

Second Week of Grid Drills To Start Today

More Players Will Report Next Monday

Snavelly Slices Squad 25 Per Cent

By Fred Flagler

This morning at 9:30 Coach Snavelly and his charges will begin the second week of drills, and Monday some new arrivals will report for practice adding to the work of the coaching staff which cut the squad this week 25 per cent.

Yesterday afternoon marked the last practice session in a week of drills. The feature of yesterday's football schooling was the running of plays. Three and four teams worked in scattered spots on the field with the careful eyes of the coaches watching the plays. Passing attacks were worked on too, as well as running plays. Time and time again the boys ran the plays through opposition in what might easily be called light scrimmaging.

"They look all right, but we will have disappointments. I haven't had time to think much about what they will do," Coach Snavelly said yesterday. He was all work again too as he instructed managers to keep the crowds back when his anxious squad started running plays over most of the field.

Cut Squad

This business of cutting the squad is something rather new to Carolina football teams because in recent years coaches have had to be satisfied with any material on hand. This year there is a large field of boys eager to try their luck with Coach Snavelly.

Shortages of equipment and housing facilities have been factors leading to the necessity of cutting players off the squad. Snavelly said, "It's tough dropping a player from your squad when he likes to play football." Snavelly has been employing his pruning knife with reluctance, but he will have to keep weeding players out because the 25 per cent cut last week will be replaced Monday when another 25 boys report for duty.

More Coming

The incoming group is composed mostly of boys who had experience last year. Some of the boys who will be out on the practice field Monday are Max Cooke, Mike Rubish and Bob Cox; tackle Stan Marczyk; guard Bob Mitten; center Dan Stiegman; backs Bob Warren, Alex Fearling, Bill Flamish and Jim Camp.

Though the coaches express an air of pessimism over the 1946 prospects, observers of the drill can't help but feel that the Tar Heels will pack a mighty wallop on the gridiron this fall.

Backfield Punch

The impressive feature of practice sessions thus far has been the smooth work of the back field material. Last year Snavelly's squad lacked a backfield which could handle punting, passing and running. There just wasn't anything triple-threat about the backs.

TWO CAROLINA performers who once played against each other in high school are back at Carolina with Coach Snavelly. Jack Hussey, on the right, played for High Point high school when Billy Myers was cutting capers for Lexington high school back in 1939. Hussey entered Carolina in 1940, and Myers in 1941. In 1943 the two operated a formidable passing attack, with Myers tossing the billet and Hussey receiving it. It remains to be seen what they will do this fall, but Coach Snavelly is more than glad to have both of them.

Ball totin won't be neglected this year because such men as Hosea Rodgers, plunging fullback, Jack Fitch, fleet-footed wing back, Charlie Justice, triple-threat, Bill Maceko, another versatile back, Billy Myers and Billy Britt, tailbacks will be around to answer that call for Snavelly.

Up to date, Snavelly hasn't set his mind on any one backfield combination because there is still time to go before he will be satisfied. The blocking back post remains a big question mark, and it will probably be just a few days before the VPI contest on September 28 before Snavelly has any definite notion of the starting four.

Later On

Just what the old Gray Fox has will never be known until far in the season when the Tar Heels get their real tests. Snavelly, like all coaches, doesn't want to do any predicting. His main job now is to get his footballers in shape, and then sit back come game time to see what they can do for themselves. It's virtually a month before the opening tilt, and even though the bulk of the prospects have a lot of experience, Snavelly will continue to drill his brand of football to boys which have played under a lot of different coaches.

Malaria Conference For Students Begins

A number of the officials of the United States Public Health Service, the State Board of Health, and one representative of the Tennessee Valley Authority are attending a two-day Malariology Conference being sponsored by the University of North Carolina School of Public Health for its students here today and Friday.

Speakers and their topics at today's session included Dr. C. P. Stevick, Raleigh, Chief of the Epidemiology Division of the State Board of Health, "The Problem of Malaria: Prevalence in the U. S. and Southeast"; Dr. Ross Gauld, visiting professor of epidemiology from Johns Hopkins, "A Brief History of Malaria"; Dr. V. B. Link, Atlanta, Chief of Epidemiological Section, Communicable Disease Center of the U. S. Public Health Service, "The Epidemiological Factors Affecting Transmission of Malaria"; and Dr. John Larsh of the University School of Public Health, "The Etiology and Transmission of Malaria."

Tar Heel Tankmen Lead In Regional AAU Meet

Closing Session Slated For Today With 13 Swimming Events On Card

By Jim Pharr

The Carolina AAU District swimming team, paced by Tar Heel swimmer Mike Morrow, piled up a commanding 50-23 lead in team scoring over the Southeastern AAU District team in the opening day of the Men's Southern Regional AAU and Open Championships in Kessing pool here yesterday.

The final session of the meet, including 14 swimming events, will get under way this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Morrow tied for first place in individual scoring with Bob Laughlin of Atlanta yesterday, each swimmer tallying 10 points. Bill Ward, of Carolina, was in second place, with 8½ points, while Stu Haw, of Atlanta, McCoy, of Carolina, and Howard, of Tarboro, had a three-way tie for third place, with 5½ points each.

Opening Event

In the opening event, the one mile freestyle, Laughlin took a close first place over Stu Haw in the winning time of 24:45. Bob Hutton, of Carolina, took third, and Maclin, also of Carolina, came in fourth.

Mike Morrow took the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:49, winning a close decision over Tommy McDonough. Howard, of Tarboro, took third, and Berman, of Carolina, was fourth.

Ward Wins

Bill Ward, of Carolina, took the 100-yard freestyle in 58½, followed by McCoy, of Carolina, Bultman, of Carolina, and Cannon, of Carolina.

Buddy Crone, of Carolina, piled up 168.2 points to take the low board diving event, ahead of Swigart, of Carolina, Boyd, of Atlanta, and Lunger, of Chapel Hill.

Laughlin defeated Morrow in the 440-yard freestyle, in 5:47.8. Hutton took third place in the event, and Haw took a fourth.

Medley Relay

The Carolina AAU District team (McCoy, Howard, Ward) defeated the UNC B team for the 300-yard medley relay event in 3:25. The Atlanta Swimming Association took third place.

In the Open events, Jean Pyatt, of Goldsboro, defeated Barbara Hinson, of Chapel Hill in the women's 100 breaststroke event, in the winning time of 1:27. Powell, of Goldsboro took third and Darrow of Tarboro took fourth place in the event.

Goldsboro Girls

Evelyn Barbee, of Goldsboro, took an easy first in the women's 100-yard backstroke, in the winning time of 1:20. She was followed across the line by Pyatt, of Goldsboro, Cashion, of Chapel Hill, and Fink, of Chapel Hill.

Pate, of Goldsboro, took the girls' 50-yard freestyle, ahead of Moore, of Tarboro, Lloyd, of Chapel Hill, and Russell, of Chapel Hill.

In the 150 medley relay for girls, the Goldsboro team (Donnell, Pate, and Britt) came in ahead of the Chapel Hill A team. The winning time in the relay event was 1:58.

McDonough, of Atlanta, took the boys' 50-yard breaststroke in 32 seconds. He led Godfrey, of Tarboro, Leighton, of Chapel Hill, and Howard, of Tarboro.

Baskets To Be Dumped At Gym Next Saturday

Students are reminded that all personal equipment must be removed from the baskets in the gym before August 31 when the lockers and baskets will be dumped.

The swimming pool and the gym will close August 30, and new physical education permits will be issued by the infirmary for the fall term. Physical education officials said they would not be held responsible for loss of equipment after that date. The facilities of the gym will be open again September 23.

Athletic Free Clinic To Be Held Aug. 30

A free clinic for athletic officials and those interested in becoming officials, particularly in football, will be held at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh August 31-September 1, it was announced here today by C. E. McIntosh, Secretary of the State High School Athletic Association, sponsoring organization.

Gerry Gerard, Duke University basketball coach and well known official, will conduct the clinic which is to be the only one scheduled this year.

Two Softball Champs Meet Monday At 4

Jennings Hurls Win For Lewis

Mangum dormitory, Green league champion which knocked out Lewis and Old Stacy, will meet Lewis Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the finals event in the summer intramural softball contest.

Lewis secured the right to meet Mangum in the semi-final event yesterday when it took Old Stacy 7 to 1.

If Mangum wins Monday afternoon that will end the intramural contest, but if Lewis defeats Mangum there will be another contest between the two. Lewis lost one game in advancing to the finals, and so far, the mighty Mangum moguls have breezed through the competition without a single loss.

Time Change

Game time for the event is 4 o'clock, a change from the originally scheduled five o'clock announced previously.

Leaders in the semi-finals contest for Lewis yesterday were Jennings, the winning pitcher, who also collected two hits for Lewis, Jordan, who tallied two singles and a triple at bat and Coleman, who was good for two hits. Moose, Crowley and Butler shared in the hitting for Stacy with two hits each.

Mangum dormitory advanced to the finals of the intramural softball tournament Thursday afternoon when the fiery softballers slammed away 12 hits to score as many runs in conquering a once powerful Old Stacy outfit 12 to 8.

Old Stacy hit Hodges for 11 hits but couldn't bunt them to advantage as the Mangum boys hit and ran with equal dexterity. Both teams went errorless in the playoff which saw a hard fighting Stacy team drop from the mighty list.

Students May Get Football Tickets For Wives Monday

Students who have wives in residence may purchase season athletic passbooks for them at the Athletic office on Monday and Tuesday, August 26 and 27. These admit to football games and to all other sports at home.

In order to secure a passbook the student must present written evidence that he was registered during the University's early registration period—August 19-24—and evidence that he has a wife in residence.

Two hundred and fifty passbooks are available at this time at the student rate of $10.00 for the year. Any married student who expects to secure a season ticket for his wife should apply to the athletic office on August 26 or 27.

Stacy Dominates Intramural Softball All-Star Outfit

The Intramural Softball officials gathered around assistant-director Taylor Dodson's desk at Woolen Gymnasium Monday to nominate the summer session's All-Star softball team. When the smoke of debate cleared, Old Stacy walked away with the dominant share of the laurels.

Unanimous choices for the best softball pitchers on the campus were Pete Arnaiz of Old East and Dodson Palmer of Sigma Chi fraternity. Arnaiz has survived the second session without a single loss. Often his backing has been scattered but that just gives the big boy an excuse to really bear down. To his credit this session got a no-hitter and a couple of one-hitters. Palmer has been a regular for Sigma Chi and has something which is a bit rare among the pitchers of this session's softball—control. Hodges of Mangum and Dill of the Pharoahs received equal nominations as relief hurlers.

The catching spot went to big J. B. Lee of Stacy. His work has been characterized by slashing line drives through short stop. Not even a broken nose gathered at the hands of a careless bat could hold him out of more than one game, and that was against his will. Several votes went for Correll, the boy who catches Hodges on the strong Mangum team.

Tie at First

At the first base slot Hemingway, last term's all-campus selection, and George Clark tied. Both these boys are strong left-hand hitters and capable fielders.

Ed Alexander, one of the cleanest and smartest softball players in the competition, took the shortstop position home to Stacy. Few men come up to Ed in sportsmanship and team spirit. He frets like a prize retriever when a ball gets through him.

Outfielders

Mock, from Lewis dormitory, won a close battle for the starting left-field position. Charlie Cole of Stacy was unanimous choice for the center-field spot and Brown of Steele Dormitory took the first string run-off in right field. All three of these boys send the outfielders back when they come up for their turn at bat, because all are potential home run hitters.
