

Region YWCA Head To Be Honored Here In Kenan Open House

An open house in honor of Miss Rosalie Oakes, regional director of the YWCA and the local YWCA Advisory Board, and three newly elected members will be held in the parlor of Kenan Dormitory tomorrow night from 8 until 9 o'clock.

Miss Oakes, who is arriving in Chapel Hill tonight, will remain until Tuesday. During that time she will hold conferences with all students who are interested in going into Y work and will speak to the Y cabinet Monday afternoon.

Newly elected members of the Advisory Board are Mrs. R. B. House, Dr. Sid Alexander and Mrs. Bernadine Sullivan. Replacing Mrs. Frank Graham, Mrs. Walter Spearman, and Mrs. R. H. Wettach, respectively, they will serve on the board for the term of one year.

Other members of the board, who will be honored are Mrs. Frank Hanft, chairman, Dr. Gordon Blackwell, Dean Bill Friday and Mrs. Friday, Miss Twig Branch, Mrs. John Sims, Claude Shotts, Miss Frances Yocum, Miss Gay Currie and Miss Katherine Carmichael, ex-officio. Student members of the board are Ann Chandler, president of the YWCA, Sarah Oliver, Ruth Whalen, and Jean Serpell.

Baby Sitter Now Has Own

PORT ANGELES, Wash., Oct. 22.—(P)—You may be slightly confused by this story about expectant father Robert Covault.

But then, so was Covault, who told it this way:

He was waiting on the fidgeters' bench at the hospital. At home his four-year-old daughter Joan was being cared for by a baby sitter—or so he thought.

Suppers Are Slated Tonight By Churches

Church plans for the weekend include a Baptist Student Union Supper today at 6 o'clock. J. C. Herrin, student chaplain, will speak on the subject of "Is There or Isn't There a God, or Should We Ask?" The Sunday school class will meet in the Student House at 9:45 this morning.

The Presbyterian Church sponsored their weekly square dance last night. The Sunday school class for students meets at 11 o'clock. There will be a student supper at 6 o'clock. Reverend Charlie Jones will discuss "The Presbyterian Church in Chapel Hill and The Race Problem."

Activities at the Episcopal Church include a service of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock today. The Student Bible Discussion Group will gather at 9:30. The celebration of Youth Sunday will be observed at the 11 o'clock service. The student offering will be for the St. Francis Boys' Homes in Kansas. At 6 o'clock Reverend Ray Holder, Rector of Christ Church in Raleigh, will speak on "The Sacraments. At 8 o'clock there will be a service of evening prayer.

Today's activities at the Methodist Church will begin with a Fellowship Period with coffee and doughnuts in the Director's apartment, at 9:45. In the Student class at 10 o'clock, Ed Wilbanks will report on L. De Nouy's Human Destiny. Morning worship will be at 11 o'clock. The Sunday Supper Program at 6 o'clock will be based on the theme "Christianity at the Grass Roots."

A panel discussion on Work Camps will be led by George Hauser, Executive Secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

-Cat Girl-

This is the Cat Girl's third appearance in New Orleans, but the folks are hoping that Lilly will settle and become a regular in the old French Quarter grind. She has become an institution around these parts. And people have even risen her to the heights of being mentioned in the same breath with Huey Long.

With Lilly back, the French Quarter is about the same as Tar Heels will remember it from the first of the year. There are still a dozen or more little places along Bourbon Street that feature an M.C. And a couple of ladies of the strip, but none of these can hold a tassel to the Cat Girl.

Lilly has a couple of competitors, though, if you want to call them that, across the street at the Casino Royal. The Oyster Girl is still in residence there, with her act slightly toned down at the request of the local gentlemen. But she has lost her top billing.

In her place, the management has placed Divina, who contributes an effort called an aquatese. That's an underwater strip tease and if nothing else, it certainly rates the title of being original.

There's a tank on the stage with a plate glass front into which Divina slips and proceeds to slip out of the things she slipped in with.

The act had been going great until several days ago when the Oyster Girl began to resent G-stringing along at second fiddle. So, one night last week in the middle of the aqua number, she attacked the tank with a fire ax.

-Carolina-

Hayes banged to the LSU 33 on the next play and then on the LSU 27 for another first down. Two plays later it was Hayes again to the LSU 22. Justice then flashed the middle on a delayed buck and slipped down to the LSU 8 for still another first down.

Two running plays backed the Tar Heels back to the LSU 10, but then Justice hit Bunting on the 5, leaving it fourth and still goal to go. Hayes stood erect on the following play and hit Weiner at the knees as the big end moved into the end zone at the left flat for a touchdown. Williams added the point and Carolina led, 7 to 0 at 9:50.

Wiess kicked to Hedges who fumbled on the LSU 35, but recovered. Three plays later Long kicked into the end zone. After two tries Justice quick kicked back, the ball rolling to the LSU 28.

LSU unleashed one more threat at the close of the period when West took a pitch out and passed to Anding on the Carolina 46. But here, three Tiger passes failed and Konz punted out on the Tar Heels 25. Carolina ran out into the rest o' the time and the half ended, Carolina leading 7-0.

Third Period Wiess kicked off to Roshto who returned the ball from his own 18 to the LSU 38. Van Buren took a pitch out wide to the right to the LSU 44. Freeman then slashed the Carolina right side, breaking into the secondary and running down to the Tar Heel 32. Freeman carried again to the left side to the 28. Then Roshto took a pitchout moving to the right, cut in down the sidelines eased past potential Tar Heel tacklers and went all the way behind nice blocking. Griffith missed the try for the point, making score 7-6, Carolina, after less than two minutes had gone in the period.

Hayes brought the kickoff back to his own 24, and after two plays had failed, Justice running from punt, swept to the Carolina 40. At this point, the Tar Heels stalled and finally Justice kicked to the LSU 20.

The Tigers could do little and punted back. The Tar Heels began to move. Justice hit Bunting on a running pass to the Tiger's 49. Then Justice hit Hayes all alone running at the sidelines. The fullback made a beautiful one hand catch on the LSU 40 and raced to the 25 before being stopped.

Hedges intercepted a Justice aerial two plays later to break up this threat, and after the Tigers had been penalized to their 3, Konz kicked to Carson, who returned the ball to the LSU 37. After two plays had driven the Tar Heels to the LSU 42, Hayes had his long forward intercepted by Hedges on the LSU 20 to end the threat.

Starting from the LSU 32, the Tigers brewed a threat of their own. Van Buren drove to the LSU 45 for a first down and then Baggett took the pitch out down to the Carolina 42. The running game throttled, Pevey passed up the middle to Roshto for still another first down on the Tar Heel 28. Then Knox ended the march by intercepting Konz's pass on Carolina's 4 yard line as the third period ended.

Fourth Quarter The Tar Heels went on the march as Hayes hit to the 10 and then on to the Carolina 23. Three plays later Hayes made another first down on the 34. After two weak tries, Hayes passed to Gantt moving in the left flat. The wingback took the ball on the Tar Heel 45 and after carrying it a few steps, dribbled the ball and was finally downed at mid-field.

The crowd booted the decision allowing the pass while Hayes hit the right side to the LSU 41. Justice was thrown passing on the next play to his 45, but the Tigers were penalized for illegal use of hands, giving the Tar Heels a first down on the LSU 27.

Three running plays netted Carolina nine yards, but Hayes, bucking for a first down on the lina 24, Hayes passed to Justice on the first play to the Tar Heels' 32. Justice attempted to pass on second down, had to run and failed to gain. Gantt was then nailed on a reverse to the Carolina 30, leaving four yards to go with fourth down coming up.

The Tar Heels, a perfect record handing by a thread, wouldn't gamble and Justice punted into the Tiger end zone. LSU wasn't satisfied. Toth drove for seven on the first play and then made first down on the LSU 35. Two plays later he made another one on the LSU 45 but the final whistle stopped him from inflicting further damage.

Toth took over and banged left tackle on a handout for another first down on the Carolina 32. A play later, it was Toth again at that left tackle driving to the 20. Two plays later Baggett delivered the play that delivered LSU when he took a side, broke into the secondary and was finally pushed out on the 3 yard line of the reeling Tar Heels.

Carolina put up a semblance of a goal line stand, stopping Toth at the goal line on first down and Pevey moving on the quarterback sneak on second down. But here, the Tigers gave it to Toth again and Toth in turn gave it back to the referee after slashing that sore left side for the winning touchdown. Griffith added insult to injury by adding the point at 10:44.

Gantt fumbled the kickoff, but after going back and picking it up, returned the ball to the Caro-

Four Sororities Holding 'Coffee' This Evening
From buffet suppers, informal dances, and coffees to volleyball tournaments and pledge elections, the actives and pledges of Carolina's five sororities are continually in a whirl.
Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity will entertain actives and pledges of Alpha Delta Pi on Tuesday night from 6:30 to 8:30. Alpha Tau Omega is also entertaining Tuesday night at an informal dance for Pi Beta Phi chapter. The Phi Kaps are giving a buffet supper party next week for the Alpha Gamma Delta chapter.
Sorority open house will be held Sunday night by the Alpha Delta Pis, Apha Gams, Tri Deltas, and Pi Phis, Chi Omega will not hold open house until the following Sunday.
The Alpha Gams are mighty proud of Jody Armstrong who was elected "Dream Girl" by the Pi Kapp Alphas at Virginia.
New Tri Delt pledge class officers elected this week are: President, Mary Key Palmer, Lewisburg, West Virginia; Vice President, Jean Bloom, Fayette, Missouri; Secretary, Phyllis Costner, Lincolnton, North Carolina; Treasurer, Arden Boisseau, Roanoke, Virginia; Social Chairman, J. K. Richardson, Lewisburg, West Virginia.
Groups of girls returning from the Gym, with aching arms is a sure testimony that volleyball practice has begun. The tournaments start early next week.

Bruner, Kernodle Are Box Auction Royalty
All-American footballer Charlie Justice crowned Bill Kernodle and Caroline Bruner king and queen of the YWCA-sponsored box supper auction and square dance entertainment held Thursday evening in the Tin Can.
The king and queen were chosen by drawing cards following the box supper auction sale conducted by Dr. Ike Greer, Head Cheer Leader Norm Sper, Orville Campbell, co-author of the song "All the way Choo-Choo," Marshal Roberts, and Director of Admissions Roy Armstrong.
Following the coronation ceremonies, the newly chosen king
