

Maryland Hands Wrestlers Seventh Straight Defeat, 22-6

Ken Stuckey, Bill Schwartz Lone Winners

By Biff Roberts
Carolina's Bill Schwartz and Ken Stuckey threw a 6-0 scare into the wrestlers from Maryland last night in Woollen Gym but the visiting team quickly retaliated with four decisions and two pins to drop the Tar Heels to their seventh straight defeat, 22-6.

Schwartz, wrestling at 123, and Stuckey, a 130-pounder, won close decisions in the first two matches but that was all of the Carolina scoring for the night. Although the Tar Heels appeared greatly improved over their previous showings they were unable to cope with the powerful Maryland team.

Schwartz turned a match which appeared to be a certain draw into a victory when he came out to gain a neutral position in the last 30 seconds of the third period. This was enough for one point and a 3-2 victory for the little Carolina wrestler over Lennie Timmanoff.

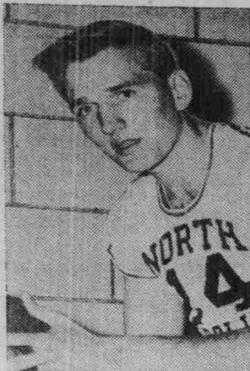

Stuckey added the last three Carolina points in the next match when he overcame a near fall to edge Brent Loban, 7-5. Loban almost had Stuckey pinned early in the match but tired, letting Stuckey move ahead.

Barry Farber made a good showing in the 147 pound class, losing a 3-2 decision to Jim Scott, three-time runnerup in the Southern Conference meet. Scott gained a neutral position in the last 25 seconds to beat Farber, who up until that time had a slight time advantage on him. Farber's extra riding time was not enough to give him another point.

Bill Hill spotted Maryland's Chris Matthews about 50 pounds in the heavyweight division but Matthews needed a reversal and two points-time advantage to win, 4-0.

The Carolina team will wind up its season with a meet at Duke on Feb. 23. The Blue Devils defeated this same Maryland team, which is being touted as the new Southern Conference champ, by two points in a meet before Christmas.

The summaries:
128—Schwartz (NC) decisioned Timmanoff, 3 and 2.
130—Stuckey (NC) decisioned Loban, 7 and 5.
137—Lysakowski (M) pinned Aaron

SIX GRADUATING SENIORS will make their final home appearances in a Tar Heel basketball uniform tonight. Among them are Co-Captain Hugo Kappler, Guard Bill White, Forward Dick Patterson, Forward Hal Ferraro, Co-Captain Charlie Thorne, and Forward Red Wells. Wells is not shown above.

Princeton Plays Host To Mermen

Special to The Daily Tar Heel
PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 16—The University of North Carolina, the swimming powerhouse of the South since 1940, will engage Princeton University in a dual meet here tomorrow night.

The Tar Heels, led by their national ranking captain, Jimmy Thomas of Baltimore, Md., have won nine consecutive victories without a loss this season.

Thomas is expected to swim his specialty, the 220-yard backstroke, and the 300-yard medley relay along with Barry Wall and Stan Tinkham, both sophomores. Thomas' point total will probably be matched by Bob Brawner, present holder of the world's record in the 200-yard breaststroke.

The Tigers have lost only one meet this season, that to Navy, 40-35. The Tar Heel tankmen will be favored in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle and the 200-yard backstroke.

Princeton will hold the edge in the sprint events, the 200-yard breaststroke, and the diving. The remaining events, the medley relay and the freestyle relay will undoubtedly determine the outcome of the meet.

147—Scott (M) decisioned Farber, 3 and 2.
151—Adlerberg (M) decisioned Cox, 11 and 4.
167—Norair (M) decisioned Bond, 8 and 1.
177—Shanahan (M) pinned Stalon in 1:13.
1—Hwt.—Matthews (M) decisioned Hill, 4 and 0.

Three Tar Heels On Big Five Second Team; Groat Is Tops

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 16—(AP)—Duke's Great Dick Groat is the 4-1 choice of basketball coaches as the outstanding player of 1950-51 in the Big Five.

The Swissvale, Pa., sensation, who has a good chance to break the national collegiate scoring record, received all but one vote in a survey completed today by the Charlotte Observer.

That ballot went to Sam Ranzino of N. C. State. Groat, Ranzino and Paul Horvath of State were unanimous selections of the coaches for the Observer's annual "All-Big Five team."

For the benefit of late-comers, the "Big Five" is comprised of N. C. State, Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forest and Davidson.

A third Wolfpack star, Vic Bubas, and Alton McCotter of Wake Forest also were elected to the first honor club.

Named to the second team were Jack Wallace, Howard Deasy and Hugo Kappler, all of North Carolina; and Bill Brooks and Fred (Dutch) Hengeveld of Davidson.

A Page From Carolina Basketball History; Tar Heels Beat Wolfpack Five Years Ago

(Reprinted below is the article that appeared in The Daily Tar Heel on Tuesday, Feb. 12 1946, on the Carolina-N. C. State basketball game—the last time that the Tar Heels were able to defeat the Wolfpack in basketball.)

RALEIGH, Feb. 11—North Carolina's White Phantoms had to go all out tonight to overcome a stubborn N. C. State five, 55-44, in a loosely played ball game before 4,000 rowdy fans. The Phantoms were off their usual form as a result of their tough weekend in Maryland but they had enough to turn back the Terrors.

Long John Dillon led the Tar Heel scoring parade with a total of 18 markers, including seven field goals, with Bones McKinney close behind with 17 points. Nichols led the State scorers with 13 points.

Take Early Lead

The Phantoms jumped out into an early 6-0 lead on three quick field goals but after eight minutes of play the Terrors rallied to tie the score at 10-all. After the score had reached 14-14 the Terrors gained a short-lived advantage of 20-16 but after 17 minutes the Tar Heels tied it up again at 22-22. The Phantoms had a 28-24 lead at halftime.

At the start of the closing half, the Tar Heels increased their lead to 34-24 and after nine minutes held a commanding 41-31 lead. The Terrors, led by Nichols and Bolger, rallied back gamely but the Phantoms put on a spurt in the closing minutes and won going away.

Bones McKinney played an outstanding floor game in addition to dropping in seven field goals and he and Bob Paxton had control of the backboards throughout the second half. Jim Jordan was missing his usual sharpshooting eye and was held scoreless.

The closely guarding State quint kept three men on Dillon but he still managed to get away for 13 points. During the opening half, State's shots were hitting the mark with unusual accuracy and that, combined with their control of the backboards, kept the Tar Heels' offensive in check.

Cagers Meet State Five Here Tonight

the nation's tenth ranked team in Southern Conference play. State already holds one decision over the Tar Heels, a 71-58 affair at Raleigh in late January. In that game Carolina matched the Wolfpack's 19 goals from the floor, but lost out when State sunk 33 free throws to Carolina's 20.

The Tar Heels will be in better shape for this game tonight, however. Kappler has since returned to action and it has been due largely to the play of Kappler that the Tar Heels have won five of their last six conference outings.

Teaming with Kappler to attempt the upset tonight will be Sophomore Jack Wallace at the other forward spot, Sophomore Bud Maddie at center and Junior Howard Deasy and Sophomore Grimaldi at guards.

In reserve Carolina Coach Tom Scott will hold Thorne, who has been a "thorn" in the side of Ranzino when the two clubs have clashed in the past, and Sophomore Center Ernie Schwarz.

Frosh Swimmers Gain Split Against GMA, Staunton

Carolina's freshman swimmers defeated Staunton Military Academy, 43-32, while losing, 44-30, to Georgia Military Academy in a double dual meet yesterday in Bowman-Gray Memorial Pool.

The Tar Baby swimmers were able to gain five first places against Staunton and four against Georgia, Tar Heel Coach Irv Straub described the time for both meets as very good.

In the 50 yard freestyle, GMA's Girard finished first with a winning time of 25.4. Carolina's John Bradish and Duke Widoff finished second and third respectively. Bradish's time was 25.5. This gave Carolina a second and third against Georgia and a first and second against Staunton.

SMA's Miller won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:10.5 with Carolina's John Colson finished second. Jim Stolz, GMA, with a time of 1:05.3, nosed out Colson to give the Tar Heels a second place against both teams and an overall third.

Carolina's John Wettach finished second against SMA and third against GMA. In the 200 yd. freestyle, the winning time for the 100 yard backstroke was 1:09.4 with honors going to Tar Heel Stuart Bird. SMA's Anderson and GMA's Timble finished second for their respective teams.

Bird was again outstanding in the 150 yard individual medley relay winning with a time of

Odds and Averages

THE BOOKIES ARE BACKING State as expected. Latest odds seem fairly well established with the point spread ranging from five to seven points in favor of the State five. Be that as it may, no one can deny the fact that, although the odds are against them, Coach Tom Scott's boys certainly will have the law of averages on their side tonight.

Another thing that will tilt the scales in the Tar Heels' direction is the fact that the game is being played on the home floor. Take the Wolfpack away from that howling Raleigh crowd that Coach Case was obliged to ask at one point to be a little better mannered, and the State team loses some of its viciousness. But they're still tough—they're always tough.

Chaper By The Dozen

MAYBE THE STATE BOYS think the way a lot of folks do. After picking up 11 straight wins over the Carolinians, the Wolfpackers undoubtedly think No. 12 will be merely a matter of time. But Coach Scott's boys aren't peddling potatoes this trip, and victories aren't necessarily cheaper by the dozen.

Coach Scott had made no announcement yesterday afternoon about who will draw the assignment of guarding Shootin' Sam Ranzino, one of the nation's all-time great scorers. That task, however, will likely fall either to Vince Grimaldi or Charlie Thorne.

The Tar Heels are confident that they'll win tonight. They say they're going to win one and then beat Duke again to assure themselves of a berth in the Southern Conference Tournament, a postseason shindig which they haven't missed since 1943.

Coach Scott thinks his boys have a good chance of upsetting the State applicant and snapping that losing streak, but he was cautious yesterday when he said, "We want the support of the student, and all the help we can get from them because we're certainly going to need it."

Get out there tonight and support your team. Carolina wants a place in the conference play-offs and student support will go a long way in keeping team morale at fever pitch tonight. That's what it will take to win.

'Silvana Mangano is NOTHING SHORT of a SENSATION!'

full-bodied and gracefully muscular, with a rich voice and a handsome pliant face, she handles with vigor and authority the characterization of a tortured libertine. It is not too excessive to describe her as Anna Magnani minus fifteen years, Ingrid Bergman with a latin disposition and Rita Hayworth plus twenty-five pounds. Passion toils and tumbles through 'BITTER RICE'. It is as earthy and elemental as any picture you are likely to see."

— BOSLEY CROWTHER, N. Y. Times
"Silvana Mangano in 'BITTER RICE' is sexier than both Mae West and Jane Russell."
