

Tar Heel Footballers Hold Secret Practice for State

Frosh Scrimmage Against Varsity

Coach Jim Tatum drilled the Carolina football team behind closed gates yesterday afternoon, as the day of the big game with State drew nearer.

The strong Tar Heel freshman eleven ran State plays against the varsity all afternoon in a long scrimmage session.

Some time was spent on pass defense—the phase of the game that resulted in the Tar Heel defeat Saturday at the hands of Tulane. The Wolfpack boasts a strong passing attack, and Coach Tatum doesn't intend to let history repeat itself on successive Saturdays.

State Sophomore

State's sophomore flash, Eddie Teague, and halfback Art Faircloth are the backfield aces whom Carolina fears, and they have just reason to watch the Wolfpack stars. Teague is a top-notch passer.

The State eleven has been victorious in two out of six games, but played scoreless ties with Wake Forest and Davidson. The Wolfpack boasts their strongest club in some time and are hopeful that they may upset the slightly-favored Tar Heels.

The Carolina gridders continued to show an immense amount of spirit in their workouts and are looking forward to the State clash. Last year's upset still ranks in the minds of many of them, and they want to write a different story Saturday.

Quarter Finals Almost Completed In Net Tourney

By Bob Goldwater

The first major upset in the fall tennis tournament occurred yesterday as seven matches were held, completing all but one bracket in the quarter-final rounds.

The upset came in the quarter finals of the freshman tourney when fourth-seeded Hank Foreman was defeated by unranked Charles Hackney, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5. The match was hard fought all the way and both players made some wonderful shots to keep long volleys alive.

Other Contests

Other freshman contests saw favorite Ray Morris advance to the semi-final round by beating Bob Tuttle, 6-0, 6-3. Alan Bergman won from Bob Beasley by default and was then trimmed by third-ranking Don Peck, 6-3, 6-2. Alex Parker triumphed over Al Raynor, 6-3, 6-2, to round out the eight.

Carolina Team Enjoys Big Weight Advantage Over Wolfpack Eleven

By Arty Fischer

State College is playing host to the Tar Heels this Saturday and for once Carolina will have the heavier of the two teams on the field. In all of their five games the Tar Heels have spotted the opposition several pounds and the Tulane team used this advantage in weight to the best of its ability to set the Tar Heels back for their only defeat this season.

Doc Newton has been bemoaning his fate all season despite the fact that State has a very creditable record. The good Doctor belongs to the old school of coaches that favors big bruising tackles and powerful backs that can tear a line in two. Doc only has two linemen that tip the scale at more than 200. Tackle Nick Boltrek weighs in at the 210 and Center John Culp, a sophomore who sees little action, goes way up to 250. The other linemen range from 170 to 195 with the average being at about 195.

Light Backfield

The backfield is even lighter than the one that South Carolina put on the field. Not one of the backs even come near the 200 mark. Two mainstays, Foy Clark and Buck Senter, weigh only 155. The average weight of the backs is 163.

The Tar Heels will enter Riddick stadium with a line that averages 194 and a backfield at 187. All of which should find the battle to be one of David and Goliath proportions.

Another odd change has taken place is that in the past the State team has been composed almost entirely of boys from North Carolina. This year the roster shows that almost half of Newton's men are from other states. Thirteen men are from the Northern part of the country with New York and New Jersey showing good representation. This is in line with State's pre-war policy of going out and getting a good football team and turning in some winning ball clubs.

Interest will be at a peak for the game. Before last year it was an accepted fact that Carolina would defeat its brother institution and it came as quite a shock to many people when the Wolfpack, after 14 years of being a doormat, finally won a ball game. The Tar Heels aren't forgetting that they dropped last year's game, 13-7, and the Wolfpack will be out to prove that last season's win was no fluke.

Myers vs. Teague

An interesting sidelight of the game will take place when Billy Myers and

Frosh Club Is Hindered By Absences

Four Tar Babies On Injured List

The difficulty that seems to be facing the freshman squad the most at the present is the limited number of players that are showing up for the practices. Not counting the first stringers who were running State plays against the varsity yesterday, there were only 22 players down on Fetzer field for the freshman coaches to direct.

When fall practice opened for the frosh footballers 76 students turned in their names as candidates, and at the present this number has dwindled down to about 37 or 38. Following the traditional football theme of injuries, the freshman roster has four good players on the list. Stephanic who was an ace back in the Virginia league last year has been doing light work for the last week. Galinkin, second string blocking back, is hampered with a leg injury. Homan, the player who has scored the only reserve touchdown, has been out since the Davidson game, and Jernick, a potential at tackle, was put on the injury list early in the season.

Develop Reserves

The aim of the freshman coaches now is to develop the remaining reserves into good replacements for the first string. And from the progress that the reserves have shown this week, the frosh coaches are realizing their aim. Cornog who was replaced at his first string guard post by Max Spurlin is showing up well at his new berth of tackle. Cornog has the necessary weight for a tackle job, and his speed and determination at his new assignment have won him the praise of the coaches this week. Again, Tom Lane was looking well at end yesterday.

Dean, Purcell, and Tolar are sparking the second string backfield, and their only handicap for first string roles is their lack in the weight department. Purcell is probably the best passer on any of the frosh clubs, but he only totals a 150 pound frame. Dean, a late comer to the ranks, is still shining as a fast and shifty fullback while Tolar has been doing good work at wingback.

Coed Tennis Season Opened; Complete Pairings Are Posted

Coed Tennis for the fall of 1942 has already begun its season with the first round of play scheduled to be finished by tomorrow night.

Complete pairings for every match in both leagues have been posted in every dorm and sorority house. Entries must follow the charts as given. If any girl is unable to play off her match by the deadline, she must forfeit or notify her opponent and tennis manager to secure an extension of time.

Post Results

After playing her match, an entry must post results on the scorecard in her dorm. It is the duty of the dorm captain to notify either Winnifred Rosenbaum, dorm manager on second floor Alderman, or Jane McDonough, sorority manager in the Pi Phi house, of these results so that a complete record may be kept of every match.

The second round of playing must be finished by next Tuesday, the managers announced.

Dormitory captains as chosen by Winnifred Rosenbaum are: Ann Scruggs for Kenan, Ruth Ellis for Alderman, Bebe Castleman for Melver and Kay Roper for Spencer. These girls are responsible for seeing that the players in their dorms complete their matches by the deadlines.

The Mustang is taking the place of the jalopy out where the west begins. Indian Affairs Commissioner John Collier reports that his employees are using more than 125 saddle horses on 14 reservations to save gas and rubber.

Phi Alpha, Phi Delta Chi, Chi Psi Win Mural Battles

A PROMISING sophomore back who will bear watching is Sam Arbes. The New Jersey fullback starred on the frosh eleven last year, but the 192-pound line-plunger has seen little service for the Tar Heels this fall.

Steele Barracks, Whitehead Teams Are Triumphant

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Tag Football
Phi Alpha 4, Sigma Chi 0
Phi Delta Chi 26, District 2 "A" 13
Whitehead No. 2 33, X Dorm 0
Chi Psi 16, Pi Lambda Phi 7
Chi Phi 33, TEP 6
Ruth's All Stars by default over Whitehead No. 1
Steele Barracks 26, Carr 0

Badminton

SAE "B" 2, Kappa Alpha "B" 1

By scoring two safetys over a fighting Sigma Chi team, Phi Alpha took a 4-0 victory. The game was very close and exciting. Wolf, Shaefer, and Stamer led the offense of the victors, while Parker played well for Sigma Chi.

In an exciting free scoring contest Phi Delta Chi took a thrilling 26-13 win over a hard-fighting team representing District 2 A. Peeler and Canady led the winner's attack, while Shaw and Hall played excellent for the losers, who were outscored but not outfought.

Whitehead on Top

Whitehead No. 2 decisively trounced an outclassed, but game, Dorm X team by the lopsided score of 33-0. The Whitehead team was very well organized, and no individual could be given more credit than another.

Chi Psi showed a well organized team as they beat a scrapping Pi Lambda Phi team 16-7. The game was played at a very rapid pace.

Chi Phi rolled over a disorganized TEP team 33-6. Donovan, Ralston, and Lindsay led the devastating attack of the winners.

Steele Barracks showed a great deal of improvement as they handed Carr another setback 26-0. Herman was the big noise in the winner's attack as he led the way with 4 touchdowns. The passing of Black was also very good.

The Delta Sigma Pi water polo team trounced Smith 14-3. The score gives no indication of the real closeness of the game, which was one of the most spirited of the year.

The SAE "B" team nosed out Kappa Alpha "B" team 2-1 in a very good badminton match. The two teams split in the single matches, and the SAE doubles combination of Mossenberg and Wood clinched the match by beating the Kappa Alpha duo of Mesingil and Cole.

Coed Hockey Teams Play This Afternoon

The unvanquished ADPI hockey team will clash with the twice defeated Chi O squad this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Kenan stadium.

Yesterday's hockey found the Kenan dorm eleven win its second game without so much as lifting a stick. The Alderman girls were unable to muster a team and they, like the Melver squad last week, were forced to award the game to Kenan, 1 to 0, by virtue of a default.

Fourteen Bouts Feature Mural Boxing Tourney

Four TKO's Mark Day's Fighting

The intramural boxing tourney recommenced yesterday, after a three-day rest period, with fourteen bouts being fought during the course of the afternoon.

The program started slowly, because so many of the contestants were late. Some of the latenesses were caused by laboratory periods, but others for no definite reason.

Because of the classes, the directors of the tournament decided to start the bouts half an hour later, that is, at four o'clock. They urge again that the fighters report at the varsity boxing room at that hour, since many bouts must be decided in a short time. To complete the schedule the cooperation of all contestants is necessary.

The finals of the tourney will be held on Friday night, the intramural office announced yesterday. The removable ring will be wheeled onto the floor of Woolen gymnasium, and the fights will commence immediately after the pep rally for the State game. The winners will be awarded intramural medals, but the trophies will not be presented for a few weeks, as they have not yet arrived. Eight bouts will be on the card for the evening.

The fights yesterday afternoon showed that those who last until Friday night will be of the best caliber. Every fight was exciting—either very close and hard to decide or a slaughter. The audience that gathered at the afternoon passed cheered lustily as the boxers battled it out in the ring. Again four TKO's featured the warfare, three of them occurring in the first round of the bouts. There were also three forfeits, but they were unavoidable.

Lieutenant Christopher Dale returned to the tourney as referee, and again put in a whole afternoon of strenuous work in order that the boys might get the best possible decisions. He did a very good job and deserves highest praise. He will be back again tomorrow to officiate.

Yesterday's Results

These were the results of the bouts yesterday:

127 pound class: S. Winberg, Town defeated W. Kohn, Phi Alpha; Rankin, Beta forfeited to T. East, Beta.

135 pound class: O. Green, Zeta Psi won in a technical knockout over Garity, Sigma Chi; H. Mass, DKE won the decision over Cox, Sigma Nu.

145 pound class: B. Urquhart, Kappa Alpha won over Stockton, Beta in a close, hard fight; Gilliam, Kappa Sigma defeated Long, Zeta Psi; Hutton, Phi Gam won the decision over Peacock, Kappa Alpha; Peterson, Phi Dept won over Worth, Zeta Psi.

Zwiezynski, Eshmont Star For 'Busters

The one-two scoring punch provided by Cadet Walter Zwiezynski and Leonard Eshmont continued to click last week as the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School Cloudbusters downed Temple and they hope to do the same to Syracuse next Saturday at Syracuse.

Zwiezynski, a 175-pound scat-back who formerly starred at Lafayette college, kicked three conversions, scored one touchdown and set up two more with long runs in the Temple clash to continue in his pace-setting role as the leading Cloudbuster scorer. He now has tallied thirty points as the result of four touchdowns and six extra points.

Eshmont hit pay dirt twice against the Owls and is runner-up to Zwiezynski in the scoring list with 24 points. In third place is the ace pass-catching end, John Witkowski, who has marked up 6-pointers against Catawba, North Carolina State and Boston College, for 18 points.

Newcomers

Newcomers on the scoring list as the result of the 34 to 0 victory over Temple are Art Jones and Mort Landsberg, halfbacks, both of whom racked up a touchdown.

With six of the thirteen games played, the Cloudbusters have a record of four victories, one tie and one loss. Catawba, Harvard, North Carolina State are the victims; the Georgia Pre-Flight School gained a 14-14 tie and Boston College, class of the Eastern elevens, administered the defeat, 7 to 6.

The squad showed no ill effects from the Temple game upon reporting for workouts here Monday and all hands should be in top condition for Syracuse. The Cloudbuster defense against running plays left little to be desired since the Owls picked up only two net yards on the ground. However, Temple completed eight of twenty-five passes for 82 yards, indicating the Navy's anti-aircraft batteries still aren't working to the satisfaction of Lieut. Comdr. Jim Crowley, the head coach.

tered Sullivan, Beta and forced a technical knockout in the first round; Sims, ATO also won by a technical knockout over King, Zeta Psi.

165 pound class: Thomas, Beta showed a winning brand of power to defeat Nicholson, Phi Gamma Delta. R. Little of Sigma Nu defeated J. Nalle, of Delta Psi in a technical knockout in the first round.

175 pound class: Gilliam, Zeta Psi forfeited to H. Weyer, Zeta Psi; H. Johnson, Sigma Nu forfeited to Gibbons also of Sigma Nu.
