Worthy of Praise

Early this summer we wrote an editorial bemoaning the lack of student entertainment on the campus for the summer school students and commending Graham Memorial Student Union for the way in which it, under the leadership of Miss Martha Rice, director, was attempting to remedy the situation within the bounds of a limited budget.

Since that time, the Graham Memorial staff has done an excellent job in providing easily-accessible and entertaining recreation for Carolina students this summer.

Frederic Balazs' violin concert Thursday evening was the latest entertainment sponsored by Graham Memorial, and the large turnout that listened to his excellent performance in the hot auditorium proves that students appreciate good entertainment. Gertrude Hopkins, harpist, was presented last session, and the Deep River Singers will appear here tomorrow night. The presentation of all these excellent performers is ample evidence of what can be done in the way of securing high class entertainment for the student body.

On the less formal side, Graham Memorial is carrying on numerous functions daily, all of which are aimed at adding to the students' pleasure. Such things as the bridge tournament, the Sunday evening concerts are all worth-while activities, while the Saturday night Y hop has become one of the social highlights of the summer session.

The Candlelight Room in Graham Memorial is adding improvements daily and furnishes a cozy, quiet place to dance and party without putting too much weight on one's pocketbook. Free floor shows and refreshments every Friday night make for a pleasant evening.

The latest idea to come out of the industrious Graham Memorial office is one that involves a daily broadcast of recorded music from the roof of Graham Memorial building, sponsored by the Graham Memorial Candlelight Room. Music and bits of useful information will be aired from one to two o'clock each afternoon.

With an active, wide-awake director and staff such as that functioning in Graham Memorial, the entertainment worries that confronted students at the beginning of summer are fast disappearing.

For which we owe Miss Rice and her staff a vote of thanks.

Conflicting Statements

It seems to us that the current discussions about the construction of new dormitories and increased rents often tend towards confusion.

To begin with, at the student meeting held two weeks ago, Chancellor House stated an increase in rents would be forthcoming eventually, whether or not the rents were raised immediately. The following week-end, Governor R. Gregg Cherry went on record that no increase would be made in dormitory rents.

At the same meeting, the governor claimed a lack of building materials was the real drawback to the dormitory construction and not finances.

Yet this week a contract totalling $999,118 was awarded to Thompson and Street, Charlotte contractors, for construction of three dormitories here at the University. A spokesman for the constructors said construction would begin at once. Similar construction is already underway at State College in Raleigh. This would seem to indicate that the building materials are available.

We aren't drawing any definite conclusion from these statements and facts. Yet, it does seem to us that more money would build more dormitories-and if it is not a problem of money, why not build more dormitories?

This is merely a questionable "I'm from Missouri" approach to the subject, but we do believe a concrete, clarified statement of the situation ought to be forthcoming, rather than a conglomeration of conflicting comment from various sources.

The Paily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Board of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, where it is published daily, except Mondays, examination and vacation periods; during the official summer terms, it is published semi-weekly on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Chapel Hill, N. C., under the act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price: $5.00 per college year.

The opinions expressed by the columnists are their own and not necessarily those of The Daily Tar Heel.

COMPLETE LEASED WIRE SERVICE OF UNITED PRESS

BILL WOESTENDIEK	Editor
ROLAND GIDUZ	Managing Editor
FRED FLAGLER	Sports Editor
BILL SELIG	Business Manager
OF THEODY TYPISTY AND	irculation Manager

ASSOCIATE EDITOR: Ray Conner. EDITORIAL STAFF: Bob Finehout, Matt Hodgson, Jim Taylor, Dan McFarland, Sam Daniels, De Lon Kearney, R. H. Hamilton News Staff: Jack Abernathy, Jo Pugh, Barron Mills, Bill Jabine, Virtie Stroup, Roy Moose, J. C. Green, Jane Hutson, Arnold Schulman, Burke Shipley, Bob Morrison, Betty Sutton, Virginia McKenzie, Sam Whitehall, Helen Highwater. COPY EDITOR: Hill Wolfe. NIGHT SPORTS EDITOR: Jim Pharr.

SUBSCRIPTION MANAGER: Brantley McCoy. BUSINESS STAFF: Strowd Ward, Barbara Thorson, Marjorie Riggs.

ADVERTISING STAFF: Adelaide McLarty, Ed Parnell.

Carolina Merry-Go-Round

By Jim Taylor and Dan McFarland

Yackety Yack distribution ran into a hitch from the start. Far too many copies are still stacked at Graham Memorial. Can't they be put on sale in the GM office? . . . Welcome to the new Dean of Women. Dr. Carmichael will meet with a hearty welcome whom the coed students when she arrives this fall.

Eddie Black, member of the Student Council, moved at the Di that Student Government have only two courts, one for women and one for men. Is our court system so soon to be changed again? Is the fault with the system or with Student Judges who will not forget political and personal connections? The knot can be easily untied by an amendment YOU Say? to the constitution, giving a clearer picture of the powers of each of our courts and a more careful selection of the students to sit on the courts.

sick of ships, airplanes and war.

bunch of guys and a scrappy team.

every night except Monday until midnight. All students are welcomed.

This gives a much needed place with-

OPA returns just in time to save the hundreds of students here on a limited income from a pinch. Neither

Political Parties course looks like a about on class. Anything can happen when Democrats, Republicans and

(ED. NOTE: With this issue we resume an old Tar Heel column in which the author is given the widest latitude. Sometime he may be talking about the campus political scene, sometimes about the 1:30 lab and sometimes about saddle shoes and tight sweaters. In any event, the opinions are his own, and do not necessarily reflect those of the reading of "Of Time and the River."

Rudolph Joseph is set to produce it and arrangements are now being completed for obtaining directorial services, casting, etc., etc. The play, by the way, is set in the deep South dur-

Incidental Intelligence: T. W. is supposed to have lost the original manuscript of the play on his trip to Paris, and they say he rewrote

it from memory on his return to Uncle Sugar Able. If the plans go ing the Civil War period.

Cyrano de Bergerac.

breeding.

That's about all for today, except ing person on the back .- R.S.H.

DTH.

By Sam Daniels

What Do

Today's Question What do you consider the three best features of this University? The Answers

I have always liked friendliness among peoples of different states and one is sure to find it here. This is one of the most liberal universities in the country and one develops a great deal of individual responsibility. I think that the sports program is one of the finest of any school in the nation.-Herschell Snuggs, Winston-Sa-

I consider of primary importance the fact that the University has accepted its responsibility in encouraging and allowing the returning veterans to continue their interrupted University Veteran's Club. education. The excellent facilities for both sports and studies which are easily accessable are not to be overlooked. The prevailing democratic proponents or opponents are especialrelationship between the University ly pleased with the new bill, but any students and the faculty is definitely centrol helps keep at least some of a commendable feature. - Clayton the prices in line. . . . Woodhouse's Eley, Jr., Norfolk, Va.

Only those who have attended col- session of campus politicians. There's leges where the honor code does not never a lack for something to talk prevail can appreciate the great benefits to students and the faculty alike of this fine system. Informality of manner and dress both in and out of the classroom fosters a genuine feeling of kindred spirit among the students themselves and promotes more interesting classroom lectures and discussions. I like the proximity to Washington, D. C. (My girl lives there.)-John Clayton, Wash., D. C.

I think the low tuition rates for veteran's wives is an excellent feature. For the most part the professors here are very good and of a very high calibre. The great amount of freedom granted to students does much in preparing them for future life.-Jayne White, Pittsburgh, Pa.

This University is very liberal and we don't have to tell where we are going at night and with whom we are going. The arboretum is a lovely thing the year round and is a nice place to stroll through (if you can get through without stepping on someone). The friendly air here among students make a newcomer feel welcome from the very beginning.-Chris Tunstall, Apex.

I consider the most important feature of this, a Southern university, to be its liberal tendency. Then too, I put in a plug for the phys. ed. dept. by listing the sports facilities here as one of the outstanding features. This is true both of opportunity for active and spectator sports. Of course one of the best features of this university, so far as I am conserned, is that it was here that I finally managed to "hook" my husband, and other girls have had the same luck.-Leslie Casey, Goldsboro.

NEXT WEEK: What are your favorite sources of recreation on this campus?

All letters must be typewritten, double-spaced, under 400 words in length, and signed by the writer. The Daily Tar Heel reserves the right to present the letters as it wishes and to delete all matter it considers libelous.

About the Bells

To the annoyed writer of the unsigned letter about the "darn" bells

There are some statements in your letter which are both misleading and false, and which ought to be briefly clarified for the bothered one who is definitely to be pitied.

The bells in the Bell Tower are not that if you've got anything you want played each and every quarter-hour- to get off your chest and are too shy which probably every student at to write a formal letter to the DTH UNC knows except the exasperated about it; drop a note to RSH Box 841, one. They are played at quarter and I'll be glad to air your gripe, comhours only for three out of the twen- ment on your opinion, or pat a deserv-See LETTERS, page four

DTH Music Review

Fine Tone Quality Displayed By Balazs in Violin Concert

By R. H. Hamilton

Combining the traditional violin concert pieces, and the more popular selections which are familiar to the followers of Kostelanetz, young violinist Frederic Balazs succeeded in presenting a pleasing violin concert in Graham Memorial's initial student entertainment offering of the second summer session Thursday night, in Hall Hall.

Presenting a program of 10 selections, however, proved to be too lengthy program for the summer audience. In spite of the heat and the restlessness of the audience, Balazs' work showed a fine tone quality, excellent bowing

Track By Bob Finehout

. . With all the dogs, squirrels and people we have in Chapel Hill, why does someone keep sending out invitations for conventions to crowd us even more? . . . Lenoir Hall: Why can't the pennants go back up in place of the naval pictures? We're We told you to watch that Old Stacy to theaters throughout the several the evening. team about three weeks ago. Wednesday they won the campus softball championship. Hats off to a great iums on his company, its films and Balazs presented the Chaconne from stars that to listen to him you would Bach's Sonata in D Minor and three .. The Vet's Club (on the Raleigh think that Pius XII was in error and Paganini pieces, "The Devil's Laugh-Road down from the Gym) is open first American saint after all. Be- "Theme with Variations." All of these fore you can say "Trigger, the Smart- were particularly well done and reest Horse in the Movies," the salesman | flected the violinist's keen appreciain walking distance for you to take is brandishing his under water pen tion of, and interest in, the Italian your date. Congratulations to the like it's a fencing foil and with his other hand is shuffling a sheaf of papers which, reading from left to right, spell CONTRACT.

Because we, who spend our hardearned green to see the pictures, are unable to witness the film salesman in action, it behooves me to run over briefly in this column, company by company, the Hollywood output for the next few months. Call it a Previe wof Coming Attractions, if you wish. 20th Century-Fox: This studio has

Socialists or what-have-you get into out into the can several big ones, the See MERRY-GO-ROUND, page four stellar attraction being "Centennial Summer," which is currently making the citizens of the City of Brotherly Love forget the heat and the scarcity of good bourbon. "Summer" boasts Jeanne Crain, Cornel Wilde, Linda Darnell, William Eythe and Constance Bennett all looking pretty for the people in Technicolor.

Slated for early release: "Claudia and David," with Dorothy McGuire and Robert Young romping through the trials and tribs on the marital front: "Three Little Girls in Blue," a Technicolor musical which should bolster flagging masculine morale with the feminity of June Haver, Word seeps down to the 'hill from Vivian Blaine, Celeste Holm and Verathe Rialto that Carolina's famous and Ellen.

favorite literary figure, Thomas MGM: "The Yearling," when this Wolfe, will be represented on Broadis shown even the editor of "Outdoor way next season, with a presentation Life" will not be dry-eyed. Gregory of "Mannerhouse." This is supposed Peck stars in this yarn of the life to be Wolfe's unpublished play and and death of a deer. is only to be detected by a careful "Till the Clouds Roll By," another one of those all-star colossi which > features every one on the Metro lot but the gate-keeper. Johnson -Horne - Allyson - Garland - Shore-Sinatra - Walker et al are all performing for us lucky mortals. which claims the divergent talents of McDowall and Illona Massey. The only thing lacking is a dream sequence with Greer Garson.

Paramount: "Monsieur Beaucaire," the Booth Tarkington classic has been and an extremely light touch on his instrument. Handel's Larghetto, which was the opening number on the program was rather thin in tonal quality; but once over this piece the concert steadily improved with a Rondo of Mozart's; and reached a This is the time of the year when high point with the presentation of the motion picture salesman dons his Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor. nattiest Glen Urqhart plaid, fixes an The rendition of the Concerto, which agreeable but toothy grin on his kiss- is recognized by many critics as the er and sets out on the road, armed most perfect selection for the violin, with a pocketful of two-for-a-nickel was particularly rewarding and stogies, to sell his company's product earned Balazs the loudest applause of Turning from piano accompaniment The guy can lavish so many encon- for the second part of his program, that Zanuck should have been the ter," "Voice of the Woods," and a

> Facing a post intermission audience which the heat had thinned out, in shirt sleeves, Balazs presented the popular Clair de Lune by Debussy. It marked the first time that many in the audience heard this piece performed on the violin and it was well received "Spanish Dance" by de-Falla, "Berceuse" by Stravinsky (from which the music for the motion picture "Spellbound" was adopted), "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "Tambourin Chinois" by Kreisler completed the third part of the pro-

Substituting Shubert's "Ave Maria" for two lengthier pieces, in the interest of shortening the program, concluded the regular portion of the concert. Always popular, the piece was rendered more so by the fine rendition of the young Hungarian. As his encore, Balazs chose "Liebe Freu," a popular, light piece which was more in keeping with the summer weather than some of the more classical of the evening's works.

refurbished to fit the histrionic talents of one Robert Hope. Joan Caulfield is the gal who makes his heart do calisthenics.

"Strange Love of Martha Ivers," has assembled a trio of attractive persons whose names in lights read like this: Barbara Stanwyck, Van Heflin and Lizabeth Scott.

Warner Brothers: "Night and Day," the money-laden, but not exactly checkered career of tunesmith Cole Porter has been fashioned into a vehicle for the abilities of Cary Grant, Alexis Smith and Monty Woolley.

In "The Two Mrs. Carrolls," Hum-"Holiday in Mexico," a pot-pourri phrey Bogart is given a chance to snarl at Barbara Stanwyck, who, like Walter Pidgeon, Jose Iturbi, Roddy other of his leading ladies, must enjoy being pushed around.

> She used to be the belle of the town, but somebody tolled on her. -Exchange.

through, this production will rank as one of the major events of the coming Broadway season; along Crossword Puzzle with Jose Ferarr's presentation of A doff of me topper to young violin-1-Whip with nine ist Frederic Balazs for his excellent performance Thursday night. How--That girl 7-Dried ever, it would have been even betwatercourse ter if his program had been cut by 10-Anything worthless at least one third. About fifteen per-11—Large antelope 13—Mythical land 15—Swamp cent of the original audience failed to return after the intermission, and 18-Exclamation of only about fifty percent was left to surprise hear the final portion of the program. -Toward top 21-Father and I don't think the exodus was a reflecmother 23-Father tion of Balazs' ability, but rather the length of his program plus the uncomfortable heat in Hill Hall, which made it extremely uncomfortable to sit Noticed a likker bottle on the lawn out in front of Graham Memorial yesterday afternoon. Gosh, guys and gals, I'll quaff an egg nog or two with the best of ya; but I can't see this tossing of empty bottles around indiscriminately with a months. Call it a Preview of Comsay the least, it shows darned poor 33—Bagpipe players 36—Correlative of either 37-Where horses are 39-Dawn (comb.

form) €0-Flock of walruses 43-Animal's stomach -Pickpocket

46-Footlike part

52-What UN -Wander

-Hangman uses it 12—Born 14—Stupid person (slang)

15-Except 16-Inventors' protections 17—Pables 19—Shapeless lump 21—Elves 22—Spills 25—Correlative of neither 27—Rival 30—Soak up 31—Lazy person needs this 32—Meddle 33-Promise 34—Behind 35—Pig 38—Honey maker 41—Faint 43—Furious 45—Animal's foot 47-On behalf of 51-Gold (her.)