

Varsity Nine Plays at Wake Forest; Jayvees Meet Baby Devils Here Today

Tar Heels Seek To Avenge Defeat Over Deacon Team

DiLorenzo to Pitch Against Deacon Club
By Bill Woestendiek
Coach Bunn Hearn will send southpaw Vin DiLorenzo to the mound at Wake Forest this afternoon in an attempt to snap the Big Four slump into which the locals have fallen.

A victory for the Tar Heels would enable them to climb out of the bottom spot into third place over the Deacons. Carolina has one win and four losses in the loop while the home team today has two triumphs and four defeats.

Deacons Won Previously
Wake Forest scored a 5-1 triumph over the Tar Heels in a previous encounter at Chapel Hill, when the Hearnmen gave very poor support to pitcher Hamp Coleman. Wednesday afternoon the Deacons continued on their newly-found winning ways by chalking up a 4-2 win over Duke.

DiLorenzo received credit for a victory over Davidson earlier this week in a three-inning relief stint. The freshman from Bergenfield, N. J., also pitched two innings against State Wednesday, giving up two hits and no runs. Jim Hayworth is expected to do the catching for Carolina. The Tar Heels' play has been ragged in recent games and their hitting is still missing, with the exception of right-fielder Harry Beason, who has hit two homers in the last two games. Harry also socked a triple against the Wolfpack Wednesday.

The remainder of the Carolina lineup will be much the same as in the past. John Gregory, who comes up with repeated fielding gems in every contest around the initial sack, Johnny Colones, "Rip" Ryan and either John Hearn or Bob Warren will make up the infield.

Track Team Set for Meet With Devils

Carolina's track squad is working out today in final preparation for the headline meet of the track season, which will be run against the Duke cindermen tomorrow at Durham.

The Duke runners stand as favorites in the meet tomorrow, but the comparative scores are usually tossed out of the window when the Tar Heels and Blue Devils meet in their annual track series.

Carolina is banking its hopes on several leading men to help turn the tide against the Dukes. Pacing these is Floyd "Chuck" Simmons, veteran from Charlotte, who has piled up 40 points in three meets to hold the lead in individual scoring. Simmons' speciality is in the high and low hurdle events.

Henry Gifford, of Globe, Ariz., is in second place in the scoring with three first places in the javelin throw, a second place in the discus, and a third in the shot put.

Other high men in Carolina scoring for the season include Laddie Terrell, of Raleigh, in the dashes, Mark Burnham, of Shelburn, Mass., in the mile run, and Ted Haigler, of Sanford, in the dashes.

Beason Fixture
Beason is a fixture in right as is Cole in center. Cleet Cleefwood, who has fallen off greatly in his hitting is the probable starter in leftfield, although it is not unlikely that Tom Clayton might get the nod.

The Tar Heels travel to Duke tomorrow for the second game of their annual series. The Devils are the only team that Coach Hearn's outfit has beaten in Big Four play this spring.

Couch or Royster Probable Choices For Carolina Duty

Couch or Royster To Face Blue Imps
By Jim Pharr
With the score in games tied at one-all, the Tar Heel junior varsity nine will meet the Duke Blue Imps on Emerson field this afternoon at 4 p. m. to play off the deadlock.

Coach Henry House will send either L. C. Couch or Royster to the mound to oppose the Blue Imp batters today. Sid Varney has been named as the starting backstop for today's game.

The jayvee infield today will include Norm Galinkin at first, Bill Walker at second, Junior Hayes at short, and Buster Stevenson at third. The outfield will include Emmett Cheek in left, Ott Evans in center, and Bill Webster in right.

The Tar Babies opened their four game series with the Baby Dukes on April 24, when a ninth inning rally by the Imps gave the Duke men a 6-5 heartbreaker over the Tar Heel jayvees. Carolina avenged the earlier defeat Wednesday, when they pounded two Blue Imp hurlers to turn out a 9-2 victory over the Dukes.

The game today will be the ninth start of the season for the Tar Babies. The jayvee record stands at three victories against five setbacks, including three losses to professional teams.

Chi O Desert Party
The Chi O's entertained the Phi Gams with a desert party last night from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m.

The St. Anthonys out splashed the SAE's 15-10 in another St. A water polo victory for the only water polo game of the afternoon.

Duke Golfers Down Local Links Team

Tar Heels Defeated In First Meeting of Squads
North Carolina's golfers got off to a good start yesterday afternoon, but couldn't hold the pace and Duke's Blue Devils handed them their first Southern Conference loss of the season, 16 1-2 to 10 1-2 on the Hope Valley links.

Brightest scene in an otherwise dark picture for the Tar Heels came in the feature match when Graydon Liles scorched the course with a brilliant one-under-par 69 as he beat Frank Garrett, the Duke ace, 3-0. Carelessness kept Liles from turning in a really great card as he missed one easy two-foot put, and had three three-put greens.

Ed Ashby, playing with Liles in the no. 1 foursome, also turned in a good card to trim L. Smith, 2 1-2 to 1-2, and together they took the best ball, 3-0, to give the Tar Heels an 8 1-2 to 1-2 lead.

But here progress came to a screeching halt. Davis, of Duke, stroked his way to a 3-0 win over Bailey, and Aiken defeated Nymicz, 2 1-2 to 1-2. This was the signal that school was out.

This morning Coach Chuck Erickson and the squad of six men left for Charlottesville, Va., where they meet the Virginia Cavaliers Saturday. Paul Nold replaces William Wood at No. 6.

Liles, UNC, defeated Garrett, 3-0. Ashby, UNC, defeated Smith, 2 1-2 to 1-2. Best ball: UNC 3, Duke 0.

Davis, Duke, defeated Bailey, 3-0. Aiken, Duke, defeated Nymicz, 2 1-2 to 1-2. Best ball: Duke 3, UNC 0.

Doig, Duke, defeated Keiger, 3-0. Wood, UNC, and Rankin split, 1 1-2 to 1 1-2. Best ball: Duke 3, Carolina 0.
