

UN Admits Korea Cease-Fire Failure

U. S. To Fight On, Asks Help To Avert War

Austin Says Reds Should Be Shown Venture Futile

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 3—(P)—The U. N. Cease-Fire Committee today acknowledged failure in its efforts to stop the fighting in Korea.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin promptly said American troops will fight on against aggression in Korea and urged the free world to stand together in the hope of averting a world war.

Sir Benegal N. Rau of India told the 60-nation Political Committee of the General Assembly that the three-man cease fire group was not able to find a satisfactory arrangement to stop the fighting. He said the group had no recommendations now, but insisted that "every honorable avenue should be explored to maintain peace."

"If by mischance there should be a third World War," Rau said, "then history would record that the United Nations had done everything humanly possible to avert it."

Austin called on the U. N. to show the Chinese Reds how bad their Korean venture is bound to prove for them, saying in that way "we can hope to avert the tragic consequences of an extension or a continuation of the conflict."

"In the view of my government, aggression must be resisted," Austin said. "there can be no appeasement. The United Nations is engaged in its peace-making functions in the use of such force as has been used and will continue to be used. The people of the free world, acting through the United Nations, must decide how the charter can best be upheld."

Voicing American determination to continue fighting against aggression, Austin said:

"If hostilities continue, our troops will fight on in Korea. This is in keeping with our understanding of the responsibilities laid on all members by the resolutions of the Security Council and of the General Assembly."

Draft Hits The Bottom

men from the available pool to account for the non-veteran students. Most of these are unavailable for immediate draft because of the law, which provides a "postponement of induction" until the end of the school term. The first, older students who have used up their year of postponement, are continuing their training under a regulation which permits students to stay in school as long as they remain in the upper half of their class.

Around 800,000 more young men are outside the draft law by virtue of having enlisted in the armed forces or in the reserves,

Clearance To Begin Jan. 15 For New Highway To Durham

Clearing of the right of way, first step toward the new $500,000 Durham-Chapel Hill highway which will be about three miles shorter than the route now in use, is expected to start about Jan. 15.

A. B. Burton, Lynchburg, Va., who has the contract for the grading of the new road, yesterday said his men and equipment will be ready to begin about the middle of this month. After the clearing, actual grading will begin, Burton said.

Also, a proposal has been made that would nearly double the scheduled right of way width of 260 feet.

The proposal, by several interested townspeople, calls for extension to 500 feet "so that it will be a real parkway, free not only from billboards but from unsightly structures of every sort."

Yesterday in Durham, a joint committee of citizens from there and Chapel Hill was named to put the proposals up to the State Commission.

Grady Pritchard, a local Kiwanian, and J. L. Crumpton of Durham were designated as joint chairmen to arrange a conference with Dr. Henry A. Jordan, Commission chairman; James A. Barnwell, division commissioner, and the highway attorney. They would determine the legislation required to restrict usage of the new boulevard.

The group will ask the state authorities to prepare a proper bill to either set up a joint zoning commission for Durham and Orange Counties or to grant the Highway Commission authority to zone the property adjoining the right of way.

The committees named include besides the two chairmen: from here, President Gordon Gray, Dr. R. J. M. Hobbs, W. D. Carmichael, Jr., Louis Graves, and Representative John W. Umstead.

Pritchard also will name a garden club member from Chapel Hill. The Durham County and Chapel Hill zoning commissions will be asked to each name a representative.

Newman And Alden Slate Joint Concert

Recital Will Be First Joint Performance By 2 Teachers Here

In their first joint recital at the University, Edgar Alden, violinist, and William S. Newman, pianist, will play music for violin and piano at Hill Hall at 8:30 Friday night. Both men have been on the Music Department faculty since 1946.

Their program will include the Sonata in B Minor by Bach, Sonata Opus No. 3 by Beethoven, and Sonata in H Major Opus 100 by Brahms.

Alden, who did his principal training at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, has appeared often in the Southeast in solos with orchestra and in chamber music recitals. For several years he directed the Raleigh Chamber Music Guild and taught at Meredith College.

After four years in the Signal Corps, some of which was spent in India, he came to the University to instruct and to complete his doctorate in Musicology.

Dr. Newman came here after nearly four years of service in the Army Air Force intelligence. He has given annual recitals here and made annual tours in the North and Midwest.

On Feb. 21, he will present the second of a series of three University of North Carolina Lectures in the Humanities. In April he will give a series of 10 concerts and lectures in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Kentucky, followed by a solo recital here.

The concert is free and the public is invited to attend.

UNC's Sixth Sorority To Be Set Up In Spring

sorority, founded at Longwood College in Farmville, Va., has now reached 29,778, according to National President Elizabeth Winston Lanier of Petersburg, Va.

Alumnae of Kappa Delta now living in Chapel Hill include Mrs. W. D. Carmichael, Jr., Mrs. William Wells, Mrs. Taul White, Mrs. K. C. Frazer, Mrs. M. B. Garret, Miss Margaret Little and Dr. Charlotte McLeod.

It was not said whether the colony would be given advance rushing privileges as was done in the case of Theta Chi fraternity in the fall of 1949, when that organization was allowed to rush one week prior to the formal rush period.

called for the dorm to be ready for operation by next fall. However, he said, this seems unlikely in view of the present stoppages.

Woods said any union man who crosses the picket line here will be fined $50.

A Durham contractor, William Muirhead, recently has said: "The next move is up to the bricklayers."

No comment was given by Dean Carmichael for the prospects of a seventh sorority, although she did remark that it was up to the women students and "the amount of interest they showed" in the consideration of a seventh.

The first sorority to arrive on campus was Chi Omega, whose charter is dated Jan. 20, 1923. Chi O was closely followed by Pi Beta Phi, whose charter is dated Sept. 28 of the same year, according to the presidents of both sororities.

Solons To Consider Car Inspection Law

RALEIGH, Jan. 3—(P)—Legislation for a return to compulsory mechanical inspection of motor vehicles is being readied for submission to the Legislature.

This was reported today by L. C. Rosser, State Motor Vehicles Commissioner.

to be put in uniform.

First group likely to lose its deferment status is the portion of the 900,000 non-veteran students. Analysis of the student group indicates that of these around 300,000 are either fathers or have dependents. Of the remaining 600,000, around 50 per cent are likely to be deferred for continued education and training under any one of a dozen proposals for dealing with this thorny problem.

Early loss of deferment status also faces draft-age men who have dependents, other than fathers. There's hardly any sentiment at the moment for the drafting of fathers—an action carried out with the greatest reluctance by the local draft boards during World War II.

Veterans are not likely to be drafted, if only on the basis of political expediency, while there are non-veterans around.

The Pentagon planners have thus far held out firmly for a top draft age of 25, and have been backed on this point by the Administration. There's considerable pressure to lower the draft age to 18.
