

New Clubhouse for Veterans To Be Completed by Friday

Rebuilt Pre-Flight Wrestling Pavilion Will Be Twice Larger than Old Location

Completion of the new University Veterans clubhouse back of Lenoir dining hall is set for Friday of this week provided the contractor can secure needed materials as he expects.

Completely remodeled from the old Navy Pre-Flight wrestling pavilion, the new building will have nearly twice the floor space of the old club, and a floor constructed of asphalt tile for better dancing.

Porch around Entire Building

In addition the building will contain lounges, cloak room, kitchen, office for the veterans' association, and a modern spacious sandwich bar. Lighting will come from 'dimable' wall lamps, and a porch will circle the building to accommodate tables and chairs in summer. Increased window space will improve the outside appearance of the club.

Open from noon to midnight weekdays and from six o'clock to midnight on Sundays, the club is intended to be a dating and dancing center for all University veterans. Use of the club during afternoons will be offered as a clubhouse or nursery for veterans' wives.

Formal Opening Soon

Formal opening will take place soon after completion. The club will then become the site of weekly open-house parties sponsored by UVA in honor of co-ed dormitories and sororities. Pending opening however, the first veteran open-house will be held Wednesday in the Naval armory honoring Kenan and McIver dorms.
