

Why You Should Vote

(1) The new constitution gives the student legislature the power to levy and collect fees from each student in the University. Next year's planned budget deals with over $109,000 of your money. See that you put good men in the legislature to regulate this budget.

(2) The Daily Tar Heel is the voice of the student body to the outside world. Through it your parents and friends, and the alumni of UNC find out what is going on in school. It is a $50,000 a year business—see that YOU elect a good man for the editorship.

(3) The president of the student body has the power of veto over the legislature. He is an "ex officio" member of all standing committees—he appoints vacancies in student government between elections and appoints the chairman of many important boards and committees. Know the man you vote for.

(4) The vice-president of the student body serves as speaker of the student legislature. He must be a man that can demand decorum from that group. By the way he arranges the agenda, so goes the business of that body. It takes a good man, See that YOU vote to put a good man in that office.

Horseless Buggy Doctor

Chapel Hill's congested public arteries, whose unnatural swelling has of late moved both carowners and pedestrians alike to general grouching and various impractical panaceas, are finally going under the care of an expert. At the behest of the Student Legislature, the State Highway commission's traffic engineer will come here this week to attempt to solve our little town's big parking and traffic problem.

Robert A. Burch is the trouble-shooter's name, and after a survey expected to last from a week to ten days, he will report his findings and recommendations to a safety committee appointed by Chancellor House.

Our only experience with practical traffic problems is in trying to stay among the class of the quick and not the dead along Franklin street's convertible-studded length. Nevertheless, because we realize the magnitude of the campus' congested condition, we can eagerly await the day that the engineer's findings can be put into effect and the two-horse atmosphere of the past can be relatively restored.

The Legislature, along with the administration can be commended for its alertness in moving to ease this thorn in the town's automotive side.

Our only recommendation to Mr. Burch is that he leave his car in Raleigh when he comes to survey the problem, and that he look carefully before attempting to cross our main thoroughfare at the rush hour.—E. B. A.

Those who continue to shrink from responsibility continue to shrink.

There is one thing more important than having a good man in the White House, and that's having a good man in every house.

Yelling at children isn't likely to make the home a howling success.

The man who knows how to say, "I'm sorry" to his wife and children knows how to end deadlocks with his associates, his boss, or employees.

What can happen tomorrow depends on how we are living today.

Build on what unites. Then we can unite to build.

The Daily Tar Heel

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Member
Associated Collegiate Press

The official newspaper of the Publications Board of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, where it is published daily, except Mondays, examination and vacation periods; during the official summer terms, it is published semi-weekly on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Chapel Hill, N. C., under the act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price: $5.00 per college year; $3.00 per quarter.

COMPLETE LEASED WIRE SERVICE OF UNITED PRESS

The opinions expressed by the columnists are their own and not necessarily those of The Daily Tar Heel.

BILL WOESTENDIEK Editor
ROLAND GEDUZ Managing Editor
IRWIN SMALLWOOD Sports Editor
BILL SELIG Business Manager
BURTON MYERS Circulation Manager

ASSOCIATE EDITORS: Earl Hoffman, Eddie Allen.
SPECIAL BOARD: Gene Aenebach, Tom Miles, Jud Hlabang, Jimmy Wallace, Al Lowenstein, Roy Moore.
DESK EDITORS: Barton Mills.
EDITORIAL STAFF: Matt Hodgson, Sam Daniels, Bettie Washburn, Manny Margolis.
NEWS EDITORS: Chuck Hanson, Beulah Johnson, Lawrence Clements.
ASSOCIATE STAFF EDITORS: Bob Goldwater.
SPORTS STAFF EDITORS: Billy Carmichael, Morty Schapp.
STAFF STAFF: Ed McLeod, Dick Weaver, Ray Holman.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHERS: Bob Brown.
ASSOCIATE BUSINESS MANAGERS: Howard Selby.
ADVERTISING MANAGERS: Ed Parrell.
BUSINESS STAFF: Susanne Barclay, Guy Kirkman, Dick Messinger, Charles Robinson, Natalie Bell, Barbara Thomas, Mary Willie Elger.
ADVERTISING STAFF: E. E. Clark, Edna Holden, John Moore, Joe Williams.
BUSINESS STAFF: Julia Moody.
NEWS STAFF: Ed Joyce, Sigbee Miller, Timely Campbell, Charlie Gibson, Merrily Brooks, Dave Owens, Ed Long, Miriam Evans, Jean Parkerville, Brooks Perkins, Harry Gorman, Betty Washburn, Roney Stanford, Mae Belle Roman, Bill Gorton, Ken Robb, Jerry Davidson, Jane Bauer, Bob Morrison, Sam Whitcomb, Helen Highwater.

FOR THIS ISSUE:

NIGHT EDITOR: Charlie Gibson NIGHT SPORTS: Morty Schapp

4-29
MAMABUS
Copyright © 1947 by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.
"My pop says I shouldn't worry if other kids is smarter than me. He says I got race superiority."

Constitutional Amendments

(Ed. note—This is the concluding article of a series prepared by Dewey Dorsett and Charles Warren to acquaint students with the proposed amendments to the constitution at next Tuesday's election.)

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE—THE HOUSE PRIVILEGES BOARD
The house privileges board was created during the war. Its purpose is to make all rules concerning coed visiting privileges in fraternity houses. The fraternities were put on their honor to uphold the rules, but in addition the board made spot checks to see if the standards were being upheld. Is this not an unusual procedure to put students on their honor and then go around checking up? Such a system was doomed to failure from the beginning and this year the board has to all intents and purposes ceased to function. The coed visiting privileges agreement was drawn up by the parties concerned: the fraternities, the coed, and the administration meeting together. It is enforced by the honor system and has worked successfully all year.

The amendment provides for the complete elimination of section 7, Article III, pertaining to the House Privileges Board.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR—ELECTIONS DATES
Sec. 3 of Article V provides that General Campus Elections shall be held on the first Tuesday in May and that the inauguration shall be held on the third Tuesday in May. This means that the general campus elections comes barely three weeks before final exams and hardly gives the old officers a good opportunity to orientate the new officers in their respective jobs. Sec. 2 of Article I provides that half of the legislature shall be elected on the second Tuesday in December. This date too comes too close to examinations and works an undue hardship on both the candidates and the elections board.

The amendment provides that the date of general campus elections shall be moved up one month to the first Tuesday in April. The inauguration will be held on the third Tuesday. The date of the December elections will be moved up one week to the first Tuesday in December. The adoption of this change will eliminate conflicts with the examination schedule and allow the returning officers sufficient time to instruct the new officers in their duties and responsibilities.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE—THE HONOR COUNCIL
By far the most important amendment to be submitted for your approval concerns our honor councils. The foundation of student self government at the University rests upon the honor code and the campus code. If the enforcement of these codes is encumbered by a complex, unwieldy organization of our honor courts, constitutions will be of no avail. We will have lost student government by virtue of the ridicule and contempt of the student body. Accordingly, the proposed amendment tremendously strengthens our honor code and simplifies the whole judicial system by eliminating the appeal procedure from the men's and women's councils to the student council. The Student council thus becomes a court of constitutionality, hearing all cases involving the alleged constitutionality of acts passed by the legislature and deciding cases of jurisdiction in conflicts between various organizations. All honor and campus code violations will be tried by the men's and women's councils. Appeals from their decisions will be sent directly to the faculty executive committee instead of the student council.

The absolute necessity for this change is prompted by so many important factors that the chairman of the councils are submitting statements to you which will go into greater detail.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX—CONCERNING FORM
This amendment simply provides for the renumbering and rewording of the parts of the constitution affected by the amendments which will be passed and for a better classification of the powers and duties of the officers and of any part of the document, but will enable the improvement of the committees provided for. This amendment will cause no change in the meaning of any part of the document, but will enable the improvement of the form and the style of the constitution.

We heartily recommend that you vote for the approval of all these amendments. They were designed for one purpose: to strengthen student government. It is imperative that the change be made now.

DEWEY DORSETT, Pres. of Student Body
CHARLES WARREN, Vice-Pres.

Letters To The Editor

All letters must be typewritten, double-spaced, under 300 words in length, and signed by the writer. Writer's name will be withheld on request, but letters must be signed. The Daily Tar Heel reserves the right to present the letters as it wishes and to delete all matter it considers libelous.

To the Left

Sir:
Thank you for printing a picture of one of my hogs and me on page one of your paper. I was happy to note that, as usual, I was to the left.
JAMES STREET

Strictly Detrimental....

Daylight Saving Problem Leaves Columnist in Dark

By Jud Kinberg

One thing that has been worrying me ever since I was able to steal the watch out of my dad's vest pocket is what the devil they do with the hour they save up north when they go on daylight saving time.

I haven't said anything about it in the past because as a died-in-the-cotton Southerner, I didn't want to embarrass the Democratic administration up in Washington. After all, they probably had an alphabet agency to take care of allocating that extra hour to the dust bowl or—more likely—some punch bowl. But now that them Republicans are in, I refuse to keep quiet any longer. It seems to me that if no answer is forthcoming quickly, if they don't have an item in the budget for allocation of that hours, our lawmakers may well find themselves facing a charge of malfeasance in and out of office.

It is just this sort of lethargy on the part of voters that has perpetuated many an abuse in our fair country. Somebody passes a law and the next thing you know there are only 23 hours in the day. Now if that doesn't fly in the face of everything democratic and godly, I've been reading out of the wrong pew.

I'll be frank, Senator Taft, there's no use trying to pettifog me back into indifference. I know my constitutional rights and I want an answer. You boys up there have gone and done it, now account for that hour.

I don't believe the Senators have quite considered just how much ruckus daylight saving time is bound to cause. That justly-famous line from every gangster film, "Ratface, you have only 24 hours to live," will have to be changed to "Ratface, you have only 23 hours to live."

Then too, yesterday is no longer yesterday. In the parlance of the big Army brass, it's yesterday-minus-one. As for the Navy, they'll have to revive their system of belling out the time aboard ship. Of course, no one ever understood what the chimes meant anyway, so maybe that won't be too bad.

What it will do to the lunar system is beyond description. The moon's going to get awfully confused unless somebody explains the new setup to her in a hurry. And I'm willing to wager that not a commission in a carload on Capitol Hill has thought about finding out how the constellations feel about the whole thing.

Of course, if the hour is put to some good use such as designating it official "Cocktail Time" for North and South America, I might be willing to withdraw my objections. Or if some provision has been made to collect that hour each day and when they're all totalled up to set it aside as a "Cocktail Week" for North and South America—sort of a Found Weekend—then I guess I'll drop my suit and even my BVD's.

All local legislators I've talked to about this business have insisted that I go ahead with proceedings immediately. But I'm willing to give the Republicans a chance. I just don't want them to think that because they were elected on a "Had Enough?" ticket that we meant for them to go and take that hour away from us.

I'm glad to see that the sovereign state of North Carolina has kept its head and not been sucked in by this daylight-saving time. Together with the other flowers of Southern statehood, it can form a base from which to fight this latest Northern-Republican grab for power.

Let's get started on our campaign before it's too late. Right now I bet Vandenberg is offering all those hours stolen from the taxpayers of America to the United Nations. Such stuff must cease. It's all right to help out in a pinch, but I'll be damned if I want to see that hour go without a fight. It's bound to ruin all the wage-hour and portal-to-portal systems we've just worked out.

And for me, it's going to cut my sack time down considerably. I'll only be able to sleep 23 hours a day now.

What Do YOU Say?

By Harry Snowden

Today's Question

What do you think of Henry Wallace's recent speeches to foreign nations and the resulting effects in this country?

Answers

I think Mr. Wallace is much overrated as to both his influence and his following. He is like many another agitator except that he once was a government official. His utterances are of course resented by all thinking people but I think that in the long run they are quite inconsequential and should be tolerated as an example of our type of democracy.—Paul Mullinax, Gastonia.

I think that Mr. Wallace should mind his own business and let Secretary Marshall handle our foreign policy.—Mason Thomas, Siler City.

Mr. Wallace is still bemoaning the fact that he was kicked out of the government and he's crying on an international scale. In my estimation, his opinions and attitudes toward the international problems are as spineless as the amoeba.—Camest West, Kinston.

I believe Mr. Wallace is definitely a communist. Probably a member of the Third International which takes its orders from Uncle Joe.—Dick Council, Salisbury.

It Happens Here...

- 2:00—VA Clinic
- 4:00—Student Party meeting in Roland Parker lounge of Graham Memorial.
- 5:00—United World Federalists meeting in Roland Parker lounge of Graham Memorial.
- 7:00—Compulsory meeting of all candidates in Gerrard hall.
- 7:30—Alpha Delta Pi alumni club meeting in Alpha Delta Pi house
- 8:30—UVA open house at club house. —Campus party variety review.

Crossword Puzzle

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

FALTER	SLATER
AVENUE	POLICE
RID	RATIO
MA	SUPREME
ETNAS	ED NOTE
REAL	RA STREW
RAIN	STORM
SHEDS	US AERO
WADI	OR SPRAT
AM	NEMESIS
ILL	VEDIC
NEATER	IACUTER
STEERS	MATERS

ACROSS

- 1—Possesses
- 4—He could eat no fat
- 9—Globe
- 13—High mountain
- 15—Make a speech
- 14—A no vote
- 15—Fell straight down
- 17—Definite article
- 18—Female deer
- 19—Town in Belgium
- 21—Too
- 23—Chill
- 25—Buffalo's lake
- 26—Musical note
- 30—Clam's teeth
- 32—Those in power
- 34—Speeding up (pl.)
- 37—Afternoon party
- 38—Friters' measures
- 39—Toward
- 40—Engineering degree
- 41—Revise
- 42—A number
- 45—Fragrant ointment
- 47—Relative (abbr.)
- 49—Heroic poem
- 51—Ask for payment
- 53—Where Byrd will explore
- 58—Ibex heron
- 59—Watered silk
- 60—Danish coin
- 61—Marry
- 62—A French seaport
- 63—A color

DOWN

- 1—Befall
- 2—Everything
- 3—Potatoes
- 4—A few
- 5—Mr. Truman
- 6—Rodent
- 7—Took food
- 8—Spreads to dry
- 9—Province of Canada
- 10—College cheer
- 11—Bridge term
- 12—Author of "Twas the Night Before Christmas"
- 13—Hebrew letter
- 14—Winged
- 15—Spiked, as drink
- 16—Evil charm
- 17—High note
- 18—Internal
- 19—Ancient chariot
- 21—Beverage
- 22—Attorney (abbr.)
- 23—Marked by ocean piles
- 24—Creek design
- 25—Tallness
- 26—Approaches
- 27—Stage player
- 28—Baby sheep
- 29—Fetters (abbr.)
- 31—Marjorie
- 32—Unpopular poems
- 33—Circulation
- 34—Brid
- 35—Bage
- 36—Unpopular poems