Officials Fail To Terminate Airline Strike

Union Turns Down Government Offer

Washington, Oct. 25—(UP)—Government efforts to arrange a truce on the four day old TWA strike failed tonight.

Chairman Frank Douglas of the National Mediation Board, after an all-day series of conferences with union and airline officials said that there is no sign of a settlement in the wage dispute. Douglas says the union turned down his proposal that the 14-hundred pilots return to work pending settlement of their demands.

Vets Offer to Fly

The breakdown came in the midst of reports that a veterans' flying organization is offering to man the planes and break the strike.

The national treasurer of the military pilots association, Joseph Fagan, tonight did say that his group could muster at least three thousand trained pilots to man the planes on short notice.

NC Prisoner Captured After Thrilling Chase

Whiteville, N. C. Oct. 25—(UP)—A long term North Carolina convict has been recaptured after a wild, movie-style chase in which he flagged a train, rode awhile, and jumped off with the guards shooting at him. The prisoner, Emmet Jarman, was making his seventh try for freedom. But it failed too.

Insurance Head Slain In Automobile Wreck

North Wilkesboro, N. C. Oct. 25—(UP)—The president of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company—Julian Price—was killed instantly this afternoon when the automobile in which he was riding plunged over an embankment near North Wilkesboro, North Carolina.

The accident occurred five miles east of North Wilkesboro. And the automobile was driven by a colored chauffeur. Mr. Price was accompanied by E. D. Broadhurst, who suffered only minor injuries.

Mr. Price was about 70 years old.

Russ No Longer Oppose Debate on Veto Power

Flushing, N. Y., Oct. 25—(UP)—The way has been cleared for a full debate on the floor of the UN General Assembly on the question of the Big power veto. Russian objections to the proposed debate were dramatically withdrawn at a meeting of the 14 nation steering committee today. Russian delegate Andrei Vishinsky first moved that the proposed debate be stricken from the tentative calendar of business. But American, British and Chinese delegates urged that the debate be held, although they indicated that they will join Russia in opposing any chance in the veto power.

US Delegate Praises Russian Conciliation

New York, Oct. 25—(UP)—The chief American delegate to the UN, Warren Austin, has praised the conciliatory gesture which Russia made in abandoning its fight against a debate on the veto power. Austin said, "This is the best indication that the UN system can and will work, and that the promises of Russian statesmen to work for peace are bona-fide and sincere." Austin added, "It makes us feel pretty good."

Army To Ask Congress For 350 Million Fund

Washington, Oct. 25—(UP)—Assistant Secretary of War Howard Peterson says the Army will ask Congress for 350 million dollars to meet unforseen costs in occupying conquered countries overseas. Nearly one-third of the money is earmarked for the occupation of Germany, most of it being needed to handle displaced persons.

Tar Heels Favored In Homecoming Clash Today

Oppose Gators In Kenan Tilt

Ex-Carolina Coach Heads Florida Club

By Bob Goldwater

Undefeated but tied once in four starts, an injury-riddled Tar Heel team will seek its fourth win of the season today when it opposes the Florida Gators in Kenan stadium. The kickoff is slated for 2:30 p.m.

The Tar Heels have been established as heavy favorites but the contest is likely to develop into a much closer battle than expected. Despite a record of four losses in as many tilts, the Gators, led by a former Carolina coach, Ray "Bear" Wolf, have shown steady improvement and have primed for this clash all year.

The starting lineup that Coach Carl Snively will field is still somewhat uncertain due to injuries to previous starters and also because of the improved play of several reserves. Expected to start for the first time this year are two reserves who have shown up well all season, both replacing injured players. Walt Pupa, who scored the two winning touchdowns against Navy, will take over for Hosea Rodgers at the fullback post and Bob Cox, place-kicking specialist, is the probable starter at the right end in place of injured George Sparger.

Four Tailbacks Ready

Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, sparkplug of the Blue and White team, is expected to be ready to open at tailback. The Asheville speedster was badly bruised in the Middle clash and may not see too much action this week. Bill Maceyko, Billy Myers and Billy Britt will alternate at tailback when See PUPA, Page 3

Two Resolutions Are Recommended By SCHW Chapter

Acting in the interests of "a broader and better base for state government," the last meeting of the SCHW campus chapter passed two resolutions favoring the adoption of the amendments now before the voting public.

The first of these amendments is designed to give women the right to serve on juries and other privileges now denied to them by present interpretation of the constitution.

The second amendment will increase the salary of legislators. In spite of whatever criticism there may be of present representation, this amendment was favored on the grounds that present salaries do not attract enough capable men to serve the best interests of the state.

All eligible voters were strongly urged to vote in favor of these two amendments at the November 5th general election.

Liz Willis presiding, it was announced that the next meeting of the SCHW on Wednesday October 30 in Graham Memorial would feature an address by Rev. Lee C. Sheppard of Raleigh.

Templeton Gives Audience Plenty of Laughs . . .

Pianist Will Blend Pranks with Good Music At Memorial Hall Recital Tuesday Evening

Alec Templeton, distinguished pianist and composer, who appears here Tuesday evening at Memorial Hall, occupies the unique position of having accomplished what no one else has been able to do. He makes music funny. Better, Templeton makes music human by stressing his potentialities for fun. The average recital is a serious affair. People leave certain human qualities outside the doors. They don't laugh. But at a Templeton recital, people feel different. They bring their laugh-equipment along with them, without loss of ease. Without sacrificing the loftier aspects of music, Templeton gives them plenty to laugh at.

He finds that music abounds in fun, and he simply transmits his findings to his listeners.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Apartments to Be Ready Next Week; Work Progressing on 15 Faculty Units

Increased Supplies Enable Construction

By Roy C. Moose

Taking advantage of clearer October weather and an increased supply of materials, housing authorities are rushing to completion 40 new apartments in "Victory Village" which will be ready for occupancy next week. In addition, work is also progressing rapidly on 15 apartments for faculty members with a deadline of November 1 to be met.

"However, contrary to the many rumors, we are not constructing faculty units to the detriment of student housing. The units are of two distinct types and we are working on each type as those particular materials arrive," explained Roy Armstrong, Chairman of University Housing Committee.

Total Will Be 148

Completion of the 55 new apartments will bring to 148 the total number of housing units ready for married couples, 93 having previously been occupied.

An indication of the rapid progress being made is the fact that State College at Raleigh procured identical housing units at the same time as Carolina; however, to date State does not have any of its units occupied, whereas Carolina has had couples in "Victory Village" for over a month.

All Married Couples Moved In

All married couples on the campus have already been moved to the "Village," although many are doubling up for the present, and single students have received the old married dormitories of Alexander and Whitehead. The "Tin Can" has been completely evacuated as a result.

The new apartments now being finished will be assigned to those married couples doubling up at present in "Victory Village" while those students who were promised housing last January See APARTMENTS, Page 4

Lena the Hyena Artist May Appear on Campus

Lena's creator may come to the campus for Sadie Hawkins Day. In reply to an invitation from Martha Rice, director of the Student Union building, Basil Wolverton of Vancouver, Washington, who recently made his way to the bright lights by drawing the winning picture of Lena the Hyena in the nationwide contest recently held, said that if he finishes his work on his comic book strips before the first of November it may be possible for him to be on campus for the November 9 festivities.

The motto on Wolverton's letterhead states perfectly his occupation: "Producer of preposterous pictures of peculiar people who prolx their perplexing planet." Millions of Al Capp's comic strip readers may readily agree.

Florida Band Will Appear With Team this Afternoon

By Joy Blumenthal

The University of Florida marching band, making its appearance this afternoon at the game in Kenan stadium, will be the first band this season to accompany its team to Chapel Hill. Composed of 120 members, the group will perform the first seven minutes at the half, to be followed by the UNC band.

The Tar Heel aggregation will march across the field to the accompaniment of "Parade of Champions," and will honor the Florida spectators with the formation of the letters FLA., while playing the Florida "Orange and Blue."

Will Spell Score

Making a quick turnabout, they will march over to the UNC stands playing the "Carolina Victory March," and spell the score, with appropriate music. To the tune of "Hail, hail, the gang's all here," and "Sweet Adeline" they will form the letters GRADS, to honor the returning graduates, who are here for Homecoming Week.

Last night the band performed at the Pep Rally, leading the Torchlight parade, which started at the YMCA, in its trek around town.

Grail to Hold Dance Tonight

Roy Cole Orchestra To Play for Event

In honor of homecoming alumni here for the Tar Heel-Florida tussle, a Grail-sponsored dance will be held this evening from 9 until 12 in Woolen Gym.

Roy Cole's all student orchestra, which has played for numerous functions both on campus and throughout the state will provide the music.

With all profits going into the Grail scholarship fund for deserving students, the dance will be informal "as prescribed by the Dance committee regulations," Charles Fulton, Grail Delegata stated.

Tickets at Door

Fulton further stated that tickets will be available at the gate for the regular price of a dollar.

Featuring the vocals of George Demas, Cole's band recently gave a Memorial Hall concert which was well attended by students here.

Demas is best known for his renditions of "Night and Day," "Temptation," and "Prisoner of Love."

Medical School Plans Meet Firm Opposition

Strong opposition to the proposed four-year medical school of the University of North Carolina was expressed this week at the two day annual convention of the North Carolina State Grange held in Clinton.

Now being considered by the State Advisory Budget Commission, the plan would provide $5,200,000 to expand the present medical school and build a 400 bed hospital here. The Grange adopted a resolution favoring the construction of the Chapel Hill facilities only after adequate hospitals and health clinics for rural areas had been provided.

Men Must Reserve Dormitory Rooms

Students living in men's dormitories must register with their dormitory managers before November 15 if they wish to live in their same rooms next term.

James E. Wadsworth, admissions officer, said today that arrangements to house over 500 new students expected to enter in January were being completed. All rooms not reserved will be considered unoccupied and assigned to new students.

Special forms have been distributed to dormitory managers for this survey, but it is the student's individual responsibility to reserve a room if he wishes to live in the dormitory during the winter term.

Students Open Gala Weekend With Pep Rally

More Rain Forecast Here Tomorrow

By Bill Sexton

Yesterday's soggy afternoon utterly failed to dampen the esprit of nearly 1500 students who opened the homecoming weekend with a rousing parade and pep rally last night, and hopes are high today that the scattered showers predicted by the weathermen for this afternoon will be far away from Chapel Hill.

Steady rain prevented dormitories and fraternity houses from erecting their lawn displays on schedule, but clear sky by nightfall enabled the happy throng of Carolina students to stage a full-spirited pep session. After the torch-lighted parade, first of the season, University club President Mike Morrow and the cheerleaders led an equally enthusiastic Memorial hall rally. Between songs and cheers, a not-quite capacity crowd heard Coach Bob Fetzer laud the students' reaction to a crowded, confused campus and ask "another display of unified spirit and mass sportsmanship" in Kenan stadium today.

500 Florida Cheerers

More rain has been forecast for central North Carolina, but the first full-scale homecoming since 1942 will proceed as planned. Two Tar Heel harrier squads open the athletic program at 10:30 against the Quantico Leathernecks. At 2:30 the Carolina eleven will take the field against Florida. Some 500 Gator rosters, led by the 80-piece Florida band, will be there, and the Carolina side has been practically filled by advance sale and student tickets. With alumni, 500 Boy Scout guests, and on-the-spot ticket purchasers, Athletic association officials expect a bigger-than-usual attendance.

Between 10:30 and 12:30 this morning a judging panel consisting of Mrs. C. G. Snow, Monogram club house-mother; Dr. W. A. Olsen, and Dr. H. D. Wolf will tour the lawn displays. The winner will be presented with the newly-created University club trophy at the Grail dance this evening, where Roy Cole will hold forth on the Woolen gymnasium dance floor.

Hillel Will Sponsor Judaism Courses

Two courses, "The Rites and Rituals of Judaism," and "Contemporary Jewish Problems," are being offered by Rabbi Strumpf, Hillel Director, on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock in the Hillel lounge of the Y. Open to the entire student body, the courses will begin Monday and run for six weeks.

"The Rites and Rituals of Judaism" will deal with symbols, ceremonies, and rituals in the synagogue and home.

"Contemporary Jewish Problems" will be conducted as a discussion group. Subjects to be discussed will include Inter-marriage, Jewish Life in America and Interfaith Relationships.

More information may be obtained by contacting Rabbi Strumpf through the Hillel office in the "Y."

Absentee Voting Blanks Are Available at 'Y'

Yesterday marked the opening of the distribution of applications for absentee ballots in the "Y" with over 300 being given out.

Jim Taylor, president of the Young Democrat's club which is sponsoring this distribution, reminded all students who wish to procure these applications that the absolute deadline for obtaining them is next Tuesday.

There will not be a representative of the YDC in the "Y" this afternoon, however, starting Monday there will be someone to distribute the applications and answer all questions from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 5 o'clock.
