Conference Rules Ought to Be Explained

It appears that all the products manufactured by the rumor factory concerning Tony Yovicsin, the Pennsylvania football prospect who was tabbed ineligible for the Carolina gridiron in various newspaper accounts, have been quelled by the truth of the case. But even though there is a part of the real story, there is much

vicsin will not play football for Carolina unless the eligibility board reverses a decision which declared Yovicsin's connection with Duke University a violation of the spirit of the rule, even though it was not an actual breach of the Southern conference rules.

Now if the board has made an unjust decision it is up to that body to make amends for any wrong done. Coach Snavely doesn't want to raise a fuss with the eligibility board; neither do the students or alumni unless there is apparent need for someone to put in a two cent piece now body who simply can't understand the workings of the eligibility board. They can't figure the way this group acts, but they, for the most part, feel that the board has made a rather hasty himself of some rather embarrassing decision.

The peculiar thing about the matter is that Yovicsin, himself, didn't flew thick and fast, and the immediate result was rather a smelly situation. The unpleasant aspects were brought to light mainly because there never was any authoritative viewpoint revealed by the board stand. It is true that the board has opinions, but what John Q. Public wants, to know is what they are. As it stands,

One thing is sure and that is Yo-1 gram. This makes sense. It would be a nasty mess if there were a big conflict between the coaches and the board. This will probably not happen because the Old Fox is sort of anxious to produce a leading football team, and he fully realizes that one of the best ways to do that is have harmony all the way around. Snavely is back at Carolina to do things with football. The reason for his leaving the last time (1935) need not be brought to light again, but if he is to produce a winning team he can't be fussing with academic tophats. So, the matter rests with Yovicsin and the board, even though and then for justice (not Charlie this athletic officials would like to do all time). There are those of the student in their power to make it possible for Yovicsin to play.

> Yovicsin has voiced his opinion of what he did. He discounted the rumors and made an attempt to clear remarks. The board has remained quiet. Now is the time for all good board members to explain themselves voice much of a protest. The rumors publicly so those who are interested as well as Yovicsin will have both sides of the question.

With half the summer swimming season behind them, Carolina's Blue Dolphins have been setting a terrific pace and give promise of setting some new records in the highlight event of the season, the Southern Regional AAU Meet for men, which will be held here August 23-24.

The senior men galloped off with . the team swimming championship at High Point with a 96-point total that head swimming coach Dick Jamerson said was a Carolinas AAU record for first place in all district events.

Big Guns

Snooky Proctor and Mike Morrow continued to be the big guns in Carolina's assault on the district swimming records. Proctor swam the 1500 meter distance in 22.24 to notch a new record in that freestyle event, while Morrow bested the old individual medley record in the time of 3.42. The two swimming aces shared honors for the individual championship in the High Point meet.

The Carolina tankmen opened the season in Kessing pool here on July 13 with an impressive performance that gave warning to future opponents of the Tar Heel swimming aggregation. Mike Morrow stole the show in the season opener with two clear cut individual victories. He swam through the 100 yd. free style for men in 56.2 seconds and copped the 50 yd. free style in the winning time of 24.8 seconds.

Other swimmers who have notched individual victories and greatly aided the Tar Heel cause in meets thus far include Bill Ward, winner of the national junior 55 yd. free style for men, Garnett McCoy, winner in the 100 meter men's back stroke, and Theodore Moseley, winner in the 3 meter diving contest for men.

In addition to the regional AAU meet here August 23-24, Tar Heel swimmers will participate in several swimming meets during the remainder of the summer.

Regional AAU Frances Kenney and Snooky Proctor will represent Carolina in the Southeastern Regional AAU for women and the National Junior AAU Meet, to be held in Atlanta, Ga. on August 10-11.

Proctor, Morrow, and Don Dempsey will swim for the Tar Heels at the Southern Open Invitational Swimming Championships at Wilson on August 30-31.

Most of Last Year's Squad to Be on Hand

By Clarke Stallworth

Coach Carl Snavely said yesterday that the summer football practice would begin August 16 and that he expected 100 or more football aspirants to show up.

Assisting him in his coaching duties will be Max Reed, Jim Gill, Russ Murphy and Crowell Little. George Stirnweiss will help after the baseball season is over.

Coach Snavely expects most of last year's sqaud back for this season but some will be missing. The draft law claimed Al Bernot, lankey center; Bill Wardle, a stocky guard and Paul Rizzo and Joe Gurtis of the backfield. Co-Captains Bill Voris and Bill Walker were discharged by the Navy and Marine Corps, respectively, and went elsewhere and Bill Pritchard and Ed Golding entered the Naval Academy this last July.

"Veterans returning to school, barring injuries, will be better ball players than they were before, being older mentally and physically," Coach Snavely said.

In the front rank of these returning players are Chan Highsmith, All Southern center here before he entered the service; John Tandy, an end who coached and played with a Navy team in Hawaii which won the Pacific Championship; Ham Strayhorn and Max Spurlin, guards; Billy Myers and the board caught a lot of criticism from Carolina supporters while Yovicsin received the same amount of sympathy.

The matter is by no means closed because the board has made no announcement in regard to a change of ruling on the case. Yovicsin has left Carolina for awhile. He will probably come back in a couple of weeks. In order to be Carolina gentlemen about the situation, the board should have a decision ready before his return and not later.

One might think that Coach Snavely has an indifferent attitude about players aren't being given a fair and football players who are declared injust opportunity to play where they Lewis eligible. It does appear that the athdesire. letic staff has a rather defeatist attitude in that they would rather remain in the back room than to come out and play cards where the deal seems just about the right time. A changes hands once in awhile. The few days ago football drills wouldn't truth of the matter is that athletic have been so bad. (Continued from page two) the issues raised by many persons throughout the United States are a challenge to be met with thoughtnot hot-headed denunciations.

The arguments that controversial discussions injure the prestige of the University in the eyes of the state are Won Lost always advanced. That they apply to the Di's discussion is stretching an issue beyond the breaking point. The argument that the Di wastes time in such discussions is often raised. Those who attend do so voluntarily-if they think their time is wasted, they need not attend. Los

The argument that the discussion is adolescent or ridiculous may be valid -every man has a right to judge for himself what he thinks is adolescent or ridiculous. I would like to submit the opinion that some of the discussion Wednesday night was of a low caliber while some was very interesting and as informative. In conclusion, let it be said that the Lost Di is meeting tonight to discuss another bill about which there will be a sharp clash of opinion. Visitors are again welcomed, but the Di urges its visitors to use a little common sense. If a visitor is disturbed by the discussion, he should be sure that he knows the score before he gallops to the student press with revenge in his heart and blood as his object.

I believe that if some thought and consideration were afforded the students in the planning of these dorms the campus would be well satisfied. The crowding of more than two students in a room in one constructed for just two is deplorable but necessary. Let's not cram buildings in the same way. A building is something fine, individual, and beautiful. Please give them enough space to breathe and be appreciated.

Snavely discounted the rumor that Felix "Doc" Blanchard was flunking out of West Point and coming to Carolina to play ball, adding that he would be ineligible anyway, under the ticket buyers, who got top priority, Southern Conference's new ruling concerning men who have played at West Point and the Naval Academy.

According to Snavely, the backfield will run mostly from the single wing attack, with the "T" formation held in reserve.

About the Tar Heel's tough 1946 schedule, Snavely said, "It gives us a chance to show how good or how bad we are."
