

Four Quints Top Circuits In Cage Play

Mural Basketball Enters Last Lap

A couple of undefeated quints in two circuits and a little less than two weeks to play was the intramural picture yesterday as squads rested after a week packed with cage thrillers.

SAE No. 2 and Zeta Psi remained undefeated in the fraternity league with six victories each. Previously unbeaten DKE was toppled by Phi Kappa Sigma in a hotly-contested fray Thursday. The Zetes chalked up win number six Friday against Delta Sigma Pi to draw up along side SAE No. 2 for league leadership.

Following the leaders in close order are Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delt No. 2, Kappa Alpha, DKE, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Kappa Sigma. All six outfits have suffered but one setback.

In the dorm loop, Marines No. 1 came within one game of clinching at least a tie for first honors. The Marine victory over Old West Wednesday was win number seven. Only eight contests are played by quints during the season.

Following the Marines with an equally enviable record is ROTC 4th company with six wins and no losses. Marines No. 2, Steele, and ROTC 3rd company follow with one defeat each.

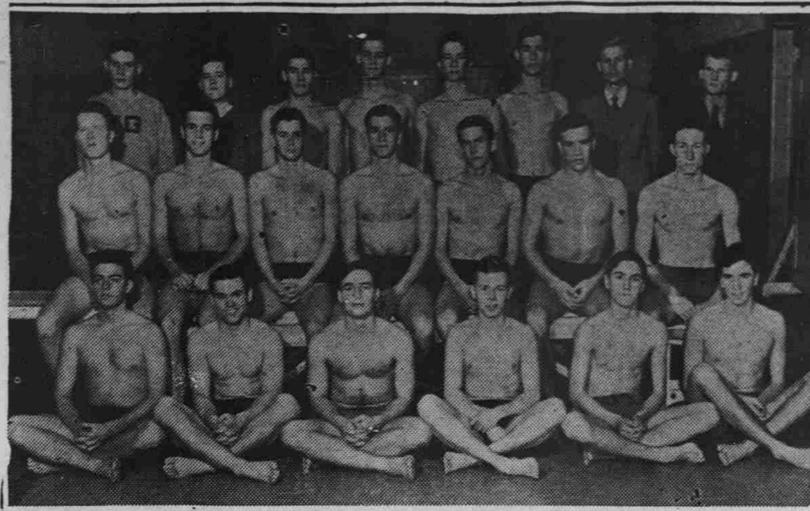

The complete standing for teams with one loss and squads with clear records is listed below:

Mural Candidates Swim Against Time On Monday, Tuesday

Qualifications for individuals in the intramural swimming meet will end Tuesday with preliminaries in diving and relays scheduled for Wednesday.

Individuals have been swimming against time the entire week in an attempt to qualify for the semi-finals Thursday. The 18 best times will be entered in the semi-finals.

One confusion has arisen towards the number of events in which each person may participate. Individuals will be restricted to three events, exclusive of diving but including the relay and medley. Also a class A medical rating is necessary for eligibility.

To date entrance in the meet has been light, and the mural department has urged dormitory and fraternity men to compete. Dorms and frats must enter four persons to receive entrance points.

Boxers Score Second Win Over Gamecock Crew, 5-3

COLUMBIA, S. C.—The University of North Carolina's boxing squad repeated an early-season victory here Friday night by scoring a 5-3 win over South Carolina's Gamecocks.

A small crowd saw the Tar Heel crew come through with one technical knockout and three decisions in the Southern Conference fray. South Carolina forfeited the 135-pound bout as was done in the earlier slugfest.

Beginning the evening's card, ex-GI Paul Gordy and Joe Piedmont of the Gamecock squad fought to a three-round draw. Gene Roth, fighting for the Tar Heels in the 127-pound class, gained a technical knockout over Henry Swicard after one minute, 20 seconds of the second round.

Dick Dusenberry of South Carolina decided Basil Sheriff in the 147-pound match. The Tar Heels' Nevin Rice decided Jim Saul in a fast 155-pound bout. Gene Morrison, 165-pound Gamecock, and Johnny Richardson drew.

In the 175-pound fray, Jim Stencil, subbing for Carolina's Bos Beckwith, dropped a decision to Don Kiser. Climaxing the card was the heavyweight brawl between Ed McGee, Tar Heel ace from Hamlet, and Frank Krayac. McGee won the decision on points when the fight was stopped due to a cut opened by Krayac on his opponent's face.

The victory left last week's loss to Army the only blemish on Carolina's season record.

Indoor Cinder Meet Has Many Stars Entered

The annual Southern Invitation indoor track and field championship here next Saturday will be the big event of North Carolina's sport program for next week.

The Tar Heel quint has two games scheduled but both will be away—at Catawba Wednesday and with the Little Creek Amphibs in Norfolk Saturday—and the boxers will scrap the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y., Friday.

The time schedule, just announced, shows 13 events for the Open Senior division and five for the Scholastic Division with trials starting at 1:30 and the grand finale show at 7:30 Saturday.

overhead shot, and Dillon's hook was good for two points and a 23-19 halftime lead.

The second half opened with a bang, as Duke took the ball down to their basket, where McKinney fouled Robinson, Duke guard. Robinson made the foul shot. Then the Phantoms took over, and down the court came Jordan who passed to McKinney. "Bones" put in a beautiful lay-up shot. Koffenberger, Duke high scorer for the evening came back for the Devils with a hook shot, and McKinney countered with an overhead to make the score 27-22 favor Carolina.

Bubber Seward, who played a rough game for the Blue Devils, made a long set shot, and Dillon, playing an excellent game for his physical condition hooked one in. Jordan then rifled a long shot, and came back with another one, to make the score 35-25.

Dillon fouled Whiting, who made his shot, and Gorden fouled McKinney who also swished the basket, to make the score 36-26.

Then followed a round of free-for-all shots by Seward, Koffenberger and punctuated by the long arms of Bones McKinney—all of which netted the Blue Devils nothing.

The scoring came in rapid spurts after this, with Carolina leading the Demon Devils a merry chase down the court and back. Expert ball handling on the parts of McKinney, Jordan and Thorne, with backboard chores done by Paxton kept the Devils from scoring too many.

The final score of the game was 54-44, and it seems sure now that Carolina will get that coveted bid to the Madison Square Garden Tournament and a crack at the better teams in the country.

As the fans started to leave the stadium, Whiting fouled Jim White, who proceeded to make two swish foul shots, with a chorus of onlookers on the court.

"Coach Bob" Closes 25th Winter Campaign At Carolina with Great Record as Track Mentor

R. A. (Coach Bob) Fetzer, Athletic Director at the University of North Carolina, who is serving his 25th winter season at the Hill, can look back on a quarter-century of growth and progress in athletics which has few counterparts over the nation.

When he and his brother Bill came to the Hill back in 1921, the University had only two coaches—the Fetzers, five varsity teams, two small fields, and a miniature gymnasium. Today it has a million-dollar plant, a staff of around 35, and one of the nation's broadest programs of physical education and athletics.

During the quarter-century Fetzer regime, Tar Heel teams have run up a winning percentage of .710 for all sports and have captured 80 out of a possible 234 Southern Conference championships—a record that probably cannot be equaled in the nation.

Yet Coach Bob, when asked the secret behind Carolina's marvelous record recently, gave the major credit to the mass participation, efficient work, hard play, and fine spirit of the Tar Heel athletes, and reaffirmed his old credo: "There's a lot more to the game than victory."

"Surely, we all like to win," scholar. "But winning is not the goal and end unto itself. Rather it is the proof of effective work, play, and spirit, and these are the things that count."

These words may sound strange coming from the head of an athletic department with a record such as Carolina, but Coach Bob means it, practices it, and lives it—as anyone can vouch who knows him well.

When the Fetzers came to Carolina, the two-man athletic staff handled football together. In the spring, Coach Bob took track and Coach Bill took baseball.

"Neither of us knew basketball," Coach Bob recalls. "We just traveled with the team." That team, by the way, won the Southern championship. The track team won the State title Coach Bob's first year, and the Fetzers' second football edition took the South Atlantic championship.

Coach Bob had to give up football, due to his increasing administrative burdens, but the "Dean of Southern Track," who has produced 11 outdoor and 12 indoor Conference championship teams, still clings to his first love.

Mr. Fetzer has probably done more than any other man in the South to promote track, intramurals, and his guiding policy of "athletics for all."
