

Wrestlers Overcome Early Lead To Defeat Davidson, 18-11

Farber, Kemp Pin Opponent

DAVIDSON, Feb. 8—Carolina's middleweight wrestlers came through yesterday afternoon to overcome an early Davidson lead and give the Tar Heel grapplers an 18-11 victory over the Wildcats. Barry Farber, Phil Kemp, Tom Cox and Oscar Gupton ended on top in their matches to give the visitors the win.

Farber and Kemp produced pins in the 145 and 155 pound classes to give their squad ten badly needed points. Both pins came in the first period with Farber winning in 1:37. Kemp needed a little more time, but finally caught up with his man before the stanza ended.

Newly-elected captain, Oscar Gupton, added another decision to the Carolina total when he outpointed Davidson's captain, Bill Alexander. It was a close match all the way out Gupton ended up top man by 3-2.

Tommy Cox gave the Tar Heels their other victory in the 165 class as he took a high scoring bout from the Wildcats' Mark Price by 10-6.

The last bout of the day proved the most exciting, however, as two football tackles locked horns. Carolina's Joe Augustine and Bill McNeely wrestled down to the wire before the Davidson man won out by 4-2. McNeely pulled a reversal in the last eight seconds to win two points and the match.

Carolina's other two points came in the 121 division Bob Randall and Davidson's Dan Bell fought to a draw.

The summaries:

121 pounds—Bob Randall (UNC) and Dan Bell drew

128—Johnny Kelton (D) decided Bob McGimsey, 5-2

136—David La Far (D) decided Kenny Hoffman, 4-0

145—Barry Farber (UNC) pinned Arvie Covell, 1:37

155—Phil Kemp (UNC) pinned Hal Haynes, 2:57

165—Tom Cox decided Mark Price, 10-6

175—Oscar Gupton (UNC) decided Bill Alexander, 3-2

Heavyweight — Bill McNeely (D) decided Joe Augustine, 4-2

Furman Cagers Play Host To Locals Tomorrow Night

With nothing to do but get better after Tuesday night's demoralizing loss to Wake Forest, Carolina's cagers began working yesterday for their next conference clash against tiny Furman tomorrow night in Greenville, South Carolina.

Although the Tar Heels were crippled with the complete absence of Charley Thorne and received only limited service from Hugo Kappler and Dick Patterson in the Deacon defeat, the Scott-men were definitely not up to previous level and mentor Scott for one is hoping that his lads have gotten a bad night from their systems.

Sporting a nine up and five down record in Conference competition, the Tar Heels need Furman's scalp to insure themselves a bid to the loop tourney that will be staged in Duke's indoor arena the beginning of next month. Barring a major upset, the locals should win handily and be in contention for a seeded position in the annual SC championships.

Kappler, who paced the Tar Heel's point-making in the first half in the Deacon loss before a recurrence of an old leg injury forced him to the bench, is taking treatments for the ailing "gam" and will probably be ready to go by tomorrow.

Come And Get 'Em

The Woollen Gym ticket office announced yesterday that there are "several thousand" tickets left for the Duke-Carolina basketball game to be played here on February 17. Any passbook holder may exchange his coupon for the remaining tickets today, tomorrow, and Saturday.

Any tickets which might be left on Monday will be sold to the public and will not be exchanged for passbook coupons. Each ticket must be picked up individually and a student ID card must be presented.

The ticket office is open from 9 A.M. until 5 P.M., Monday through Friday, and from 9 A.M. until 1 P.M. on Saturday.

Mermen Arrive In Atlanta, Set To Meet Tech Tonight

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9—The University of North Carolina swimming team arrived here early this morning for a two-day stay in which they will take on the mermen of both Georgia Tech and Emory.

Coach Dick Jamerson's thirteen man contingent took a light workout in the home pool yesterday afternoon before departing from Raleigh last night. They will meet Tech this evening and Emory tomorrow afternoon.

Coached by Fred Lanous, the Georgia Tech squad have gone undefeated so far this season, they are the Southeastern Conference champs.

One of the top competitors in the South, Tech's Johnny Hiles will be the main entry in the distance events while Bill Towles will provide the chief competition for the Tar Heels in the breaststroke.

For Carolina, the lineup is expected to be much the same as for the past meets this season. Jimmy Thomas will probably perform in the 220 and 440-yard distance events along with Cecil Milton and Ray Edmundson.

Charlie Bartlett and Dave Howard will carry the Tar Heel attack in the breaststroke while Jack Whichard and Darrell Byler are set to do the diving.

Louis-Charles Bout Predicted For This Summer

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 8—(AP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles will meet in a heavyweight title bout in Yankee Stadium this summer, Charles' manager predicted today.

Jake Mintz made the statement as he brushed aside any idea that Charles might lose his National Boxing Association crown to Freddie Besore in their title fight here Feb. 28.

"Louis should be ready for his comeback this summer," said Mintz. "I'm sure of this. The game has been kind to him. Now it needs his help to revive the big-million dollar spectacle."

"Charles will forget he's a friend of Louis," he said.

Hot Dux!

The Athletic ticket office has succeeded in getting some 300 tickets to the Carolina-State game to be played in State College's Coliseum Wednesday night, Feb. 21. Tickets will be sold to students beginning at nine o'clock this morning and will stay on sale through Saturday.

Students who desire to see the game were warned to get their tickets early. State College has already announced that the Feb 21 game is almost completely sold out and indications point to a complete sellout within a few days.

In their first meeting this year the Tar Heels led the Wolfpack for the better part of the game, only to lose out in the final three minutes. The second game of the series promises to be a thriller.
