on the 24 and made his way to the Maryland 13 before being stopped.

The Raleigh halfback — Grow — skirted end for the remaining 13 yards and Carolina's first touchdown. Bob Cox kicked good, 7-0.

Blocked punts set up the second touchdown, about five minutes into the second period. John Tandy blocked one and Jim Hendricks recovered on the Maryland six. But on the first play Britt fumbled and Maryland recovered.

Maryland was stopped cold in two plays, and on the third Poling went back to punt for the Old Liners. But again Tandy was in there, this time with Mike Rubish helping, and the punt was partially blocked with Walt Pupa recovering on the Maryland 21.

From the 21, Jim Camp took the ball on a reverse and scampered around left end to score. Cox came in again and booted the point, 14-0.

That was all the scoring for the first half, although the Tar Heels were on the Maryland eight, first and 10 when the intermission came.

Camp was the man of the hour for the third score, which came almost at the end of the third period on a beautiful 52-yard run that started around left end from a reverse. The drive started on the Carolina 35, and Bob Kennedy and Camp did all the damage.

Kennedy, a sub fullback, started the ball rolling with a 13-yard drive through the middle for a first down on the Maryland 47. Britt was stopped for no gain, and on the second down Kennedy ran through the whole team only to be caught from behind on the Maryland 10. The play was called back, however, on an off sides penalty, but on the next play Camp romped around his own left again for 52 yards and the touchdown. Cox booted the point, his eighth in a row of the year, and Carolina led 21-0.

Dan Logue, a blocking back who was just up from the Jayvees, intercepted a pass from Maryland's Tucker to set up the next touchdown just as the fourth quarter got underway. He caught the pass on the 15 and ran it to the five, and Myers cut off right tackle for the touchdown. Cox missed the point, 27-0.

It looked like the game was going to Carolina by the 27-0 standing score as the rain was coming down again, but just before the game was over Maryland found itself on its own nine and tried to pass out of the hole. But Tuym's pass was intercepted by Myers, who bobbed and weaved the 20 yards between him and the goal line for Carolina's fifth and final marker. Cox was off again and the final score was recorded, 33-0.

Statistically Maryland got 13 first downs to Carolina's 11, but the visitors did all the damage with short passes. Tommy Mont, outstanding Old Liner passer, connected for 16 out of 25 passes he personally threw, gaining 104 yards through the air for Maryland. In all, Maryland threw 36 passes,

The Carolina line was on the ball as they were last week, stemming the Maryland attack nicely. Tandy and Rubish were hot at ends, Hendrick, Hazelwood and Jarrell at tackles, Strayhorn and Varney at guards, and Highsmith at center.

Max Spellman did some sensational punting for the Tar Heels, getting off 66, 60 and 38-yard kicks in three tries.

The charging of the line was tops, with Tandy and Rubish blocking two punts. Pupa and Hendrick did the recovering.

Coaches' Comments

Carl Snavely: "It was a good game. I was greatly pleased with my boys' performance. Maryland spotted and played our weakness but our early lead made them gamble and they lost."

Clark Shaughnessy: "North Carolina is a powerhouse. They're too big and strong and played great ball. My boys are too green and make too many mistakes."

She was a watchmaker's daughter so I took her out to see what made her tick.

Hosea Rodgers, above, hard driving Carolina fullback, played a major role in beating down Maryland 33-0 here yesterday afternoon. Rodgers, a starter in 1943, was playing still with a taped ankle but showed up well in his pile-driving role that pulverized the Maryland line.

Army Barely Gets By Michigan; Deacs Go To The Air To Beat Clemson 19-7

Baltimore, Oct. 12—(UP)—The Blue Devils of Duke struck for touchdowns in each of the first three periods today to defeat Navy, 21-6, before a crowd of 40,000.

Duke took a lead it never relinquished in the first period when George Clark gathered in a Navy punt, moved to the sidelines, and raced 54 yards for a score. Bob Gantt converted. Navy came battling back in the same quarter, driving to the Duke five yard line and scoring when Bill Bartlett lateraled to Ralph Williams. Bartlett's attempted conversion was blocked.

In the closing minutes of the first period, the Blue Devils rolled to the Navy two and Leo Long cracked over on the first play in the second quarter. Gantt again converted. Duke came back to score again in the third period, bucking over from the Navy three.

The victory was Duke's first in three games.

Ann Arbor, Mich. Oct. 12—(UP)—Two undefeated football teams put on a brilliant display of power before 86,000 fans here today and, at the end of 60 thrill-packed minutes it was Army 20, Michigan 13.

Michigan's fighting Wolverines threatened right up to the final minute. With just 29 seconds left in the game, they had the ball on Army's 10-yard stripe where a touchdown and an extra point would snap the Cadets' undefeated and untied streak at 21 straight. However, two holding penalties sent the Wolverines 40 yards away from the promised land and then Army's brilliant quarterback, Arnold Tucker, intercepted a desperation pass as the gun went off, ending the game.

Doc Blanchard, Army's pile-driving fullback, returned to action after a two-week layoff and scored the winning touchdown for the Cadets in the fourth quarter. Glenn Davis was the big gun in the Army attack, scoring on a brilliant 58 yard run in the first period, passing to Bob Folsom for the second touchdown, and setting up the third with a series of passes.

Wake Forest, Oct. 12—(UP)—A flashy Wake Forest team passed itself to a 19-7 victory today over a hard-fighting Clemson eleven.

Nick Sacrinty and John (Red) Cochran sparked the Deacon team. Sacrinty passed 57 yards in the first two minutes of the game to Johnny O'Quinn, who snagged the ball on the Clemson 32-yard line and scored standing up. Nick's brother—Bo Sacrinty—kicked the extra point.

Clemson came back to score after recovering a Wake Forest fumble. The Deacons scored a second touchdown after an 80-yard drive, and a third time they recovered a Clemson fumble.

No Action Taken In Council Confab

Raleigh, Oct. 12.—The North Carolina State college athletic council has delayed action on its attempt to renew the football series with the University at Chapel Hill. The council met in Raleigh today and had been expected to consider the renewal.

The series as interrupted after the 1943 game at State's request. In the past two years, State has twice attempted the renew the series, but has met with North Carolina's disapproval each time.

It is understood, however, that the University at Chapel Hill will receive the proposal favorably now, and attempts to iron out the difficulties will be made at a later meeting called by Dean A. W. Hobbs of the University.

Yanks Gain Reynolds In Trade for Gordon

New York, Oct. 12—(UP)—Waiting no time in building up for next year, the New York Yankees strengthened their pitching staff yesterday by trading second baseman Joe Gordon to the Cleveland Indians for hurler Allie Reynolds.

Gordon's departure indicates that George Stirnweiss, who alternated between second and third this year, will return to his original position at second in 1947.

Bosox Favored Over Cardinals In Series Tilt

Harris or Ferriss To Face Brecheen

St. Louis, Oct. 12—(UP)—Faced with a "do or die" proposition as they enter the sixth World Series contest behind three to two in games, the St. Louis Cardinals prepared to throw everything they had—everything meaning Harry Brecheen—at the Boston Red Sox in tomorrow's encounter in an effort to send the series to the seven-game limit.

Red Bird manager Eddie Dyer frankly admits that the Cardinals' only chance of victory lies in pitching his star southpaw tomorrow and worrying about a seventh-game hurler after that. "And there will be a seventh game," he confidently asserts, remembering that Brecheen blanked the Boston big guns in the second clash with a four-hit shutout.

Cronin's Choice

Boston pilot Joe Cronin's choice of a starting pitcher lies between southpaw Mickey Harris, who lost the second tilt, and 20-game winner Dave Ferriss, who registered a shutout in the third contest. No matter which one takes the mound, the Red Sox are favored to hang the clincher on the fighting Cardinals and thus walk off with their sixth World championship since the fall classic was inaugurated.

The Cardinals may have to play tomorrow without the services of one of their chief hitting and fielding stars, Enos Slaughter. The hard-hitting right-felder was struck on the elbow in yesterday's tilt and the arm is still swollen, making his status uncertain. Besides losing the RBI leader of both leagues, the Red Birds would be minus one of the best throwing arms in baseball.
