Statement From Dorsett

It is essential at this time that all of us have a clear picture of the exact position which student self-government occupies on the campus. Many of us have the idea that the present scene is one of confusion and disorganization and that the authority for students' management of our own affairs has been invalidated.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Our government is in as strong a position now as it has ever been. Its foundations have not been weakened and will not be weakened by the surrender of student authority or responsibility in any of the fields in which it has acted heretofore. There have been no intimations from any source that these rights should be surrendered.

In the spring, the students, exercising their rights, approved the Constitution. The laws in that Constitution are thus valid and legal and your government will follow them until such time as they might be amended by a vote of the student body. There are a few provisions of the Constitution which the administration wishes to give thorough consideration before approving. These provisions are not invalidated, but are merely being held in abeyance until officially approved.

In the meantime student government is functioning with the same force and vigor as before, fortified by the same rights which have guaranteed its freedom for years. All administrative committees, all boards, and both inter-dormitory councils are carrying forward their programs without interruption. The legislature and the coed government have re-examined their authorities and responsibilities and are functioning accordingly. For the time being the student council will not hear appeals from the men's and women's councils.

Charles Warren, Charlie Fulton, Sara Tillet and myself began discussions on the Constitution with Dean Weaver Monday. I feel confident that the Constitution will be ready to submit to the trustees by September. The administration has already gone on record as approving the greater part of it.

We stand on the threshold of the single greatest advance student government has ever made. Let us make the realization of our goals even more certain by conducting our affairs with the highest degree of sanity, forthrightness, and responsibility.

—DEWEY DORSETT.

SCHW To Present OPA Films In Graham Memorial Tonight

Continuing their activities in support of OPA the local chapter of the Committee for North Carolina (SCHW) will present two sound films in the main lounge of Graham Memorial tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The films are: "Which Way This Time?", which presents a factual analysis of the reasons for price control and "The Story with Two Endings," which is a presentation of what might happen if OPA is not reinstated. Of this last film Walter Winchell said it was "the most gripping documentary film he had ever seen."

The films will be a feature of the regular Wednesday night meeting of the Southern Conference chapter and the meeting will be open to all interested in the continuance of OPA. After the movies are shown the group will discuss other means of bringing the price control issue before the public.

Saunders To Present Alumni Merit Award To Dwight Eisenhower

J. M. "Spike" Saunders, alumni secretary of the University and president of the American Alumni Council, will confer the Council's Award of Merit upon General Dwight Eisenhower tomorrow at Amherst, Massachusetts.

The ceremony will be broadcast from 12:30 to 12:45 p.m. over NBC and will be re-broadcast by WPTF in Raleigh from 5:15 to 5:30 the same day.

Saunders has been active in the American Alumni Council since 1927 and is now completing his second term as head of the organization. He will return to Chapel Hill next week upon adjournment of the Council.

Di To Discuss Constitutional Amendments

Four New Applicants Will Be Installed

The hottest issue to come before student government in many years will be discussed by authorities tonight when the Dialectic Senate convenes to consider the bill: "Resolved, That the student constitution should be accepted without amendment by the faculty, administration, and Board of Trustees."

Among those who will be present are Dr. Ernest Mackie, Dean of Students; Fred Weaver, Dean of Men; Dewey Dorsett, president of the student body; Bill Woestendiek, editor of the DTH; Charlie Warren, vice president of the student body; and other student leaders. Mrs. H. M. Stacy, Dean of Women, and Chancellor R. B. House have been invited, and hope to be present.

Meeting at 9 o'clock in the Di Chamber in New West Building, the Senate has invited the public to attend.

To be installed at the session tonight are four applicants for Senate membership.

Constitution In Operation, Says Dorsett, Except For Certain Points In Conflict

Gertrude Hopkins, famous harpist who appears tonight in Hill Hall under the auspices of Graham Memorial, will play on a $3,000 instrument containing over 2,000 parts.

Harpist Gertrude Hopkins To Appear At Hill Hall Tonight

Nationally Known Solo Artist Toured With USO Camp Shows for War Effort

Gertrude Hopkins, nationally known harp soloist, will appear tonight at 8:30 in Hill hall in a free concert sponsored by Graham Memorial under the direction of Martha Rice, Student Union manager. One of America's most distinguished harpists, Miss Hopkins has appeared on the concert stages of the country and as soloist with leading American orchestras. She has played with the American Orchestral Society and with the National Orchestral Association, and in addition has appeared in many leading New York hotels.

Toured With USO

As her contribution to the war effort, Miss Hopkins toured with a unit of the U. S. O. Camp Shows, and she also played at the Stage Door Canteen and at Army hospitals.

Miss Hopkins, who is the daughter of a gifted singer, began her study at the age of seven, and gave her first recital in New York at the Ritz-Carlton when she was ten. She will play tonight on her own harp, which is valued at $3,000 and contains over 2,000 parts.

After making her single performance here tonight, Miss Hopkins will return to New York.

SCHW Collects Books For Community Center

The Southern Conference for Human Welfare has begun a book collection campaign for books to be donated to the Negro Community Center Library in Carrboro. Book-drops are located in the YMCA and in the vicinity of the Chapel Hill post office for students and local residents wishing to contribute books.

Three Forums Slated By IRC

The International Relations club will present a summer forum on Friday, and July 15, and 16 at 8:30 p. m. in Gerrard hall.

Three speakers have been scheduled to address the forums. Dr. H. M. Oliver, assistant professor of economics at the University, will speak at the July 12 session, speaking on "Trends in American Foreign Trade."

Dr. Theodore Ropp, professor of modern European history at Duke University, will discuss "Russia in Central Europe" at the July 15 meeting. On July 16 Dr. J. H. Hallowell, visiting assistant professor of political science at Duke, will talk on "Modern Liberalism."

John Bristow, IRC president, will introduce the speakers and lead the question and answer period following each address.

Dr. Hardin Craig Slated To Address Rotary Assembly

Dr. Hardin Craig, professor of English in the University, whose address at a University convocation last April aroused so much State-wide interest that calls have come for hundreds of copies, will speak at the opening session of the annual District Assembly of the 189th District of Rotary International at the University Monday night, July 15, at 7 o'clock, stated by Erle Peacock, president of the host club.

In his April address Craig, who came here several years ago from Stanford University, called for what he termed "a revival of habits of hard work and learning" among college students in this country, saying the returned veterans, with superior grades, were leading the way.

Vet Workers Must Get Unclaimed Pay Checks

Several veteran laborers have not called for their pay checks recently, foreman for the construction co., said today.

He noted that William G. Carson had not asked for his check, and said that the check would be forwarded to Atlanta within a week, if unclaimed.

The DTH delivery complaint box is in the YMCA office.

Student Committee Reaches Agreement With Dean Weaver

Five Articles Held in Abeyance While Group Confers Over Questions of Student Authority

By Jack Abernathy

"We can go right ahead and operate under this constitution except for the points in conflict," Dewey Dorsett, president of the student body, told a group of twelve student government leaders Monday night at a special meeting in Graham Memorial.

Dorsett emphasized in his discussion with the group that the constitution has not been declared invalid, that "an atmosphere of harmony and agreement has characterized negotiations with the administration," and that action by the board of trustees is expected by September as a result of this accord.

Registration Ends Saturday

Classes Resume Tuesday, July 23

Registration of students now enrolled in the university got under way yesterday and will continue until this Saturday noon, July 13.

General College students may make appointments for registration by signing their advisor's appointment sheets at the information desk in South Building.

Edwin S. Lanier, head of the Central Records Office, strongly urged all eligible persons to take advantage of the early registration.

"Students who register now do not have to return to Chapel Hill until the 23rd of July. They can have another day at the beach," Lanier said.

Also there is a two dollar fine imposed on students who are in school at present and do not register until the general registration day, July 22.

Detailed instructions pertaining to the registration procedure is printed on the bottom of the class schedules which may be obtained at South Building.

Teachers Slate Piano Recital

Two-piano compositions by modern composers will be featured at a recital to be presented in Hill Hall next Monday, July 15, at 8:30 p. m. by Herbert Livingston and Wilton Mason, instructors of piano in the Music department of the University.

Compositions on the program, which have all been written since the turn of the century, include works by Beryl

Phi Beta Kappa Initiates Twelve New Members

Dean Mackie Announces Students Tapped By Honorary Fraternity Last Monday

Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, has initiated 12 students this summer for highest achievement in the field of scholarship, announced Dean Ernest Mackie, corresponding secretary of the local Alpha chapter.

Those tapped July 8 were Mary Josephine Allott, bacteriology major from Charlotte; Douglass Hunt, history major from Rocky Mount; Guy Benton Johnson, Jr., history major from Atlanta, Georgia; Marjorie Mirian Jordan, journalism major from Asheville; Robert Haywood Morrison, English major from Hickory; Richard Woodward Seaver, English major from Thompson, Conn.; Robert Fredrick Schultz, mathematics major from Berlin Heights, Ohio. The officers of the local chapter are John Schofield O'Neill, Jr., president; Leo Vincent Mullen, Jr., vice president; Robert Gray Stockton, recording secretary; and Dean Mackie, corresponding secretary.

Only those students are tapped to Phi Beta Kappa who have maintained a scholastic average of 92.5 or better during 8 quarters of academic work. Those who have spent more than a year in matriculation in other institutions must have attained a average of 94 while enrolled for 8 quarters at this university.

Phi Beta Kappa, a national fraternity which was first installed at the University of North Carolina in 1904, has as its purpose the encouragement of sound ideals in scholarship and the reward of strong moral character. Included on its rolls are such prominent university leaders as President Frank Porter Graham, Chancellor R. B. House, Dean Dudley Carroll, Dean A. W. Hobbs, Dean C. P. Spruill, Dean W. W. Pierson, and Dean Mackie.

New Publications Board Appointees, Cotten, Olsen, Both Damyankee English Professors

By Robert Morrison

By their own admission, two damyankee English professors of foreign affiliation now compose the faculty delegation to the Publications Board. W. A. Olsen was born on Copenhagen, Denmark, and Dr. Lyman Cotten (although officially born in Newport, R. I.) was reared in Japan. Although both of the appointees now teach English, Cotten once spoke Japanese better than English and Olsen once was more proficient at Danish.

"I was much relieved when my younger brother was born in Japan," said Cotten, "for if I was a damyankee, he was a Jap."
