Maass Boosts Tennis Stock For New Year

Former Captain Back on Courts

Bolstered by the return of the top ranking player from his championship 1943 net team, Coach John Kenfield prepared to start his 19th season as Carolina tennis mentor this week.

The veteran he so eagerly welcomed back was Harold Maass, who returned to college in January after 2½ years in the Navy. Maass occupied the number one slot and was captain of the 1943 aggregation, which cruised through a stiff campaign with seven triumphs against one loss.

With the first match scheduled for April 3 against Kalamazoo College from Michigan, Coach Kenfield has issued a call for candidates to report any afternoon at the varsity courts. Among those already out on whom he has high hopes are Duke Wilder, Bert Ingram, former Carolina high school champion, Dick Swigart, Don Skakle, Jim Nicholson, Sam Daniels, and Ed Dameron.

Nine matches have already been scheduled, with more still being sought. There is also a possibility that the Southern Conference tennis tournament, a wartime casualty, will be resumed.

32 Softball Squads Open Mural Program With Contests Today

Thirty-two intramural softball squads will open the curtain on mural athletics for the present term today when they take the field in a free battle for top laurels.

Eighteen of the 24 fraternity teams will taste action, and a like number of the 20 dormitory outfits will compete.

A complete schedule of games is on deck for today, tomorrow, and Friday. Pairings for the complete program were distributed to organizations yesterday.

Today's schedule:

4 o'clock: Phi Gams vs. ZBT (field 1), Graham No. 1 vs. Law School No. 1 (field 2), DKE vs. Kappa Sig No. 2 (field 3), Steele vs. Alexander (field 4), Phi Delt No. 1 vs. SAE No. 2 (field 5), Aycock vs. ROTC 3rd Company (field 6), Zeta Psi vs. Phi Delt No. 2 (field 7), and Graham No. 2 vs. BVP (field 8).

5 o'clock: Sigma Chi vs. Kappa Alpha No. 2 (field 1), ROTC 2nd Company vs. Med School No. 2 (field 2), Kappa Alpha No. 1 vs. Chi Phi (field 3), Whitehead vs. Law School No. 2 (field 4), Beta Theta Pi vs. Pi Lambda Phi (field 5), Ruffin vs. Old West (field 6), SAE No. 1 vs. TEP (field 7), and Lewis vs. ROTC 1st Company (field 8).

Umps Meet Today

Softball umpires for the intramural diamond program this quarter will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in 215 Woollen gym. Persons interested in umpiring games are also asked to attend.

Baseball Team Meets

All members of the varsity baseball team are requested to attend a meeting at 2:30 this afternoon at Emerson field. The meeting will be held regardless of weather conditions and everyone must attend.

Blue Dolphins to Enter National Meet Friday

Coaches to Send Eight Men to Yale Event; Dolphins Lost Only to Ohio State, Army

The Casey of baseball fame may have struck out, but as coaches of the 1946 North Carolina swimming team, the brothers Casey, Ralph and Willis, have again made the Blue Dolphins hit the top rung in Dixie. The Tar Heel mermen seek new waters to conquer when they compete in the National Intercollegiate meet to be swum March 29 and 30 in Yale University's Payne Whitney pool.

Filling in the breach when a Navy commission took Coach Dick Jamerson last year. Coach Willis Casey at the tender age of 23, and still a college boy himself, turned out an undefeated Southern championship crew. This winter his brother, Ralph, freshman coach in 1940-42, received his Navy discharge, and together the two young men from Goldsboro guided the Dolphins through higher waves than ever to another great season.

In five dual meets the Tar Heel tankers went undefeated, whipping Georgia Tech twice, Camp Lejeune, N. C. State and Duke—all by comfortable scores. Only when they stepped into hophowered northern competition were the Dolphins bested, finishing behind Army and Ohio State in one triangular meet and second to Navy but over Cornell in another. The Tar Heels staged a runaway with the Southern Senior A.A.U. meet.

Carolina probably will send eight men to the nationals at Yale. Heading the list is Richard (Little Champ) Twining of Charlotte, a muscular lad who never had seen a swimming meet before coming to Chapel Hill. That didn't stop him from cracking two National Junior records last year and continuing this season to live up to his promise as one of the finest swimmers in Carolina history.

Some of General Nathan Twining, 20th Air Force commander during the Superfort raids on Japan, young Twining's favorite event is the 220-yard free style, in which he holds the Conference record at 2:14.1. Also in his game bag are the following marks: the Southern Intercollegiate 100 free style, 52.4; and the District A.A.U. 100 meter, 200 meter and 400 meter, with times of 1:00.3, 2:16.8 and 4:57, respectively.

Among other stars on the Dolphin crew are Co-Captain Ben Ward of Goldsboro and Jack Zimmerman of Brooklyn, N. Y., both veterans from last year's crew—the team, which like the present one, carried on unbroken the skein of Conference championships rolled up since 1940.

Ward holds the national junior 50 meter fre style and Conference 50-yard free style sprint records, while Zimmerman ranks almost neck and neck with Twining in the distances.

Mike Morrow of Wilmington is another record, having negotiated the 100-meter free style distance in 1:02.2 for the National Junior record. He, Ward, Twining and Warren Ficklen of Greenville make the 400-yard relay the event in which Carolina probably will be most dangerous at the Nationals.

Gridgers Open Spring Grinds Here Monday

Several Standouts Return to School

Carolina's second off-season grid drills will begin April 1 when Coach Carl Snavelly greets an estimated field of 100 candidates for spring sessions. Winter warm-ups were held last quarter with about 85 aspirants on hand during the four week grind.

Candidates will report for equipment Thursday and Friday. The opening drill is scheduled Monday.

Heading the list of warriors expected to report is Charlie Justice, former Bainbridge Naval star who lived up to advance notices by galloping 64 yards for a touchdown against Guilford in a scrimmage last quarter.

Along with Justice in the backfield is Billy Britt, a running mate of Justice's at Asheville High. Standouts from last year's Tar Heel machine who will be back on the field next season include Chunk Simmons, Jim Camp, Bob Warren, and Kennedy. Walt Pupa, recently discharged from the service returned in January to reinforce the rear guardsmen.

Four former pigskin specialists return this quarter to aid in plugging holes in the forward wall. They are George Sparger, reserve end in 1942; John Tandy, first string end who scored the tying touchdown against Duke in 1942; and Chan Highsmith, first string center, all-Southern in 1942. Meredith Jones, who made first string tackle as a sophomore in 1942, is expected to return at the beginning of next term.

Line enforcements from last season include Stiedman, alternate center; Pritchard and Rubbish, ends; Varney, Hazelwood, and a host of subs.

Coach Carl Snavelly and assistants Max Reed and Russ Murphy are beginning to form the nucleus of what Carolina supporters hope will be another championship eleven. With new material, returned veterans, and holdovers from the 1945 squad the Tar Heel eleven will be much stronger than in the past few years.

Water Polo, Tennis Entries Due Friday

Deadlines for fraternities and dormitories to enter teams in the intramural tennis and water polo activities is Friday, according to an announcement from the mural department yesterday.

Carolina Scores Twice In First Inning Spree

Unbeaten Spartans Tally in Three Frames To Offset Early Scores by Tar Heel Nine

By Bill Woestendiek

Starting pitcher Bob Newell walked the first man to face him in each of the first three innings yesterday on Emerson field, and those three walks led to the three runs that gave Michigan State a hotly-contested 3-2 victory over Coach Bunn Hearn's Carolina nine. The victory was State's second over the Tar Heels and the seventh win in a row for the touring Spartans.

Starting pitcher Bob Newell walked the first man to face him in each of the first three innings yesterday on Emerson field, and those three walks led to the three runs that gave Michigan State a hotly-contested 3-2 victory over Coach Bunn Hearn's Carolina nine. The victory was State's second over the Tar Heels and the seventh win in a row for the touring Spartans.

As in yesterday's contest, the Carolina club started fast with a two-run first inning rally and was stopped cold as the State team scored once in each of the first three innings. DiLorenzo, Carolina freshman, replaced Newell on the mound to open the fourth frame and hurled three-hit shutout ball the rest of the way, but his fine performance was nullified by the twirling of Michigan's Bill Page. After the Tar Heels made two hits good for two runs in the first, the bespectacled right-hander limited the home team to three hits thereafter, and successfully stopped what threatened to be a last inning rally.

The Spartans scored the deciding tally in the third when Nick Gregory walked, moved to second on Guest's single to center, and came home on a line single to left by Bob Phillips.

State opened the game with a run when Newell, who was constantly getting behind the hitters, walked Ludwig and Groves to open the game. Gregory sacrificed them along and Ludwig dented the plate while Bo Hackney was throwing out Guest.

With one out in their half of the first, the Tar Heels bounced right back with two scores of their own. John Gregory, who has turned in two fine games at first for Carolina, walked. Tom Clayton, who accounted for two of the five Tar Heel safeties smashed a single to left. Evans fanned, but Bill Webster clubbed a long double to deep left field to score both men with the only runs of the afternoon for the losers.

Newell's wildness allowed the State club to even things up in the second inning. He walked Hudenko, the first hitter, and the big catcher for the visitors came home after two were out when pitcher Page tied up his game with a line drive double to left-center.

Both clubs were helpless for the last six innings as both DiLorenzo, a tall left-hander, and Page put on a pretty pitching exhibition. The Tar Heel southpaw stayed out of trouble and expertly picked Hudenko off second in the eighth when the State catcher was in scoring position with one away.
