hurl a successful game.

Herman Schnell's intramural program is beginning to take the aspects of a last ditch fight between the Zeta Psi's and Kappa Sig's for the fraternity crown. Last year the Kappa Sig's had to come from behind in the spring to win the crown. This year, however, they were sitting well on top at the end of the winter quarter and apparently thought themselves secure. But the swimming meet, in which they failed to qualify even four men, upset their plans for the spring. Now they have a real fight to get back on top.

Everett has jumped over Graham in the dorm fight and a one-two battle looms between them for dormitory honors. Everett gained its first place standing by its work in the swimming meet.

At his regular week-end conference, President Frank Graham with Administrative Dean R. B. House decided today that Spencer Hall, the main headquarters of women students, and McIver, Alderman and Kenan dormitories will be saved for coeds due to the large number of applications already filed. Survey reports also showed that there will be ample rooming space in the dormitories and in town for all men and women students planning to attend Carolina next year. Rumors that rooms will be at a premium next year, after the Naval Cadets took over ten dormitories, are entirely unfounded.
