

By United Press

VOLUME LI

Business and Circulation: 8641

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1942.

Editorial: F-3141, News: F-3146, F-3147

NUMBER 52.

INSIDE Text of Dean Wettach's statement about police investigation... Wisher slams physical education department.

On Page Two.

Yanks Lick Germans In First Encounter

ALLIED HDQ., North Africa, Nov. 20.—(UP)—American troops have scored a smashing triumph in their first battle with the Germans since 1918, routing the enemy with heavy losses 30 miles south of Tunis where the Allies have pinned the Axis in a narrow corner which may prove "a desert Dunkirk," it was announced tonight.

Jap Losses Mount In U. S. Navy Victory

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Complete returns from last week's great American naval victory in the Solomons show United States forces sank 28 Jap ships, including one and possibly two battleships, and damaged 10 others, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox revealed tonight.

Red Army Prepares New Winter Offense

MOSCOW, Nov. 21 (Saturday)—(UP)—Soviet troops, building up to a second winter offensive against the Germans, seized an inhabited point in the snow-swept mountains northeast of Tuapse and knocked the enemy from another height south of Stalingrad Friday, the high command announced today.

Allies Trap Japs On New Guinea Coast

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HDQ., Australia, Nov. 21 (Saturday)—(UP)—American and Australian troops battling through blinding rain have trapped the Japanese in a narrow 15-mile strip on the northeastern New Guinea coast and are moving in for the kill, front line dispatches said today, as Prime Minister John Curtin called for one army under one command for the Southern Pacific.

Navy Officer Says Japs Lose 10,000 Men

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 20.—(UP)—United States Marines and soldiers have killed at least 10,000 Japanese troops on Guadalcanal Island since the Solomons campaign began August 7, it was estimated today by a naval officer just back from the Solomons.

Laval Claims FDR Undermined Defenses

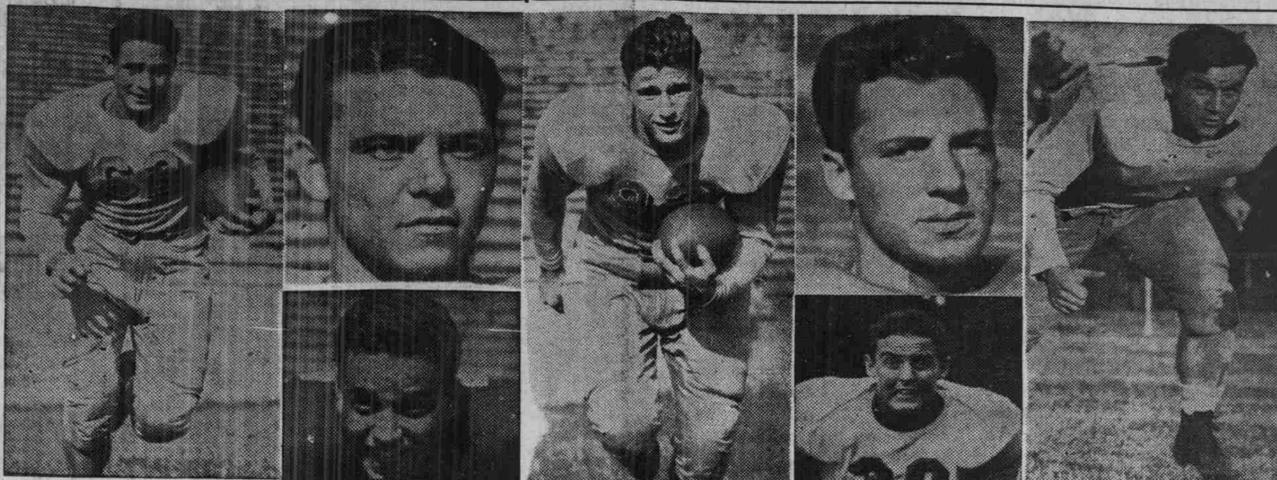

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Pierre Laval charged tonight that President Roosevelt undermined French defenses in North Africa "by systematic preparation and propaganda," but he declared France will not admit herself beaten, "and the day will come when the French flag again will fly over our empire."

Southern Senators Cancel Filibuster

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(UP)—Southern senators tonight called off their seven-day filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill when proponents agreed to shelve the measure Monday.

Coeds to Take Government Test

An examination on student government will be given today at 2 o'clock in the woman's government room in Graham Memorial for all coeds wishing to run for office and those desiring it merely as a self-checkup on their knowledge of student government machinery.

SEVEN OF the nine seniors who are playing their last game for Carolina at Charlottesville today are pictured above. Co-Captain Joe Austin (far left) will be at his wingback spot. Mike Cooke (upper left) is the star blocking back and punter on the Tar Heel club. Bob Heymann (lower left) will be at one of the tackle spots. Johnny Pecora (center) will see a lot of action at the tailback spot. Joe Wolf (upper right) will be at the other tackle position. Bill Sigler (lower right) is the starting fullback, while Co-Captain Tank Marshall (extreme right) is likely to play little because of an old knee injury. Toby Webb and Page Graham, reserve wingback and tackle, also seniors, are not pictured.

Bard Arrives Today For Navy Address

Secretary to Fly Here for Speech; Daniels to Talk

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ralph Bard will arrive at the Horace Williams airport this morning in a flying trip from Washington to give an address before the Carolina Political union tonight at 8:15 in Memorial hall on "Know Your Navy."

The speaker will be introduced by Josephus Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, former Ambassador to Mexico, and only living member of Woodrow Wilson's cabinet in which he served as Secretary of Navy.

Successful as a business man before entering politics, Bard has become "one of the best informed men in Washington on what the Navy is doing towards winning the war." Lieutenant-Commander John Graff, executive officer of the Navy Pre-flight school, will meet the assistant secretary at the airport and tour the Navy area. Bard will have lunch in the Navy mess hall.

Preceding the speech will be a CPU banquet at the Carolina Inn with Daniels, Bard, Mr. and Mrs. Graff, Captain E. P. Forrester, Bard's assistant, and Mr. and Mrs. Popham as guests of the Union. Immediately following the speech a question period will be held, and then a reception at the Inn.

In his letters to Dick Railey, CPU chairman, Bard suggested that stress be laid on the "men behind the scenes in the Navy." Since his 1941 appointment to his post by Roosevelt, he has been in a position to "know these men and what their duties are."

Woollen, Peiffer Given Navy Cross For War Heroism

Out of the American victories at Midway and in the Coral sea have come two Carolina heroes of the class of 1937.

Lieut. William Stone Woollen and Ensign Carl David Peiffer of the Naval air force were both awarded the Navy Cross for outstanding service in action against the Japanese.

Woollen, a Chapel Hill resident, received his medal for "extraordinary heroism and distinguished service while pilot of an airplane of a Fighting squadron in action against Japanese forces in the Coral sea on May 8, 1942."

Admiral Nimitz attributed the success of a Navy torpedo plane attack and safe return of the aircraft engaged to Woollen's "leadership, skill and complete disregard for his own safety."

ASSISTANT SECRETARY of the Navy, Ralph Bard, who will give a "behind-the-scenes" account of the American Navy at tonight's CPU program in Memorial hall at 8:15.

Chest Gets Novel Gift

Phi Alpha Gives House Meal Money

One of the most novel ways of contributing to the $10,000 Carolina War Chest was revealed today by Bernie Moser, Chest chairman, when he said that the Phi Alpha fraternity would give up their Sunday afternoon meal in the house and donate the money saved to the relief drive.

Lee Levene, head of the fraternity division of the Chest, also reported that Phi Alpha would contribute $1 per member from house funds, besides individual donations.

The fraternities and sororities were still leading the drive, with no returns having been received from men's and coed dormitories and town canvassers.

All fraternity members and pledges have been well above the $3-per-man minimum set for the War Chest.

Arty Fischer, Sound and Fury representative to the War Chest committee, told Moser that final plans for the benefit Sound and Fury show to be

UNC Symphony To Give Concert

Under the direction of its conductor, Dr. Benjamin Swalin of the music department, the University symphony orchestra will present its annual Fall concert in Hill hall Wednesday evening, December 2.

The orchestra, consisting of about 40 instrumentalists, mostly students, has been rehearsing since September for the concert which will include a symphony by Beethoven and a violin concert with soloist. The program, according to Dr. Swalin, is to be one of the "most ambitious" yet attempted by the group.

Intensive rehearsals are scheduled for the coming week, and orchestra members will be required to attend.

Bradshaw Hits Rumors War College Head Interprets Rulings

To halt rumors and apparent uneasiness in the student body concerning the effect of the College of War Training upon the University and the individual student, Dean F. F. Bradshaw yesterday made the following statement:

"General and intense interest in War Department plans for the teenage draftees and the unusual nature of the University planned College of war Training have led some students to fear a discontinuation of regular college work after Christmas. There is no ground whatever for such a fear. All the University's present undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs will certainly be in full swing for the rest of this school year at least."

"It appears that students in the Navy V-1 and V-7 may proceed as now without major alteration. There is great likelihood that those in the Army Reserve may continue throughout the winter quarter. Apparently Selective Service boards will still provide for regular programs in medicine, chemistry, physics, etc. There may even be provision for deferment of some freshmen and sophomores in such scarcity fields of specialization."

"Of course the 700 women students and those outside the draft on account of age or physical defect are still free to choose regular programs."

"The announced new programs in the College for War Training are not being substituted for but added to other curricula."

"It is extremely urgent that every student maintain the stability of his personal plans until requested to do otherwise by the government or advised otherwise by informed officials. The University is vital enough to adjust and assimilate the new programs without destroying the old."

Three 'Sports Greats' To Officiate Today In Chocolate Bowl

Three "sports greats," one of them a Carolina alumnus, will officiate at today's Chocolate Bowl benefit football game, starting at 2 p.m. at Fetzer field.

Lieut. Jerry Ford, former All-American Michigan center; Ensign Bob Daughters, big league baseball player; and Lieut. Bill McCachren, Carolina '39, will regulate the play of the Chapel Hill and Louisburg teams.

Tickets for the game are still on sale through the dormitories, the Janitor's association, and at the YMCA. They will also be sold at the field up until game time. All profit from the sale of tickets, which cost 30 cents, will go to maintain a full-time trained nurse in the Negro community of Chapel Hill.

Two fraternities will probably turn out in full force this afternoon at Fetzer in order to cheer house boys. SAE's Leon Peace and ZBT's Oregon Norwood are on the Chapel Hill team and are scheduled to see action. Chapel Hill concluded preparations for the contest yesterday with a heavy scrimmage and pass defense drill. The school's cheerleaders, always a colorful group at these games, spent two hours in perfecting a new yell they will introduce at the game.

Game Today Ends Season For Carolina

By Bill Woestendiek Carolina winds up its 1942 football season at Charlottesville this afternoon at 2 p. m., when the Tar Heels battle the University of Virginia Cavaliers in the fiftieth renewal of the oldest continuous rivalry in the South. Carolina will enter the game as a slight favorite.

Coach Jim Tatum's eleven took a light workout here early yesterday afternoon and left shortly thereafter for Lynchburg, where they spent the night. The visiting club will make the short hop to Charlottesville this morning.

Carolina enters the game today in poor shape, throwing a patched up grid organization against the Cavalier's T-formation and deadly passing attack. The Tar Heels were banged up last week in their grueling battle with Duke. Co-Captains Joe Austin and Tank Marshall, and Shot Cox and Clay Croom, backfield stars, have worked out only lightly all week, and are not expected to see much action today. Ed O'shea, reserve center, and Page Graham, reserve tackle, are both definitely out.

Virginia will be at top strength for the Golden Anniversary of their annual battle with the Tar Heels, for Herb Munhall and Don Niklason, their ace fullbacks, will both be back in action after a long injury siege. Munhall, a holdover from last year's strong Virginia outfit, is particularly dangerous and will give the Cavaliers a running threat to go with the great passing attack of the home eleven.

Turnbull Gillette, passer extraordinary, is expected to be the big thorn in the side of the Tar Heels this afternoon, for it is this slight 160-pounder who has played havoc with several Cavalier opponents this fall.

An air battle of great proportion is being predicted by the experts when the two air-minded clubs clash. Coach Jim Tatum stated that either senior Johnny Pecora or soph Billy Myers would start at tailback for the Tar Heels in place of Shot Cox. Both Pecora and Myers are excellent pigskin tossers, Myers throwing a touchdown pass to Hussey last week.

Andy Karres, sophomore guard, is scheduled to start for the Tar Heels in place of Marshall, who is being

S&F Starts Production For 'War Chest Follies'

The fourth annual Sound and Fury fall show, "War Chest Follies," went into production yesterday.

Ben Hall, Sound and Fury head, said that the performance, to be presented Thanksgiving day in Memorial hall, would be given as a benefit for the current Carolina War Chest drive. "War Chest Follies" will have a touch of nostalgia, according to Hall, since all the song hits of past Sound and Fury productions will be featured. "In Love Again," "Tales My Mother Told Me," "Gentlemen, the Carolina Coed," and "1940's striptease number, 'I Won't Be Needing This Anymore,' will be revived.

Fair Inquiry Promised

Wettach to Report Police Case Facts

Dean R. H. Wettach in a special statement to the DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday promised that the investigation of police mistreatment of Negroes would be conducted "as impartially and as rapidly as possible."

Wettach and P. L. Burch, who were appointed last Wednesday night by the Board of Aldermen to get the facts on the charges that the Chapel Hill police had beaten three Negroes, "will be glad to arrange meetings with any interested persons who may have statements to make concerning the charges."

Police Not On Trial The dean of the Law school emphasized that it was not the duty of the two-man committee to try the policemen against whom the charges were made, but to report all findings to the Board of Aldermen for final action.

The investigation will be made, he added, keeping in mind two objectives: (1) the determination of the facts underlying the charges made against the police, and (2) the preservation of amicable race relations in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro community, which is a very vital matter at all times, but particularly so at the present time."

For text of Wettach statement, see page 2.

No Hasty Report Some previous information had caused hope for a report by the first part of next week, but Wettach indicated last night that it might be longer before the committee could make a complete report. He pointed out that it had taken the DAILY TAR HEEL reporter three weeks on the case before the paper was "in a position to publish charges against the police."

Charges Threats Callie Norwood states that she was arrested for drinking, spent the night in jail, was struck the following morning by Officers Wright and Merritt. When she tried to press charges for assault and battery, she says that she was told it would be made "hard for her" and that she would also be charged with destruction of public property for a window and light bulb

See INQUIRY Page 4

Music Department To Offer Recital By Jean Ellis

Jean Ellis, student assistant in the music department, will present the third of the department's Sunday afternoon concerts tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Miss Ellis is from Albany, New York. She started piano at the age of five. Her mother taught her until she was twelve, when she entered the Preparatory department of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York.

She studied with Donald Liddell and received her B.M. degree from the Eastman School of Music in 1942. She appeared in recital at this school and also at the Hochstein School of Music in Rochester. Now a student assistant here, Miss Ellis is working toward her M.A. degree.