NEWS BRIEFS Tar Heels Meet Final Test Of Season At Virginia Porter Resigns Wartime Price Head To Quit December 4

Washington, Nov. 29-(UP)-The man who led the OPA through its most trying period has resigned. President Truman tonight accepted the resignation of Price Chief Paul Porter, effective December 4th.

His departure had been rumored since President Truman stripped the Price Agency of all controls except those on rent, sugar, and rice three weeks ago. It is reported that Porter will take a 50-thousand dollar a year post with Broadcast Music Incorporated. However, Porter told the United Press that he had no immediate plans except to take a long rest. But in his letter of resignation, Porter said he was making a complete break from government work and would not return to his job as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Blast Congress

Both Porter and Mr. Truman in their exchange of letters let go with one last blast at Congress for emasculating the price control law.

The president congratulated Porter for his good work and said he was

As OPA Chief Lack of Quorum Causes Legislature Adjournment

Special Session Asked for Monday Evening To Send Delegation to Chicago Conference

The Student Legislature Thursday evening reached the most pressing item on the agenda-setting up Carolina's delegation to the American Conference of College Students December 28-30only to find itself adjourned for lack of quorum. The final session of the fall term, which approved two new bylaws and killed two bills while a quorum still existed, may reconvene Monday evening to act on the Chicago student assembly.

Legislature bylaws were amended to prohibit the use of proxies by members and to allow only two unexcused absences per school year for each legislature, with the penalty of unseating for excess absences. In addition the body voted to insert in the Daily Tar Heel the attendance records of each legislator following every meeting. Both new rules become effective next term.

Favorable reports by legislature committees were disregarded by the members, who defeated bills to set up a campus solicitation control commission and to finance Order of the Golden Fleece space in the Yackety Yack from student body funds. The floor offered considerable debate on both measures.

Cavaliers Ready To Give Carolina A Heated Contest

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel) Charlottesville, Va., Nov., 29 -Carolina's once-beaten gridders will seek their eight triumph of the season and a possible bowl bid here tomorrow in Scott stadium when they oppose Virginia's hot-and-cold eleven in the season's finals for both teams.

The clash is the 51st renewal in the long series between the two colleges, with Carolina leading by a 24 to 23 score. Three games were tied.

The Cavaliers have been an up-anddown team this year, but last Saturday romped on West Virginia. If they can upset the favored Tar Heels, it will be a good finish that will erase some bad memories down the line. It would also avenge Carolina's upset 27-18 win of last year, in addition to pulling up even in the long series as a whole.

Top Runners Slowed

Carolina is not expected to be at top shape for the game tomorrow, with two of its top backs slowed due to injuries. Charlie Justice sustained a knee injury in the Duke game that kept him out of hard practice this week, but he is expected to see action. Billy Myers also has suffered a leg injury that may keep him out of the game. Coach Carl Snavely is ready to call on his other three tailbacks to back up his two top-flight triple threat men. ### Prosecutors Prepare Fight Against Lewis

Washington, Nov. 29-(UP)-Government prosecutors have begun to build their legal case against John L. Lewis. The formal trial of the United Mine Workers chief on charges of contempt got underway this afternoon after Federal Judge Alan Goldsborough had rejected the arguments of defense lawyers that the case should be dismissed.

Lewis has entered a formal plea of not guilty, and has waived any right he might have to trial by jury. The first witness for the government was Federal Mine Administrator N. H. Collisson, who has given the court a lengthy account of the government Davidoff conferred with him in Washseizure of the coal mines last May and of the cotract which Lewis repudiated last week despite a court injunction.

Seek to Limit Delegates Sharp debate grew out of a motion to limit the UNC delegates at the Chicago conference from speaking on racial discrimination. Joe Byrd offered a measure which would charge Carolina's delegates to make every effort to squelch discussion of discrimination at the meeting. However, before any action was taken on either the motion or actual delegation at the conference, which reaches its deadline December 1, the lack of quorum was pointed out.

Speaker Charlie Warren immediately adjourned the session after Winston

SP Chooses Collins, Shropshire, Byrd for Legislature

By Sam Whitehall

Three renominations to the Student Legislature entered the campus political scene yesterday afternoon as Bob Collins, Joe Byrd, and Don Shropshire were drafted to run for re-election to their present posts, by the Student Party in their second open nominating convention.

Party chairman Chuck Heath presiding over the session, has called another nominating convention for Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the Graham Memorial Candlelight room, at which time it is hoped final nominations may be made for remaining posts, to include student legislators from town and dormitories, Men's Council representatives, and one Student Council post.

With a perfect attendance record for his past six months as student legislator from the town district, Don Shropshire, Winston-Salem, has a long record of participation in extracurricular activities. At present he is a third-year student in the School of Commerce. Shropshire was recently re-elected to the presidency of the Dialectic Senate, and, as chairman of the Student Legislature elections committee, is one of the few members of that group with a perfect attendance record.
