Nation-wide Phone Strike Threatened

Walkout to Hit All but 5 States

New York, Feb. 19.—The National Federation of Telephone Workers tonight authorized the calling of the greatest telephone strike in history. But a glimmer of hope for phone users was found in the statement by President Joseph Beirne that the federation was "willing to meet the company more than half way to avert a strike."

The big question is when the walk-out will be called—if it is called at all. Responsibility for working out details of the strike was given to the executive board, which immediately went into closed session in Memphis to chart strategy and tactics. Earlier, by a majority of almost four to one, the 50 affiliated union presidents voted to call the strike to back up wage increase demands.

Between 50 and 100-thousand members of the 250-thousand-strong federation have already signed new wage contracts with telephone companies, and most union heads representing that group voted against the general strike. But in event of the national walkout, they were expected to honor picket lines and refuse to accept calls to or from strike-bound areas. That will mean almost a complete paralysis in long-distance lines.

Railroad Brotherhood Favors Total Walkout

New York, Feb. 19.—Along with the imminent telephone communication tie-up, tonight there is the more serious threat of a general railroad transportation strike. The president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen says that complete returns from 60 of a total of 300 railroad brotherhoods show strike ballots running 99 per cent in favor of a nation-wide strike. President Whitney says the final vote will be completed in a few days but that it is now a foregone conclusion that the walkout of 215,000 members will be approved.

Parleys Stalemated On GM Settlement

Detroit, Feb. 19.—There is no hope of immediate settlement in the General Motors strike. Another four-hour conference ended tonight without an agreement. Neither did the expected announcement of a new contract between the United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Company materialize as that conference ended.

Congress Committee Calls Henry Ford II

Washington, Feb. 19.—Henry Ford, II, will be called by the House Banking Committee to testify. Republicans demanded his appearance after Price Administrator Chester Bowles today charged him with demanding an outrageous car price increase of 55 per cent. The newly-announced stabilization director testified that Ford made what Bowles called irresponsible statements when he claimed he was losing $300 a car and that production was held back by high ceilings on parts.

Junior Class To Cast Vote For Officials This Friday

Nominations Group Will Meet Today

Despite a driving rain, almost a hundred juniors attended a mass meeting in Gerrard Hall yesterday afternoon and voted to reorganize the junior class. Fred Flagler, who presided over the meeting, urged the juniors to elect their officers in time to have pictures in the 1946 Yackety Yack.

Acting upon a motion made by Bob Morrison, the juniors decided to hold their election Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Gerrard Hall. A special nominating committee was elected, consisting of Whit Osgood, chairman, Dot Swain, J. B. Hayworth, Kit Coleman, Betty Washburn, Nancy Laird, Jean Huske, Bob Swain and Jean Johnstone. Osgood announced that the nominating committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Grail Room in Graham Memorial. At this time the committee will select nominees for president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. It is understood that nominations may be made from the floor before the election Friday.

It was suggested that the juniors appeal to the elections committee of the student legislature to conduct a campus election by secret ballot, but the members present thought that the student legislature would act too slowly, and officers might not be chosen in time for inclusion in the Yackety Yack.

Coker Purchases Fungi Collection For University

Through the generosity of Dr. W. C. Coker, the Department of Botany has received a major contribution.

This is the herbarium left by the late Arthur B. Seymour, who for over 40 years was connected with the Cryptomic Herbarium of Harvard University.

It is one of the most important private collections of fungi in this country, and is especially rich in forms that are parasitic on economic plants. The Department has already received over 6000 specimens, and several thousand more are to be added to it by Frank C. Seymour, from whom the collection was purchased by Dr. Coker.

Dr. Mouzon Receives High Civilian Award

The War Department's highest civilian award—the award for exceptional civilian service—has been presented to Dr. Mouzon, associate professor of economics and commerce here at the University of North Carolina, it was announced yesterday at the Charlotte Quartermaster Depot.

Dr. Mouzon recently returned to his teaching job here at Carolina, after leaving the War Department, where he had served as a petroleum economist since 1941.

Carolina Advertisers Meet Here Friday and Saturday

Many Noted Authorities to Appear; Graham to Address Friday Session

The program for the 1946 mid-winter meeting of the Carolinas Advertising Executives Association, to be held at the University next Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23, was announced for the first time here yesterday.

Sessions, to be held at the Carolina Inn, will get under way with a dinner meeting of officers and directors at 6 p.m. Friday, following registration which is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

Reports of officers and interim committees will be made at an executive session of the CAEA membership at 8 o'clock.

Formal opening of the meeting is scheduled for 9:30 Saturday morning with several outstanding advertising executives making addresses.

Following the invocation by Rev. Kelley Barnett of the Chapel Hill Baptist Church, Mayor R. W. Madry of Chapel Hill will extend a welcome. The response will be made by John Roberts, advertising manager of the Fayetteville Observer. Roy Zeigler, Charleston, S. C., president, will preside.

Speakers that morning will include John Geisen, New York City, Director of the Retail Division of the Bureau of Advertising, ANPA; W. S. Townsend, Chicago, originator of the Townsend Method of Evaluating Advertising, and Ralph P. Grant, general manager of Ivey's, Asheville. Discussion periods will follow each address.

President Frank P. Graham of the University will give the principal address at a luncheon session at 1 o'clock.

Saturday afternoon's speakers will include Dr. Rex Winslow of the University School of Commerce; Rex Freeman, Winston-Salem Journal-Sentinel; Ray King, Concord Tribune, and W. S. Waddell, publisher of the Elizabethton (Tenn.) Daily Star.

A business session during which new officers will be elected and committee reports will be made is scheduled for 4:30 o'clock.

The final session will be a banquet at 7 o'clock. Mr. William Neal, Public Relations director and vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., will give the main address and a color movie, "Seventeen Days," will be shown.

Big Name Leaders to Judge Look's Dance Band Contest

The first national amateur dance band contest in history is being held this year by Look Magazine, with preliminaries starting in March, and the finals ending late in August. Bands winning the national championship will be awarded trophies by Look, as well as additional awards by outstanding professional band leaders and musicians.

Two sets of awards will be given—one for big bands and one for small combos. Woody Herman, Frank Sinatra, Charlie Spivak, Jo Stafford, and many

W. S. Townsend will be one of the many speakers to address the meeting of the Carolinas Advertising Executives this Saturday night.

Campus Gets Late Flashes By UP Wire

The Daily Tar Heel yesterday became the second college daily in the country providing full leased wire United Press service to its readers. At exactly 3 p. m. yesterday the first news flowed in over the teletype machine set up in the paper's Graham Memorial offices that former Governor O. Max Gardner of North Carolina was to be nominated by President Truman as under-secretary of the treasury.

The installation of the new machine climaxed several months of arrangements with United Press for the full wire service which is costing the Publications Union Board $25 a week. The paper is already getting the "Li'l Abner" comic strip and crossword puzzles from the United Features syndicate.

Randolph Hancock, United Press representative in Raleigh, was present for the inauguration of the teletype services yesterday and expressed great pleasure at the current setup in the paper's daily news service. "As far as I know," Hancock

ROTC Honor Council Member To Be Chosen

Nominations for the new ROTC representative to the Student Council should be turned in to Walt Brinkley, or any other member of the elections committee, by next Friday night.

The election is necessary to replace Jim Burdin who has resigned because of a heavy academic schedule.

Election will be held next Tuesday, February 26, in Lenoir Hall and the polls will be open during meal hours.

Vets Feature Family Night

Bingo Highlights Program at 7:30

Family night, a regular weekly feature of the Vets' Club, will be held tonight at 7:30 at the club house.

Facilities are available for various games, including bingo. Count Arturo Millowsky, the world famous bingo caller will be present to tip the numbers from the cage. The club includes a dance floor, a snack bar, a lounge room and space for card-playing.

The club invites all veterans to Family Night. Although honoring married couples, the party is open to all veterans and their dates.

The club has recently been remodeled to provide more space in the main room, which is used for a dance floor. The club house is located on the Raleigh road below the Woollen gymnasium.

Phi Assembly Goes On Record Disfavoring ABC

Carolina's Phi Assembly met last night in an hour meeting which resulted in a close vote to abolish state ABC stores. The group favored, as a substitute, the setting up of privately owned stores to handle the alcoholic beverages.

Jack Lackey, who introduced the measure, left the meeting in the middle when the discussion opened claiming, "I'm too prejudiced." He could not be contacted for a statement explaining his action as the Tar Heel went to press.

A bill to censure the Truman Administration for its action relative to the proposed appointment of Edwin Pauley as Assistant Secretary of the Navy and the consequent resignation of Secretary Ickes was introduced by Al Lowenstein. It was tabled for action at the next meeting. The bill relative to the admission of Negroes into the University of North Carolina died for lack of a second, after being introduced by Bob Gurney.

Coed Senate Names Slate Of Officers

Goerch, Atkins Vie for Speaker

By Fafi Halsey

Ann Robinson and Fran Golden were nominated for president of Woman's Government Association at a mass meeting of the coed senate yesterday. No vice-president was nominated because the runner-up in the election for president will automatically be vice-president. For the position of speaker of the coed senate Sybil Goerch and Jerry Atkins were nominated. Jean Roddy and Jeanne Driscoll were nominated for president of the Woman's Athletic Association.

The nominees for the secretary to WGA are Jane Bentley and Janet Johnston. Blanche Jacobi and Kathryn Freeman were nominated for WGA treasurer. Those nominated for WGA representative to the student legislature were Bettie Washburn, Eleanor Craig, Penny Durham and Nancy Laird.

Camilla Ray and Judy Swain were nominated for vice-president of WAA and Nancy Saunders and Bill Lloyd were nominated for secretary to WAA. The nominees for treasurer of WAA were Kit Coleman and Margaret Martin.

Fran Golden attended Peace College in Raleigh before entering here last September. At Peace she was president of the student body, vice-president of the Student Christian Association, "Miss Peace," and the most outstanding member of the class of 1945. She belonged to Phi Theta Kappa, Pi Theta Mu, the International Relations Club, and was on the privileged honor roll. Since she has been here she has been elected as representative to the Woman's Athletic Council and junior representative to the Honor Council. She was president of Alpha Gamma Delta pledge class. She is on a YWCA committee.
