

Queen Of May, Court To Be Chosen Tonight

The Queen of May and her court will be chosen tonight, as women in house meetings in dormitories and sororities all over campus choose the 10 girls they think tops in the field of beauty.

The coeds will select the May Queen, and the ten girls who will act as her court from a slate of 30 names, representing those girls who polled the greatest number of votes in an earlier election, when all girls on campus named their choices for the Queen and her court from a complete roster of the senior women.

Town girls voting all day tomorrow in the town girls' room will complete the return, but the

May Day committee will not announce the winners until early in May.

The 30 girls to be voted upon tonight are Musette Brown, Gene Frances Caraher, Barbara Crawford, June Crockett, Gene Denbo, Norma Jean Dew, Audrey Donnan, Armeia Eure, Muriel Fisher, Patty Ann Frizzel, Sarah Gobel, and Gane Gower.

Phi Assembly Names Jones New Speaker

Graham Jones, junior from Winston-Salem, was elected Speaker of the Philanthropic Assembly for the second time at an executive session in Phi Hall Tuesday night.

Jones, who was nominated by retiring Speaker Herman Sieber, was Speaker of the Phi during the fall quarter.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

Science Makes a Better Mop

Cleaning tasks lightened by new Du Pont cellulose sponge yarn

An ordinary mop has a bad habit of unraveling. It often leaves a trail of lint. And it wears out fast. A man who sold yarn to mop manufacturers decided to do something about these nuisances. Perhaps some reinforcing material might be combined with the yarn. He did some experimental work of his own but more and more he wondered if it might be possible to use a cellulose sponge coating.

THREE YEARS OF RESEARCH

So the man called on Du Pont, the company that had introduced the cellulose sponge to America in 1936. The suggestion of a sponge yarn presented a challenging problem.

Some way would have to be found to extrude a tightly fitting cellulose sponge jacket around each strand of the yarn. The whole sponge process would have to be adjusted for use in an especially designed machine. Du Pont chemists and engineers tackled these problems.

Even the very first cellulose sponge yarn produced experimentally made mops that were strong, absorbent and durable. But the process had to be changed and improved time and time again. Then the mops were tested in places where they would get the hardest usage—railroad stations, for example.

The mops performed so well that Du Pont built a pilot plant near Buffalo and, under a license from the man who had the original idea, manufactured the yarn on a small scale. Only after three years of study and testing was Du Pont able to offer mop manufacturers the yarn in commercial quantities.

FASTER AND CLEANER

Mops made with cellulose sponge yarn pick up and retain so much water they need wringing less often. You can mop a floor with them in far less time than it formerly took. They dry quickly, leave no lint. They outwear other mops three to five times. Best of all, perhaps, they stay dirt-free longer than ordinary mops. Here is something women will appreciate—a clean mop!

The introduction of these new cleaning tools is another example of how business firms of all sizes depend on each other. The Du Pont Company had facilities for specialized research on cellulose sponge. Because Du Pont could supply sponge yarn economically, some twenty mop manufacturers today have a better product that saves maintenance people and the American housewife time, labor and money.
