Dull Contest Sees Sherman Scoring Twice

Tar Heels Open Up Late in Game; Justice Sparks

By Billy Carmichael, III CAROLINA STADIUM, Co-lumbia, S. C., Oct. 8-North Carolina defeated South Carolina at football here this afternoon in just that dull a ball game. The final reading on the score board was 28-13.

The Tar Heels, flat like twoday-old champagne didn't quite live up to the press notices while the Gamecocks, reportedly ready to break into the winner's circle after two defeats will be that much readier come next Saturday.

South Carolina can be complimented on the fine displays of Southern hospitality that they showed their guests all afternoon in trying to prove to the doubting Tar Heels the existence of a Santa Claus. Time after time, the Gamecocks gifted the lads from the North with the nicest of scoring opportunities, especially in the first half, but the Tar Heels spent most of their time looking the gift horse in the mouth instead of stepping up to the touchdown window to cash their winning tickets.

The Tar Heels, during the afternoon, threatened more than the publicized weather did, but they did eventually cash in four times while the rain clouds failed to produce. Banking on many reserves that hadn't seen much action in the two previous games, the Tar Heels stumbled through the first half as their trusty air game, formerly the proof of the competing in most of the early efforts, went high, wide and unhandsome

When they did get underway, later in the game, the North Carolinians weren't the most impressive thing around in winning their third in a row. From the North Carolina point of view, it looked like a game to be chalked up as a bad afternoon. The South Carolinians concurred.
