Campus Officers Conference To Meet Next Week

NEWS BRIEFS

U.S. Educators Are Winners Of Peace Prize

Harvard Man Wins Nobel Physics Grant

Stockholm, Nov. 14—(UP)—The Nobel Peace Prize for 1946 has been awarded jointly to YMCA leader John Mott and Emily Green Balch, former Wellesley College professor, now president of the International Women's League for Peace. This year's literature prize went to Herman Hesse, German-born resident of Switzerland, while Dr. P. W. Bridgeman of Harvard University won the Nobel physics prize.

Famed Astronomer Charged with Contempt

Washington, Nov. 14—(UP)—Representative John Rankin of Mississippi has charged the world-famous Harvard astronomer, Dr. Harlow Shapley, with contempt of Congress. The charge grew out of a stormy session of the House un-American Activities Committee at which Rankin was the only committee member present. Doctor Shapley was called as a witness. He says Rankin used the stamper methods of the Nazi gestapo.

Republican Committee Plans Tax Reduction

Washington, Nov. 14—(UP)—Congressional leaders report that a legislative program of about half a dozen items was agreed upon at today's meeting of the Republican steering committee. The big item was tax reduction.

Chief Executive Meets With Budget Director

Washington, Nov. 14—(UP)—President Truman conferred with Budget Director James Webb today on the fiscal program for 1948 which he'll present the new Congress. Mr. Truman also called in top ranking Army and Navy officers to discuss military budget.

The Treasurer will pay off another four billion dollar chunk of the national debt in the next 30 days. That will leave the debt at 258 billion.

Transport Reported Down Near Amsterdam

London, Nov. 14—(UP)—The Exchange telegraph reports that approximately 20 persons have been killed in the crash of a DC-3 transport plane at Schiphol Airdrome outside Amsterdam.

Columbia Explosion Claims Nine Lives

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 14—(UP)—The explosion which demolished a banana ripening shed in Columbia today has claimed five lives. Eight persons were injured, most of them seriously.

US Opposes Attempt To Annex Territory

Lake Success, N. Y., Nov. 14—(UP)—The United States opposed South Africa's attempt to annex the mandated territory of Southwest Africa. The American position was announced in a terse statement before the UN General Assembly.

Wallace Will Speak On Atomic Bomb Today

"Can the Atomic Bomb be Peacefully Controlled?" will be the subject of a talk by Jimmy Wallace before an open meeting of the Wesley Foundation Social Action Committee this afternoon at 4:30 at the Methodist Church (second floor). All students are invited to hear Wallace, physics department graduate and law student, speak.

Weather Today
Fair and slightly warmer

Yack Will Present Beauties Tonight

Smiling, brunette June Sauer, senior from Chapel Hill, is the lovely miss for whom the Daily Tar Heel staff to a man is rooting for to be crowned queen of the annual Yackety Yack Beauty Ball this weekend.

UNC Professors Enter Conference On Atomic Energy

Scientists and laymen will join together this afternoon and tonight at the Little Theatre in Raleigh to present a program on atomic research and its effect on international affairs. Dr. J. W. Straley of the UNC Physics Department will speak on the "Political Aspects of the Control of Atomic Energy," and Dr. Frank Hanft of the Law School will talk on "The Case for World Government."

The Raleigh meeting is part of a statewide series of programs designed to present the facts of atomic research in non-technical style to North Carolina audiences.

The program will include addresses by Dr. L. W. Nordheim and Dr. Karl Z. Morgan, both of the Clinton laboratories; and Dr. Cuthbert Daniels of Carbide and Carbon corporation. All three took part in the research on the atom bomb. A film "The Tale of Two Cities" will point out the destruction caused by the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, and an eye witness report will be made on the operations at Bikini.

All persons interested are urged to attend either this conference or subsequent ones to be held in Wilmington on Monday, Fayetteville on Wednesday and Rocky Mount on Thursday. No charge for admission will be made.

Judges for the event will be Mrs. Betty Warren Jones, Carl Snavely, James Street, William M. Prince.

Counterfeit Plot On Dorsey Tickets Foiled by Council

An attempt to counterfeit tickets for the Tommy Dorsey dance next weekend was foiled Wednesday when a representative of the student government and Durham police apprehended a Carolina student as he called at a Durham printing office for bogus admissions he had ordered. That student, whose name has not been revealed, was tried last night before the Men's Honor council.

Posing as the agent of a fictitious dance committee, the unidentified student placed an order with a Durham

University Veterans Elect Roy Moose As New President

By Ed Joyner

Meeting in Memorial Hall last night the University Veterans association unanimously elected Roy Moose, Daily Tar Heel reporter to replace Jim Chesnutt as president of the organization. Moose will take over the office immediately and hold it for the next six months.

Wake Forest Pep Rally Will Feature Rameses

A pep rally featuring the first public appearance of Rameses, the Tar Heel mascot, will be held tonight in Memorial Hall at 7:30 under sponsorship of the University club. The band, cheerleaders, and two prominent athletic figures will head the program of activities for the Wake Forest pre-game season.

Swimming Coach R. E. Jamerson and Wrestling Coach R. H. Quinlan will speak at the rally. Head cheerleader Devan Barbour is master of ceremonies in place of Mike Morrow, University club president, who is recovering from a recent illness.

The University club has included no torchlight parade in tonight's rally despite a previous announcement, in order to save the impressive ceremony to climax the Duke rally one week hence. All tonight's activities will take place inside Memorial hall.

Hugh Wells, former UVA publicity director was elected vice president, and Jim Farlow secretary. Incumbent treasurer John Temple was unanimously re-elected to that office.

Plan Constitution

The veterans also approved a statement of policy submitted by Jim Chesnutt to serve as the basis for a constitution. The statement included all features of the old constitution with the added provision that a quorum of members present at duly publicized business meetings is sufficient to carry out business matters.

At the request of Jesse Wilson, President-elect Roy Moose was instructed by the veterans to appoint a committee to investigate the Chapel Hill Mutual Distributors, Inc., in order to decide what action the UVA can take in its support.

Retiring officers are Jim Chesnutt, President, Ollie Beaman, vice president, and Art Friedman, secretary.

The veterans honored retiring president Jim Chesnutt with a rising vote of appreciation for the fine job he has done in guiding the organization during the past months.

Session Opens Tuesday Night With Banquet

Nearly 300 Leaders Expected to Attend

By Barron Mills

A mass Campus Government Conference designed to iron out problems and difficulties in the various groups will be held for the officers of all campus organizations next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The three day session for the nearly 300 officers expected will open with a banquet in the Carolina Inn ball room 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Dr. Frank Graham will talk to the officers giving a critical picture of the campus scene. The following night Chancellor Robert B. House will address the group in a general session. The conference will come to a close Thursday evening with another banquet in the Carolina Inn. Rev. Charles M. Jones will give the final address on the social and moral life of the campus.

Emphasize Discussion Groups

Each of the three nights the conference committee will stress the importance of group discussions. The committee has appointed a leader for each of the eight groups listed below and the discussion periods will center around problems that confront each of the groups particularly.

Dewey Dorsett, president of the student body and also chairman of the conference committee emphasized the fact that the committee plans not to have a stuffy, formal conference, but to talk very frankly in an informal way about the various problems on the campus.

Co-op Buyers Meet Tonight

The Co-op Buying Club will hold its second organizational meeting of the quarter tonight at 7:30 o'clock in 206 Venable hall.

Due to the unexpectedly large response at the first meeting the organizers, Tom McDade and Henry Saunders, have pushed ahead plans to incorporate the Club and turn it into a regular Co-op store outlet. These plans will be discussed at the meeting and a board of governors will be elected.

Anyone May Join

"Even though the Co-op enterprise is designed primarily for students veterans," Saunders said, "anyone in Chapel Hill who is finding it increasingly difficult to stay within their grocery budget is invited to join the Co-op."

It was announced that another canned and packaged goods order will be taken at the meeting, despite previous notices to the contrary. Information concerning procedure can be obtained at the meeting or by calling Henry Saunders at 6376.

Women's Glee Club Will Broadcast From Hill Tonight

The Women's Glee Club will broadcast tonight at 10:45 from Hill Hall over station WPTF, Raleigh. Under the direction of Paul Young, the Club will present a program of varied music.

The group gained considerable statewide fame last year for its participation in the Spring Concert and tour of communities in Western North Carolina.

Highlight of tonight's broadcast will be Holst's "Hymn to Agni," an exciting plea to the god of fire. The broadcast will include, "Blessed Are They That Dwell In Thy House," from Brahms' "Ave Maria"; Holst's "Tears, Idle Tears," from "The Princess"; de Palestrina's "Rex Admirabilis"; and

"Pueri Concinite" by Handel.

Students are welcome to the recital, however, everyone must be seated in the hall by 10:15. During the concert absolute silence must be maintained.
