

SPORT SPINS - -

with
IRWIN SMALLWOOD

THEY WERE talking about the Tar Heels here today before game time, and with plenty of respect in their voices. As was the case against Navy two weeks ago the weather was near perfect, with more than one person in his shirt sleeves. The turf was dry, the sky was hazy, and there were some 35,000 fans waiting to see what Charlie Justice and the Carolinians were going to do to Tennessee, and vice versa.

There was plenty to talk about. What about these Vols? Would they be back on the ball after the shellacking Wake Forest handed them last week. Yes, said the loyal Tennessee rooters, although that affirmative was with a little hesitation, for East Tennesseans have read full well of the prowess of the Carolina Choo-Choo and Company.

The Volunteer cheering section just lost their heads in the air for their vaunted Vols just ran out on the field for last-minute limbering-up exercises before the game gets underway. The big orange jerseys shone brilliantly in the sun, and the Tennessee lads look as though they mean business.

At the same time, the Carolina band, attired in its bright blue uniforms, is sitting directly across the way—100 strong—striking out with martial music regularly. And now they're filing out for a pre-game show. It is the first trip since before the war for the Carolina band and Earl Slocum, director.

The following of the Tar Heels to this, their toughest game to date, resembles somewhat the droves that made their way to Baltimore two weeks ago to see Carolina knock off Navy.

They came by all conceivable means, car, bus, train and plane, with the team having arrived at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in time for a practice session here in the Tennessee stadium.

One group of Carolina rooters, arriving by plane last night with yours truly, was holding a big discussion of the prospects in the Hotel Andrew Jackson in the wee hours this morning. Somebody mentioned the name of Blanchard, Doc I believe. "If we only had him," the guy said. "I can remember when I was at Carolina before the war and that guy used to about kill the SAE's when they played Sigma Nu in water polo."

The cheering section of Carolina fans just let out a roar that could be heard five miles up the lazy Tennessee river. The Tar Heels just made their appearance on the field, clad in the dark blue jerseys and light pants. They got through the same pre-game workout, and Justice just got off a 60-yard punt and Max Spellman followed with a 70-yard boot.

The Tar Heels fade out for their last pep talk, and we rushed through a few facts—while across the way the Carolina fans come through with "We Don't Give a ——— for Duke University."

The last time Carolina defeated Tennessee was in 1936, when Ray Wolf beat the Vols, 14-7, in his first year of coaching at UNC. The year before Snaveley's great 1935 team beat Tennessee, 38-13.

Last year the Tar Heels were beaten, 20-6, making the series to date read eight wins for Tennessee, four for Carolina, and one tie.

Earl Slocum mounts the podium in the middle of the field to direct the combined Carolina and Tennessee bands in the National Anthem. They march off and in a minute the game will start.

Ted Hazelwood is acting captain today and goes to the center of the field with Tennessee Captain Walt Slater for the coin toss. Tennessee wins the toss and will kick off. And they're off!

It's halftime now, and we run over quickly the sensational happenings of this torrid first half here in Knoxville.

During the first period, Tennessee completely dominated things, both running and passing. The Vols hit paydirt twice to hold a 13-0 lead as the first quarter ended.

But the Tar Heels made a comeback, one never to be forgotten, even if the Vols take this ball game. It all started when Charlie Justice ran from deep punt formation through the entire Tennessee team for the first Carolina touchdown, injured Bob Cox adding the point.

The Tar Heels kicked off, Tennessee punted, and Carolina started a sustained drive from their own 46 over the goal to tie up the game. Walt Pupa's bulling, Bill Maceyko's passing, and Billy Myers' off-tackle slants led to the score. Cox did it again and the Tar Heels took the lead.

Tennessee threatened on one long pass after that, but Jim Camp made a nice pass interception to stem the bid for a score. The half ended with Jack Fitch taking a 24-yard pass and running to the 28. Maceyko threw it.

And the Carolina band made an outstanding performance between halves, as did the Tennessee band.

Justice Journeys 73 Yards For Initial Tar Heel Score

Myers Registers Second Touchdown

(Continued from page 1)

from there to go ahead at halftime. Walt Pupa made a first down through the middle, Maceyko missed a pass to Art Weiner and then rifled one to Johnny Clements, who ran the ball to the Tennessee eight.

Billy Myers was sent in for the do-or-die punch, and he cut off tackle for six yards on the first try. Pupa got one more and then Myers sliced off tackle again for the score, Cox booting, twice because of an offsides penalty, for the point that sent Carolina out in the lead.

And just before half time, Maceyko passed to Jack Fitch for 24 yards, and Fitch ran on to the Tennessee 28 just as the horn sounded.

It was six minutes and 20 seconds into the third period that disaster struck and the Vols won the ball game, which was one of the best played in this or any other stadium in quite sometime.

Carolina was on the 34 in Tar Heel territory, and on third down Justice punted to Slater on the Tennessee 22. Slater took the ball, slipped through to the safety, and got by Justice about 10 yards out from paydirt as he faked a lateral to a man running with him. Pritchard kicked this time to make the score 20-14.

Shortly after the touchdown, Carolina started on its own 19 and drove to the Tar Heel 49 before the threat was stymied by a pass interception. In the series of plays, Bob Cox made a sensational catch of a Justice pass just before being flipped out of bounds on the 49.

The last chance for the Tar Heels was with about a minute and 10 seconds to go. They were on their own four yard line, but Maceyko punted on first down and Tennessee took over to freeze out the remaining seconds and win the ball game.

Carolina's line, after the first few minutes of play, did a good job of stopping Tennessee on the ground with Ted Hazelwood, the acting captain, and Chan Highsmith leading the pack.

The starting lineup:

Carolina	Pos	Tennessee
Weiner	l.e.	Hubbell
Jarrell	l.t.	Huffman
Strayhorn	l.g.	Priest
Highsmith	c.	Stephenson
Varney	r.g.	Meyer
Hazelwood	r.t.	Crawford
Cooke	r.e.	Jordan
Hartig	q.b.	Hillman
Justice	l.h.	Slater
Camp	r.h.	Mitchell
Pupa	f.b.	Major

Georgia Tech Trims Duke With Tricky Attack, 14-0

Engineers Tally in First Two Quarters; Broyles Stars in Razzle Dazzle Display

By Bob Goldwater

Duke Stadium, Nov. 2—A touchdown in each of the first two quarters carried a strong Georgia Tech eleven to a 14-0 triumph over Duke here today in a homecoming clash played before 38,000 fans.

First Defeat

	Tenn.	UNC
First downs	12	11
Net yardage rushing	257	187
Passes attempted	13	9
Passes completed	7	4
Yards gained passing	108	74
Number of punts	6	9
Average distance punts	38	39
Number of punt returns	5	3
Yards punts returned	105	117
Number of kickoffs	5	2
Average distance
kickoffs	53	57
Yards kickoffs returned	147	74
Number of penalties	6	4
Yards penalized	60	30

Football Results

Wake Forest 32	Chattanooga 14
N. C. State 49	VMI 7
W&L 25	Davidson 6
William & Mary 41	Maryland 7
Clemson 14	VPI 7
Georgia 14	Alabama 0
Richmond 19	Virginia 7
Vanderbilt 19	Auburn 0
Notre Dame 28	Navy 0
Cornell 12	Columbia 0
Princeton 17	Penn 14
Yale 33	Dartmouth 2
Syracuse 28	Temple 7
Rutgers 13	Harvard 0
Army 19	West Virginia 0
Penn State 68	Fordham 0
Holy Cross 21	Brown 19
Ursinus 13	Penn Military 0
Boston College 72	NYU 6
Ohio State 39	Northwestern 27
Illinois 7	Iowa 0
Indiana 20	Pittsburgh 6
Michigan 21	Minnesota 0
Missouri 21	Nebraska 20
Texas 19	SMU 3
Arkansas 7	Texas A&M 0
Oklahoma 14	TCU 12
Rice 41	Texas Tech 6
So. California 43	Oregon 0
California 47	Wash. State 14
UCLA 46	St. Mary's 20
Oregon State 0	Stanford 0

Displaying a powerful offensive both on the ground and through the air, the Yellow Jackets strengthened a claim to a post-season bowl invitation by handing the Blue Devils their fourth defeat of the season. Directing the Tech razzle-dazzle operations from his quarterback post in the "T" formation was Frank Broyles, whose triple-threat tactics led to both touchdowns. Broyles performed most of the passing, some of the running and made several sensational punts.

First Score

Almost the entire first quarter was played with Tech in possession of the ball in Duke territory. The Engineers scored midway during the quarter when Dick Bowen plunged over from the one-yard stripe after two passes to George Matthews had established the scoring opportunity. Johnny McIntosh converted for a 7-0 lead. A fumble by Duke fullback Buddy Lupur, giving the Engineers possession on the Blue Devils' 16-yard line, almost resulted in another Tech tally shortly after the start of the second period.

Tech's second touchdown came in the second quarter when McIntosh crashed over from one yard out after Broyles had passed to Matthews to set up the score. This time Bowen converted and the score was 14-0.

The Blue Devils spent the remaining part of the game in fighting back, but to no avail. Just before the end of the first half, they pushed to the Tech nine but three passes into the end zone failed. In the final period the Blue Devils, with George Clark doing most of the carrying, reached the Tech two before losing the ball on downs.

Broyles' sensational punting appeared miraculous on two occasions.

Harriers Top Georgia Tech In Dual Meet

Six Runners Cross Finish Line Together

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel)
Atlanta, Nov. 2—Coach Dale Ranson's Tar Heel harriers continued their winning way at the expense of Georgia Tech here this afternoon by trouncing the Yellow Jackets, 15-49, on a low point scoring basis.

Running over the 3.2 mile course in a slight drizzle, Captain Jimmy Miller, Jack Milne, Mark Burnham, Sam McGill, Alvin Smith and Walt Francis, all of Carolina, finished hands together in the time of 17:14 to give the Tar Heels their third victory in as many starts. Julian MacKenzie, another Tar Heel, finished eighth by crossing the line in 18:35.

First across for the Engineers were Couridion, who came in seventh in 17:44, and Hunts, the possessor of an 18:35 mark that enabled him to finish ninth behind MacKenzie.

Strait and Holden, running unofficially for Carolina, crossed the finish line after Hunts in 18:44.

Shortly before the first score he kicked out of bounds on Duke's one-foot line and later registered a 56-yard quick kick that rolled dead on Duke's four.

PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED
GLASSES REPAIRED
Durham Optical Co.
215 W. Main St.
Phone F-2141 Durham

SALES and REPAIRS
On Watches and Jewelry
Watch Crystals Fitted in One Hour.
GODWIN Jewelry Company
Beneath Sutton's Drug Store

BE COMFORTABLE
RIDE IN A
CAROLINA CAB
DIAL 4811 DIAL

There's No MiSTEAK About It
You can't buy ---
You can't enjoy ----
Better Steaks than our famous

KANSAS CITY STEAKS
QUALITY AT REASONABLE PRICES
THE UNIVERSITY RESTAURANT
Next to Post Office

Intramural Standings

(For Week Ending November 3)

Dorm—White	W	L	SAE No. 1	5	1
			Chi Phi	2	4
			ATO No. 1	3	3
*Grads	7	0	DKE No. 2	1	5
Steele	5	2	St. Anthony	2	4
Brockwell	4	2	Frat—White
Med Sch No. 2	3	4		W	L
Stacy	4	3	Zeta Psi	6	0
Grimes	2	4	Kap Sig No. 1	3	1
Pharmacy	1	5	PiKA	3	2
Everett	0	6	Phi Gam No. 1	2	3
			Sig Nu No. 2	2	3
Dorm—Red	W	L	KA No. 2	2	4
*Aycock	7	0	ZBT	0	5
BVP	4	1	Frat—Green
Graham	4	2		W	L
Med School No. 1	3	3	DKE No. 1	5	1
Alexander	1	4	Phi Delt No. 1	4	1
Manley	0	5	Beta No. 2	4	2
Miller	0	6	SAE No. 2	2	2
Ruffin	0	6	Chi Psi	2	3
			ATEP	1	5
Dorm—Blue	W	L	TEP	1	5
Lewis	6	0	Frat—Red
Mangum	5	1		W	L
Law School	4	2	*Sigma Chi	7	0
Old East	3	3	Phi Gam No. 2	2	2
Emerson	3	3	Sigma Nu No. 1	4	2
Independent	1	5	Kap Sig No. 2	4	3
Old West	0	6	KA No. 1	3	3
			Phi Kap	2	3
Frat—Blue	W	L	Pi Lamb	1	4
Beta No. 1	5	1	Delta Sig	0	6
Phi Delt No. 2	5	1	*Clinched league crown.

WHEN YOU CAN'T SEE YOUR TREAD, SEE US!
The Best Rubber And Workmanship Available

Complete Bicycle Repair Service
PATTERSON TIRE COMPANY
WEST FRANKLIN ST.

IT'S A SURE WINNER
So Try This WEEKEND SPECIAL
TASTY Black Walnut ICE CREAM
Available in Insulated "Carry-home" Bags
FARMERS DAIRY COOPERATIVE MILK BAR AND RETAIL STORE
W. Franklin Street Dial F-3371
Dial F-3361

Last Performance—Tomorrow Night at 8:30 P. M.—The Playmakers Theatre
LINDSAY & CROUSE'S PULITZER PRIZE COMEDY
State Of The Union
RESERVE SEATE NOW AT LEDBETTER-PICKARD'S OR SWAIN HALL