

Marines No.1 Take Intramural Cage Laurels

Track Squad Will Hold Meet Today On Fetzer at 4:15

As a preview to intensive outdoor practice for the cindermen Coach Dale Ranson will hold a squad meeting this afternoon for all runners on the indoor track team and also for any interested applicants. The meeting will get under way at 4:30 today in the stands at Fetzer Field.

Plans will be announced for the coming outdoor schedule which will get under way in about a month and features dual meets with most of the track powers in the South.

Carolina will be trying for a clean sweep of track honors in the Southern Conference. So far this year the tracksters have captured the Conference cross-country title and only two weeks ago scored a decisive win in the Invitational Games held here.

With these runners forming a nucleus around which Coach Ranson should be able to again mold a championship team and with several former stars returning from service, there seems to be little doubt of the team's potentialities.

Carolina Meets NYU In NCAA Tournament Opener

Tar Heels Eked Out Violets In Last Meeting in Garden

Coach Carnevale Is Pushing Workouts In Preparation for Cage Classic Test

By Irwin Smallwood

The generally recognized No. 1 basketball team in the nation—New York University—will be the opposition as the Tar Heels play in the first round of the National Collegiate tournament, it was learned from the United Press last night.

Pairings, which originally were to have been made next Monday, were decided upon yesterday in New York, throwing the White Phantoms of Coach Ben Carnevale against NYU, and Ohio State against Harvard in first round play. Winners of these games Thursday night, March 21, will meet on Saturday night, the 23rd, for the eastern championships, and that victor will play the western winner for the National title.

Meanwhile, Coach Carnevale sent his Phants through the first workout since the Southern conference tournament yesterday afternoon, the lads going through warmup, passing and defensive drills. A little half-court scrimmage was held, but nothing was on a large scale since the boys have all been at rest for a little more than a week.

The White Phantoms were at full strength at the practice, with Bones McKinney and Johnny Dillon both fully recovered from injuries and ailments. Jim Hayworth and Red Hughes, however, were not present because of conflicting baseball drills.

"It is going to be tough," Coach Carnevale commented yesterday afternoon upon hearing the news of the pairings, "because those NYU boys are out for revenge against us for that defeat we handed them December 27th. The boys here are glad to get another shot at them, though, for they are generally ranked as the top team in the country."

Only Carolina and CCNY have been able to turn the trick against the vaunted Violet of NYU, and with this record, NYU will be the favorite to take Eastern honors. In the western division of the NCAA tourney, Oklahoma A. and M., with high-scoring Bob Kurland, is expected to come through victorious, but an upset may be in the making with such teams as Kansas, California and Colorado in the race.

This is just Carolina's second trip to the National event, the last time being in 1941 when George Glamack and his great team played there. Glamack set a tournament record that year, scoring 31 points against Dartmouth.

Coaches Carnevale and Mullis will be taking the Tar Heels on their third northern swing of the season, the Phantoms having knocked off NYU and St. Josephs on one and Navy on another.

Leathernecks Roll in Final Period To Topple SAE No.2

Varsity Girls Take Preliminary Game From Sub-Varsity Six by Score, 29-21

By Carroll Poplin

A fighting Marine No. 1 team walked off with the intramural basketball championship tucked under their belts last night by defeating a scrappy SAE No. 2 quintet, 34-22 before several hundred fans at Woollen gym in a court engagement sponsored by the Monogram Club.

In a preliminary contest, the Varsity girls had to come from behind to gain a well-earned 29-21 victory over the Sub-Varsity lassies.

The SAE five, winners of the frat loop, played the Marines on even terms most of the first period and at the end of eight minutes of play the score stood at 2-2. Mitchell hit a long shot to send the Marines ahead and the dormitory champs held a 11-7 advantage at half.

Both clubs started strong in the second stanza, but the Leathernecks enlarged their lead 26-13 after seven minutes had elapsed and coasted to an easy triumph.

Bill Chafin, with his one-hand jump shot, paced the Marine attack and was high scorer of the tussle with 11 points. Grady Mitchell, lanky Marine center, followed with nine markers.

For SAE, Billy Alson hit four field goals and a foul shot for a total of nine tallies, to spark the frat team. Jim Burdin registered seven points for SAE.

In the initial game of the program, Joyce Fowler led her Varsity coeds with 16 points to a close decision over the Sub-Varsity girls. The accurate shooting of Bill Lloyd, who flipped in 14 markers, gave the Sub-Varsity a 13-7 lead at half.

Big Four League Will Open Season Here On April 17

A new name, a new member and two new coaches will feature the former Ration League when the 1946 season opens on April 17 under the name of the Big Four. College baseball at its best is forecast when this circuit swings into action.

The Ration League was formed in 1943 when travel conditions prohibited long trips by college teams, but with the close of the war the loop directors decided to change the name to Big Four.

The Pre-Flight team of Carolina, a staunch member of the loop, is no longer operating and the Wake Forest Deacons have resumed baseball to replace the Cloudbusters. Duke, Carolina and N. C. State round out the league.

Vic Sorrell, former big league pitcher has taken over the coaching duties at State, replacing Beattie Feathers, and Murray Greason, basketball mentor, will coach the Deacon baseballers. Jack Coombs at Duke and Bunn Hearn at Carolina are holdover tutors.

The league has adopted a rule requiring that a player must participate in at least 10 games of the circuit schedule to be eligible for the batting championship. This will eliminate numerous disputes arising in the past when a player in comparatively few games came up with a fat batting average and his admirers claimed the title for him. The stick champion now will have to show his ability in at least 10 games.

Games postponed by rain or other causes must be played off the following day, provided both teams have open dates. This is to prevent piling up of numerous double-headers at the end of the race.

Carolina won the league championships in 1943-45, while Pre-Flight copped the bunting in 1944. Thus, all three pennants have been won by Chapel Hill entries and the other members of the circuit will be out gunning this year to see that the gonfalon flies from a mast outside the Hill.

Planting Television

ABOUT 7,000 miles of coaxial cable will be added to our plant during the next few years. Inside each cable are six or eight copper tubes—each pair a broad communications highway over which two television programs or nearly 500 long distance telephone calls can travel. Giant plow-trains will "plant" much of this cable deep in the ground—safe from storm and fire.

This construction is but a part of our activity in the television field. Now in an advanced experimental stage are plans to link coaxial cables and high frequency radio relay systems to provide a nationwide television network.

Our part in television is the transmission of programs from one station to another. As this new industry develops, the Bell System will be prepared to provide whatever network facilities are needed.
