Coeds Allowed In Town Houses For First Time Under Ruling

First action by the newly organized Inter-Town Council, headed by Johnny Snell, was taken yesterday in allowing University coeds to enter the Carolina and Tar Heel Coed Houses, the Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Chi, pharmacy fraternities, and Delta Sigma Pi, commerce fraternities.

In collaboration with the Woman's Honor Council, headed by Mary Lib Nash, and Mrs. M. H. Stacy, rules have been made similar to those in the Inter-fraternity agreement announced several weeks ago. There is a possibility that individual house rules be made later concerning the hours for coed visitors.

The new agreement is merely a trial. The houses mentioned have been inspected and approved by the Woman's Honor Council. Last night each boy residing in the house signed an individual pledge, and will be on his honor to uphold it.

It was also emphasized that only University coeds may take advantage of this new privilege. High school girls taking the music and dramatic courses may enter only the Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Gamma Delta fraternities.

The new list of fraternity houses brings to a total of 17 the Greek houses that can entertain women students. For the first time in the history of the school these rulings are available during the summer session.

New rulings for the town professional fraternity houses and coed houses have been listed as follows:

1. Each house must be passed on by the Woman's honor council before being permitted to entertain coeds.
2. Town-houses may entertain women students only in the social rooms, halls, porches and dining halls on the first floor of their houses. The conduct of both men and women shall at all times be in accordance with the Campus code and that of ladies and gentlemen.
3. No alcoholic beverages may be

Raborg Announces CVTC Training For Fall Quarter

Training for fall quarter CVTC will consist of four hours a week of physical training or two hours of physical training and two hours of military drill, Colonel Raborg said Wednesday.

The Physical and Military Training Committee of the CVTC with Dean C. P. Spruill as acting chairman met and decided on the program.

Drill during the fall will come at the hours of 11-12 o'clock and 12-1 o'clock. These hours will be cleared so that any student desiring to take CVTC will not have any conflict.

The uniform for the CVTC this fall will be the same except for a new waterproof windbreaker of the standard khaki color. The committee is working on a plan to secure wooden guns and equipment for the unit.

Famed Bacon-Horgan Opera To Be Staged Here July 18

Second world performance of "A Tree on the Plains," nationally acclaimed opera by Ernst Bacon and Paul Horgan, will be staged in Memorial hall Saturday night, July 18.

Members of the Festival Opera Group of Greensboro will perform the folk-opera, commissioned by the American League of Composers and first presented in its world premiere at the Spartanburg, S. C., music festival May 2. New York Times reviewer Henry Cowell quickly praised "A Tree on the Plains" as "musically superb," and as "musical history." Time magazine hailed the new opera as "a signpost that opera is turning from the exotic plant into a wayside flower, part of the American scene."

The summer school Student Activities office will sponsor ticket sales. Tickets selling at $1.00 and $.50 will go on sale tomorrow at the activities office and sales will continue throughout next week.

Ernst Bacon, who wrote the opera's musical score, was born in Chicago and has been the leader of the famous Spartanburg festival. He won a Pulitzer music award and two Guggenheim fellowships. He is the composer of many songs, orchestral works and light musical pieces. Paul Horgan, commissioned to write the libretto for "A Tree," is known as a poet, novelist, artist and author of the Harper prize novel, "The Fault of the Angels."

Music in "A Tree on the Plains" includes cowboy ballads, gospel hymns and modern jazz, blended into a "music-play" predicted to be a successor to "Porgy and Bess" on the American musical scene. The hero is a mid-western cowhand. The heroine is a girl who dreams of beauty parlors and city lights.

After their performance here, the Festival Opera Group will present shows at Greensboro, High Point, and Winston-Salem.

CPU, IRC Abandon Summer Activity Plans

International Relations club and the Carolina Political union, leading campus discussion groups, have abandoned plans for most of their summer school activities.

Elton Edwards, summer president of the IRC, and Dick Railey, CPU president, said yesterday that their famous speakers, forums, informal discussions and polls were being put aside or dismissed because of "insufficient student support."

The IRC recently scheduled a reception in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, arranging for a student-faculty forum as a part of its entertainment. Only 50 of an expected 200 summer school students, faculty members and townspeople attended.

Edwards promptly announced that activities would be curtailed, and that IRC members would devote their energies privately toward arranging for next year's programs.

Railey said that plans for weekly meetings and bull sessions were being dropped and that semi-monthly sessions would suffice. He said that the CPU may still stage a poll and present a guest speaker, but he also said that CPU members will now be working mainly on next fall's plans.

CPU officers last month made public their plans to bring either Paul V. McNutt, head of the War Manpower board, or William H. Davis, director of the War Labor board, to Chapel Hill for guest speeches sometime this summer. Railey said those plans were indefinite, but may be cleared during a trip to Washington.

Carolina Graduate Given New Station

Lieut. Charles J. McCarthy, a graduate of Carolina in 1940, is now at Camp Polk, Louisiana, with the Seventh Armored Division, Army headquarters announced.

He entered the army in September 1941 and was assigned to Fort Knox, Kentucky. Six months later he was selected to attend the Armored Force Officers School and was commissioned a second lieutenant on June 13.

Frosh, Sophs Take Air Corps Examination

Standardization Sought for Exam

Freshmen and sophomores are required to take the Aviation Cadet Qualifying examination to be given tomorrow in Phillips and Venable halls from 9 to 12 o'clock. Students concerned will have been notified by letter which building to attend, W. D. Perry, vocational guidance director, announced yesterday.

Perry emphasized that the examination is compulsory, the purpose being to ascertain how many college students can pass Army Air Force examinations under existing requirements and to standardize the tests before they are released for official use.

"The taking of the tests will not officially qualify men as Cadets, not obligate them in any way for Army service," it was stated in the announcement. However, students planning to join the armed forces eventually will be required to take similar examinations. Practice in the objective type test will be an aid in taking a subsequent examination.

The examination, which will require almost the three full hours allotted, will be conducted in several other colleges in the United States, an effort being made to present the quizzes at representative institutions.

According to Army Headquarters, the majority of Aviation Cadets are selected from men who have had some college training. The Army Air Force is conducting the nation-wide examinations in an effort to discover the relative number of college students who can qualify for Cadet training under existing standards. Not only will the information be of value to the Air Force, but to college guidance committees as well.

Pre-Flight School Schedules Day For Newsmen

An "open house" for newsmen in which newspaper representatives from up and down the east coast will have an opportunity to see the Carolina Naval Pre-Flight school in action has been scheduled for July 23, Lieut. Kid Brewer, Public Relations officer, announced yesterday.

Free overnight accommodations on the reservation will be held for the first thirty newsmen to send in applications, it was learned.

A new group of cadets will arrive on that date and the visiting newsmen will be able to witness the whole procedure of indoctrination of the new men.

Teachers Sorority Holds Meeting

Among members attending a dinner meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma, national teachers' sorority, at the Carolina Inn Tuesday night were Beatrice Hagood, Brewton, Ala.; Grace Bailey, Baton Rouge, La.; Aileen Lawrence, Winston-Salem; Helen Macon, Chapel Hill; Annie Laurie McDonald, Hickory; Rosalie Pruette, Valdese; Mabel Lippard, Salisbury; Verta Idol Coe, High Point; Eugenia Hunter and Margaret Flintom, Greensboro; Joyce Cooper and Jean Gales Ward, Raleigh, and Donna Lee Loflin, Asheboro.

Wallenborn To Teach Here

Pianist Conducts Course for Laymen

Robert Wallenborn, well known American pianist and lecturer on music, will conduct a course in musical appreciation for the layman during the second term of the University Summer quarter, it was announced today by Director Guy B. Phillips and Dr. Glen Haydon, head of the Music department.

The course will deal especially with instrumental music of the classical period and should be especially interesting with musical illustrations played by Wallenborn, Dr. Haydon said.

He will also conduct a course in the general history of music and a graduate seminar in musicology. His piano recital will be a feature of the concert series to be given during the second term by the Music department.

A graduate of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and of the UNDERSECRETARY of War, Robert Patterson who will appear at the South's first "Win-the-War" meeting to be held in Raleigh Tuesday night.

Entire South Represented At Conference Tuesday Night

Graham, Daniels Organize Meeting

By Billy Webb
The South's first "Win-the-War" Mass Meeting, a conference encompassing the entire South from Texas to Virginia, will be conducted in the Raleigh Auditorium on Tuesday at 8 o'clock, it was announced from President Graham's office yesterday.

Rapidly organized within ten days by President Graham and Josephus Daniels, former ambassador to Mexico and present editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, the purpose of the meeting is to rally the South to closer unity, higher morale, and greater sacrifice in meeting the nation's war effort.

President Graham in a telegram to Harry F. Comer, head of the YMCA, requested that the student body attend the meeting, the first of its kind in the nation, en masse. Comer is working out transportation facilities. Students, faculty and village residents planning to attend the conference are asked to register extra room in their cars at the information desk at the Y. Students desiring to attend the meeting but have no available means of transportation should apply at the same desk.

Principal speaker on a program not yet complete is Judge Robert Patterson, under-secretary of war. In addition the University chorus directed by Clyde H. Keutzer will present a new chorus, "Song for American Union." With words for the chorus written by Vincent McHugh and music by Harold Rome, the narration contained in the song will be elocuted by Frank Brink of the University. The program will

Navy Program Postponed

Principal Speakers Called Out of Town

Due to special Navy orders which have called several of the principal speakers and entertainers out of town next week, the gala Navy get-together which was to have been presented in Memorial hall next Monday night has of necessity been postponed, it was announced last night.

Commanders O. O. Kessing and "Sleepy" Jim Crowley have both departed under special orders for a period of probably several weeks at most. In addition, Lieutenant Thomas Caruthers will be out of town, Ensign Jim Lalanne will be away on his honeymoon, and several important Naval meetings involving Lieutenant Commander Harvey Harmon, director of athletics, and other department heads have been scheduled for Monday night, it was learned.

As soon as those away on Naval business return, the affair will be rescheduled probably for the first week of the second term of the summer session, the Summer Activities office announced.

Designed to promote the good feeling between the Naval Pre-Flight school and the student body, faculty, and townspeople, the program was to have included an address by Commander Crowley, head football coach at the Pre-Flight school, shorter talks by other department heads, an open

Art Exhibition To Open Sunday

An exhibition of modern architecture will open in Person Hall Art Gallery on Sunday and continue for several weeks.

The exhibit features panels of photographs of contemporary, non-traditional styles and it is supplemented by a display of books about modern architecture. Persons interested in studying the books during the exhibition should apply to the librarian at the Gallery.

The exhibit was prepared by the Art Department in cooperation with the Association of North Carolina Architects and the North Carolina chapter of the Institute of American Architects. It will be circulated throughout the state after its showing here.

Gas Rationing Registration Ends Tomorrow

Registration for gas ration books will continue through tomorrow, it was announced yesterday.

Applications for ration books for all engines, such as wood-saws, pressing and pumps, must be made by July 22, for no gas will be able to be bought without books after that date. People who believe they will need more gas than the regular motorist must also make application to the board for supplementary rations.

Those persons unable to fill out their cards can come by the courtroom in the town hall on any days between July 15 and July 21.

Sound & Fury Star Married Recently

Katherine Charles of Sound and Fury fame, who graduated in June with an AB in Journalism, was married last weekend to Don McCoy, Lieutenant (j.g.) USNR, of the class of 1940.

Square Dance, Barefoot Bounce Lead Series Of Six Dances Slated on Campus for Weekend

Six dances, including tonight's square dance and tomorrow's Barefoot Bounce, will keep the Carolina campus busy on its feet this weekend.

Bill Alexander, mogul in charge of calling figures, will lead tonight's square dance, one of a successful series, held at 8:30 on the plaza in front of the YMCA building.

Barefoot Bounce
The hotly-heralded Barefoot Bounce will start at 8:30 tomorrow in Graham Memorial lounge. Henry Moll, student union potentate, revealed yesterday that judges of the Barefoot Bounce's jitterbug contest will be Helen Dugan, Student Activity office head; Orville Campbell, former DAILY TAR HEEL editor, and Bob Hoke, present TAR HEEL editor.

The jitterbug contest, strictly Harlemsque, will hold three prizes totaling $6 for the three best shag-conscious couples: $3 first prize, $2 second prize and $1 third prize.

Student thespians will continue to give out with their "highly-laughed-at" hit, "Cocky Doodler," in their shows tonight and tomorrow night. The Playmakers theatre will be reserved to Naval enlisted men and their dates until 8:15 tomorrow night, and then seats will be awarded to waiting civilians.

Other weekend dances include Kenan dormitory's shindig tonight, Spencer dormitory's event tomorrow night, a high school music and drama students' dance tomorrow at the Phi Kappa Sigma house, and Sunday's famous Tar Heel party, at the famous cabin of Shorty Hoenig, Orange Printshop foreman.

Alderman dormitory will forsake the formalities of dancing to embark on wagons and trucks to Hogan's lake late this afternoon on a hayride.
