New York, Nov. 5—(UP)—Reports from all parts of the country show a record turnout for today's election—the first peace-time national election since 1940. The weather is good in almost all states. Earliest returns are much too fragmentary to indicate any probable winners. But in most districts so far, republican candidates are leading their democratic opponents.

Y'all Kin Larn to Squar Dance Tonight...

Western NC Group Will Hold Sadie Hawkins Day Practice

By Helen Highwater

Members of the Western North Carolina club, rebelling at the way "furriners" to "squar" dances, are sponsoring a big pre-Sadie Hawkins Day rehearsal tonight at 7 o'clock in Woollen gymnasium.

"Li'l Abner, Mammie, Pappy, the Wolf Gal, and even Lena square dance better than most of the people from the flat lands. We Western North Carolinians want to help the rest of the campus learn all about the mountain way of dancing before the big day. That's the reason for the big rehearsal," Breezy Pless, president of the WNC club said yesterday afternoon.

Pless explained that the whole campus was invited to come to the intricacies of "swing your lady" by WNC club members. Playing both for the party tonight and for Saturday's events will be a special student hillbilly band organized by George Mathews.

Five callers will direct tonight's dancing. Arnold Wilson of Candler, Bud Reagan of Asheville, Bud Robinson of Murphy, Spud Davis of Waynesville and Gene Hall of Breward, all Western North Carolinians and expert callers, have consented to donate their talents to help bring the mountains to Chapel Hill.

R. A. FETZER

Fetzer to Talk In Di Senate This Evening

In an attempt to create a better understanding between the Athletic Association and the student body, the Di-alectic Senate will present Athletic director Bob Fetzer in an open discussion on the sale of football tickets, at its meeting on third floor of New West at 9 o'clock this evening.

Coach Fetzer has consented to explain the Association's stand in this matter, and has further consented to take into consideration any "concrete suggestions" made by participating students.

Discussion is expected to center around the following points: (1) seating arrangement, (2) whether or not athletic tickets should be transferable, (3) whether or not the Honor Code is violated when a student is forced to show his ID card before he can be admitted, (4) the seating of WC women on the opponent's side to cheer by themselves.

SCHW Will Discuss Walkout At Meeting Here Tonight

Thomasville Furniture Strike is Subject; Management Leaders Are Unable to Attend

The campus chapter of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare will attempt to bring to light and to public understanding the facts behind the Thomasville furniture strike at its meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

The 1,200 strikers, who walked out over twelve weeks ago, claim that they are striking against the "semi-feudal empire" that Doak Finch, the owner, has built over a period of years by controlling both banks and most of the town's merchants, accompanied by low wages and financial servitude.

Give Strikers' Side

William Bell, International Representative of the UFWA, will appear at the meeting to give the striker's side of the picture. Finch, not replying to telegrams sent to him, was reached at his home by telephone, and explained his inability to be at the projected meeting as being busy at the time.

Further efforts were made to secure one of the presidents of the local banks. Both of these two men were unable to come. Arrangements are still being attempted to have some individual present the side of Mr. Finch.

To Be Held as Planned

Believing that it is important, especially in the light of the foregoing, for the present conditions in Thomasville to be known, the meeting will be held as planned.

Independent Coeds Hold Meeting Tonight at 7:30

There will be a meeting of the executive council of the Carolina Independent Coed Association tonight at 7 o'clock in Roland Parked lounge. Topic for discussion will be the Sadie Hawkins Day parade which is to be sponsored by the organization Saturday.

There will be no admission, and the public is invited to see these plays produced by dramatic art students under the general supervision of Foster Fitz-Simons, as-

Followed Glenn Miller's Path to Fame...

George Paxton's Band Will Provide Tempo For This Year's Yackety-Yack Beauty Ball

By Gene Johnstone

That select and "hard-to-crash" fraternity of name-bands has opened its doors to George Paxton and his crew, the first new dance orchestra to win its way to fame and favor since Glenn Miller came through in 1939. Paxton brings his widely acclaimed unit to the University for the 1947 Yackety Yack Beauty Ball in a personal appearance on the Wake Forest weekend, November 15 and 16.

First at Roseland

In the Summer of '44, after starting his own band, Paxton began his rapid climb to musical heights, by opening at the Roseland Ballroom in New York, with national radio air time. His subsequent appearances at the Hotel Lincoln, Capitol theatre, Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Pennsylvania, scene of Glenn Miller's greatest triumphs, and his appearance at the Sherman hotel in Chicago attest to his meteoric rise to the heights of popularity.

His orchestra consists of 22 players: five sax, six brass, four rhythm, and two vocalists. Much of the success of the Paxton's Band is definitely attributed to the maestro himself, who turns out 70 per cent of the band's highly styled arrangements. He has also created a great number of original instrumentals which are part of the increasing popularity of the band.

Leader of the nationally featured band signed to play for the Yack's Beauty Ball November 15-16 is George Paxton.

Tickets for the dances go on sale today in the Y. Price for both dances will be $3.75; concert tickets will go on sale for $.75. The concert will be held in Memorial hall Friday, November 15, at 5 p.m.

Candlelight Room Set To Open Friday Night

Manager Says Necessary to Limit Crowd To 60 Couples; Decorations Still Secret

By Dave Owens

Entertainment-seeking Carolina students may hardly recognize the completely revamped Candlelight Room in Graham Memorial when it reopens Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Manager Johnny Jones stated he perferred to keep decorative additions to the popular nightspot a secret until the opening.

Since the first night crowd must be limited to 60 couples, reservations are now being made in the office of Graham Memorial. The reservation register, put out yesterday at two o'clock was rapidly being filled within two hours.

May Still Reserve

Jones expressed the belief that there would be few vacancies at noon today, and that anyone wishing to be on hand for the floor show Friday night should go by Graham Memorial office immediately after 10 o'clock this morning. Choice tables will be assigned to those who sign up first.

Organized especially for use in the student union night club, the "Canary Combo," a new band unit, will provide music for dancing. Arthur Murray's former instructor in East Orange, N. J., Bill Townsend, will present two specialty numbers changing partners for each.

Telepathist, Singers, Instrumentalists
Telepathist artist Johnny Miles will perform and several singers and instrumentalists are to entertain.

Manager Jones and his assistants are now busy putting finishing touches to the new decorations.

There will be no cover charge connected with the redecorated night spot. Cokes and other soft drinks will sell at regular prices.

The club will open at 8 o'clock every evening except Monday, when it will be used for rehearsals and auditions for following entertainments. From Tuesday through Friday it will close at 11 and on Saturdays at midnight. Sunday's closing time will also be at 11.

Student Party Calls Meeting Tomorrow

A meeting of the Student Party will be held in Phi hall, fourth floor New East, tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, Chairman Chuck Heath stated.

Discussion of a petition to be drawn up by the Student Party and presented to the student body for signatures will be the chief topic on the afternoon's agenda. Concerned with sending a student speaker to the state legislature in January, the petition discusses the following three main points:

A self-financing plan for Lenoir dining hall, instructor's salaries, and a financing plan for new dormitories.

"The Student Party is going to take an active part in student and University affairs which concern the students directly, as well as being a political force in student government on the campus," Heath said.

The program for the coming general elections, which will be held in the near future, will also be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

Famous Architect Speaks Tonight

Person hall will be the host to Paul Beidler, nationally famed architect, today at 4 o'clock in the art gallery. Beidler, who is planning homes for several Chapel Hill residents, will speak to anyone interested in building.

Following his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania he went to the Near East and served in an archeological expedition. Between these expeditions he worked in Europe with Le Corbusier and Jan Duiker of Amsterdam. His travels carried him also to the Coast and to Honolulu before returning to Pennsylvania to practice architecture.

YM-YWCA SUPPER FORUM

The YM-YWCA Supper Forum will meet November 14 instead of tomorrow as originally planned. It will begin at 6 o'clock in the Methodist Church and tickets, to be sold in advance, will be limited.

Lead Posted By Democrats

Durham Is Ahead In Sixth District

While voters in record crowds across America were establishing Republican leads in many contests, the voters of Chapel Hill and the North state in general kept the democratic party in power. Election officials said yesterday's vote was one of the smallest in many years.

Carl Durham of Chapel Hill, democratic candidate for reelection to the house of representatives from the sixth district, won an easy majority in Orange county and was confident of a great lead throughout his district. Other democratic nominees to Orange county offices were sure of victory.

One Republican Wins

In fact, in Orange county only one Republican was named to office, J. Frank Weaver, who was not even a candidate. A single write-in vote gave him the post of county surveyor. Elected to a position for which neither party had entered any nominations, Weaver had two votes written in for him, but the second was voided by election officials because of improper marking on the ballot.

Representative Durham stood by the Chapel Hill election officials in the city hall as they tallied returns from the town's two precincts.

Student Music Recital Scheduled for Today

The third in a series of student recitals consisting of varied works in voice, piano, and clarinet will be presented this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Hill Hall.

Accompanied by Frank Groseclose at the piano, Ed Easter, tenor, will begin the program with "Tu Mancovi a Tormantarmi," by Cesti, "Quando sarai quel di" by Tonaglia, and "Lasciate mi Morire!" by Monteverde.

Following his performance, Groseclose will render Bach's "Tocatta and Fugue in E Minor."

Allen Garrett, accompanied by Richard Rancourt at the piano, will give several selections of Mozart, on the clarinet.

The program will close with selections by Audrey Green, mezzo-soprano, and Sara E. Parker, soprano.

Only Three Mo' Days...

"Ole Man Mose" may not know when Christmas or Thanksgiving comes, but he knows for certain that Sadie Hawkins Day is just three days off—Saturday to be exact. He says that Lena the Hyena "will ketch the one with the meekest to lose." There will be an anxious batch of campus Dogpatters towing the mark when that fatal day comes.
