

Chuck Hauser says he has been called a liar, and he's not happy about it. See page 2.

The Daily Tar Heel

Partly cloudy and warmer.

Dance Committee To Be Investigated

Clark, Saltonstall, Kefauver, Murrow Are To Speak Here

Carolina Forum Has Arranged For Speakers

Clark Will Open Series Feb. 6; Murrow, Feb. 17

General Mark Clark, Senator Estes Kefauver, Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Radio Commentator Edward R. Murrow will appear on the campus during the winter and spring quarters as speakers engaged by the Carolina Forum.

General Clark, Chief of the Army Field Forces, is scheduled to address the student body in Memorial Hall on Feb. 6 at 8 p.m., as the first of the group of outstanding figures.

The other speakers are scheduled as follows: Murrow, CBS news commentator, Feb. 17; Senator Kefauver, Chairman of the Senate Crime Investigation Committee, March 5; and Senator Saltonstall, senior senator from Massachusetts, March 22.

The Carolina Forum, which brought a variety of persons to the campus last year including Eleanor Roosevelt, Herman Talmadge and Hugo Simms, is an organization set up by student government to bring prominent speakers to address the student body on current topics of national and international importance.

These presentations, which began three years ago, are open to the students and townspeople free of charge.

General Clark, who is now stationed at Ft. Monroe, Va., was commander of ground forces in the European Theater of Operations during the last war. He also commanded the 5th Army when it invaded Italy.

"Calculated Risk," a book written by General Clark and published in 1950, has gained wide circulation and prominence.

Murrow, considered an expert on international affairs, appears regularly on CBS as a news commentator sponsored by the Standard Oil Company. He also presents recordings of significant events as they were taped during the week on his program "Hear It Now."

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has been holding hearings throughout the country for the past few months as the head of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. He is expected to make the committee's report late in February and will appear here soon after.

Senator Saltonstall is one of the most outstanding Republicans in Congress. He was mentioned in 1948 as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency.

Gift

John R. Jenkins, graduate of the University Law School in 1935, now practicing law in Aulander, has given the Law Library a gift of three units of the American Digest System. The books were given in honor of the late Thurman Costelloe who originally owned the collection. Mr. Costelloe graduated from the University in 1916 and later from the Law School of Harvard University.

Reds Accept Cease-Fire Bid But Demand Entrance To UN

Chinese Communists Insist On Setting Time Limit; To Begin With Conference

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 22 (UP)—Communist China has accepted the United Nations proposal for a cease-fire in Korea to start at the opening of a conference on the Far East, but has left a barrier to peace in its demand for admission to the UN, India disclosed today.

India told the UN that Red China insisted on a time limit to the cease-fire order. By its surprise move Peking appeared to have removed one of the main barriers blocking earlier efforts to reach a Korean truce, but another important block—Red China's demand for admission to the UN—remained. In another maneuver, the Chinese Communists formally announced they would "assume the responsibility to advise the Chinese volunteers to return to China" if the principle of withdrawal of foreign troops is put into effect.

The new stand by Mao Tze-Tung's government seemed almost certain to postpone for some time passage of the American proposal to brand Peking an aggressor and to consider immediately the imposition of punitive measures.

Indian Delegate Sir Benegal Rau told the General Assembly's main political committee that Mao's stand had been formally communicated to India's ambassador in Peking, Sardar Pannikar. It was in reply to two questions seeking clarification of Peking's earlier answer to the UN's cease-fire offer—an answer interpreted by the United States and many other non-Communist nations as a flat rejection.

A highly-informed source said the two questions originated not with India but with Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who was understood to have relayed them to Peking through Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Rau told the 60-nation political committee that Peking's reply to the Indian Ambassador in the Communist capital "indicates the nature of the points raised."

Coeds Will Choose Orientation Leader

Next year's chairman of coed orientation will be elected at a meeting of the Coed Senate tonight. The meeting will take place in New West's Phi Hall at 7 p.m.

All class of 1952 coeds wishing to be nominated for the position should attend the Senate meeting, according to Senate Speaker Kash Davis.

In addition to being a junior, a nominee must be willing to accept responsibility, have ability as a speaker, have organizational ability, skill in delegating responsibility, and in working with others, Speaker Davis said.

Any girls interested in applying for editorship of the Woman's Handbook, which is published each spring, should plan to appear before the Senate at the same time and place.

The editor will be chosen by the Senate after a personal interview with each candidate.

Union Starts Panel Talks On Thursday

The first of a series of panel discussions being sponsored by Graham Memorial will take place Thursday night at eight p.m. in the main lounge of the student union.

"American Foreign Policy" is the topic to be discussed. At the outset of the program a moderator will present a brief summary of what is currently happening in Congress and of the present foreign policy of the country. However, he will make no attempts at interpretation.

Following that, each member of the panel will speak for five minutes expressing his own personal views on the subject.

Graham Memorial officials are hoping to have a panel of at least five or six members. Four persons have already offered their services as panel members for Thursday's discussions.

They are Dr. Clarence Philbrook of the Business Administration School, Dr. C. H. Pegg of the History Department, Dr. Clarence Heer of the School of Business Administration, and Attorney General Dick Murphy.

After each of the members have given their views, the floor will be opened to questions and discussions. The meeting is open to the public.

Blood Donors Are Needed To Give Now

Appointments are now being made of blood donors for the Bloodmobile that will visit Chapel Hill on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 1 and 2. Red Cross officials pointed out that tomorrow will probably be the last day that appointments will be made.

Donors are badly needed. Students and townspeople wishing to donate a pint of blood may call F-471 for an appointment. The local NROTC unit has a man on duty every weekday to make these appointments.

If you are over 18 years of age and are in good physical condition, your blood is badly needed by fighting men in Korea.

A Yellow One, Please

Group In Dire Straits: Needs Dressing Gown

Wanted: One yellow dressing gown without occupant.

Bea Kamenetzky, costumer for the University Theater's forthcoming production, "Second Man," has all the costumes ready except for this one which is desperately needed by the male lead, Clark Storey, played by Hermann Coble.

The play, a sophisticated comedy written by S. N. Behrman, will be presented in the Rendezvous Room Feb. 1 and 2. In addition to Coble, the cast includes J. B. Cochran as Austin Lowe, Brooke Robertson as Monica Grey, and Pat Morse as Kendall Frayne.

Directing the experimental production will be Wray Thompson, who has directed one opera in the Music Department and has acted in several Playmaker and Sound and Fury productions.

"The Second Man" deals with a second-rate short-story writer and the conflict of his high aspirations and low finances. Monica Grey, an unscrupulous ingenue, makes all kinds of trouble both for her chemist-fiance and Storey's patroness.

$1,000 Given To Journalism Honors Russell

Anonymous Donor Commends Teacher For Contribution

A contribution of $1,000 has been made to the University Journalism Foundation as a tribute to Prof. Phillips Russell, it was announced Saturday at the closing session of the annual North Carolina Press Institute by Foundation President Holt McPherson of Shelby.

Like the recent gift of $1000 in honor of Dean Oscar J. Coffin, this latest gift to the Journalism Foundation was made anonymously, McPherson stated, but the donor wished to express his appreciation of the splendid teaching contribution made by Professor Russell to the University and to the state.

"Not only has Phillips Russell made a lasting contribution to the literature of North Carolina," said the donor, "in such books as 'The Woman Who Rang The Bell,' winner of the Mayflower Award in 1949, but he has been a remarkably fine teacher of journalism and creative writing, inculcating his students with a respect for skilled craftsmanship and with an appreciation for clear and vivid writing."

GM Opens Exhibit By Editors Of Life

Beginning today and continuing through Feb. 1, Graham Memorial has arranged to show The American Revolution, an exhibition prepared by the editors of Life magazine.

This exhibition in the Williams Wolfe Lounge, offers a full account of the situations and events which marked the most vital years in our national history, and attempts to show their interrelation with the changing scene in 18th Century Europe.

Americans do not always remember that the American Revolution, like Gual, had three parts. The first, of course, was the war of the colonies for independence from Britain. The second was the larger war for world supremacy fought by Britain and France, of which the colonies' struggle became a part. The third part was a social revolution resulting in the repudiation of all class differences and the creation of a democratic republic.

The exhibition endeavors to make these separate aspects of the American Revolution easily understandable and dramatically effective as they combine to tell the whole story.

Literally hundreds of pictures, assembled by researchers for the special article in Life, July 3, 1950, have been carefully studied and sifted for the exhibition.

The story is revealed chronologically, beginning with the causes of the colonies' revolt and ending with Washington's inauguration.

All of the major incidents are covered, including the opposition to the Stamp Act, the Boston Tea Party, Patrick Henry's oration, Paul Revere and the battle of Lexington and Concord, the cap-

'The Blue And White'

Era Of Two Campus Newspapers Was Short-Lived, Says Journalist

By Mark Waters
Grizzled, eagle-eyed H. E. C. "Red Buck" Bryant, 78, a newspaper reporter for 56 years, remembers when The Daily Tar Heel had competition. Its rival was a short-lived newspaper called the Blue and White.

"Back in 1893," said Bryant, "The Daily Tar Heel printed a statement that 'non-fraternity men were sour because they were beyond the pale.'" The squabble resulted in the non-fraternity men publishing their own paper, The Blue and White. It folded in three weeks because the staff lost interest.

"I was the treasurer," Bryant said, "and later a fraternity man. The row ended amicably."

Bryant is retired now, but he still writes a Sunday column of reminiscence for The Charlotte Observer. He was in town toward the end of last week to attend

GENERAL MARK CLARK (left) and Senator Estes Kefauver are two of the four speakers coming to the campus under the auspices of the Carolina Forum during the winter and spring quarters.

Ko-Reds Slaughter ROK Engineer Unit

TOKYO, Tuesday, Jan. 23—(AP)—Suddenly aggressive Korean Communist troops cut to pieces a battalion of South Korean engineers 40 miles inside Allied lines Monday in a flareup of fighting on the right end of United Nations positions.

While details were lacking, a dispatch from 8th Army headquarters said the engineers appeared to have been ambushed near Andong. This interior road and rail center is 50 miles north of Taegu, the UN northwest bastion in last summer's battle perimeter.

Elements of two North Korean divisions—the 2nd and 10th—have been identified in hills north of Andong. At full strength this would indicate 20,000 Reds were sifting southward.

U. S. 7th Division elements and other Allied troops have been fighting in this barren east-central area against infiltrating Red Korean regulars and local guerrillas.

In startling contrast, reinforced Allied hunter-killer teams on the central and western Korean fronts slammed back into Wonju Airfield and three other key towns within 25 miles of Seoul without finding the fight they were seeking.

Towns re-entered and then again abandoned at nightfall included Osan, Ichon and Kumyangjang.

The Chinese and Korean Reds, massed on those fronts for the past fortnight, showed marked reluctance to resist.

Professors Will Attend Convention

Two University professors, Dr. J. Penrose Harland, archaeologist and member of the Chapel Hill Town Planning Board, and Dr. Harry W. Crane, psychologist, have been invited along with a number of other well known specialists in their fields to participate in a regional conference of the American Institute of Architects' Survey Commission in Richmond, Va., today.

Sessions will begin at 11 o'clock this morning at the John Marshall Hotel.

Among the discussion leaders will be Dr. Harland, Dr. Crane, Douglas Southall Freeman, noted Richmond author and journalist; Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch; Homer L. Ferguson, Newport News, Va., engineer and shipbuilder and former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Open Hearing Set Tomorrow In GM Lounge

Vice President Appoints Group To Make Report

A special eight-man legislative review committee will receive charges against the Dance Committee in a public hearing set for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Graham Memorial, Vice President Herb Mitchell said yesterday. The special committee, set up by the Executive Committee of the Student Legislature, will investigate procedure and actions of the Dance Committee.

The Dance Committee has constitutional power to write its own rules governing conduct at Carolina dances, and then to sit in judgment of violators of those rules.

The special review committee will sit in session in Roland Parker Lounge 3 to "hear complaints against the Dance Committee and review the Committee's procedure."

He called for students who had information or evidence of Dance Committee malpractices to present themselves to the review committee at the public hearing tomorrow.

Charges of unjust Dance Committee practices were leveled recently by Daily Tar Heel Executive News Editor Chuck Hauser. Told yesterday of the review committee set-up, Hauser declared that "the procedures under which the Dance Committee operates is a disgrace to the Carolina court system."

"I'm proud of the fact that Vice President Herb Mitchell and the Legislature have begun to take steps to correct the situation," he continued.

Hauser came out with the charges in his Daily Tar Heel column, "Carolina Front," last Friday. He branded the Committee a "mail order" court which, he asserted, unfairly convicted students without proper trial.

Strength Is Answer-Gray

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 22—(AP)—Former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray told about 400 military officers and civilian leaders here today that "the avenue to peace is through strength."

The recently-installed president of North Carolina University was the guest speaker formally opening a two-week economic mobilization course sponsored by the unified armed forces. The coordination of industry and commerce with the military establishment is the aim of this school.

Please

Please, let's make Jim Mills happy.

For weeks he's been at his desk crying his heart out. He wants snapshots for the Yackety Yack.

Friday is the deadline. Bring any campus or fraternity snapshots other than homecoming displays to the Yack office, second floor Graham Memorial.