

Tar Heels Leave For Battle With Green Wave

Carolina Men In Top Shape For Struggle

UNC Set to Stop Tulane on 'Bounce'

Full of spirit and set to give the Greenies a terrific battle, the undefeated but once tied Tar Heels left last night from Durham on their 1,100 mile trip to New Orleans for a date with Tulane tomorrow afternoon.

The gridders underwent light workouts yesterday afternoon and brushed up on the offensive plays they will throw against the powerful but twice-beaten Tulane eleven.

The squad was at full strength for the important intersectional contest, and John Tandy, star sophomore end who received a bad cleat wound in the Duquesne game last week was fully recovered and ready to see action. The Green Wave team was still under the weather according to reports from New Orleans and several key players have not recovered from injuries sustained in their 40-0 rout by Georgia last week. Roman Bentz, outstanding tackle for the Greenies who is a favorite for All-American honors hurt his leg last week but may get into the game for limited service.

The Tar Heels will probably enter the game as slight favorites to beat the Greenies but the home team will be anxious to get revenge after absorbing such a beating at the hands of PIVOT MAN for the Tar Heels tomorrow against the Green Wave will be Chan Highsmith, sterling sophomore center, who has missed only a total of 12 minutes in four games this season.

Four TKO's Mark Third Tourney Day

Eight Bouts Slated For Carnival

The third day of the intramural boxing tourney yesterday was featured by four technical knockouts and a number of close fights. The contestants were all hard hitters and fought gamely for the entire three rounds. Assistant coach Rathbun refereed the fights in the absence of any of the Pre-fight staff and handled them very efficiently.

The tourney will continue tonight as the main event of the sports carnival. Eight bouts will be held, one in each weight, and those chosen are the cream of the crop in their class. The bouts should be fast and furious with no quarter shown. It is not known as yet who will referee these matches. The first fight is scheduled to start at 9:20 p.m. The contestants who are asked to report to the boxing room at 8:15 are as follows:

120 pound class: Covin of Steele vs. Rogers of Old West.

127 pound class: Tilley of Steele vs. Jones of Town.

135 pound class: Sands of TEP vs. T. Urquhart of Kappa Alpha.

145 pound class: Kelley of the NROTC vs. Hartley of ATO.

155 pound class: Lindsay of Phi Delta Theta vs. Mitchell of X Dorm.

165 pound class: Campbell of X Dorm vs. Roska of Kappa Sigma.

175 pound class: Mills of ATO vs. Weinstein of TEP.

Heavyweight class: Powell of Beta Theta Pi vs. Webb of DKE.

The following are the results of yesterday's bouts.

120 pound class: J. Johnson, Beta, forfeited to E. Morley, Phi Gamma Delta.

127 pound class: Rankin, Beta, defeated J. Hallet, SAE; R. Grant, Sigma Chi, defeated W. Martin, Carr.

135 pound class: F. Cox, Sigma Nu, won over C. Nixon, Sigma Chi.

145 pound class: W. Little, Kappa Sigma, defeated D. Austen, Phi Gamma Delta; J. Kelley, NROTC, demonstrated hard punches in winning a technical knockout over C. Reavis,

Tar Babies Hold Heavy Work For State Contest Tomorrow

Cadet 'B' Grid Squad Meets Camp Davis Here

UNC-Tulane Series Has Provided Many Thrillers in Past

A renewal of one of Dixie's classic football rivalries is scheduled for New Orleans when the Tar Heels and Tulane clash for the eighth time in a colorful series dating back 20 years to 1922.

Tulane holds the edge in victories, four to two, with one contest ending in a tie, although six of the seven games have been decided by two touchdown margins or less.

Carolina will be trying for its first victory over Tulane since 1937, when the Tar Heels upset the heavily favored Greenies 13 to 0.

The Tar Heels made three gallant bids for victory in 1938, 1939, and 1940 but the best they could do in the way of a triumph was a 14-14 deadlock in 1939. However, the other two games were decided by three points or less and the Tar Heels could have won as easily as they lost.

Actually in the 1940 game they went into the final minute of play enjoying a 13 to 7 lead. But a blocked punt and a 50-yard run on the same play turned an apparently well-earned victory into a heart-breaking 14 to 13 defeat. Up to that last minute the Tar Heels had thoroughly outplayed the Greenies.

The 1938 game was another scrap that could have gone either way. A 20-yard field goal by Bobby Kellogg proved the margin of victory with the Greenies squeezing out a 17 to 14 win. It was an even-even battle all the way with first one and then the other taking the initiative.

Last season Tulane won easily 52 to 6, but Carolina appears much stronger than in 1941, and indications point to another close and thrilling scrap.

Cloudbusters Away To Face Temple

With the varsity Cloudbusters in Philadelphia to play Temple tonight and Coach Jim Tatum's Tar Heels en route to New Orleans for tomorrow's battle with Tulane, the Cloudbuster "B" team took over the football spotlight here yesterday and went through a long drill in preparation for tomorrow afternoon's game with Camp Davis in Kenan stadium.

Carolina students will be admitted free to the contest. The regiment of cadets, 1,500 strong, will parade on the field at 2 o'clock, thirty minutes before the opening kickoff, led by the band to provide entertainment.

Camp Davis, where anti-aircraft tactics are taught, will bring a big team here and goes into battle as the favorite to win. Capt. H. A. Johnson's "Fighting AA's" have defeated High Point, tied Appalachian State and lost to The Citadel and Catawba this season. The Cloudbusters opened their season last week by running over and around Guilford college, 46 to 0.

The "big" guns for Camp Davis, defensively, are John Boley, 210-pound tackle who once performed for North Carolina State, and another 210-pounder, John Mellus, who was an All-American tackle selection while playing for Villanova. Top back on the squad is Lem Fitzgerald, 155-pound ball of fire who scored the three touchdowns in the 20 to 0 triumph over High Point.

The "Busters, according to Lieut (jg) Nat Pierce, are ready for anything the soldiers have to offer and a rousing game is in the offing. Leading the Navy attack will be Sesto Santarelli, former Fordham star, who shines as a linebuster and is the best kicker on the squad. The Navy team will be outweighed, both in the line and in the backfield but won't be outfought.

Entire Squad To Make Trip To Raleigh

The Tar Babies spent their next to last practice before the game with the State college rookies in going through a light running drill. The frosh were driving and running hard throughout the practice.

All freshman football players are asked to report this afternoon at 3:30 in Kenan stadium for practice.

The way the schedule now stands about the State game all of the Tar Babies who have been coming out for practice will make the trip. After eating their heavy meal at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, the team will go over to Raleigh about 12 o'clock, traveling in two trucks and two station wagons. With only 30 miles to travel, the team should be in a better playing shape than they were when they went to Davidson last week.

The freshman coaches believe that their charges are in better shape for the State game than they were for the Davidson club, because this week the time has been spent in ironing out the faults that were found in the Tar Babies' play against the Wildcats. Punt formation, offsidings, and the aerial game have been practiced hard, and coordination on these plays has been constantly emphasized. The ground attack of the Tar Babies has been their outstanding feature, and accordingly, that has been given only a brushing up. On the ground attack Jack Fitch has been constantly improving all week and looms as a definite threat to the State eleven. Rusty Craver, who fills the blocking back post, did some fine work yesterday in slashing down the defense. Doc Blanchard has continued to blast his way off tackle. Culberson, tailback, has been sidelined most of this week with a minor injury, and his post has been filled up until yesterday by Purcell who turned in a fine game against Davidson.

Play Continues In Net Tourney

In spite of the fact that all first round matches must be played by this afternoon, only five tennis clashes were held in the fall tournament yesterday, leaving 11 contests to be played today.

In the upperclassman tourney, third-seeded Harold Cohen set back George Howard 6-1, 6-1. Adrian Slaughter trounced Manny Krulwich 6-0, 6-0. Cohen and Slaughter are the only ones to reach the quarter finals in their group.

There were three matches in the freshman tournament. Second-ranking Clark Taylor overwhelmed Sid Epstein without the loss of a game and entered the quarter final round where he will meet Bob Goldwater. Bob Tuttle also reached the quarter finals by defeating Dick Ferguson 6-1, 6-0. In the closest match thus far in the tournament, Al Raynor trimmed Arthur Stanler 6-3, 6-4.

Coed Volley Ball Play Opens Today

Coed volleyball gets started this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the reconditioned tennis courts, Isabel Robinson, manager for the Red League, announced yesterday.

Play will feature the teams comprising the dormitory group consisting of Alderman, captained by R. Kanner and Jo Moore; Spencer, led by Eleanor McNeil; McIver, under the leadership of Donnie Scott; and Kenan, coached by Betty Saligman.

Pairings for this tourney follow: In the first round, Spencer vs. Kenan and McIver vs. Alderman. The second round, features Spencer vs. McIver and Kenan vs. Alderman. The final round will pair Spencer vs. Alderman and Kenan vs. McIver. In this way two games will be going at the same time and all four teams will have a chance to compete against each other this afternoon.

Two previously postponed matches will be the features of the coed hockey program for this afternoon. The Alderman-McIver game will be played in Kenan stadium at 2 o'clock. At 2 o'clock Alderman will play Spencer.
