Mine Strike To Continue Indefinitely

Soft Coal Settlers Stop All Negotiations

Washington, May 15.—The soft coal negotiations were broken off this afternoon for an indefinite period. The operators and the mine workers union met secretly for almost an hour, after the operators had rejected the union demand for a welfare fund. At the end of the meeting, federal mediator Edward McGrady said the negotiations would be adjourned indefinitely, at his recommendation, but both sides will remain on call.

Hold Out Coal Strikers Threatened By Union

Pittsburgh, May 15.—An official of the United Mine Workers has warned the 70,000 miners, who refused to obey recent truce orders, that they are standing in the way of a strike settlement. Nonetheless roving bands of the hold-out miners succeeded in closing three more mines today.

Men From 25 To 29 May Still Be In Draft

Washington, May 15.—War Department sources say tonight that the Congressional ban on induction of teen-agers may force the Army to ask President Truman for authority to draft men in the 25 through 29 age bracket. An executive order now limits the draft to men from 20 through 25. Officials say that raising the top age to 29 will add only about 12,000 men to the pool.

Rail Strike Plans Made For Saturday

Washington, May 15.—The brotherhoods of locomotive engineers and railroad trainmen say plans for a nation-wide rail strike on Saturday are still on. However, the trainmen and engineers on the Illinois Central railroad will not walk out with the other union members because it would be a violation of the Smith-Connally Act, since the government already is operating the line.

Progress Is Reported In Railroad Parleys

Washington, May 15.—A spokesman for the Railroad industry says some progress was made today in the renewed wage negotiations with two rail brotherhoods that have scheduled a strike Saturday.

Washington, May 15.—The Senate Banking Committee has voted to give the OPA a new lease on life for a year. The committee approved the year's extension by a vote of 11 to five. But it still has to decide how much power it thinks the agency should continue to have.

Vinson Admits Faults Of Loan To England

Washington, May 15.—Treasury Secretary Vinson has conceded that the three and three quarter billion dollar loan to Britain would leave the world split into two great economic blocs—with Russia on the one side, and the United States and Great Britain on the other. He has told the House Banking Com-

Smith to Run for Presidency As Stern Withdraws

Phi Chairman Files for Office Independently

Stern Says Candidacy 'More or Less a Joke'

A. B. Smith, Jr., Speaker of the Phi, filed candidacy yesterday for president of the student body, running independently.

Dick Stern who announced his candidacy for the high office on Tuesday withdrew his name from the race yesterday with the simple explanation that "the whole thing was more or less of a joke." A fuller explanation is to be found on the editorial page of today's Daily Tar Heel.

Smith, a commerce graduate and pre-law student, returned to the campus last year and was elected speaker of the Philanthropic Assembly. He has been three times elected to the student legislature, and served as chairman of the Elections Committee, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, chairman of the Rules Committee, and as member of other legislature committees. He is a member of the Student Orientation Committee and has been a member of the Carolina Political Union, campus cabinet, original campus constitution committee, and executive committee of the Senior Class.

Smith has been twice elected speaker of the Phi, and has been instrumental in leading the newly reorganized Assembly to its greater campus participation. While a member of the student legislature, he was the author of the present elections bill, the bill which permitted the return of name bands to the campus, and a bill against compulsory physical education for veterans.

Enlisting as a seaman in the Seabees in June, 1942, Smith transferred to the regular Navy in June, 1943, later attaining the rank of Ensign.

Over 40 Carolina Playmakers will go to Manteo this summer to appear in the cast and work on the staff of Paul Green's "The Lost Colony," which will go into production again this year under the direction of Samuel Selden.

Sam Selden spent last weekend in New York casting for the show. Barbara Benedict, former director of the American Repertory Company, will play Queen Elizabeth. Roger Quinlan, radio actor, is cast as the Historian. Bran Nossen, who has appeared in the Passion Play in California, is Sir Walter Raleigh. Robert Armstrong, Jr., in the dramatic art department here, will play the role of John Borden.

Others who have appeared in "The Lost Colony" before the war and who are cast in it again are: Irving Berlow as Reverend Martin, Katherine Cole as Eleanor Dare and Donald Somers as Old Tom.

The Men's Glee Club, pictured above, will give its spring concert in Hill Hall this evening at 8:30 p. m. The glee club is composed of 100 voices under the direction of Paul Young.

Men's Glee Club to Give Spring Show

The Men's Glee Club will present its annual spring concert tonight at 8:30 in Hill Music Hall. The organization, composed of one hundred members, is under the direction of Professor Paul Young. Charles Stevens, outstanding music major will be the accompanist.

The widely varied program will be presented in three parts, including songs on religious subjects, folk songs and musical comedy numbers. The dramatic highlight of the evening will be the unusual and stirring tribute to General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven", a poem by Nicholas Lindsay, was adopted to music by Philip James—an American composer of whom it has been said, "He is more than a composer; he is a living example of artistic integrity."

Others numbers to be presented are: "O Bone Jesu", "Come Again Sweet Love", "Adoramus te, Christi", "Then Round About The Starry Throne", "Turn Ye To Me", "The Battle of Jericho", "Ol' Man River", and "What Shall We Do With The Drunken Sailor". The program will be concluded with the famous Coronation Scene from "Boris Godunov".

The proceeds of this concert will go to improvements in the Glee Club musical library.
